$150,000 BLAZE — San Rafael firemen battle the fire which destroyed the San Rafael Tire and Brake Co. this morning Damage to the building was estimated by Fire Chief Vance Trivett at $100,000. A fire truck, worth $50,000, was also destroyed by the fire which sent a huge column of black smoke drifting over a large section of the city but caused no injuries to firemen or plant workers. $150,000 Blaze Destroys Firm, Cars, Fire Truck

A $150,000 fire that sent clouds of thick black smoke billowing hundreds of feet into the air this morning completely destroyed a San Rafael firm and endangered the lives of several San Rafael firemen.

The fire, which was brought under control about an hour after it started at 9:46 a.m., destroyed the Brodie and Schwerin San Rafael Tire and Brake Co. at 666 Irwin Street.

Also destroyed were a $50,000 San Rafael Fire Department pumper and four automobiles belonging to customers of the firm.

Fire Chief Vance Trivett said the fire — which he termed "the worst in San Rafael in two or or three years" — endangered several of his men shortly after the pumper truck pulled up to the north side of the one-and-a-half-story stucco and wood frame building.

"They had to leap for their lives when a wall of flame shot out from the rear portion of the building," Trivett said. The truck, with engine still running while it was blazing, was completely ruined. Firemen used it as a shield from the fire roaring out of the building, Trivett said.

NO INJURIES

No injuries were reported.

Lytton Schwerin, a co-owner of the tire and brake firm with Arthur Brodie, said the fire started in the rear of the building in the firm's tire recapping area. He said one of the 12 employees in the builcing felt heat and when he turned around an electrical box exploded.

Muffled explosions, presumably from volatile solvents used in the business, could be heard during the early stages of the fire which attracted a crowd of about 500 spectators.

Police had to move spectators back when the fire moved toward a gas pump near the building. The pump, however, was not ignited.

The fire also sent a pall of black smoke over Highway 101 but authorities indicated that traffic was slowed only slightly. Clouds of the vision - obstructing smoke, which was seen for miles, also drifted over much of the Bret Harte area of San Rafael.

Schwerin estimated the loss of the firm's stock in the building at $50,000, while Trivett put the loss of stock and building at $100,000.

OTHERS THREATENED

Several neighboring buildings also were threatened by the blaze, although none of them caught fire. Some smoke damage to Greg Arts at 658 Irwin Street was reported and for a time, the Bergman Manufacturing Co. at 632 Irwin seemed in danger.

Paul Debes of Astro Foods, located at 647 Irwin, said he was leaving the grocery store when he spotted whiffs of smoke from the building. He timed the fire, he said, and it took only seven minutes for the fire to break through the roof and walls.

William Everest, co-owner of Marin Lights at 650 Irwin, another neighbor of the destroyed firm, said he first saw "just a little black smoke" and moments later the entire building was in flames.

The tire and brake firm had been located at the Irwin street address for nine years.

San Rafael fire officials asked mutual aid from the Kentfield Fire Department, which stood by at Station No. 1, but the neighboring force was not needed.

Israel Claims Downing 7 Syrian MIGs

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets shot down seven Syrian MIG fighters over the occupied Golan Heights today, a military spokesman said.

An Israeli army announcement said the MIGs were intercepted by Israeli aircraft and a 30-minute dogfight took place at altitudes ranging from 10,000 to 20,000 feet.

Damascus radio said Syrian planes intercepted the Israeli planes over Syrian territory and forced them to flee. It said nothing about any Syrian plane losses.

The MIGs crossed into Israeli-held territory near Queneitra in the highlands taken from Syria by the Israelis in the 1967 war, Israel spokesman said.

It was the biggest single score claimed by Israeli pilots since the six-day war.

The Israelis downed their last Syrian MIG May 29.

Since then there has been little air activity on the Syrian-Israeli cease-fire line.

But in air battles with the Egyptians the Israelis claim to have chalked up a total of 27 Soviet-built MIGs shot down since 1967.

Israeli troops killed 18 Arab infiltrators in a series of gun battles on two fronts last night, the army announced. It denied Egyptian claims that the Israelis suffered "heavy casualties."

Soldiers at the Suez Canal drove off an Egyptian commando raid north of Timsa Lake, opposite Ismailia, killing nine Arabs, an Israeli spokesman said. He added that nine Arab

Last County Radio Techs Quit In Blast

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

The future of Marin County's emergency communications network was in doubt today as a long simmering battle in the communications department climaxed with the resignations of the county's two remaining radio maintenance technicians, the Independent-Journal learned.

There were conflicting claims about the effect of the resignations, ranging from the contention by communications director John H. Atkinson that there would be "a slight inconvenience" to a claim by one of the quitting technicians that the emergency network would go "practically off the air."

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the Marin County Employees Association said there have been complaints that the resigning employees have been harassed into quitting by Atkinson, who last month unsuccessfully tried to convince the board of supervisors to turn the county system over to a private firm.

The network handles emergency calls for ambulance, police, fire and health agencies throughout the county. It services about 500 mobile units and 60 base stations.

The latest two resignations, it was learned, were by Robert Perry and chief techinicans Francis Strohmeyer and are effective Friday. The county's other two technicians, Norman Taylor and Oscar Graham, quit two months ago because, as one of the technicians put it, "they could see the handwriting on the wall."

Atkinson said today that the fact that the county system now has no qualified maintenance technicians "doesn't really mean anything," adding: "This will cause a slight inconvenience in some installations until we reorganize."

He said his department is actively recruiting replacements

Trustee Panel Backs Stiff Suspension Rule

COMBINED AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — A California state college trustee committee today approved a new set of rules giving campus presidents the authority in some cases to suspend students before the students receive a hearing.

The new rule would apply only during a "state of campus emergency" declared by the college president.

The provisions, which will be discussed again tomorrow, are similar to rules already set by the University of California Board of Regents.

The trustees' educational policy committee voted unanimously for the new rule. It permits presidents to place students on suspension pending a hearing. An opportunity for an hearing would have to be offered within one week of the suspension.

Steve Lieurance, representing campus student presidents, said his group wasn't sure what conditions would lead to a state of emergency.

He said he felt there should be some consultation by college presidents with faculty and student leaders before an emergency is declared.

College officials said presidents already have the authority to declare states of emergency and the rules merely clarify the procedure. Chancellor

Overthrow Of McCarthy By 'Turks'

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Senate Republicans voted today to oust two "Old Guard" GOP members of the powerful rules committee and replace them with "young Turk" supporters of Senate President Pro Tem Howard Way.

At closed caucus, Republicans chose Sens. Clair W. Burgener, San Diego, and Robert S. Stevens, Los Angeles, to succeed Sens. John F. McCarthy, San Rafael, and Jack Schrade, San Diego, on the five-man committee.

However, the change must be ratified by the full Senate. And the "Old Guard" this afternoon was expected to wage a last-ditch effort to block Way's further takeover of the Senate.

Both Burgener and Stevens were chief backers of Way in his successful drive to unseat former Senate President Pro Tempore Hugh M. Burns in May.

Way has been trying since his ouster of Burns to install Burgener and Stevens on the

Belvedere Approves Budget Of $387,569

The Belvedere City Council last night adopted a $387,569 budget for fiscal 1969-70, and predicted no change in the past fiscal year's tax rate of $1.73 per $100 assessed valuation.

(Other Belvedere City Council stories, page 30.)

The new budget is down $35,536 from last year, largely because street and fire main projects were completed last year, City Mgr. William L. Cavalli said.

The property tax rate will not be sent until next month, and is not expected to change because the assessed value of property in the city has increased, but the net result will be an increase in homeowners' taxes.

The only changes made in the budget proposed by Cavalli were to add $6,900 to underground downtown utilities and $1,500 to promote a public works department employee to foreman.

The total cost of the undergrounding was estimated at $40,594. Sharing the cost will be the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Belvedere Land Co.

Cavalli pushed unsuccessfully for a new position of superintendent of public works for $8,600 a year, but the council made it clear that it expected Cavalli himself to make sure that the department's work is done correctly.

Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel was particularly critical of what he termed "Just plain filthy streets, the city street sweeper was used only three

Nixon Welcomes Emperor Selassie

WASHINGTON (AP) — Emperior Haile Selassie of Ethiopia was welcomed to the White House today as President Richard M. Nixon's first official visitor "from the great continent of Africa."

Selassie, Ethiopia's leader for 53 years, arrived here yesterday but his official welcome was postponed until today when inclement weather delayed his transatlantic flight.

After meeting with Nixon, Selassie will attend a State Department luncheon given in his honor by Secretary William P. Rogers. A black-tie dinner at the White House will conclude his day.

Astromonk Bonny Succumbs After Pacific Splashdown

HONOLULU (UPI) — Bonny the space monkey died today 12 hours after his tiny capsule splashed into the Pacific on the ninth day of a planned month-long mission to determine the physical effects of a long orbital flight.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the 14-pound pigtail monkey died shortly after midnight.

The terse announcement said an extensive autopsy had been started immediately on Bonny, who was launched into orbit June 28 from Cape Kennedy.

He was pulled back from space 21 days early yesterday because of his deteriorating physical condition.

Scientists said he was suffering from a low body temperature, which they blamed on a combination of "low metabolism and a capsule temperature on the low side of the temperature limits." But they said he apparently suffered no injuries in reentry or recovery.

Doctors reported last night the tiny space traveler was "responding favorably" in a specially constructed intensive care unit inside a trailer. But Bonny died a few hours later.

One Charge In Silverthorne's Case Dismissed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A federal judge dismissed one count of misapplication of bank funds yesterday against Don Silverthorne, former president of the now defunct San Francisco National Bank.

Silverthorne, 69, still faces 11 other counts of misapplication of $237,700 in funds arising from the collapse of the bank in 1965.

U.S. Dist. Judge Albert C. Wollenberg dismissed the count charging Silverthorne with illegally diverting $2,500 of the bank's funds into his personal account.

The former banker, a resident of Tiburon, originally was indicted and convicted of the charges in 1966, but his conviction was reversed because of allegedly prejudicial publicity.

Losses to bank depositors eventually totalled about $14 million following the demise of the bank.

Battlegrounds Quiet As First GIs Pull Out

SAIGON (AP) — Twenty-seven minor enemy rocket mortar attacks and no major ground fighting were reported today as the first American troop contingent pulled out of Vietnam.

But the deputy foreign minister of the Viet Cong's provisional revolutionary government warned that the current lull "is only a stage-setter for an offensive more violent and inclusive than any undertaken by the revolutionaries so far."

U.S. and South Vietnamese headquarters said nine of the enemy shellings caused light casualties or damage—three of these at U.S. installations. The American targets were a night camp of the 25th Infantry Division 27 miles northwest of Saigon and two base camps south of the demilitarized zone.

One shelling hit the headquarters of the 9th Marine Regiment at Vandergrift combat base, one of the units to be redeployed within the next few weeks to Okinawa. Spokesmen said about 10 enemy rounds wounded some Marines but didn't kill any.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported a civilian bus ran over a Viet Cong mine on Highway 1 southeast of Da Nang, killing eight passengers and wounding eight.

Le Guang Chanh, the Viet Cong deputy foreign minister, predicted an end of the fighting slowdown in an interview with the Egyptian newspaper Al Gumhurriya on the eve of his departure from Cairo to take up his new post in Vietnam. He has been head of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front mission in Cairo for three years.

"The United States understands no logic but that of power," Chanh said. "Only continued large-scale offensives and victories will force the United States to recognize our status as the true representatives of the South Vietnamese people and strengthen our political position at the negotiating table."

South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu visited the Ben Het Special Forces camp in the central highlands yesterday and told the camp's defenders the enemy abandoned its siege of Ben Het due to heavy losses, Thieu's office reported. Thieu claimed the enemy lost 2,000 men killed compared to government losses of about 200.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency reported today that Viet Cong supporters have set up a People's Revolutionary Committee in Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city and site of a major American military complex. The committee, like several that claim to be operating in other South Vietnamese cities and provinces, is intended to function as a shadow government—ready to take over in the event of a Viet Cong victory.

The 814 men of the 3rd Battalion, 60th Infantry, 9th Division, today became the first unit to withdraw from Vietnam as part of President Nixon's announced pullout of 25,000 U.S. troops this summer.

The battalion will be followed soon by the two remaining battalions of the 9th Division's 2nd Brigade, the division's 1st Brigade and the 9th U.S. Marine Regiment. The cutback also will include 2,000 Army Reserve and National Guard troops who will be returned to the United States and deactivated; 2,000 non-divisional support unit troops; 1,200 Navy personnel and a 400-man Marine tactical fighter squadron.

Saigon Military Chieftain Faces Corruption Charges

SAIGON (AP) — Brig. Nguyen Van Toan, commander of the Second South Vietnamese Infantry Division, has been charged of misusing combat support funds, profiteering and providing government transportation for Da Nang businessmen, a government spokesman announced today.

It was the first time that corruption charges have been filed against a general officer by the government army's recently-organized inspector general's office. It also was the first such charge brought against a ranking official during the 13-month-old administration of Premier Tran Van Huong.

Corruption charges also were brought against six senior officials in Quang Ngai province, which has been under Toan's control. The inspector general's charges will be considered by the cabinet.

Toan was accused of improperly profiting from a revival of the cinnamon trade in Quang Ngai province.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Health Policy Due?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says a major statement on medical care can be expected Thursday. The move is considered important enough that Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch has canceled a trip in favor of directing staff work on the legislative program.

Finch met with President Richard M. Nixon yesterday afternoon, then canceled a two-day trip to Boston for conferences and a speech to the World Health Organization.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press secretary, said the President wants to expedite proposals in the field of medical care costs, welfare and higher education before leaving on his 12-day trip to Romania and the Far East.

Argentine Ruler Cites 'Agitators'

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Juan Carlos Ongania blames the wave of student and worker unrest which swept Argentina in May and June on foreign "enemies of the country" and says they will be repressed.

"Destruction, fire, terrorism and murder have been caused by a plan perfectly elaborated far away from our borders," Ongania told 2,500 military officers at their annual banquet yesterday. He said foreign subversives plan to install an "athiest and materialist society" in Argentina.

Seven weeks of sporadic demonstrations, strikes and riots have caused 23 deaths and a cabinet reshuffle in Ongania's 3-year-old military regime.

Bagley Plays Middle Man To Halt Tax Reform Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan today found himself in a strange alliance with Assembly Democrats backing his tax reform plan.

Caught in the middle and trying to break the forces apart was Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, chairman of the revenue and taxation committee.

"I'm trying to protect the people from the (tax) package and protect the governor from his own program," Bagley said yesterday.

"I can't understand if Bagley's so interested in helping the governor why he hasn't helped him before," replied Assembly Democratic caucus chairman George N. Zenovich.

Zenovich and Reagan want to place the governor's tax reform program on the 1970 ballot. Bagley doesn't.

"There's no question the Democratic leadership in the Assembly wants this whole package on the ballot in order to use it against the governor next year," Bagley told a newsman.

Amendments to the constitution are necessary to implement portions of Reagan's tax reform program. If the amendments are approved by the Legislature they will require a vote of the people on the November 1970 ballot when Reagan is expected to run for re-election.

"If the governor is sold on it let the Governor take it to the people," Zenovich said.

He said Democrats would help Reagan put the package on the ballot but would not guarantee to urge voter approval.

Other Democratic sources have flatly stated they believe the program is so bad it will hurt Reagan's chances for re-election.

Bagley cited an example.

One of Reagan's constitutional amendments would impose a statewide uniform property tax. Now only local government levies the property tax.

Reagan's statewide property tax immediately would require 501 school districts—about half of those in California—to hold special tax override elections, Bagley said.

The special elections would be necessary because the Reagan constitutional amendment would set a maximum tax rate of $4.60 per $100 assessed valuation, he said. It would take a tax override to raise it higher.

The 501 districts would need a tax rate above the $4.60 to maintain current school service levels, Bagley said.

"If the Democrats continue their diabolical conspiracy to move those measures regardless of merit then the measures stand a fair chance of moving through the Legislature," Bagley said. "Abjectly loyal Republicans will move for anything the governor says is good."

A coalition of Democrats and Republicans is necessary to supply the 54 votes to approve a constitutional amendment in the Assembly.

Assembly Democrats also yesterday unsuccessfully balked at permitting introduction of Legislation designed to ensure California never again will be without a budget.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Lynch Gains On Bill To Block Do-It-Yourself Machineguns

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The drive by Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch to outlaw do-it-yourself machineguns has won the endorsement of the Assembly criminal procedure committee.

The committee yesterday approved and sent to the lower house floor a bill sought by Lynch as part of a gun control package aimed at restricting gun availability. The Attorney General believes both white and black "extremist" organizations are stockpiling weapons throughout California.

The measure by Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, includes in the definition of machinegun any combination of parts designed and intended for use in converting a firearm into a machinegun.

"Kits are now being made and sold that permit an M-1 rifle to be readily converted into a machinegun," Beilenson said. "They are widely advertised."

TICKET RULES

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to ease the frustration of parking violators cleared the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee yesterday.

The committee sent to the lower house floor a measure by Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, requiring that drivers cited for violations of local parking ordinances be given a written notice of the amount of bail.

Beilenson noted many California cities refuse to give a motorist such information unless he appears personally to pay the fine or forfeit the bail.

BILL AMENDED

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A school teacher should not be guilty of a crime for instructing a student in sex education against the orders of a parent, an Assembly committee decided yesterday.

The Assembly Education Committee rewrote a section of a Senate-passed bill by Sen. John G. Schmi, -Tustin, but delayed a final vote until next week.

As the measure passed the Senate, it would have made it a misdemeanor for a teacher or administrator to give sex education instruction to an education instruction to a child exempted by written parental request.

Schmitz agreed the criminal penalities should be removed. The committee amended the bill to require that any teacher violating the law could lose his credentials.

VIEWS TRADED

SACRAMENT O (UPI) — Legislators and student body presidents from eight state colleges expressed sympathy for the other's problems yesterday following a two-hours closed door meeting.

"They've got about as many problems as the students have," said Stephen Cooley, president of the Cal State at Los Angeles campus.

Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan said the unannounced meeting with members of the joint committee on higher education was designed to learn student views of curriculum, entrance requirements and special courses such as the educational opportunities program.

HAYAKAWA ROLE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman John L. Burton believes S. I. Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, should not be allowed to continue as acting president at San Francisco State College because it would hurt Hayakawa's political future.

Burton, D-San Francisco, urged the State College Board of Trustees yesterday to appoint a permanent replacement for Hayakawa, who has been mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for governor, U.S. senator or superintendent of public instruction.

"It would be unfair to him to require that he continue as acting president to the detriment of his future political activities," said Burton, president of the California Democratic Council, in a letter to board chairman Daniel Ridder.

Fairfax Still Faces Decision On Salaries

Fairfax finished its preliminary line-by-line budget review last night without substantial changes, but still faces the potentially most expensive decisions.

Those items — salaries and added personnel — will be discussed at a budget session at 8 p.m. Friday at the Fairfax Women's Club.

Also Friday, Councilman Frank J. Egger is expected to present his own budget figures promised earlier in the budget deliberations. Egger claims he will offer figures providing a 10 per cent raise for all employees without a tax increase through a different distribution of the budget dollar.

Last night, the council mulled over the police department budget, granting tentative approval to a new police car and a three-wheeled motorcycle.

The total police department budget as recommended by City Administrator Frances R. Lestanguet if $133,306, up slightly from estimated 1968-69 expenditures of $128,545. Police Chief James R. Orr had requested $158,267, with the major differences in the two budgets a cut in proposed salary increases and the addition of two men.

Orr maintained two more are necessary for services. Currently the Fairfax Police Department is authorized seven men and the chief.

He contended the additions would substantially reduce overtime costs and next year, would eliminate the need for vacation relief.

"I think it's basically wrong" to have policement working so much overtime, said Councilman Robert R. Souza who held out for more men or overtime but not both.

"There are certain bare necessities we have to give the people of this town," Egger maintained. He cited patrolling in the residential hill areas as one service which could be improved.

Mayor Francis J. O'Connell worried that more men would mean more arrests which would mean more time in court and more work. "It'll just keep escalating," he said.

O'Connell asked the council for "any concrete suggestions" and in the silence that followed told Orr. "You're looking at five cowards up here."

The council agreed to continue the item until salaries are discussed in detail.

The rest of the police department budget was covered without significant change although Orr warned the council he may need more for radio maintenance because the men in the county shop are reportedly quitting Friday.

The council had no objection to an engineering budget of $4,000 for contractural services in the only other budget category studied last night.

The Fairfax City Council also:

DOGS — Introduced an ordinance amending an animal control ordinance to conform with county changes.

Teens Argue Melee Not Closed Yet

Young people interested in airing the "Memorial Day incident" at the Fairfax Pavilion indicated last night they are not giving up easily.

Midway during the Fairfax City Council discussion of the police budget, Michael J. Mulqueeny of Los Ranchitos asked the council if it would be on the next agenda.

Mayor Francis J. O'Connell said the matter would not be discussed until the district attorney's office finishes its investigation.

Mulqueeny promptly reported that investigation is finished and commented, "The district attorney's office is making a total farce of the investigation." He did not elaborate.

The city maintained it had not received word the investigation is complete.

Mulqueeny noted he had filed a grievance with the Marin County Human Rights Commission and Police Chief James R. Orr, target of complaints since the incident which ended with the arrest of one youth, had not appeared for the hearing.

He termed it "pretty sorry" when "you ignore your own system of justice."

Orr explained he had intended to appear but was advised by the city attorney not to while litigation is pending.

"I'm not afraid to face any issue," Orr declared.

Mulqueeny, with a small group of other young people, left when it appeared the council would not promise a place on the agenda. But Mulqueeny warned, "Maybe next time we will come in and talk about it anyway."

After their departure, Councilman Robert R. Souza said if the young people had a complaint, "why didn't they file it with us?"

"It wouldn't do any good," said O'Connell, ending the discussion.

The case stems from a disturbance at a teen-age dance at the pavilion when, witnesses said, Orr struck David Edward Pratt, 17, after a crowd of youths pushed Pratt into Orr. Orr had been summoned to the dance after a crowd had failed to disperse.

Orr said Pratt was belligerent and obscene when asked to move on and kicked several policement when carried to a patrol car.

N.Y. SDS Meet Broken Up By Splinter Faction

NEW YORK (AP) — Rival factions of Students for a Democratic Society clashed in a fist fight during a regional meeting at New York University.

The fist-swinging, chair-throwing melee ensued last night as about 100 followers of the Progressive Labor Party faction tried to enter a closed meeting of 200 members of the Revolutionary Youth Movement.

Police arrived after the fight subsided, and there were no arrests. Two persons were treated for cuts at a hospital and released.

During the recent SDS convention in Chicago, the PL faction was expelled from SDS, with each side denouncing the other as counter-revolutionary.

A spokesman for the RYM said the meeting of city and Long Island members had been called to discuss summer projects, future demonstrations and the split between the factions.

Greyhound Cuts Seven Marin Commute Runs

A Greyhound Bus Lines official today confirmed the company has eliminated seven commuters' runs connecting Marin and San Francisco, but denied the action was the result of bus shortages caused by a one-month strike by machinists.

Buses were eliminated yesterday on one morning and evening run from Mill Valley, Belvedere and Kentfield and two round trip runs from Novato and Landsdale.

Kenneth Satrom, director of agency relations for Greyhound, said the cutbacks "were not unusual at this time of the year."

He said passenger traffic traditionally drops off in the summer as commuters take vacations. However he acknowledged that some commuters might have felt an uncertainty about the bus service because of the prolonged strike and found other means to commute.

The bus company in normal times serves more than 4,000 Marin commuters.

No break was indicated yesterday in the strike by machinists at the company's San Francisco maintenance facility.

Satrom said the company is servicing commute buses. But he refused to elaborate on where or by whom, saying he would not "go into detail" on the matter.

Five of the discontinued buses terminated at the Ferry Building while two went to the Seventh Street Depot.

Eliminated were the 6:35 a.m. bus from Belvedere; the 7:55 a.m. bus from Mill Valley; the 6:51 a.m. bus from the Kentfield Post Office; and the 6:42 and 7:31 a.m. buses from Landsdale and the 7:12 and 7:30 a.m. buses from Novato.

A ticket seller at the Novato depot said commuters received leaflets last Thursday advising them of the cutbacks. He said there was little confusion yesterday or today, noting buses leave Novato every seven to 10 minutes.

However in Mill Valley the situation was different. A reservations clerk said commuters showed up yesterday for the 7:55 a.m. bus, and when it did not arrive had to wait until 8:25 a.m.

The confusion he said was taken in stride.

"The schedules seem to change once a month around here anyway," he said.

Charges Fly As County's Last Radio Technician Quits

and he would ask the supervisors Tuesday to authorize contracting with private local contractors to continue service. A technician from the Marin Municipal Water District will also help out, he said.

The supervisors last month refused, at least for the next year, to grant Atkinson's request to put the whole system into private hands on a contract basis, which he said would save $17,500 a year.

Atkinson's view of the effects of the resignations was challenged by Strohmeyer and J. Mansfield Lewis, former head of the communications department for 27 years before his retirement earlier this year.

Strohmeyer, who had been with the department for five years, said the lack of competent maintenance would mean the emergency system would be "practically off the air . . . with greatly reduced coverage."

Without maintenance, he said, the system would have to fall back on emergency back-up equipment with relatively low power which would be incapable of blanketing the county.

Lewis agreed with Strohmeyer, adding that the two private vendors in Marin — Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Redwood Radio Telephone Corp. — do not have enough manpower to maintain the county system.

Lewis, who said the county had lost "four of the finest technicians in Northern California," had vigorously opposed Atkinson's request to the supervisors, maintaining that it was essential for the county to maintain control of its own system. He also said recruitment of replacements would be difficult because the technicians' "grapevine will spread the word."

Strohmeyer also bitterly attacked Atkinson for harassing the technicians, telling them, among other things that they were "grossly overpaid" and that there would be no further promotions.

"He was not just difficult to get along with, he was impossible to get along with," Strohmeyer said, adding: "We wouldn't work for him for any amount of money."

Saying he would not reconsider his resignation no matter what happened, Stromeyer said the communications department had been "in complete turmoil" since Atkinson took over in January.

Atkinson denied harassment. He said he has never told anyone they were overpaid. As for promotions, he said when his department was reorganized the job of senior radio technician was changed to assistant director of the department which would require more skills, including administrative and long-range planning, than qualified radio technicians have.

He added that he was told that one man almost walked off the job when he sent Strohmeyer a note asking for an accounting of time worked by technicians. "If that's harassment, then I guess it is," he said.

He said he tried yesterday and twice earlier to convince Strohmeyer to stay. "A lot of the trouble, I guess, is changing it from the way it ran for 27 years," he said.

Randall M. Prevo, head of the employees association, said he had received "considerable reports of harassment" of the departing technicians by Atkinson.

He echoed Strohmeyer's claims that the technicians were told there would be no more promotions and added, "There were certain implied promises (of promotion) I thought we had received from Atkinson that didn't come through."

Charging that the technicians were given a "fast shuffle," Prevo said, "The only way to get rid of merit system people is to make life so miserable, they'll leave."

He added that he is conferring with County Administrator Alan Bruce in an effort to resolve the conflict in the department.

BUDGET

days during a recent month, he noted.

Salary items in the new budget, including pay raises for the police force and public works department, were approved last month by the council.

Salaries totaled $130,100 in the new budget.

The budget allocated $1.096 of the 1.75 tax rate to the general fund, up 16 cents from last year. Sanitation would be 18.4 cents (down from 29 cents); parks, 6.9 cents, (now 13 cents); general obligation bonds, 30.3 cents (now 31.4 cents); and retirement funds, 9.8 cents(now 8 cents).

Ferryboat Talks Resume Briefly

Negotiations resumed briefly yesterday between striking members of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association and Harbor Tours, the firm which operates the Tiburon-San Francisco ferry, with each side presenting amended offers.

However, "the gap separating the parties is too far to be bridged at this time," reported federal mediator Jerry Finley.

Finley said the meeting was recessed subject to call — with no more meetings in sight immediately.

The ferryboat captains have been idle since June 5, along with workers of several Bay Area tugboat firms. One boat company involved has settled.

The Harbor Tours strike affects about 200 Marin commuters who used the ferry daily.

TRUSTEES

Glenn Dumke said he is confident the presidents would use the authority with discretion.

On another front, trustee William O. Weissich of San Rafael said Dumke would announce before the meeting closes tomorrow a decision over a controversial student election at Sonoma State College.

The chancellor is faced with either supporting or reversing a decision by Dr. Ambrose R. Nichols Jr., campus president.

Last month, Nichols upheld a student elections board decision which validated the election of James G. Gillette, Black Student Union leader, as student body president. The student board earlier invalidated elections in which Jon Owens of Novato won the student body presidency.

Weissich said, "Many of the students are still dissatisfied."

A small delegation of Sonoma State students attended today's trustee meeting.

Gillette, 34, told newsmen, "We were duly elected . . . The people raising charges went through due process."

Gillette, from Cotati, admitted that he once was convicted of importing marijuana into the state. "I kind of think I'm a perfect example of the rehabilitative process," he said.

Gillette added that he had an academic average between an A minus and B plus.

Also before trustees is the possible permanent appointment of S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley as president of troubled San Francisco State College.

Action will not probably come until tomorrow afternoon when Gov. Ronald Reagan is on hand for a meeting of the full board.

It is then that Hayakawa, who has won wide public and political praise for his tough stand against campus militants, is expected to be appointed to at least a one-year term as president.

The action would go against the recommendation of the school's presidential selection committee. It is supporting Negro assemblyman Willie Brown, D-San Francisco, for the appointment. Brown supported the long student strike at the school.

BONNY

the Biosatellite III project, scheduled a news conference later today on the failure of the $92 million space experiment. Before blastoff, NASA officials said Bonny would have to stay up at least 15 days for the flight to be a full success. The mission was scheduled to last 30 days.

The decline in the monkey's metabolism, which was partially blamed for his lowering body temperature, began during the first week of the weightless flight in an orbit 225 to 245 miles above the earth.

Wilson said scientists weren't too concerned because monkeys had shown similar responses to isolation on the ground. But after a normal eighth day in space, the monkey stopped drinking water and ignored signals sent from the ground.

NASA officials decided to bring the space capsule down. It splashed into the Pacific yesterday afternoon and was picked up by an Air Force helicopter after an hour in the water. Bonny arrived at the makeshift hospital two and one-half hours after splashdown.

Formosa now produces asparagus and mushrooms on a large commercial scale.

Church Denied In San Anselmo

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night denied Subud California a church, a use permit application for a church at 1405 San Anselmo Avenue, saying the area has inadequate parking, a church would create congestion and it would not be appropriate to the residential neighborhood.

Commissioners approved a use permit for Michael Considine and F. M. Gelardi to serve alcoholic beverages at a restaurant at 60 Red Hill Avenue provided they can supply 16 parking spaces on the site and adjacent lot plus 5 spaces at the nearby Richfield service station on week ends.

The commission determined that an upholstery shop could be maintained in a neighborhood business district as requested by Janko Upholstery at 1501 San Anselmo Avenue.

guerrillas fell in two other clashes in the Jordan Valley.

The Israelis claimed the canal battle resulted in one of the single highest Egyptian death tolls there since the June 1967 war. The army said the Egyptian commandos moved under cover of an artillery barrage against the Israeli camp north of Timsa Lake but were beaten back.

Cairo Radio said the Egyptians hit in company strength, about 120 men, overran the camp, killed 30 Israeli soldiers in a "violent battle" and "ambushed and destroyed two Israeli army command cars and one tank."

It said the commandos returned to base with one dead and five wounded.

In Amman, a Jordanian spokesman claimed an Israeli ammunition dump was destroyed by Jordanian artillery, one vehicle was set afire and one Israeli gun position was destroyed along the Israeli-Jordanian cease-fire line during a 50-minute artillery duel last night.

As the pace of fighting increased, a rift threatened to develop in Israel's ruling Labor party. Supporters of Defense Minister Moshe Dayan met to consider whether the Rafi group of the party should break away and form a new party.

Prime Minister Golda Meir walked out of the meeting after saying such a split would mean "disaster for the nation" at a time when Israel is "again faced by difficult security problems."

A political source said the chances of a split were 50-50 after last night's meeting. Dayan has yet to commit himself, for he has never expressed any desire to unseat Mrs. Meir. But it is known he and Mrs. Meir are strongly divided on crucial political issues.

Dayan must make up his mind by Sept. 25, the deadline for declaring new parties.

HOMER E. MARSTON

OBITUARIES

Dr. Homer Marston, 73, Dies

Funeral for Dr. Homer E. Marston, 73, a general practitioner in San Rafael for 42 years before his retirement three years ago, will be at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Marston, who lived with his wife Janice at 58 Culloden Park Road, San Rafael, died Saturday at his home after a short illness.

A native of Chicago, Marston came to California in 1902 and San Rafael in 1909 with his parents. His father, Dr. Charles B. Marston, opened his San Rafael practice in that year and continued it until 1941.

Marston was graduated from San Rafael High School in 1914 and received his bachelor's degree from Stanford University, where he was the college featherweight boxing champion in 1917.

After graduating from Stanford, Marston entered medical school in San Francisco but was drafted and sent to France in 1918 with the Medical Corps.

After the war, he re-entered Stanford's Medical School and was graduated in 1924. From 1924 to 1926, he was assistant resident physician at San Quentin.

Marston opened his own practice the following year and was located in the Albert Building from the time it opened in 1931 until he retired June 30, 1966.

When he retired, Marston spoke of the changes in medicine during his 42-year career. "It's entirely different now," he said. "In the old days, a general practitioner did almost everything. Now he consults with specialists.

"We did specialize in the early days — diseases of men, women and children; head, trunk and extremities; and diseases of the skin and its contents."

"Yes, my practice in San Rafael was rewarding. There were not many doctors in the county then. I did everything — appendectomies, tonsils, hernias, deliveries and, of course, had many medical cases. I treated oldsters at the Danish Home and my experience taking care of the boys at St. Vincent's was most interesting."

Marston recalled that when he worked as an assistant to Dr. Leo L. Stanley at San Quentin Prison, "the cons soon learned I was good with my mitts, and I was able to take care of some of the toughies when they got out of line."

Besides his wife, Dr. Marston is survived by a son, Homer E. Marston Jr. of San Rafael, a daughter, Mrs. Marilyn Janice Whitney of Los Angeles, and a sister, Mrs. Herbert Ormsby of Palo Alto.

Mrs. Bork and her late husband, David, were the only growers of cut flowers for sale in Mill Valley before any florist shops were established in the town. the couple was also noted for the dahlia gardens they tended on Cascade Avenue.

She was active in the Red Cross, feeding and entertaining servicemen during both world wars, and was also noted for the baked goods she prepared for friends and those who were sick, sometimes walking miles to deliver her gifts.

She is survived by a sister, Cora Bostwick of Turner, Ore.

She made her home with a daughter, Katherine Brown of Novato. She had worked as an accountant clerk for the Canadian Pacific Railroad and Western Union prior to her retirement.

She was a member of the Women's Benefit Association of Port Huron, Mich.

"These are the men that the majority of the Republicans want and I support them," Way told newsmen after the closed caucus. He said Burgener received 12 and Stevens 11 of the 21 GOP votes.

Petaluma Will Widen Road Despite Protest

The Petaluma City Council last night approved plan lines for the improvement of Magnolia Avenue despite protests from property owners that the street would be too wide.

The council introduced an ordinance setting the plan lines to widen Magnolia Avenue from Petaluma Boulevard north to Keokuk Street and for the extension of Liberty Street from where it dead-ends at West Street through to Magnolia Avenue.

Victor De Carli, owner of the southwest corner of Petaluma Boulevard and Magnolia, protested that the widening of the intersection would take nearly 30 feet from his property line and endanger his business establishment.

De Carli also protested that the proposed intersection would create a jog between Payran Street and Magnolia even though engineering maps show the flow of traffic to be fairly straight. He challenged whether the street need be widened to 52 feet curb to curb and 70 feet with sidewalks installed.

"Magnolia will be nearly the size of Petaluma Boulevard when it doesn't carry one-tenth the traffic," De Carli said. Petaluma Boulevard is 80 feet wide.

Council members rebutted that the street may not be built for five years and that it must be constructed for future traffic so it won't be inadequate by the time of completion.

Also protesting was Ted Kennedy, owner of Ted's Wheel Alignment on Magnolia. He said that the proposed use of 15 feet of his property would reduce his land to 55 feet deep.

"When you consider that I work on 65 foot long trucks, you can see what this will do to me," Kennedy said. "It will ruin me."

All property owners agreed that a wider, safer and signalized intersection at Magnolia Avenue and the boulevard was needed, but suggested that the plan lines be drawn to take property from the other side of the street.

Noting that businessmen have shown great interest in undeveloped land off Magnolia, the council said it would only be fair to them to set precise plan lines so that they can plan their developments accordingly.

The ordinance setting plan lines will be considered for adoption at the council's July 21 meeting.

The Petaluma City Council Also:

MOBILE HOMES — Received a resolution from the planning commission establishing a mobile home park zone and decided that a study session would need to be held before setting fees and approving the zone.

ROAD WORK — Received plans for the widening of Washington Street, the widening of Payran Street and the construction of Caulfield Avenue between McDowell Boulevard south and Lakeville Highway. Noting that lengthy discussion would be needed, the council said a study session will be held.

FIRE STATION — Approved the purchase of land for a fire station site from the Wes Bailey Land Co. for $5,000. The land is located on McDowell Boulevard South across the street from the Monarch Manor Model Homes.

VICE MAYOR — Unanimously elected John W. Cavanagh Jr. as the council vice mayor.

BUDGET — Adopted the final budget for the 1969-70 year of $2,866,858.

BIDS — Awarded a contract for the purchase of gasoline to the Phillips Petroleum Co. with a low bid of 20 cents a gallon for regular gas and 23 cents for high test. All bids were rejected for oil with the decision to buy oil as part of the contract with the county of Sonoma and Standard Oil Co. for a savings of $114.

COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVES — Approved councilmen to serve on various city commissions and boards. They included David W. Brainerd, water commission; Robert A. Brunner, planning commission; Fred L. Mattei, recreation, music and parks commission; Albert L. Battaglia Jr., library board of trustees; and Phillip L. Joerger, traffic committee.

CLOSED SESSION — Went behind closed doors with the library board of trustees to consider the employment of a head librarian to replace Edna R. Bovett who retired last month.

Scotland Yard Seeks Drug Ring

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard is combing London's Chinatown for a ring of drug smugglers believed to control a flow of $192,000 worth of heroin a month from Hong Kong.

A police spokesman said $2.4 million worth of the Chinese drug has entered Britain in the past year, resulting in an alarming increase in drug deaths.

Alan Bestic, an official of the Association for Prevention of Drug Addiction, explained that the Hong Kong heroin contains caffein, amphetamines and barbiturates. Because of these additives, it is only between 40 and 70 per cent as strong as English heroin, legally obtainable on a doctor's recommendation through a recognized drug center.

Plumber Jailed In Gang Slaying

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police arrested a plumber in connection with a June 29 killing in Golden Gate Park.

Arrested yesterday was John Cleary, 31. Lt. Charles Ellis said he had been "definitely identified as one of those involved . . . he is one of several suspects. The others are being sought."

Cleary was jailed in connection with the shooting of Gino Heinicke, 23, during a fight between two motorcycle groups.

Heinicke, in the park for a rock music concert, was shot in the abdomen as he went to the rescue of two members of Hells Angels, who police said were fighting with a group described as the Gypsy Jokers. He died the next day.

Water Contract

A special contract to relocate water facilities in connection with the widening of Highway 101 viaduct in San Rafael will be considered by Marin Municipal Water District directors at a meeting at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera.

Ray Lawyer Fights Sale Of His Story

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)— James Earl Ray's attorney says he will not request that Ray be present in Federal Court Friday for a hearing on Ray's suit to invalidate certain contracts.

Attorney Robert W. Hill Jr. of Chattanooga said the hearing will center around a motion for a preliminary injunction to prohibit attorneys Percy Foreman of Houston and Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham and Alabama author William Bradford Huie from selling or disposing of the story of Ray's life or any information obtained from him.

Ray filed suit April 11 charging his two former attorneys and Huie took advantage of his ignorance and got him to sign away the rights to his story of the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The three defendants have filed motions to dismiss Ray's suit claiming the Middle District Court here does not have jurisdiction in the case. The matter will be heard before U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller.

Nashville Attorney John J. Hooker Sr., who represents Foreman and Huie, said his clients will not be present for the hearing. Hanes, who will be represented by his son, Arthur J. Hanes Jr., is not expected to be present either.

Traffic Snarls Will Star On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Starting in September, metropolitan area commuters will be able to view the traffic jams on the road ahead while sitting at home drinking their breakfast coffee.

New York City's municipal station, WNYC, plans to transmit live pictures of the traffic tieups from cameras mounted in police helicopters. The evening rush hour will also be televised.

The commuter service is being financed under a $75,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation and a $78,000 appropriation from the city.

Heart Patient Dies After Fight

Police arrested Harrison Begay, 21, on suspicion of murder.

Stacey was a student at the university. Friends said two valves leading to Stacey's heart were repaired in the recent surgery.

Corte Madera Raises Business License Fees; First In 18 Years

The Corte Madera Town Council last night adopted a new business license ordinance — the first major change in the license in 18 years.

The ordinance, to be effective next Jan. 1, incorporates the existing solicitor's license ordinance and sets a flat fee of $45 per year, and $6 for each employee over five, for the town's retail and general businesses.

The rate represents a $15 boost over the old fee and a $2 increase in the employee clause.

The new ordinance features an escalator clause that will keep future license rate hikes in line with cost-of-living increases.

Businesses which gross less than $10,000 a year will be charged a straight $30 fee.

Fees for contractors will rise to $50 a year from the present $25. Professional persons will pay $30 a year for each person in a firm; plus $10 per employee.

In another action, the council authorized changes in parking regulations along Corte Madera Boulevard between Redwood Avenue and First Street; and on First between Corte Madera and Montecito Drive.

Diagnonal parking will be eliminated on the west side of the Corte Madera Boulevard section and on the south side of the First Street area. Parallel parking lines will be arranged in the two areas; with a two-hour time limit.

The council agreed to make a 24-foot section along Corte Madera Boulevard from the Redwood Avenue intersection a no-parking area, to allow easier cornering.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

CONSTRUCTION — Adopted a code of Uniform Construction Standards; as recommended by the Marin County Public Works Association.

ELECTRICAL — Set Aug. 4 at 8 p.m. for a public hearing on the 1968 edition of the Uniform Electrical Code; under consideration for adoption for Corte Madera.

CODIFICATION — Authorized the town manager to contact the Book Publishing Co. of Seattle in regard to the preparation of 50 copies of codified town ordinances at a cost estimated at $4,500.

SAN CLEMENTE DRIVE — Authorized the town manager to order work on two traffic islands at San Clemente and Paradise drives.

OVERTIME—Adopted an ordinance amending three sections of an existing ordinance regarding the payment of overtime; business trip allowances and bonding of certain employees.

BILLBOARDS — Continued until Aug. 4 consideration of an appeal from H. Koch and Sons to retain two billboards along Highway 101.

ZONING — — Introduced an amendment to the zoning ordinance inserting new language in regard to the care of mentally disturbed and other persons in areas designated R residential.

APPEAL — Referred to the planning commission for further study an appeal by Amy M. Farrin, 23 Grove Avenue, to have two lots she owns declared a legal non-conforming single family site.

POLICE — Authorized overtime pay estimated at $750 for police during the month of July and approved travel expenses totaling $205 for an officer conducting background investigations on candidates for the police force now working in other jurisdictions.

FIREMAN — Authorized town manager Ronald L. Usher to hire Stanley Saulenas as a paid fireman on the recommendation of the council's police and fire committee.

Judge Fines Driver $240

Stanley Clay Haroldson, 34, of San Francisco, who was incorrectly reported in Friday's Independent-Journal to have been sentenced as a drunken driver, actually pleaded guilty last week to the lesser charge of reckless driving.

He was arrested Dec. 29 on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court placed Haroldson on one year probation and fined him $240.

Woman Pleads Guilty To Forgery Charge

Martha Ann Woods of San Francisco pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to signing another person's name to a credit card March 7 to obtain a rental car. A second charge of car theft against her was dismissed.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ordered Miss Smith to appear in Superior Court Monday for setting of a sentencing date.

Sewer Annex Ballot Set For Paradise

The Corte Madera Town Council, meeting as the city's Corte Madera Sanitary District board, last night set Sept. 16 for an annexation election for 66 property owners above Paradise Drive within the Tiburon city limits.

Property owners have indicated in the past that there would be some opposition to the annexation on grounds existing septic tanks were adequate, costs estimates on sewering were vague and the expense would prove to be an undue burden.

The Marin County Health Department has called conditions in the area a health hazard.

At a previous meeting of the board, 13 of the 66 property owners registered protests to the annexation, thereby necessitating the election.

The Corte Madera Sanitary District board also:

SCHOOL — Approved a recommendation of the sanitary commission to permit the Marin Country Day School to connect to the district's sewer system, with the annexation fee set at $310.

RETIREMENT — Adopted a resolution noting the board's intent to secure a contract for three employees to participate in the public employees retirement system.

Wage Controls Predicted If Surtax Fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy told the Senate Finance committee today wage and price controls will have to be considered if the surtax extension bill dies and other methods of controlling inflation fail.

But Kennedy said he personally opposed such controls, in principle and because of administrative problems, and did not think they would be needed if the administration's antiinflation program takes hold as he expects.

He told the committee that prompt action on the House-passed surtax extension bill (210-205 vote) was necessary as a part of this program, both for economic and psychological reasons.

But Democratic Senate leaders and finance committee members, including chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., at once made it plain that they expected to consider a wide range of tax reform provisions along with the surtax legislation. This raised the strong possibility the matter would not get to the Senate floor until fall.

Democrats at the hearing repeatedly chided Kennedy and the Nixon administration for what they said was a complete failure to do anything about the present high interest rates.

At one point this led to a Republican protest that the secretary was being treated unfairly.

Kennedy replied sharply to his critics that a large part of the blame for the present inflation and record-high interest rates must be put on the $25 billion federal deficit under the Johnson administration in the fiscal year 1968.

The Republican leader in the House, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, told White House reporters prior to opening of the hearing that Senate linking of tax reforms with the proposed surtax extension would inevitably delay the campaign being waged against inflation.

Ford made the comment after a breakfast meeting of top congressional leaders with President Richard M. Nixon.

Panel Founded To Aid Kentfield School District On Fund Woes

A community group intended to represent divergent views on school operations was founded last night to advise the Kentfield School District on it financial problems.

Fifteen of about 35 persons who responded to a board plea for help signed up for the group, which will look into ways of providing the district with new revenue or putting to better use present district resources.

Trustees have adopted a preliminary 1969-70 budget of $1.3 million, retaining the total 1968-69 tax rate of $3.34 per $100 assessed valuation but curtailing maintenance costs and capital outlay items. The board said last night extra funds will be needed to maintain the present program in 1970-71.

Both board members and persons in the audience stressed the need for a wide range of opinions on school issues to be represented on the committee.

"We don't want a stacked deck," said Lawrence Goldberg, board president.

The board, faced with declining state revenue, had tentatively decided last month to seek voter approval of a rate rate increase which would go into effect in 1970-71. However, no amount was set and no date was firmly established.

Then the board decided to seek community advice, mailing letters to what it considered a cross-section of the residents.

"We think the community ought to determine whether to have a tax election and how much — or what to do if there will be no election," Goldberg said. "I think we're open-minded on what to do."

Raising the recent failure of a string of school tax elections in Marin, Trustee J. R. B. Ellis said, "In most cases, these haven't been effective because the board didn't communicate with the community and respond to any questions."

The board presented the audience with a 12-page fact sheet on district finances. It showed that state aid had decreased from 52.4 per cent in 1955-56 to 17.5 per cent in 1968-69, while the burden on local property taxpayers had risen from 47.46 per cent to 81.5 per cent.

The board pointed out that the state, in effect, penalized school districts with high assessed valuation, in addition, the board said, the Kentfield District lost about $67,000 last fiscal year under redistribution of the area-wide tax imposed in the Tamalpais High School District as a penalty for not unifying.

Kentfield Supt. Anthony B. Bacich said that while the district contributes to the fund on the basis of assessed valuation the funds are redistributed on the basis of average daily attendance.

Bacich estimated the district lost about $5,400 last year in state aid and support because figures were taken on the last Friday of the month — a time when absenteeism is above average. A member of the audience suggested the lower attendance was perhaps because students "go skiing for the weekend."

Thomas A. Ring of 44 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae, said he had checked district budgets for the past five years and found that student population had decreased from 1,515 to 1,435 while the number of teachers had risen from 61 to 69.

"Are we really betting our money's worth for a 16 per cent increase in the teaching staff that goes along with 7 per cent asked.

Bacich attributed the increase in staff in the past five years to state requirements for foreign language programs and to maintain the pupil-teacher ratio in primary grades at 30-1 and to an improved seventh and eighth grade program.

Ring wondered "if anything could be done to remove the not-so-essential items from the budget and not impair the educational program."

The first meeting of the committee will be at 8 p.m. Monday in Wolfe Grade School, with its first report to the board and official appointment on July 21. The job of recruiting members was left to the group.

Volunteer Firemen Honor Secretary

The Bolinas Volunteer Fire Department last night accepted the resignation of Secretary Timothy J. Waters and named him an honorary department member on the inactive list.

James R. Alberigi Jr. was named secretary. Waters recently had a heart attack and resigned for health reasons.

Goldberg Is Reelected Panel Head

Attorney Lawrence Goldberg was reelected president of Kentfield School District board last night.

Goldberg, of 75 Murray Avenue, Larkspur, has been a member of the board since 1963.

Board member Kenneth Terganowen was reelected clerk and J.R.B. Ellis, trustee representative.

Ellis and Gloria M. Riccardi, reelected to the board in April, were sworn in, as was a new member, Dewitt K. MacDonald.

The Kentfield School District board also:

MEMBERSHIP — Deferred until fall consideration of a proposal by Ellis to drop out of the California School Boards Association and join the Association of California School Districts. Ellis criticized the school boards association's position in support of a bill to lift school tax rate ceilings as "substantial misrepresentation."

BUDGET — Postponed until July 21 approval of a publication budget because final figures were unavailable.

TENURE — Granted tenure to Catherine Lewis, a teacher at Wolfe Grade School. She was inadvertently omitted from an earlier tenure list.

MEETINGS — Voted to continue meeting on the second and fourth Mondays of the month during 1969-70.

BONDS — Postponed a stand on legislation that would remove the tax exempt status of municipal bonds.

BINGHAM — Voted to send a letter or appreciation to former trustee Mary Bingham.

Golf Clubs Taken

A set of golf clubs valued at $300 was taken from the trunk of his car sometime in the past three weeks, George I. Cooper of 1535 Buchanan Street, Novato, reported yesterday to police.

Motorcycle Crash

Steven J. Smiley, 18, of 13 Live Oak Avenue, Fairfax was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for cuts on his left leg and foot after the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car driven by Mary P. Milliken, 20, of 175 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, on Grove Lane near San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, at about 2:15 p.m., police reported today.

Supervisors Support Heliport Site Search

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today authorized a study to find a suitable site for a county-owned heliport.

The county aviation commission, which asked for the study, has expressed preference for a site in central Marin, possibly near the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge.

Marin is now served by SFO Helicopter Airlines at a temporary heliport the company rents on Richardson Bay at Manzanita. SFO has expressed a desire for a more central location.

Supervisor Michael Wornum said the site selection should be conducted carefully because of the noise of helicopters.

Chairman John F. McInnis said residents in the Gallinas Valley were "terribly upset" that a heliport might be built on the Civic Center site. He said there were no such plans and hoped that any location chosen would force helicopters to fly over water as much as possible.

The study, to be conducted by the county department of public works, will begin in the 1970-71 fiscal year.

In other business at its all-day meeting today, the board ratified new contracts with the social and probation workers calling for lighter caseloads and accepted an interim report by the Marin County Grand Jury calling for improved structural fire protection to unincorporated areas, but declined to accept the jury's recommendation that the board urge annexation through the Local Agency Formation Commission.

McInnis said the LAFC already had the power to urge annexations and did not feel this was within the purview of the board.

Dr. Sheppard Tells Senate Of Torture Time In Prison

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Sam Sheppard told a horrifying tale today of being placed in the "hole" during his 10 years in prison.

"I was chained with log chains, hand chains, chains around the neck and I don't know where all else. I was placed between two doors for six days. The two doors were less than 12 inches apart," Sheppard said in testimony prepared for a Senate subcommittee.

Sheppard, in what was called the trial of the decade, was found guilty in 1955 of having murdered his pregnant wife, Marilyn, 31, in their Bay Village, Ohio, home. In 1964 he was freed by a federal judge, and in a retrial he was found innocent.

"There was no food," Sheppard said in his testimony.

"There was no light and little air and I felt I would suffocate.

"I couldn't sleep, I would just pass out.

"I was allowed to wear my shorts, shoes and socks.

"I had no toilet privileges and just stood in my own excrement.

"After six days they removed me from the doors and asked me what I thought. I made a rather unfortunate comment about (Ohio Corrections Commissioner —Maury) Mr. Koblentz's heritage whereupon I was placed between the doors for three more days.

"When I came out my ankles had swollen so large the shoe strings had split on my shoes.

"I spent nine days in the 'hole' simply because I wouldn't call off (attorney F. Lee) Bailey and Dr. Steve, my brother.

"Had I done that, Mr. Koblentz told me that I would probably make parole. But that if I didn't do this there would be trouble, trouble, trouble.

"I should add that during this time I was beaten with rubber hoses. I can show you the scars on my back, Senator."

Koblentz, contacted at Columbus, denied Sheppard's allegations.

"That's an outright and absolute lie," Koblentz said. "Sheppard has lied before and he's lying again."

Koblenz said Sheppard spent two, not nine, days in a correctional cell. He also said records showed Sheppard was charged with eight violations of prison rules while behind bars but that he received only a reprimand for most of them.

"I never talked to him about his trial, his brother, attorney or any other aspect of his case," Koblentz said. "We do nothing to impede any individuals' legal efforts to obtain release from prison."

Second Viaduct Work Ordered

A $2.7 million contract for widening Highway 101 from south of Irwin Street to north of Mission Avenue in San Rafael was awarded yesterday to Murphy-Pacific Enterprises of Oakland, the California Department of Public Works announced yesterday.

The widening will be accomplished by constructing a new parallel southbound viaduct, converting the existing viaduct to northbound traffic. The new viaduct will be to the west of the present one.

The southerly approach to the viaduct is now a six-lane freeway. The north approach is currently being expanded to six lanes with completion scheduled for October.

Arms Talks Held Key To Vote On ABM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis said today the key issue in the Senate vote on the antiballistic missile is the need to uphold President Richard M. Nixon as he prepares to start arms reduction talks with the Soviet Union.

"I think it comes down to that in the final analysis," Stennis told newsmen as the Senate prepared to launch formal debate on the ABM controversy as part of a military procurement authorization bill.

The administration has been talking of a possible start late this month on the long-considered disarmament talks, but no firm arrangements have been disclosed.

Some ABM opponents have contended that a decision to deploy the missiles now would adversely affect the talks, but Stennis said he sees no way to explain to an adversary a Senate denial at this time of a program Nixon has asked.

"If he thinks he needs it," the Mississippi Democrat said, "why that's a big factor."

He predicted the Senate will approve his armed services committee's recommendation for deployment of the defensive missile system.

Stennis said the Senate would hold a secret session later today so he could outline details of the increasing Soviet threat to the nation's security.

"You've got to bring all the facts to bear," he said, adding: "I believe that the judgment of the committee will be justified on all these items including the ABM."

The $20 billion authorization bill, which contains $759.1 million for Safeguard, is based in large part, Stennis said, on expectation of continuing losses of equipment in Vietnam.

On the eve of the debate Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana more hopeful now of defeating Safeguard than in the past, said he has not found evidence of the kind of presidential arm-twisting he previously felt might give Nixon a narrow victory on the issue.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who has criticized some Nixon moves, said in a separate interview he believes "there has been some White House pressure but it has slacked off."

EARLY STAGES—A tower of thick, black smoke wafts off from an inferno of burning tires and auto repair equipment on the north side of the Brodie and Schwerin Tire and Brake Shop. Flames later spread to the structure, gutting the inside.

TRAPPED ENGINE — Fireman struggles in vain with the aid of only a trickle of water to keep flames from destroying the cab of this $50,000 engine. He was forced to abandon the vehicle a few minutes later. At one point the flames threatened to ignite the gasoline pump (foreground) used at the auto repair shop.

THE SKY'S THE LIMIT—A San Rafael fireman, borne aloft on a fire department schnorkel, pours water on the blazing tire and brake company building. The roiling smoke reached hundreds of feet in the air, casting a pall over the Bret Harte, canal and industrial area of the city.

SMOKE TUNNEL—A highway patrolman directs traffic through the beginning of a tunnel of smoke created on Highway 101 by the San Rafael Tire and Brake fire. The pall of smoke eventually enveloped the highway and this onramp from Third Street but only slightly slowed traffic. Meanwhile, a water tanker waters down the area in connection with construction near the highway.

Sonoma Hospital Trustee Resigns

SANTA ROSA (AP) — An eight-year trustee of Sonoma State Hospital has resigned, claiming the state Department of Mental Hygiene no longer responds to the needs of patients.

In a letter to Gov. Ronald Reagan made public yesterday, Thomas J. Farrell said he had been participating in "an intolerable situation" as a trustee of the mental hospital where his 15-year-old daughter is a patient "on an understaffed and overworked ward."

Farrell, a Santa Rosa insurance agent, is one of five trustees appointed by the governor to four-year terms. His latest term expired April 1, but Farrell said that according to policy, a trustee serves until he has been replaced.

A Republican, Farrell was first appointed by former Gov. Edmund Brown.

Farrell, whose daughter has been in the hospital 11 years, said he had not talked to Supt. Joseph E. O'Neill in four months.

He charged that under the new Department of Mental Hygiene director, Dr. James V. Lowry, "the lines of communication seem to be closed with Dr. O'Neill."

O'Neill, who has been named head of Mendocino State Hospital, could not be reached immediately.

Farrell said hospital visits led him to conclude there aren't enough employes working with the hospital's 3,153 mentally retarded patients, and that the hospital is "top heavy," with administrators who "are too busy filling out reports and attending endless meetings."

Farrell said the assistant superintendent at the hospital "has not been on one of the wards for eight months."

The entire system for care of the retarded, Farrell said, has been "designed for the professionals and not the patients."

Jet Hijacker's Wife In Havana For Child

HAVANA (AP) — The estranged wife of an American hijacker seeking custody of the daughter her husband brought with him to Cuba nearly six months ago was surprised last night to find him and the child waiting at Havana airport to meet her.

But minutes before his wife arrived, Thomas George Washington told a newsman he would not give up the child.

After hugging her daughter, 3-year-old Jennifer, Mrs. Joanne Washington, 25, of Philadelphia, said she wanted to speak personally with Prime Minister Fidel Castro. She already has appealed to Castro by telegram.

Mrs. Washington arrived on a Cuban National Airlines flight from Mexico with a 30-day visa arranged through the Czechoslovak Embassy in Washington. The embassy represents Cuban interests in the United States, which has no official relations with the Castro regime.

Mrs. Washington said seeing her husband was a surprise but she declined to say whether she would leave Cuba without her daughter. A Swiss Embassy representative was present to meet her, but she left Havana's Jose Marti Airport with Washington, her daughter and a Cuban official for an undisclosed destination. The Swiss Embassy represents U.S. interests in Cuba.

Washington, a 27-year-old Negro chemist, appeared nervous but sat patiently with his daughter on his knee as his wife passed through Cuban customs.

He readily admitted to the newsman that he had hijacked an Eastern Airlines DC8 jet last Dec. 19 on a flight from Philadelphia to Miami. But he called it a "mercy mission" and "really nothing."

At the time members of the DC8 crew reported the hijacker said he was doing it for his daughter's sake. Radio Havana later reported he used a toy gun to divert the plane with 151 persons aboard.

Before his wife arrived, Washington indicated he might be interested in returning to the United States and asked what the penalty was for hijacking an airliner.

Washington said he hijacked the jet because he was disgusted with life in the United States. He has since been working in the Cuban Academy of Sciences and his daughter is attending a state kindergarten and speaking Spanish.

Kennedy Says Pro-Missile Book Government Financed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A forthcoming book arguing in favor of deployment of an antiballistic missile (ABM) system was financed in part by government contracts amounting to $70,253, says Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

The book was largely written by members of the Hudson Institute of Croton-on-Hudson, N.Y., Kennedy said yesterday and "it appears to be one financed in part by the Department of Defense."

Herman Kahn, the institute director, said none of Kennedy's statements were factual. The charge was grave, he said, the book was the idea of institute people working mostly on their own time. In government the institute is well known "for being almost fanatically independent in its views."

Kennedy, an opponent of the ABM deployment proposal of the Nixon administration, said two contracts were awarded Hudson for study of ballistic missile defenses, and "what steps our adversaries might take in response to our ABM, and then what steps we would be forced to take in response to their steps. . ."

Napalm Bombs Clog Long Beach Freeway

LONG BEACH (AP)—A winch cable snapped and seven 700-pound napalm bombs rolled from a flatbed truck and clattered across the Long Beach Freeway. Police and firemen leaped into action, closing an entrance ramp. But there was nothing to worry about, the truck driver told them. The 19-foot long bombs have no detonators and could be exploded only by great heat.

Traffic was back to normal a few minutes later yesterday as the bombs were carted to another trailer truck.

W. German Convicted Of Red Pacts

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) — West Germany's millionaire Marxist, Hannsheinz Porst, was convicted today of maintaining treasonous contacts with Communist East Germany. He was sentenced to two years and nine months in prison and fined $2,500.

Porst, 46, owner of one of West Germany's largest mail-order camera and photo equipment chains, admitted during his trial that he was a member of East Germany's Socialist Unity party, but denied he was ever a spy.

The West German Supreme Court sentenced codefendant Alfred Pilny, a former Porst employee, to two years and three months in prison on the same charge. Peter Neumann, 46, also a former Porst employee, was given a nine-month suspended sentence.

Porst was accused of working with the East Germans while being a member of the West German Free Democratic Party in 1960-66, a partner in West Germany's ruling coalition government.

Witnesses at the trail included former FDP chairman Erich Mende.

The prosecution contended Porst obtained important information about West German government decisions through his FDP contacts and passed them on to East Germany, either by himself or through Pilny and Neumann.

Porst and Pilny were arrested in the fall of 1967, and Porst was freed on $250,000 bail.

Neumann worked in a Swiss branch of Porst's companies. In 1967 he was sentenced to 10 months in jail on Swiss charges of providing East Germany with political intelligence.

During his trial Porst said he maintained contacts with East Germany only in an effort to improve relations between East and West Germany.

The court said time spent in custody would be deducted from the sentences, amounting to five weeks for Porst and 18 months for Pilny.

More One Way Bridges Urged

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Public Works Director James A. Moe says the state could save $300,000 a year and cut the vehicle accident rate by converting four more San Francisco Bay area bridges to the one-way toll system.

Moe said yesterday he will recommend the change at the July 23 meeting of the California Toll Bridge Authority, which has the final say on such matters.

The plan would involve the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, the San Mateo-Hayward Bridge, the Dumbarton Bridge and the proposed southern bay bridge. The system is now in effect on the Golden Gate and Carquinez Strait bridges.

Soviets Holding Stray American Air Officer

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is holding an American and a West German whose plane made an emergency landing near the Turkish border during an air rally, the U.S. Embassy reported today.

A spokesman said the Soviet Foreign Ministry told the embassy the plane violated Soviet air space and the case is being investigated.

He said the Foreign Ministry described the flyers as safe and uninjured. They were identified as Lt. Col. George Patterson of Chamblee, Ga., an aviation officer with the 3rd Infantry Division in Wuerzburg, West Germany, and Dr. Karl Sichelstiel of West Germany.

The embassy spokesman said the Foreign Ministry claimed the men's light plane crossed into Soviet territory July 4 in the region of Batumi, a port at the east end of the Black Sea just north of Turkey.

Under normal international practice the flyers and plane will be released if the investigation shows they strayed into the country by accident on an innocent flight. The Soviet government usually acts slowly in such matters.

The Duesseldorf Aviation Club reported last night the single-engined Cessna 172 made an emergency landing while taking part in a rally in the Black Sea area.

It said 32 of the 50 planes participating failed to complete the flight from Romania to Istanbul partly because of bad weather.

The West German Embassy said it was seeking consular access through the Foreign Ministry with Sichelstiel. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said this had not been done with Patterson, since it "wasn't necessary" at present.

The two pilots are presumably being held in Batumi.

The Soviet government usually conducts an extremely thorough investigation in such cases because it is suspicious of any intrusions and is always on the lookout for possible spying.

Last summer the Soviet Union intercepted an American troop plane over the Kuril Islands but released it after two days when the U.S. government apologized.

The song of the woodcock does not come from the bird's throat, but rather from its wings. It results from air vibrating through the three outer feathers on each wingtip.

U.C. Professor Fined $360 On Pot Possession

COVENTRY, England (AP) — A University of California professor was fined $360 in a magistrate's court here today on charges of illegally possessing about three ounces of marijuana and attempting to export it without a license.

The professor, Ralph Herman Abraham, 33, a mathematics professor at the Santa Cruz branch of the university, is attached to the University of Warwick on a temporary research project.

He appeared in court with shoulder length hair and beard dressed in a black jumper with a brown suede waistcoat and wearing three strings of colored beads around his neck.

Police said the drug was found in the center of a mathematics book which had been cut out to form a compartment. The book was being mailed to a woman professor at Bonn University in Germany.

Abraham normally lives in London.

Golden Gate Bar Pilots Argue Working Schedules

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Golden Gate bar pilot likes his time off a month at a time, even if he works 90 straight days to get it.

The state Board of Pilot Commissioners plans to put the bar pilots on a conventional schedule, cutting their vacation time from three months to one month each year.

The 25 members of the San Francisco Bar Pilots Association, who guide ships through the Golden Gate, traditionally have worked three months without days off.

Then they take a solid month off the job.

The Pilot Commissioners have directed that the Golden Gate pilots adopt the duty standards set by the Federal Aviation Administration for airline flight crews.

The airline crews are limited to 10 hours work in 24, 30 hours in one week, and 100 hours in one month.

Capt. Archibald M. Simenstad, of San Rafael, bar polits president, said their attorney was checking whether the commission has the right to prescribe pilot working hours.

The commission ruling said the pilots must show cause in 90 days why the new working schedule should not go into effect.

Last year 2.75 million young men and women reached age 20 and in 1968 the number is expected to reach 3.75 million, the Census Department predicts.

Regent's Wife Writes Mini Cookbooks

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Writing novelty cookbooks and guidebooks in a brilliantly illustrated, pocket-size format that makes them look like little gems of psychedelic poster art is the specialty of June Dutton of Sausalito.

June is the wife of University of California regent Frederick G. Dutton, much in the news lately in connection with his duties in that capacity and as the head of the Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Foundation in Washington, D.C.

Three of the most interesting of the little cookbooks are a "Peanuts Cook Book," with cartoons by Charles Schulz, author of the "Peanuts" comic strip; one titled "Hors d'Oeuvre;" and another called "Booze."

They were introduced last month at a boat party on the Potomac during the American book sellers convention in Washington, D.C.

JUNE PRODUCES the books with her artist sister, Connie Boucher, who heads her own publishing company of Determined Productions in San Francisco.

It was a revelation to visit the offices in North Beach, where June spends much of her time when she isn't testing recipes — as many as four a day — in her own kitchen. She is a gourmet cook and actually does all the cooking for her family.

Walking through a severely plain, even dingy door, on the ground floor of a big warehouse is as great a shock as Alice must have experienced on stepping through the looking glass.

You feel you are in a huge circus tent with brilliant white walls, fire-engine red pillars, bright royal blue carpeting and white globe lamps hanging from the ceiling like great balloons. Art objects and antiques are everywhere.

Most striking as you enter is a large model of Snoopy's dog house filled with the company's books and other merchandise handled.

The tie-in with Schulz started with the company's first book, "Happiness Is a Warm Puppy," which was followed by a series of Peanuts books and novelty line of merchandise based on the comic strip.

The cookbooks and guide books with their striking color and design are just what you would expect to come from an environment of this kind.

JUNE IS A chic, young-looking mother of three children, hardly the type you would expect to find spending many long hours in the kitchen.

"I have always liked to cook," she says, "and both my sister and I are pretty good cooks. I had enough confidence in what I do in the kitchen so that I felt I could produce something people would want and find helpful.

"Each of our books has only about 38 or 40 recipes — too many are confusing. So many cookbooks are just warmed over re-hash of other cookbooks.

"Some of the recipes I made up myself — some are family recipes — some I picked up on our travels — and some I get from top restaurants."

Usually these restaurants are not cooperative about giving out their prize recipes, June says, but she has such a highly developed sense of taste that she can analyze their ingredients and reproduce them.

Yes, she likes to eat and confesses she does have to watch the martinis, and she eats no lunch. The real temptation comes during her research for her guide books.

"We go to bars first for drinks before having dinner at restaurants," she says, "and of course you can't order the diet menu if you want to know what is good. Then afterward there are the night spots to investigate — with more drinks.

She has no favorite recipes and no pet hates, unless it is "liver that is not disguised."

She wrote the "Booze" and "Hors d'Oeuvre" books in collaboration with Edith Vanocur, wife of NBC's man in the nation's capital. Both have husbands deeply involved in the social whirl of Washington politics and while making the nearly nightly rounds of parties, receptions and balls, they decided there was a need for a concise compendium of interesting, workable drinks and imaginative, different and easy-to-prepare hors d'oeuvres.

The "Peanuts Cook Book," she says, is a book for every family and the whole family. It combines recipes that kids from 6 to 60 can enjoy making while laughing at the cartoons. It's easy and fun," she says.

JUNE IS especially interested in ethnic cookery and has written one book on Mexican food," "Cocina Mexicana," that is the first of a series she plans. To do this right, she believes, it is necessary to go to the countries concerned. She is working on an Italian cookbook, for which she will go to Rome, and for one on smorgasbord she will visit the Scandinavian countries.

During the time she lived in Washington and on her travels June noted the need for simple, brief guide books, and after personally investigating Washington offerings, wrote her first one on that city. She is now completing one on Mexico City, is writing one on Los Angeles and plans one on San Francisco and all major cities of the world.

The guide books are in the same format as the cookbooks and include maps as well as colorful pictures. She says some people buy the books and take out the illustrations and frame them.

The guide books require some narrative writing, whereas the cookbooks involve giving instructions.

"It's surprising," she notes, "how difficult it is to give brief directions so simply that they cannot be misunderstood. I have several people read them to make sure they are clear."

June's background has been a big advantage in her present work.

She and her sister Connie grew up in San Mateo, and while Connie attended art school in Los Angeles, June earned her degree with major in journalism at the University of California.

AFTER HER MARRIAGE, while her husband was attending law school at Stanford, she worked several years as society editor for the San Mateo Times.

Her husband's career and three children absorbed all of her energy for some time after that. For several years they lived in Sacramento while her husband was executive secretary to Governor Edmund Brown after managing his campaign.

Then she had four exciting years in Washington, especially during the time her husband was special assistant to the president in the White House and assistant secretary of state for congressional relations in the Kennedy administration. Actually one of those years was spent in Rome just for the cultural benefit of the children.

For the last four years the Duttons have lived in Sausalito, and about three years ago June decided to go back to work and joined the staff of her sister's Determined Productions.

The children are now quite independent. Christopher, 19, is a student at the College of Marin; Lisa, 15, attends the Urban school in San Francisco; and Eve, 9, attends Central school in Sausalito.

Lisa seems to be following in her mother's footsteps.

"She is a good cook and helps me a lot," her mother says. "Her home baked bread is delicious."

JUNE DUTTON of Sausalito discusses the series of little cook books and guide books she produces with her sister, Connie Boucher, president of Determined Productions Inc. in San Francisco. June is the wife of University of California regent Frederick G. Dutton.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

The Subject Of Supernaturals Is Top Letter-Writing Topic

DEAR HELEN:

Outside of answers to that nutty "Patriot" and the selfish "Not a Nursemaid," what letters to your youth column brought the most response during early summer?

—TEEN

DEAR TEEN:

The supernatural still ranks way up there, with many comments on ouiji boards, white and black magic, "the age of Aquarius," etc. Sex has relinquished the lead to seances these days.

Sex education in schools, however, remains high on the list and the vote is about 8 to 1 in favor—but those "against" write longer, much more wrathful letters!

Boys came through with much mail on "What we like best about girls" and both sexes answered my "Stupid Question No. 246½: "If you guys so admire the girls who stop your advances, why then do you 'advance?' to wit:

DEAR HELEN:

I'm only 18, but I think I have the answer to why guys "try." I once put that question to my boy friend when he became elated after my put-down. He answered, "Sweetheart, a girl's favorite line is a demure, shy, wide-eyed 'nobody's ever touched me!' So I try — and she lets me. I like to think I'm good, but I can't be so special that I'm the first guy every time. I figure she's got to be lying or she would have stopped me too. So when I find a girl I think is good I want to know. I guess it means a lot to me. That's why I tested you.

"Now, do you want to meet my mother?"

So I understand what goes through a guy's mind when he makes like "Go" but wants a "No." He wants to be sure he's got a special date — not just an ordinary date.

TESTING . . . 1-2-3.

P. S. I love that guy!

DEAR HELEN:

This two-faced society tells its young men on one hand, "The woman who allows liberties is a slut — don't marry her," and on the other hand it whispers, "You aren't a man unless . . . A man doesn't want a mere physical relationship, but our double standard middle class WASP attitudes force him into this until he marries — and probably give him many hang-ups after marriage.

—JESS

DEAR HELEN:

Those girls who don't pass the test — the so-called pushovers: Don't men realize they fail because of loneliness? Everyone wants to mean something to somebody. If minds can't meet, then sex is a way of communicating. Men take advantage of this. Then they downgrade the women they "use." I have no respect for the fellow who makes an automatic pass at every date, just to "test" her. The girls (many of them anyway) who fall, aren't "bad" They just want to feel wanted.

Men, if you know a girl who is not a "lady," forgive her. She needs you more than you could possibly suspect. Smile at her, take her to a walk-in movie and out to dinner. Show her you are proud of her because she is a woman. Treat her with the respect you both wish she had. She'll never forget you!

RARE BYZANTINE ART

This is one of 21 rare frescos on display at Villa Huegel, the Krupp family's former residence in Essen, West Germany. The frescos were accidentally uncovered by Polish archaeologists in the Abu Simbel temple near the Egyptian-Sudanese border. They were painted between between the eighth and 12th centuries and have been preserved in near perfect condition between layers of wet sand. They belong to the period of Byzantine-Coptic art. Panel Asks Park List For Study

The Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission last night asked the staff to compile a list of possible parks to be considered for a bond issue to be submitted to the people, according to Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

The lists to be figured on a sliding scale from $750,000 to $2.25 million, he said. For each proposal land acquisition, and cost of development are to be listed separately and combined. The report is to be ready for the Aug. 4 meeting of the commission, which will not hold its July 21 meeting.

The Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission also:

POOL FEES — After receiving a report from Adams that San Rafael, Petaluma and Santa Rosa operate their swimming pools at a loss as a community service, voted to recommend to the Novato City Council that the rates not be increased for the Novato pool. The council had asked the commission for its recommendation because it had been suggested to the council that the city increase the fees so that the pool would be self supporting.

PIONEER PARK — Heard a report that the North Marin County Water District crews would donate a full day's labor on Saturday to install the high pressure water lines in Pioneer Memorial Park.

REPORT — Received Adams' monthly report for June in which there were 46,376 in attendance at all recreation functions, an increase of 2,975 over the 43,405 that attended such functions in June of last year.

Wisconsin ranks next to Massachusetts in cranberry production.

Little Change In June On U.S. Jobless Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The national jobless rate was virtually unchanged at 3.4 per cent of the labor force in June despite first indications of a slowdown in the demand for labor, the Labor Department reported today.

A total of 3.4 million people were unemployed in June, an increase of 1.1 million from May, but the department said this was a little less than might be expected in a period when many teen-agers are looking for jobs.

The employed total in June was 79 million, up 1.7 million from May, but after seasonal adjustment the rise was 400,000, leaving the total about at the April level.

Harold Goldstein, assistant commissioner of labor statistics, noted that employment in the April-June quarter was unchanged from the first three months of the year, contrasting with a 1.2 million employment gain between the last quarter of 1968 and the first three months of 1969.

Goldstein said this and other data suggested "some slowing up in the rate of demand for labor." He said the government will know more about the effect of anti-inflation measures and high interest rates later this year.

The June jobless rate for white workers was about what it was in May at 3 per cent. But the nonwhite unemployment rate rose one-half of one per cent to 7 per cent.

READY FOR DEBUT TEST

The first intercity aerotrain was unveiled yesterday at the Paris LeBourget Airport. Powered by a pair of 1,300 horsepower turbo-engines and a reversible pitch propeller, the vehicle will carry 80 passengers at a cruising speed of 155 miles per hour. The French plan to test run the aerotrain soon on a 11.2-mile-long elevated track north of Orleans. (UPI Telephoto)

Mill Valley Council Splits On Youth Panel

Mill Valley's newly formed youth commission, established in May to deal with the needs of city teen-agers, once again went memberless last night as the city council refused to approve recommended appointments.

In a 2-2 vote, with Councilmen Robert H. Andresen and George Wickham dissenting, an 11-man slate proposed by Mayor Dean N. Meyer was rejected. Meyer said he would resubmit the nominations at the July 21 meeting when vacationing Councilman Rodric L. Robinson is expected to be present.

Last night Meyer said he had not received suggestions for other members or any explanation as to why the proposed slate was unacceptable to Andresen and Wickham.

Nominated are youths John Hyatt, Kirk Norton, Carol Pritchard, Bonner Beuhler, David Abrahams, John Symmes, Kenneth Bot and Kim Rider and adults Kenneth Pratt, Leonard Anderson and Timothy Norton.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

RESIDENCE — Adopted ordinances requiring members of the planning and art commissions and library boards to be city residents.

SALARY — Established a salary schedule for parttime employees for fiscal 1969-70.

SEWER STUDY — Approved in principal the Brown and Caldwell report on regional sewer system needs.

APPOINTMENTS — Reappointed Robert Urban and Mrs. Jerome Downs to the library board.

BIDS — Approved drawings and a call for bids for improvements to the Dipsea Trail steps, estimated to cost $13,700, Elm Avenue drainage, $11,700, and Sycamore Avenue construction and drainage, $51,400.

MILLER AVENUE EXTENSION — Heard that preliminary drawings for the extension of Miller Avenue to Highway 101 have been completed by City Engineer Stanley M. Bala and agreed to meet with county officials on the project.

BICYCLE PATHS — Endorsed the addition of a bicycle path plan to the Marin County parks and recreation plan.

DEDICATION — Authorized staff to request Goheen-Marin Capital Co. to dedicate open space lands shown on Scott Valley subdivision maps to the city.

Carmel Hippie Curbs Refused In Mill Valley

The Carmel "antihippie" ordinance was effectively laid to rest in Mill Valley last night with the city council salvaging only prohibitions against trash and living and camping in vehicles from the controversial ordinance.

However, the council threw in an extra ordinance prohibiting nudity in public areas, particularly someone "willfully appearing on public property in a state of dress where the private parts or female breasts are exposed."

In 3-1 votes, with Mayor Dean N. Meyer dissenting, the council ordered the city attorney to prepare ordinances which would outlaw throwing trash or garbage and living or camping in any vehicle on public property. Councilman Rodric L. Robinson was absent.

Violation of the nudity ordinance, introduced on a first reading last night, carries with it a $500 fine and/or six months in jail. The ordinance was ordered prepared by City Mgr. William H. Cunningham who said it was an attempt to deal with problems of nude swimming at Cascade Reservoir.

Other suggestions by Councilman Robert H. Andresen, who along with Councilman George Wickham, led the fight to bring portions of the Carmel ordinance to Mill Valley, to outlaw loitering and boisterousness and to redefine the word "family" as it applies to a single family residential zone went down to defeat on split 2-2 votes with Councilman Jerome C. Hauke joining Meyer in dissent.

The proposed loitering ordinance would have prevented the "sleeping or lying on seats, benches, sidewalks, curbs, planters, walls and other areas on public property" while the new family ordinance would have defined "family" as a group of people related by blood or marriage or not more than five persons not related by blood or marriage and employees or domestic servants.

Woman Booked In Stabbings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A young woman, carrying both a baby and a 10-inch knife, stabbed three persons yesterday evening in the Haight-Ashbury district.

Police who followed a trail of witnesses, arrested Mrs. Silvia Smith, 20, at her home and booked her for three attempted murders.

They said a woman inflicted severe scalp wounds on Mrs. Charlotte Young, 50, who was folding her laundry in a laundromat, attacked Thomas Harper, 61, as he walked by on a street, and then slashed William Davis, 53, who was waiting for a bus at Fillmore and Haight Streets.

No reason was given for the attacks. Police said they found a bloody knife in Mrs. Smith's home.

Rapid Action On Little Study Urged

Rapid action on the Arthur D. Little report was urged last night by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle in recommendations made to the Tamalpais High School District board.

Carlisle asked the board for immediate selection of a planning and development coordinator saying that a selection committee should be formed by Thursday and the committee's recommendation be given the board by July 21.

Carlisle urged selecting a steering task force, that resources be identified and that, by Sept. 25, a comprehensive planning program be approved by trustees. By Oct. 10, said the superintendent in his report, a planning program should be operating.

The highly critical Arthur D. Little management evaluation of the district, which stresses stronger leadership mainly, was accepted by the board June 23.

Last night trustees received Carlisle's follow-up recommendations and moved they be appended to the official minutes. Due to a long agenda, the board did not read the report, but newly elected board president Bette Wallace said the board will schedule a special meeting "immediately." No date was set.

Carlisle prefaced his recommendations with a cover letter in which he said the Little report's recommendations fall into three groups—planning, reorganizing structural and procedural mechanisms and improved program and operational practices.

Carlisle said the planning program should have widespread involvement including teachers, students, parents, community, board members and administrators.

Tam Trustees Trim $66,300 From Budget

The Tamalpais School District board last night adopted a pared down preliminary 1969-70 budget of $9,217,561, then later in the evening, said that Gov. Ronald Reagan's proposed tax reform bill could mean a $2 million budget cut.

Trustee Bette Wallace asked business director Frank A. Cassou to call Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, today about the legislation, then give the board a written memorandum on it right away.

"I can't believe there would be any legislation that would cause us to lose $2 million," said Cassou. "The community has voted a level of taxation for support of a program."

Trustee David D. Ring replied that state legislature can change this at any time.

"I feel it's (the reform bill) is so preposterous that no one is taking it seriously," commented Mrs. Wallace. "Keep bearing down on it until we find out what it means," she ordered.

Trustees cut $66,300 from the budget in 12 items which had already been earmarked to be chopped out. They left two items in this list pending further study — $25,000 for home-school bus service and $33,000 for the adult school.

Following a five minute recess the board agreed to ask Supt. Chester G. Carlisle for a revised adult school fee schedule, trustee Gloria Melbostad saying she believes a raise would put the fees in a "realistic light." Basic fees are now $4.

Ring told the board that $100,000 should be cut from the budget at the start of the budget session but Cassou argued against premature over-cutting.

He said there are too many factors to be resolved between now and July 18 when the budget has to be in the hands of the County Superintendent of Schools. The board followed Cassou's advice, agreeing that further changes may still be made.

Cassou told the board the budget is based on a 5 per cent increase in assessed valuation and a 5.7 per cent tax delinquency allowance.

The board took no action on setting a date to meet with teachers to discuss 1969-70 salaries, Mrs. Wallace saying that two members of the board would work out a meeting schedule with teachers. No meeting was set last night. A 5 per cent salary increase has been approved but the board agreed to keep salary discussions open until July 30 on the teachers' request.

The Tam High District Board Also:

REORGANIZATION — Reorganized the board electing Mrs. Wallace, president; D. Ring, clerk, and Robert W. Corlett, trustee representative.

LETTER — Received a letter from Dr. William L. Clark of Mill Valley commending Henry Marshall, Tamalpais High School dean of boys, Clark saying Marshall has had a good deal to do with reducing interracial tension at the school.

MEMBERSHIPS — Approved purchase of institutional memberships for 1969-70 but omitted that of California School Boards Association which would cost $1,026.

GRANTS — Approved two research and development grants, one for $1,500 for evaluation of the Sir Francis Drake High School mathematics program, and one for $500 for the Tamalpais High School FEAST program evaluation.

GOALS — Received a set of staff-prepared goals for the district for 1969-70, president Wallace asking the trustees to present their goals to the board by Aug. 15.

COURSES — Adopted 1969-70 courses of study and text and supplementary books.

CONTRACTS — Approved 1969-70 extra service contracts excluding monetary figures pending final salary talks.

REDWOOD HIGH — Accepted low bid of $53,156 from Zoellner Construction Co., Ross, for remodeling at Redwood High School. The other bidder was Merz Bros., San Francisco, $57,777.

INSURANCE — Offered North American Life and Casualty Co. a contract for student accident insurance at $6.50 per child. Transit Casualty Co. had bid $6 per child.

DRIVER TRAINING — Deferred action on bids for driver training units. Bids are: $7,810 from Raytheon Learning Systems Co. and $11,700 from Link-Education Systems.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Barbara L. Angeli, French/English teacher, Drake, $8,355; King C. Kryger, English, Tamalpais, $9,955; Barbara C. Lachelt, science, Drake, $6,177; Charles F. Mack Jr., physical education, Tamalpais, $9,355, and Milton M. Spinner, history, Drake, $13,165.

Concept For Development Is Approved

The Rohnert Park City Council last night approved in concept the plans of Young America Homes to build single family homes, townhouses and apartments in the El Colegio area.

Included in the general plans submitted by Robert O'Neal of the building firm were 221 single family homes, 100 townhouses and 258 multifamily units in the area near Sonoma State College.

The plan also includes the dedication of a two-acre site for a city park. Nore Thiesfeld, building and planning coordinator at the college, said in a letter that the plans would be no detriment to the college.

Detailed maps of the plans will be presented at a council meeting next month with construction of the homes scheduled to begin soon after approval.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:

POOL USE — Approved a resolution giving the use of Benecia park Pool to Sonoma State College from April 13 to May 29, 1970.

GOLF RATES — Approved a resolution lowering rates for junior golfers at the municipal golf course. Students through high school age may play 18 holes for $1.50 or nine holes for $1. The rates will be in effect on weekdays, after 3 p.m. on weekends and holidays or when in company of a parent.

CREDIT UNION — Approved a plan to allow city employees to join the Sonoma County Employees Credit Union.

WATER GRANT — Heard report from City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan that the Department of Housing and Urban Development had approved a grant of $45,000 to make improvements on the water system.

DOG SHOW — Approved the use of Benecia Park on Aug. 9 for a dog show sponsored by the Sonomarin German Shepherd Dog Club.

The Restless, an 18-ton vessel built in 1614 by Adrian Block, was the first ship built in what is now New York City.

Criminals Using Snooping Gear

BOSTON (AP) — The underworld is using stolen electronic equipment to monitor conversations of lawyers and government officials, the Boston Record American says.

The highly sophisticated equipment was stolen from Logan International Airport two years ago, the newspaper said today.

A telephone company technician discovered a monitoring device attached to the telephone of a criminal lawyer, who suspected his conversations were being bugged and asked the company to investigate, the newspaper said.

Bedspread Stolen

A $40 bedspread and a radio were stolen from the home of Robert Escubar of 109 Mariner Green in Corte Madera between July 3 and yesterday, police reported today. Entry was made by forcing open a sliding glass window on a balcony, police said.

Kennedy, Bankers Discuss Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A confrontation between the nation's top bankers and the government's major economic decisionmakers has provided no clues to the future course of interest rates, currently spiraling upward at a record pace.

Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy, who was host at the meeting of executives of 24 of the nation's largest banks yesterday, said the controversy over the banks' recent raising of the "prime rate" to a record high didn't even figure in the discussion.

Besides Kennedy, government figures at the meeting included Federal Reserve Board Chairman William McChesney Marin, Budget Bureau Director Robert Mayo, Herbert Stein, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and Richard McLaren, assitant attorney general in charge of antitrust matters.

Kennedy insisted the session "was not called to roll back the prime rate."

This prompted a blast from Rep. Wright Patman, chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, Kennedy's chief foe in Washington. The Texas Democrat has been calling for Kennedy's resignation for months and raised the cry again yesterday.

"It is almost unbelievable," Patman said in a statement issued by his office, "that the secretary could answer no when a reporter asked him if he had discussed rolling back the rate. And it is even more incredulous when he can answer no to a reporter's inquiry as to whether any future increases in the prime rate were discussed.

Kennedy said the meeting achieved its basic purpose of allowing the big bankers and the government officials to exchange views on matters of common interest—what to do about inflation, high interest and "the credit picture generally." There was a consensus, he said, that the extension of the 10 per cent income tax surcharge is critically important in curbing inflation.

The bankers also agreed, he said, "there will not be enough money to go around to meet all the demands for credit."

Kennedy said he urged on them his view that some borrowers are so large or otherwise protected that high interest rates alone won't deter them from seeking loans. The banks "have got to have other means to say no," he said.

And the banks insisted they are already turning away substantial numbers of loan applicants to make their pool of loan money stretch farther, Kennedy said.

"I think each one indicated, without exception, that they are rationing credit," he said.

Astronauts In Peril From Sun Radiation?

SUNSPOT, N.M. (AP) — A noted solar astronomer says he believes the possibility of the Apollo 11 astronauts being exposed to a deadly shower of x-rays and protons from a solar flare while on the moon is slim.

"I think the astronauts have a lot more serious worries than proton showers while they are on the moon," Dr. John Evans, head of the Air Force's solar observatory complex here, said in an interview.

"The very tremendous solar events that could give lethal doses of protons on the moon are rare. Only about a dozen of these have been observed since 1948.

"The chance of them occurring in the next two-week period would appear slim," he said.

Space scientists consider the radiation emitted by a massive solar flare a serious danger to astronauts outside a spacecraft and clad only in unshielded spacesuits.

Dr. Evans and his colleagues don't think the astronauts will have any problem with flare eruptions, but a Slovak scientist disagrees.

Stefan Pinter, heliogeophysicist of the Observatory at Hurbanovo in western Slovakia was quoted June 28 as predicting solar flares intense enough to harm the spacemen.

"The trip of the U.S. astronauts to the moon will have to be postponed. Eruptions on the sun will be so strong at the time that the sun radiation might be dangerous for the spacemen."

He was interviewed by the Slovakian newspaper Uj Ifjusag, according to the CTK, the Czechoslovak News Agency.

Dr. Evans and his staff at the remote observatory atop a 9,000-foot peak in southern New Mexico, have been working for years to perfect a technique of predicting the flares.

But even so, predictions, at best, can be made only about two days in advance.

Two days, however, is sufficient time to warn Apollo 11 Astronauts Edwin Aldrin Jr. and Neil Armstrong as they explore the moon July 20 should the possibility of a proton shower appear.

The scientists at Sunspot keep a constant watch on the sun—seldom obscured by clouds over the New Mexico desert—and the spacemen could be instructed by ground controllers to take cover immediately in their spacecraft if a major flare was observed. The moon landing could also be postponed if a flare was predicted.

The typical proton shower, Evans says, is intense for about the first hour and then gradually tapers off. Showers can last more than a day.

Besides streams of protons, the solar flares also produce high energy x-rays—both in quantities large enough to be fatal.

The Sunspot sungazers have refined their ability to predict solar events, but they still are at a loss to fully explain why they occur.

Balloon Trip Little Hard To Believe

Faster than a speeding bullet, or the U.S. mails for that matter, a helium-filled balloon launched in San Rafael has reportedly crossed the country and floated down into a Wisconsin lake.

The balloon supposedly is one of more than 800 released June 27 by participants in the San Rafael summer recreation program, but recreation officials find it a little difficult to believe.

"It's kind of fishy," said Andrew J. Snyder, director of the city parks and recreation department of a hobby fisherman's report of finding the balloon — a little more than 24 hours after it was released.

The fisherman reported the "balloon came floating down" into the water alongside his boat at 6:30 p.m. June 28. He claimed to be on Long Lake in Washburn County, Wis., but the only Long Lake listed in Wisconsin is in Florence County, across the state from Washburn. His letter was postmarked Sarona, Wis., which is in Washburn County.

Ten other more believeable reports of balloon landings have also been received, though a contest involving return of postcards attached to the balloons does not end until Aug. 7.

One came down in "my chicken yard six miles from Sonora," another in a backyard on Kinross Drive, San Rafael; three in Oakdale, Stanislaus County; one at Crow's Landing, Sonora County; one in Berkeley; another in Tracy, San Joaquin County; one in Ripon, San Joaquin County, and one in Gerstle Park, San Rafael, where it was released.

The winner will be the one found fartherest from San Rafael. Recreation officials haven't decided whether the one in Wisconsin will count.

Court Changes Death Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The state Supreme Court has spared the life of a southern California cop-killer.

The court ruled yesterday that Donald F. Ketchel should not have been sentenced to the gas chamber because persons opposed to the death penalty were excluded from the jury.

Ketchel and Thomas E. Sears were convicted of the June 9, 1961, slaying of off-duty policeman George Elder, who chased the defendants after a Mnterey Park grocery store robbery.

The jury originally convicted both men of the crime and sentenced Ketchel to death and Sears to a life term. The court yesterday changed Ketchel's sentence to life and upheld Sears' sentence.

President Harry Truman started wearing glasses when he was 9 years old.

Love, Companionship Key Marriage Factors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sex is No. 2 in a man's priorities for selecting a mate but No. 6 on the woman's list and that's the reason 75 per cent of American marriages are a bust, according to an eminent psychologist.

"When a man gazes into a woman's eyes with what they think is love and devotion they are not seeing the same thing," Dr. Clifford Rose Adams, professor emeritus of Penn State University, added in a report based on 30 years of research.

"Odds on any marriage being a success are shorter than those of hitting the jackpot on a pinball machine in Las Vegas."

Adams, 66, a consultant for Encyclopaedia Britannica and numerous scientific publications, presented his latest findings yesterday to the Identity Research Institute here after studying 6,000 couples.

"Since the sex revolution following World War II sexual satisfaction has been much more important to the male than to the female," the professor said.

"Companionship is the first subconscious factor influencing the male in mate selection. Then in order, come sex, love-affection-sentiment in a single category, home and family, a helpmate) one giving encouragement) and, lastly, security.

"For the woman the first things she seeks are love, affection and sentiment. She has to feel loved and wanted. The second is security, then companionship, home and family, community acceptance and, sixth, sex.

"So you see man and woman do not see eye-to-eye. How can marriages, under these circumstances, last?"

Adams said government statistics showing that 28 per cent of all marriages end in divorce are misleading.

"If you take in annulments and desertions, which are not included, the figure would be nearer 40 per cent. Add to this what we call the morbidity marriage where a man and woman may continue living with each other just for appearances or convenience while actually hating each other and you find that only about 25 per cent of marriages are really happy.

"The other 75 per cent are a bust."

The doctor, whose research included interviews with college undergraduates as far back as 1939, said the biggest divorce year is the third year after marriage. Half of all divorces are obtained within seven years.

He said too many marriages are founded on sexual compatibility—or "body heat," as he put it—and this is disastrous.

"A good date does not necessarily make a good mate," the professor added. "Those who marry because of a sexual detachment don't see the rest of the pie. These marriages usually end in divorce."

Adams said the sex revolution erupted after World War II because millions of servicemen, who previously might have been inhibited and restrained, coming in many cases from small towns with strict codes, experienced women for the first time.

"They came home without any inhibitions and some of them found girls who thought sex was a dirty thing. Wives were inclined to be cold. Some wives, had to experiment with another man to find proper adjustment."

PG&E Is Asked To Trim Hikes By $7.9 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The state Public Utilities Commission recommended yesterday that a proposed $26.4 million gas rate increase by Pacific Gas & Electric Co. be trimmed to $7.9 million.

A PUC attorney, David Larrouy, told a commission hearing the company's request should be reduced by $18.3 million in order to put it within the recommended profit margin for utilities.

PUC analysts recommend a return of from 6.95 to 7.25 per cent on the utility's investment, Larrouy said. The recommended $7.9 million increase would yield a 7.1 per cent profit.

Larrouy said the PUC's recommendations proposed cuts in the utility's sales and advertising budgets, a reduction in wage increases and included $16.2 million in increased gas sales, which PG&E contended would not take place in 1969.

Fishermen Nailed

LONDON (AP) — The Trent River Authority reports up to 1,500 anglers are "hooked" each year on fishing without licenses in the river in the English midlands.

Captain Is Cleared Of Pier Crash

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A merchant ship captain not only did not cause a freak crash of an ammunition-laden vessel into the San Francisco waterfront, but his fast action averted what could have been a disaster.

That was the decision announced yesterday by a Coast Guard hearing examiner who dismissed negligence charges against Wallace M. Campbell, 45, captain of the M.M. Dant.

Examiner C.J. Carroll Jr. said Campbell acted quickly to avoid what could have been a tragic collision between his vessel and the American Producer, a ship carrying ammunition destined ultimately for Vietnam.

Carroll concluded from testimony by five witnesses that unusually heavy marine traffic in San Francisco Bay March 5 caused radio communications to be garbled and prevented the pilots of both ships from realizing they were headed on a collision course.

Campbell's ship was able to execute a severe turn away from trouble and into Pier 17, but the American Producer veered into the waterfront, causing extensive damage to both the ship and to Pier 27.

The American Producer had been headed south and the M. M. Dant headed north.

Mutiny Trial Critic Is Seated On Desertion Panel

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—One of the men convicted of mutiny in a San Francisco Presidio stockade protest is being tried for desertion today by a panel that includes a professional soldier critical of the mutiny trials.

Capt. Claude P. Moore was seated on the court-martial panel yesterday after he said he felt the mutiny trials hurt the Army's image, could have been handled better and that the men should have been charged with something less than mutiny.

On trial now is Pvt. Richard Lee Gentile, 20, Hampton, Va., who escaped from the stockade twice while awaiting his mutiny trial, and drew a separate desertion charge.

He was convicted of mutiny and sentenced to six months imprisonment and a bad conduct discharge.

Gentile is the only one of the 27 who participated in the stockade protest who is a Vietnam veteran.

Moore, four other officers, one warrant officer and two enlisted men are trying Gentile for desertion.

The defense attorney is Capt. Brendan Sullivan, who last week was informed that Secretary of the Army Stanley Resor had rescinded orders which would have sent him to Vietnam, despite his having only six months remaining on his Army tour.

During examination of prospective panel members yesterday, Moore said while he was in Vietnam for two tours of duty he learned first hand that desertion is a major problem in combat.

"We had 300 to 400 deserters roaming the country all the time," he said. He added that he has an 18-year-old son "but I don't think he will enlist in the Army."

English Women Find Beauty In Billiards

Guilty Plea To Sale Of Drugs

Bradford Eugene Bishop, 20, of Novato, who had been accused by drug agents of selling drugs to young people in Novato, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of selling methedrine last February.

A second charge of selling marijuana was dismissed by Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Judge Wilson set sentencing for Aug. 18. Bishop is currently on probation for battery, possessing marijuana and LSD.

Ex-Tiburon Mayor, Scouts Fined For Pellet Gun Use

A former Tiburon mayor and Explorer Scout leader, who hadn't considered pellet guns weapons under the dictionary definition paid $10 fines yesterday for himself and three Explorer Scouts who shot the guns at Point Reyes National Seashore during the weekend.

John Sherwood Hoffmire II, of 583 Virginia Drive, who served as Tiburon's second mayor in 1966, apparently changed his mind on the technical definition after discussing the matter with his attorney, according to U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith.

Goldsmith said three of the high school aged scouts admitted shooting at birds and raccoons with pellet and BB guns at the seashore while Hoffmire pleaded guilty to being an accessory. Two other scouts were placed on a month's probation after admitting shooting at cans.

A conservationist and former scout leader himself, Goldsmith scolded the group from Explorer Post 98 in Tiburon and barred them from the seashore for a month.

"They should have known better," said Goldsmith, noting one of the boys has his marksmanship merit badge.

Goldsmith, a Mill Valley resident, told the group that it was largely the actions of some scouts that led to prohibition of overnight camping on part of Mount Tamalpais.

He said he had attempted to get special permits for scouts to camp there and was denied because according to Marin Municipal Water District which owns the property, "some of the worst offenders there were scouts."

David Ross, a park ranger, had told Goldsmith a raccoon had been killed during an explorer's four-day pack trip at Glen Camp the latter part of June.

Goldsmith also said he has received complaints that other Tiburon scouts were responsible for polluting drinking waters in the park by dumping detergents and other materials in streams.

Commuter Ferry System Urged

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Immediate development of a ferry system between Marin and San Francisco was recommended today by a water transportation consultant.

Dr. Claude Gruen the nationwide consulting firm of Arthur D. Little Inc. made the recommendation in his final report today to the San Francisco-Marin Water Transportation Study Committee.

The Lolden Gate Bridge and Highway District "seems the logical candidate for this job," Gruen said. "But they must be supported by San Francisco and Marin public officials."

Modern but conventional ferries from a single terminal on Corte Madera's tidelands would attract 8,500 daily commuters by 1971, he estimated. But hydrofoils or air cushion vehicles could entice more than 11,000 commuters a day, which is about one-third of the commute load expected on the bridge by 1971. The main San Francisco terminal would be near the Ferry Building.

Such a system would "buy time" to plan, finance and build a fixed rail system that will be needed some day to serve Marin, Sonoma and Napa Counties, Gruen reported.

He estimated the cost of the system of conventional ferries at $51 million, but his estimate included no allowance for inflation. Bons to finance the system could be retired at 6.5 per cent over 25 years, he said.

Gruen said that his financial analysis suggested that either a conventional ferry system or one using advanced vessels "could be self-supporting."

An optimum ferry system; however; would also have terminals at Gallinas Creek and Marinship, Gruen said. On weekends and in midday, tourists could be attracted by adding a second San Francisco terminal at Fisherman's Wharf.

Gruen said he based his projections of use on a round-trip fare of $1.50. The fare would include feeder bus service or a parking stall at the Marin terminal, his report said.

If three terminals were developed, the average North Marin commuter would get from home to San Francisco in 54 minutes, the average central Marin commuter in 32 minutes, and the average Southern Marin commuter in 26 minute s, according to the study. The times included loading, unloading and docking times.

Also under the three terminal system, according to Gruen's figures, 6,380 fewer cars and 36 fewer buses would cross the Golden Gate Bridge each day. A single terminal system would cut bridge traffic by 4,290 cars and 28 buses, he said.

Gruen presented his report to a committee at the bridge district offices at the Toll Plaza. Adding lustre to his presentation was the presence of the chairman of the board of Arthur D. Little, retired Army Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin.

Gruen noted that the number of commuters expected to cross the Golden Gate Bridge during the commute period will increase by at least 61 per cent by 1985. As a result, he said, a ferry service would be necessary not only to buy time for rail transit but also to free San Francisco from the growing pressure on its streets and garages.

A bill empowering the bridge district to go into the ferry business is pending in the legislature, and is expected to be passed and signed into law this year.

Also pending in the legislature is a bill to empower the bridge district board of directors to sell revenue bonds. The bridge district, using its present toll structure, could raise approximately $50 million.

Two two-county committee was formed last year. The San Francisco Board of Supervisors contributed $30,000 to the study, and the Marin County Transit District contributed $15,000.

DEPUTIES DENY IT

Panthers Charge Children Bribed

Marin City Black Panthers yesterday accused sheriff's deputies of bribing youngsters in the community with small change and pumping them for information about the Panthers and others. Deputies denied the charge.

In a confrontation yesterday afternoon at the sheriff's substation, four Panthers argued vehemently with deputies until Lt. Thomas Lightfoot, watch commander, told them to leave or risk arrest for disturbing the peace.

The Panthers were still arguing their case on the substation steps when Sgt. Edward Alves shoved one aside to slam the door shut and close the incident.

What triggered the confrontation was an incident yesterday morning when two black youths ran out the back door of the substation when they saw two Panthers drive up.

Brian Beard said he and another Panther saw the boys run, figured something was wrong, and went after them. They found the boys, who were 9 to 12 years old, hiding in grass behind the station and drove them around Marin City while asking them why they were at the station.

The Panthers said the boys reported the deputies give them dimes and quarters to pick up paper and trash in the station area, then ask them questions.

"They would ask what the Panthers are doing, why the brothers are running in the hills, and where certain people are at certain times," Beard said.

The deputies questioned the boys "about people who are a threat to their lawlessness in the community," a Panther said. "Some of the brothers they asked about, the police have threatened before the community — what they'll do to them if they catch them alone."

Alves, who is on the 4 p.m. to midnight shift, denied anyone had given the boys money.

"How do you know? You weren't there," a Panther challenged.

"I know my men!" Alves shouted. He pointed a finger at a Panther's chest and said, "I'm not afraid of you."

"Who said anything about that?" was the answer.

Deputy John Forsdal, who saw the morning incident and was present at the confrontation, got little chance to speak during the argument as Alves and Lightfoot did most of the talking for the law.

Pathers accused the lawmen of shielding Forsdal to keep him from having to answer questions about the morning incident.

Afterward, Forsdal said the two boys were hanging around the station looking at impounded bicycles there. He said the boys said, "Oh, oh, here they come," and fled out the back. A minute later, the Panthers dashed through the station and out the back after the boys, Forsdal said.

Lightfoot and Lt. Ellis Seibert of the day shift said nobody had given money to anyone.

Deputies argued the boys were afraid of the Panthers, but Beard said that was ridiculous. "We live in the community;" he said.

A Panther said county firemen in Marin City also have been questioning children, asking the same questions the deputies do. When deputies fuel their cars at the fire station, they trade information, he said.

The Panther said after they explained to the boys they were doing wrong to inform on black people, they went to the fire station and the boys returned money a fireman had given them.

The Panther reportedly told the firemen, "Stop bribing our black babies in our community."

Beard, who said he was speaking for the Black Panther Party, charged deputies were breaking the law by bribing children. Even paying them for picking up trash, he said, would violate child labor laws.

Higher Court Hearing In Hatchet Case

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court found yesterday that there was enough evidence to hold Lorraine Brocco for trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon after hearing her husband describe her attack upon him with a hatchet.

Henry Brocco, former Larkspur councilman, testified at the preliminary hearing that he awakened on his side of the couple's bed to find his wife hitting him on the head with the weapon on Oct. 27.

When he asked her what she was doing, Brocco said his wife, "came at me again and said 'I'll fix you.' "

He wrested the hatchet from her and called his daughter to help him attend to his wounds, he said. As he sat on the bathroom floor with his daughter helping him, Brocco said that Mrs. Brocco offered to call a doctor.

By the time an ambulance came, Mrs. Brocco was unconscious from an overdose of pills. Both were treated at Marin General Hospital, where Mrs. Brocco was a patient for almost a month.

As to whether his wife was under the influence of drugs at the time of attack, Brocco replied that he did not know. He said that she had been ill that day and had been taking medication.

Both filed suits in November for divorce which are still pending.

Mrs. Brocco was told to appear in Superior Court July 21 for arraignment.

County Teachers Get 5 Per Cent Pay Boost

The Marin County Board of Education last night adopted a 5 per cent across-the-board 1969-70 salary scale increase and agreed to raise pay for substitute teachers from $25 to $30 a day.

The 5 per cent increase results in a $36,000 addition to the current budget with salary schedules being increased from the present $7,315 - $14,089 to a schedule of $7,681 - $14,793, with the top salary in each case requiring a doctorate degree.

Nonteaching employees, whose salaries were adopted by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, received a 5 per cent increase effective July 1.

The board will consider administrative salaries at its Aug. 4 meeting, administrative services director Robert E. Spain reported.

Arnold Dolcini Jr. was elected president of the board to succeed Glen E. Robinson and Lee C. Richardson Jr. was elected vice president.

The board approved granting 131 elementary diplomas and 137 high school diplomas for Bayview students to be graduated in exercises tomorrow at San Quentin Prison.

It nominated Robinson to be the delegate to the 1969 State House Conference on Children and Youth to be held Nov. 10-11 in Sacramento, Spain said.

The Marin County Board of Education also:

"HAROLD!!"

Writer Sues On Garrison Case Story

William H. Turner of Mill Valley, a Ramparts magazine staff writer and former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, filed a $2 million libel suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court against The New Yorker magazine.

Turner charged in the suit that a article which appeared in the magazine's July 13, 1968 issue about New Orleans District Atty. Jim Garrison made false statements about Turner which injured his reputation and caused him to have a loss of earnings.

OTHER DEFENDANTS

Also named in the suit were R. H. Fleischmann, publisher of the magazine, and Edward Jay Epstein, author of "A Reporter at Large Garrison."

According to Turner, the article described how many persons were attracted to Garrison's investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy.

A number of there "were peripathetic demonologists found in New Orleans; they were attracted to Garrison like the children of Hamelin to the Pied Piper. At the head of the line stood Mark Lane, the author of Rush to Judgment, who together with William Turner, a staff writer for Ramparts, spent months assiduously combing Garrison's files on the case for new clues and devising ingenious schemes to produce new disclosures."

ANOTHER CHARGE

The other part of the article which Turner said was not true was an excerpt in which Turner is accused of causing a man named Eugene Bradley to be arrested on the strength of an anonymous letter.

The result of the article, Turner said in the suit, was that he was depicted as a poor investigator who "will do whatever is necessary to obtain publicity."

Turner ran unsuccessfully last year for the Democratic nomination for representative from the Sixth Congressional District.

Hamilton Burglary

Someone took $120 in cash and a watch valued at $30 from the home of M/Sgt. Aldo E. Giannelli at 161 East Kelly Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, sometime between July 2 and 4, according to Novato police reports.

Mill Valley Schools Find Budget Surplus

Surprised Mill Valley School board trustees last night heard that the district, facing strict budget cuts because of a recent reduction in state aid, is $230,000 richer than it thought it was.

Actual revenues from the area-wide school tax in the fiscal 1968-69 exceeded conservative estimates of revenue by the Marin County Superintendent of Schools Office, Supt. James A. Collins told the board.

Collins said the county schools office reported July 2 that the district had received $130,000 more during fiscal 1968-69 from the area-wide tax than had been estimated.

Based on the discrepancy between estimates and revenues, the board increased its 1969-70 area-wide tax revenue estimate by an extra $100,000, thus giving the district an additional $230,000 in its current budget.

The tentative budget, approved by the board last night, calls for an expenditure, including reserves, of $3,167,595 with an estimated tax rate of $3.10, including 85 cents in override taxes a decrease of some 3.5 cents from 1968-69.

Collins said he recommended the board place $100,000 of the extra money in reserve funds bringing the fund total to $125,000.

Trustees also agreed to Collins' recommendation that $17,000 of the remaining $137,000 be used to hire a full time principal for Strawberry Point School.

In addition, Collins asked that $40,000 be allocated to the maintenance and capital outlay funds, $60,000 to hire six teachers for the kindergarten program; $10,000 for textbooks and instructional materials; and $10,000 for an additional music teacher to restore the music program to last year's level.

Action on his recommendations was postponed to the July 28 meeting for further study.

Trustee John K. Robinson suggested some of the extra money be spent to fill two librarian vacancies. Collins said he hoped to recommend that both positions be restored after a staff study of the library program.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

OFFICERS — Named William P. Everts Jr. chairman, John K. Robinson clerk, and Joseph E. Bodovitz representative to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Elizabeth Jane Reil, second grade teacher at Park School, whoi s being married.

Full Disclosure Bill Is In Public's Interest

The Marin Council of Mayors and City Councilmen are on record as opposing a bill which would require all public officials to make full public disclosure of investments they hold for income or gain.

Their opposition seems to be based more on emotional reluctance to disclose their investments than on a careful analysis of what such a law seeks to accomplish.

The public good that would accrue from an airing of the financial ties of public officials far outweigh personal "embarrassment" that some local officials seem to feel would result from such disclosure.

The bill in question is AB 325, introduced by Assemblyman Jesse Unruh and 18 other legislators. We do not know the contents of the bill in their minutest details, and the details are subject to change as they pass through the various committees.

But the general intent of the bill is clear.

It would require public officials of counties, cities, and districts (advisory boards are exempted) to disclose real property they hold for gain or income. It does not include a home or property used primarily for personal or recreational purposes.

The aim is to disclose conflicts of interest, or better yet, to force a public official to get rid of his investments in companies with which the public agency which he serves will have dealings.

Consider some of the more prominent scandals that such a law could have forestalled.

Justice Abe Fortas of the United States Supreme Court was forced to resign, following reports of his relationship with a financial operator in trouble with the law.

Justice William O. Douglas quit his $12,000-a-year post with the Parvin Foundation, following an uproar over Fortas' receiving a $20,000 fee from the Louis Wolfson Foundation.

To argue that "important posts" like Supreme Court judgeships and other federal and state jobs should be subject to closer scrutiny than county and city positions is to impose a double standard. Integrity of officials and openness of government should be required equally in all levels of government.

To settle for a double standard — strict requirements in federal and state and laxity in local government—would be like crusading statewide for a clampdown against dangerous drugs, then letting members of your own household shoot heroin.

The full disclosure bill also covers investments of wives and children of public officials. At first blush, this may appear a bit harsh, but exempting wives and children would completely emasculate the bill.

The most corrupt public official with interests in gambling casinos could run as a near-pauper, having "turned over" his millions to his wife and children.

AB 325 and other bills of similar nature will be going through the hopper in Sacramento. We support the bill's intent to reduce conflict of interest in all levels of government, from federal to local.

The Mantids Hatched

Our Praying Mantid egg case hatched sometime during June. We missed the great day when a living chain of about 250 mantid nymphs emerged from the case and dropped to the ground, but close inspection of the case revealed some white fuzz, a tiny hole, and cutting it open we found it empty. Since they landed in a patch of periwinkle, we have not been able to locate any yet.

Right now, they are about the size of a mosquito and this, combined with their green color, makes them very difficult to see. At this stage their diet consists largely of aphids, caterpillars, flies, and other soft bodied insects. In time they will attain a length up to five inches and tackle almost every other insect.

Like a mantis waiting for its prey to come within reach of its lightning fast forelegs, we must be patient for awhile.

GOLDEN GATE VIEW

Bridge District Bus Proposal May Be Answer To Congestion

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The radical proposal by the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District for a bus rapid transit system may be the best answer to Marin's traffic mess.

The feasibility of giving buses at least preference on freeways was shown recently by researchers at the Texas Transportation Institute in a study funded by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

They envisioned special bus ramps onto a freeway, and limiting the number of autos by traffic lights on the regular ramps. They acknowledged that some autos would be delayed, but added "this delay is not expected to exceed that experienced with freeway congestion under uncontrolled conditions. Buses, on the other hand, would have a greatly reduced terminal to terminal travel time."

THE NEW result, they concluded, would be "a substantial increase" in the number of persons (not vehicles) moving on a freeway — even with only "a nominal number of buses."

They could have been talking about Marin when they said the system's principal use would be in "urban areas that have developed at relatively low population densities."

Such a system, they said, would be either a long-term solution or an economic interim solution where rail transit will be needed in a later date.

"Only a modest capital investment" would be needed to set up a bus-freeway system, they said.

All that is needed now is a modest investment of effort by our public officialdom to do something about the mess that has frozen them into inaction for so many years.

SACRAMENTO'S "Laugh-In," featuring Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, made the Capitol rounds last week. In a letter to Governor Reagan, Bagley had some fun:

"I have just noted Jess Unruh's total support of your entire tax package. His support dismays me, and it should dismay you.

"Beware, sir, of former Democratic Speakers bearing gifts, for fear that a Trojan horse will be pulling our tax cart. . . .

"Me thinks there is some trap involved here somewhere."

STATE CONTROLLER Houston I. Flournoy had his troubles last week as the man whose signature was supposed to go on about 25,000 state checks a day. His explanation of his difficulties without a state budget was coined "Flournoy's complaint."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Do Not Downgrade Seniors Center

Your editorial of June 20 downgrading a building for the use of the senior citizens and the juniors of San Rafael was certainly in poor taste.

I wonder if you have taken into consideration the many years the seniors of Marin County have paid taxes here, and now those of us will soon have to give up our homes because we won't be able to afford to live in Marin County.

The pleasure the seniors get by coming together is at least something that should be encouraged. If you had ever worked with these people as I have, perhaps you would understand their need.

In San Rafael alone the Goldenaires Senior Club has a membership of 360 people.

We are the forgotten people and maybe that's what you want.

(There is no intent to "downgrade" senior citizens or any other group. The need for a center for seniors and youth is recognized, but we believe the need to improve a defective sanitation system is more pressing. — Editor.)

Flower of Our Youth?

Cascade Unfeasible As Public Plunge

Opposing unrestricted, careless use of Mill Valley's Cascade Dam area isn't just selfishness by nearby Elders and Establishment as some Marinites' letters infer. Hazards and harassments involved are more than just one of those things.

Two children died in unsupervised Marin swimming pools in late June; one in Cascade Reservoir. The latter lacked "No swimming" signs.

Cascade reservoir is no gently sloped pond. The Water District created it solely for water storage; deep, with perpendicular sides.

In 1958, indiscriminate swimming and bonfire building near a jungle of dry brush and bay trees brought action by Cascade-Lovell residents. . . .

Soon afterwards, Mill Valley traded some other land for the four-acre reservoir site, and brought it into the city limits. . . . Property owners were assured in open meeting that municipal casualty insurance required police patrol plus ample signing prohibiting swimming and bonfires.

Mindful of Mill Valley's disastrous 1929 fire, the city declared the reservoir vital to Lovell-Cascade area fire protection.

The two narrow streets into the area are a traffic hazard. A major emergency could badly delay police and fire vehicles. Widening the steep slopes to two-lane standards would be tremendously expensive. . . .

Some non-taxpayers and residents of other Marin cities — and other counties — advocate development of Cascade as "a first class swimming pool." One heavy expense involved would be dressing rooms, etc. And such structures on those steep, narrow slopes would make a permanent eyesore out of one of the real beauty spots of Marvelous Marin.

Mill Valley's tax rate is higher this new fiscal year. Add up continued police patrol; a lifesaver staff; pool alteration (if it's possible); new service building; purifying the non-potable water to health standards; clearing the shores and down-dam area of cans; debris and bonfire traces — and make your own guess on future tax rates.

Frequent nudity, plus insults to non-swimmers and passing motorists cause annoyance. Likewise, parking in private driveways. Likewise ringing neighborhood doorbells to request use of phone or bathroom.

Mill Valley needs another swimming pool. Cascade area misses in all standards, and development would be too costly. The many recreational projects Mill Valley has listed must surely include ideal sites, easier of public access. Why not in Old Mill Park, where a mill dam and water wheel must have powered the historic lumber operation?

Unfair Advantage To Coast Guard

I want to comment on the letter by Peter D. Whitney of Inverness in which he rightly points out that the U.S. Coast Guard ignores West Marin zoning and density in seeking to acquire a property for a barracks and apartment building in Inverness.

I was the owner when the Inverness Valley Inn got the "Resort-Recreation" Use Permit in 1962. We were put under very severe restrictions — 10 units on 15 acres, with wide buffer zones between the housing and the creek, and between the housing on the road.

We were told that if we wanted more units (e.g., 20 units total), we would have to commit more acreage. We could not have brought in 80 dwelling units, even by using all the 52 acres available. The Coast Guard will put that number of units on half that acreage!

So the Coast Guard has at least a two-to-one advantage over the private landowner. It seems to me this is unfair competition with private, taxpaying industry!

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

LEFTY DEUTSCH, erratic rookie pitcher for the Delfern Daredevils baseball team, protested vigorously when the manager strode to the mound to yank him in the very first inning of a crucial contest. "What's the big idea?" roared Deutsch. "I struck out this bum that's at bat the last time he was up." "I know," agreed the manager wearily, "but this is the same inning."

Horace Sutton tells of a day the usually imperturbable columnist, Bob Considine, lost his cool. A nervous, over-effusive hostess introduced him four times as "Mr. Wright." Each time, he patiently corrected her, "My name, ma'am, is Considine." Finally she turned to him and cooed, "Tell us all what you do, Mr. Wright." Bob answered smoothly, "Not one thing since I invented the airplane" — and headed for the nearest exit.

At a full-dress inspection at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama, not long ago, PFC Jan Curran reports that the commanding officer halted abruptly in front of a freckle-faced recruit and ordered, "Button that pocket, trooper!" The recruit stammered, "Right now, sir?" "Of course, right now," roared the C.O.

So the recruit carefully reached out and buttoned the flap on the C.O.'s shirt pocket.

This Is How Rich Oil Tycoons Pay Little Or No Income Tax

DALLAS, Texas — Tax reform has a sinister sound here in the capital of petroleum. It has the look of a dagger pointed at the heart of the tax privileges that oil, along with all other minerals, has enjoyed for more than 40 years.

The 27½ per cent knocked off the oil producer's income for a "wasting asset" is the most conspicuous of these privileges. But there is another even dearer to the industry. This concerns the "intangibles," a word in the oil man's vocabulary equivalent to motherhood or patriotism. If Congress changes the tax code to eliminate the deduction for intangibles, it will be a dark day in Dallas.

It works like this. As an oil operator, whether an independent or one of the majors, 60 to 70 per cent of drilling costs are immediately deductible. And that applies if it is a dry hole or a big producer. In the infancy of the industry the idea was to provide an incentive to get more and more of the black stuff out of the earth.

Parlaying the 27½ per cent and the intangibles explains how some of the richest men in the country pay little or no federal income tax. The 27½ per cent skimmed off the top means on very large incomes a generous wherewithal. The 60 to 70 per cent deducted for intangibles allows the resourceful operator to acquire and exploit constantly increasing new holdings.

A STANDOUT in this league is H. L. Hunt. A legendary figure both for his penuriousness and his wealth, which rivals put at between $600 million and $1 billion, he is the No. 1 Independent with operations around the globe as well as in a half-dozen states, including Alaska.

For a number of years he paid either no tax or minuscule amounts as measured against his fabulous income. Hunt and his lawyers are so resourceful that, until the Bureau of Internal Revenue cracked down, even the deluge of rightist propaganda he puts out was tax deductible under the educational and charitable provision of the tax code. Although he proudly proclaims his generosity to political candidates on the far right — to Max Rafferty in California last year — the record shows his contributions are not in the fat class.

WITHOUT THE tax privileges, these sober finance men say, it will be impossible to find the $200 billion in capital required to supply the nation's petroleum needs through 1980. Inevitably, the talk turns to the industry's greatest derring-do — the huge find on the arctic slope in Alaska.

That endeavor staggers the imagination. The pipe line from Prudhoe Bay on Alaska's extreme northern boundary across 800 miles of frozen Tundra to Valdez in the south must be built on stilts. It will cost by conservative estimate $1 billion. A new-type ice-breaking tanker is being built to experiment with a route through the northwest passage. The pipe line will carry a million barrels of oil a day.

Despite the Nixon pledge in last year's campaign that the 27½ per cent will stand, the threat of reform is real. Those who have long argued the need to close a whole series of loopholes are riding the tide of a taxpayers' revolt. The national committee on tax justice headed by former Sen. Paul H. Douglas, a zealous advocate of tax reforms throughout his career, estimates an annual revenue gain of $1.6 billion by eliminating the depletion allowance and the deduction for intangibles.

WITHIN THE oil industry there is no unanimity on how to face the enemy. Bolder spirits, such as Robert G. Dunlop of Sun Oil, call for an offensive — demand a higher allowance, 30 or 33 per cent, as essential to cope with the country's expanding oil requirements. While it is still only a whisper, the realists are beginning to suggest that compromise is in order. They pull back at the thought that opening the door to any reduction will mean eventually abolishing the whole works.

Sen John J. Williams, R-Del., hardly an enemy of big business, proposed a cut to 20 per cent. This would be done in three stages at 2½ per cent a year. With some Republican backing for the Democrats determined on tax reform in the Senate, that would seem to be the likely result.

This is, however, far from certain.

Argentina Is Ripped By Student-Labor Disorder

The atmosphere in which Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller found himself upon arrival in Buenos Aires wasn't too much different than had greeted him in a dozen or so other Latin American countries.

There were the usual student labor demonstrations only partially controlled by a vastly increased security force. There were the usual anti-American and anti-Rockefeller slogans.

And there was some arson, including the burning of supermarkets in which the Governor's family has an interest.

There also were some differences.

IN ARGENTINA his host was President Juan Carlos Ongania, an austere Army man. On the day of the Governor's arrival, Ongania was entering his fourth year of a dictatorship which until a month ago had seemed to have support of most of Argentina's 23 million people.

As a dictatorship it had been unusually benign, permitting criticism and a free press.

It also had given the country a stability rare since the ouster in 1955 of Juan D. Peron.

The last year had seen the greatest economic progress in a decade. The cost of living rose 9.6 per cent in 1968 as opposed to 27.4 per cent the year before. The peso stayed steady at 350 to the dollar, and foreign reserves were up to a billion dollars.

THE GROSS national product was up 4.6 per cent after a decade of stagnation and a growth rate of at least six per cent was predicted for 1969.

From a total of 250,000 man-hours lost in strikes during 1967, the figure fell to 4,000 in the first six months of 1969.

Helped by a loan from the World Bank, a $530 million hydro-electric project was going up to help develop the thinly-populated Patagonian region in the south.

Then, during the last two weeks of May the blow fell, triggered on a comparatively minor issue—a nine-cent increase in school lunches.

In Corriente province a student protester was killed and spreading student-labor disorders became nationwide, finally quelled by intervention of the army. Fourteen persons died in Cordoba, the nation's third largest city.

THE DEMONSTRATIONS gave new unit to labor unions, still loyal to Peron and tarnished Ongania's reputation as the man who had brought order to Argentina.

To meet the new situation, Ongania replaced his economic minister, Adalbert Krieger Vasena, whose 21-month wage freeze had incurred the resentment of labor.

He upgraded education to ministerial level within his government, ordered an easier police hand in dealing with student demonstrations and promised new management-labor wage discussions in September.

"The revolution," he said, "will go on."

They Want To Name Supervisor Who Can Win Victory At Polls

Rumors continue in Petaluma as to who will be appointed to replace Leigh S. Shoemaker on the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors.

With each person, one gets a new name of a candidate who's absolutely "in" for the post. Although the list of persons publicly seeking the post is lengthy, names of unannounced candidates rank equally high in opinion polls.

Representatives of the Governor's office report that the official appointment may be another week or ten days in coming. Uppermost in the appointment is not only a person who can well represent southern Sonoma, but also someone who can win re-election. With the primary scheduled for next June, the new supervisor willl have less than a year to find his place in the pecking order of county government and still maintain relations at home to ensure victory at the polls.

IN THE meantime, southern Sonoma goes unrepresented in Santa Rosa. Watching the proceedings with a rather detached air is the retired Shoemaker. Shortly after the announcement of his resignation, he began speaking of the supervisors and county administrators in terms of "they."

Noting the slowness of budget deliberations, the dry-witted supervisor remarked, "Maybe they'll declare a one year moratorium on county government. I wonder if anyone would notice."

It was that dry humor that often carried the former supervisor through problems on the county level. Known as the dissenter by his own admission, Shoemaker clung rigidly to what he thought was right and never made remarks just to see himself quoted in the newspaper the next day.

DESPITE HIS reluctance to play politics and to join in the popularity games played at the county seat, Shoemaker easily won election to his post four times. While other supervisors were accused of being part of a clique and often are accused of being rude to constituents, Shoemaker remained respected throughout his 15 year career.

Tracing his public service ten years beyond that, Shoemaker became one of Petaluma's charter councilmen in 1946 when the city took on the charter form of government.

LISTED AMONG his achievements is the city hall built in the 1950s, the Petaluma Veterans Memorial Building and the preservation of Vallejo's adobe. Another one of his pet projects was the location of Sonoma State College within his supervisorial district in Rohnert Park.

Now completely "grounded" as he puts it, Shoemaker rarely leaves his home except for an occasional trip to the doctor's office. At the age of 65, the venerable supervisor is noticeably nostalgic about his career now over.

He has a right to be sentimental.

Annexation Of 1,000 Acres To Be Studied

The annexation of about 1,000 acres in Las Gallinas Valley — including the Marin County Civic Center — to the City of San Rafael will be considered by the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission at 8 p.m. Thursday in the supervisors' chambers of the Civic Center.

The area, now under County of Marin jurisdiction lies east of Highway 101 and is bounded generally by North San Pedro Road, the new Crest-Marin apartments off Lucas Valley Road and San Pablo Bay. The Los Ranchitos and Gallinas Village areas are excluded.

The annexation has been approved by the board of supervisors.

The commission also will consider formation of a Marin County Fire Protection District and three annexations to the Novato Sanitary District.

Mobile Home Variance Given

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill granted a variance yesterday to Herbert Angress to live in a mobile home on Shoreline Highway at Marshall for two months during construction of a permanent residence on the site.

A just-completed $22,000 home on the site, into which the Angress family were about to move, was destroyed by fire June 16.

Cordill withheld decision on a request by Carla Amundson of 1025 Meadowsweet Drive, outside the Corte Madera city limits, for a use permit to keep a horse. Area zoning is single-family residential.

Plea Entered In Burglary

Barry P. Baukol, 21, of San Rafael pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to burglarizing the Greenbrae Pet Hospital on April 21.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set sentencing for Aug. 18 and declared the offense to be second degree burglary.

Baukol is also awaiting sentencing on a conviction of selling methamphetamine.

Sonoma Library Is Given Federal Grant

The Sonoma State College Library has been allotted a grant by the Office of Education of the Department of Health Education and Welfare, according to A. S. Pickett, librarian.

The grant of $9,758 will include funds for reference sets, periodical back files and microfilms that are not included in the regular budget.

The Suez Canal was opened in 1869.

ART BUCHWALD

Lending Is No Longer Any Fun; You Gotta Tell Em The Truth

WASHINGTON — You can read all you want to about high interest rates and the problem the banks are having with "truth in lending," but it's only when you try to make a loan these days that you realize how tough things really are.

My friend Kalshiner went into a bank a few weeks ago to make a $1,000 loan. The assistant vice president said, "Yes, I'm sure we can do something."

"That's fine."

"Now the prime rate for loans is 8½ per cent."

"That sounds a little high, said Kalshiner, "but I'll take it."

"I said that was the prime rate. That isn't the rate you get. The prime rate is for our large clients who borrow over $1 million. Our rate to you would be 10 per cent."

"Wow, they should call that the prime rate," Kalshiner said. "It's higher."

"No jokes, Mr. Kalshiner. We're not in a laughing mood these days."

"Things are rough?"

"YOU DON'T know the half of it. Everyone wants money, and we don't have any money. Our safes are practically empty. We just don't know what we're going to do."

"I know what you're going to do."

"What?"

"You're going to raise the prime rate."

"You've been talking to David Rockefeller."

"As a matter of fact, I haven't," Kalshiner said. "But can we get on with my problem?"

"Of course. Now I must warn you that although we tell you the rate on your loan is 10 per cent, it's really 18.65 per cent."

"WHY DID you have to tell me that?"

"Because," the vice president said as he put his hand on a Bible, "of the Truth-in-Lending Act, which requires us to tell you the actual amount of interest as opposed to the interest we advertise."

"Well, why don't you tell the people the actual interest rate in the first place?"

"Because under the Truth-in-Lending Act we're not required to do so. Wouldn't you rather think you were paying 10 per cent than 19 per cent?"

"I guess so."

"Now, under the Truth-in-Lending Act, I am also required to tell you that we will deduct the first payment and the interest out of your $1,000 loan, which will add another 1.94 per cent to your interest charges."

"I knew you'd get over 20 per cent before I got out of here."

"Mr. Kalshiner, if you don't want this loan, we can give it to somebody else."

"I'm sorry. I see you still have your hand on the Bible. Is there anything else you want to tell me?"

"THERE ARE certain bank handling charges for putting through the loan which will add another 2 per cent."

"Bonnie and Clyde were amateurs compared to you guys," Kalshiner said.

"Mr. Kalshiner, that wasn't a nice thing to say. Do you think we like telling people the truth about our loans? Do you think it's fun to have to keep my hand on this Bible every time someone wants to borrow money? We didn't want the Truth-in-Lending Act. We fought it because we knew how unhappy it would make everyone. But it's the law of the land and all the fun has gone out of the loan business."

"I'm sorry," Kalshiner said. "Heck, if I have to pay 23 per cent for a loan, it's fine with me."

The vice president put his hand back on the Bible. "Now let me tell you about the postage charges."

New Plan Announced To Aid Home Industry

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The chairman of the federal Home Loan Bank Board has announced a plain aimed at stabilizing the nation's sagging housing construction business by making long-term, five-year loans to savings and loan associations.

Dr. Preston Martin said offering of the loans to the 5,000 members of the federal home loan bank system will be the first such long-term advances since 1958.

Currently, the loans are issued on a one-year basis to system members, representing virtually every major savings and loan association in the nation.

At a news conference in the State Capitol yesterday, Martin said the loan funds would be provided by a series of debenture sales with a five-year maturity. He said the first issue would produce an estimated $200 million.

The board is the agency of the federal government which provides a credit reservoir for thrift and home financing institutions through 12 regional home loan banks. The agency regulates federal savings and loan associations.

"We feel it will have a salutory effect on mortgate credit," Martin told reporters. "We are widening and deepening the sources of mortgage credit for the country."

"We are going to the money markets for funds which we in turn will lend to the savings and loans," he explained.

Martin said he believed the move was in line with the Nixon administration's anti-inflation policies.

"The disinflating goal of the Nixon administration is, of course, to cool off an overheated economy," he said. "Housing is an 'overcool' section of the economy."

He said that housing starts nationwide had dropped from a January level of 1.9 million to a current level of probably less than 1.5 million.

"The contraction has produced a housing shortage," he said. "And that shortage is particularly acute in California."

Martin, former California Savings and Loan Commissioner, said it was the Nixon administration's aim to avoid housing being cut back "too far."

"The Home Loan Bank Board is attempting to stabilize housing credit—to cushion its being cut back so that we do not have as we had in 1966 single family residential starts dropping by 40 and 50 per cent," he said.

He noted such drastic decreases drove members of the home building industry out of business and that some do not return.

He said the amount of money to be made available by the board "will depend on the demand and the credit worthiness of the borrower. We don't automatically lend to savings and loans."

$125 Fine For Weed Possession

The wife of a psychology professor — formerly of Mill Valley — was fined $125 yesterday in Marin Superior Court for possessing marijuana.

The district attorney's office had recommended a $500 fine and the probation department, $100. Judge Joseph G. Wilson asked J. W. (Jake) Ehrlich, the attorney for Barbara Ellen Schiffman, 24, if he had anything to say.

Ehrlich replied, "I'll go for the lower figure."

The judge, smiling, concurred. He also declared the offense a misdemeanor.

Mrs. Schiffman and her husband, David Charles, 28, were arrested Nov. 15, 1968, by Narcotics agents and postal inspectors who were searching for drugs believed to have been shipped illegally through the mail.

Although they sought LSD, they found only enough marijuana for six or seven cigarettes.

In May, Mrs. Schiffman pleaded guilty and charges against her husband, a New York professor, were dismissed.

Report Is Due On Ferryboats

A report on the feasibility of increased ferry boat service from Marin to San Francisco will be delivered tomorrow to the Marin County Transit District board.

Arthur D. Little Inc., San Francisco consultants, have said that improved ferry service across San Francisco Bay is practical from either Point San Quention or Paradise Cay.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. in the planning commission chambers of the Civic Center.

Seventy per cent of British Columbia's 366,255 square miles — an area larger than Ohio, California, Oregon and Washington combined — is covered by forests.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Food And Drug Administration Has The Last Word On Drugs

VAN DELLEN

The Food and Drug Administration has the power of life or death over any drug submitted for approval. The agency decides whether it can be tested on an experimental basis, and if approved for this purpose, they again must pass on the results of the investigations. This may take years even tho the chemical is a potential life saver. There is very little the public can do to hasten the process because this is the way the law is interpreted.

One of the most interesting hassles with the FDA centers about DMSO (dimethyl sulfoxide). Three of our best pharmaceutical companies manufacture the compound, and since 1965, the FDA has refused to allow any clinical trials. Last fall they relaxed restrictions limiting tests on humans to local applications of the drug for a 14-day period. Meanwhile, DMSO has become a prescription product in Germany and Austria and more than 800 scientific articles have been written on the chemical.

WE ASSUME the problem centers about the unique properties of DMSO. When applied to the skin, the chemical passes through the epidermis and is capable of carrying other chemicals along with it. In other words, it does not need to be taken orally or via injection. Repeated tests show that DMSO relieves pain, relaxes muscles, and is anti-inflammatory. It dilates blood vessels and dissolves certain types of collagen fibrous tissues. The chemical has been reported to be of value in a variety of diseases and painful conditions including arthritis, fungal infections, and circulatory diseases.

One objection is that DMSO changes the refractive index of the lenses of the eyes of certain laboratory animals. When applied daily to the skin of human volunteers for 90 days, none showed ocular abnormalities. There also is a possibility that some people may develop a hypersensitive response.

ACCRODING TO Dr. Stanley W. Jacob, such toxic reactions are rare. The most common side effects are skin irritation and a sulfide (rotten egg) or garlic odor on the breath.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

BITTEN BY DOG

Mrs. T. T. writes: My child was nipped, not bitten, by a dog. It was not a stray, but my neighbor's pet. Incidentally, our neighbor is an attorney. After the incident, I washed the wound thoroughly and sprayed it with an antiseptic. When I called the doctor, he told me to forget it. Can rabies turn up at a later date or should I listen to my physician?

REPLY

Take his advice even though no one, including your physician, is capable of making you forget. So long as the dog is known and watched there is no need for concern. Children often provoke a healthy dog to bite.

MARKS FROM GLASSES

S. C. L. writes: I would like to know if prolonged wearing of eyeglasses can cause a person's nose to become indented. I always have a red mark after taking them off and I am afraid my nose will be disfigured.

REPLY

Many perople have a reddened area when the specs are removed but I doubt if the glasses are heavy enough to cause a permanent indentation.

GINGIVITIS

A reader writes: How can gingivitis be avoided? My gums have been inflamed and although the condition is almost under control, I'd like to prevent future trouble along this line.

REPLY

Good oral hygiene is the best preventive. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on gum disorders.

Judge's Mind Changed On Sanity Trial Issue

A Marin Superior Court judge ruled yesterday that a condemned man is entitled to a jury to determine if he is sane enough to die but then withdrew his decision temporarily after attorneys in the courtroom offered advice on the matter.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson first said that a California law which provides for a trial by judge only to determine if a man previously declared insane has recovered his sanity enough to be executed is unconstitutional.

The convict in question was Derryl Thomas Kemp, who has spent the last seven years in prison hospitals. He was declared too insane to be executed at San Quentin by a Marin jury in September 1961.

After listening to arguments by Kemp's attorney, Judge Wilson said that he thought the law providing only trial by judge to determine if he has regained his sanity violated Kemp's constitutional rights.

At that point San Rafael attorney William O. Weissich, who was in the courtroom on another case, rose to suggest that the judge read a case covering the question.

Judge Wilson agreed to take the matter under submission and set a trial for Kemp for the week of Oct. 27.

At this point another attorney present, J. W. (Jake) Ehrlich, of San Francisco, stage-whispered to Weissich that the case he mentioned did not have anything to do with the question at hand.

Nixon Requests Extension Of Unemployment Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon urged Congress today to bring 4.8 million more workers under unemployment insurance and to extend the period of benefits during times of high unemployment.

"Over 57 million workers are protected by unemployment insurance," the President said in a message to the Senate and House. "However, almost 17 million are not covered. More than half of these are employes of state and local governments."

"The last extension of coverage was enacted during the Eisenhower administration, when 6 million additional workers were included; there is a clear social need today to cover as many more employees as we can," he added.

Nixon said the 4.8 million workers he proposes to include in the system are in real need of protection, since many of them have low wages, little job security and no prospect of severance pay if they were to be laid off.

He broke the 4.8 million figure down this way:

1.6 million workers in firms with less than four employes.

400,000 on large farms employing four or more workers in each of 20 weeks.

200,000 engaged in agricultural processing.

1.8 million working for nonprofit organizations.

600,000 employees of state hospitals and universities.

200,000 salesmen, delivery tradesmen and others not now defined as employes.

Preliminary Hearing For Suspect Burglars

A preliminary hearing was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for next Monday for two men accused of two burglaries in Mill Valley last Wednesday.

Charged with the offenses are Paul K. McSweeney, 22, and Michael William Todd, 25, both of San Rafael.

IS THERE ANYTHING HARMFUL IN MEAT TENDERIZERS? According to "CONSUMERS ALL"* meat tenderizers have as their basic ingredient PAPAIN, a vegetable enzyme of the tropical papaya melon. The tenderizer may be prepared without the addition of spices, dextrose and seasonings. Ordinarily the ingredients are harmless. However some people have reported an allergic reaction to papain even when the meat treated with it is cooked. Persons on low sodium diets should avoid those products that use salt as a carrier. (Question asked by Betty Kelly of Berkeley)

Kita Zucco of Danville asks: WHAT IS THE NUTRITIONAL VALUE OF JICAMA? HOW MANY CALORIES AND CARBOHYDRATES DOES IT HAVE? Jicama, yam bean root, contains Vitamin C. It is a low calorie starchy vegetable. 4 ounces (½ cup) equals 45 calories and contains 20 mg. Vitamin C (about ⅓ MDR). Most of the calories are from carbohydrates. "IS IT SAFE TO EAT AN EGG WHEN IT IS BLOODSHOT?" asks Mrs. Saryl Weinstein of Point Richmond. The answer is YES according to our home economist. Bloodspots or streaks in eggs are from the hen's reproductive tract as an egg is being formed. The candling method checking eggs doesn't always pick it up. There is no health hazard in a bloodspot.

TV IN REVIEW

Musicals To Replace Westerns

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It is a rather unique feeling to look at next season's new television series and find not a western or private eye show among them.

The antiviolence syndrome, brought on by reaction to the assassinations of Martin Luther King Jr. and Robert Kennedy, is clearly in evidence, despite alarmist reports to the contrary.

What will there be instead of the gunslingers and square-jawed private investigators?

Well, for instance, there will be five new music and variety series. Leslie Uggams will have one, and so will Andy Williams, and so will Jim Nabors. And Jimmy Durante and the Lennon Sisters will share one. And there will be an entry called "The Music Scene," focusing on hit records.

Situation comedies, those bread-and-butter staples of the net works, will be back in force again, with no less than eight new ones on tap.

COSBY, TOO

Bill Cosby will have one, and so will Debbie Reynolds. Then there will be the one based on the works of James Thurber, "My World, and Welcome to It," and also "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," about a widower and his son.

There will be "The Governor and J.J." about a politician and his daughter. There will be "When in Rome," about a professor and his offspring. There will be "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," about a rich fellow who loves the simple life. And there will be "The Brady Bunch," about a widow and widower, each with large families, who get married.

In the drama-melodrama-film comedy area, about 10 new series will try to make us forget all about cowboys and cops. Well, almost—not altogether . . . well, you know what I mean.

NEW PEOPLE'

"The New People" will deal with youngsters who form their own society when marooned on an island. "The Survivors" will tell us of the trials and tribulations of the ugliest people on earth— "The beautiful people" of the jet set. "Love-American Style" will offer primarily light-hearted tales of contemporary romance.

"Medical Center" and "Marcus Welby, M.D." will deal with doctors. "The Movie of the Week," a 90-minute series, will naturally have a wide range of subjects. "Bracken's World" is about the behind-the-scenes action in a movie studio.

"Room 222," will focus on a Negro teacher — a man — in a high school. "Then Came Bronson" will be about a young ex-newspaperman who sets out across the nation on a motorcycle in search of the meaning of life and all that. "The Bold Ones" will tell about fictional heroes in such contemporary areas as medicine and law enforcement.

That Bronson fellow, by the way, reminds me of a young would-be reporter, now a network newsman, who once came into the United Press International Bureau looking for a job. I directed hin to the head man, Fran Leary, a very tough fellow to impress. "Mr. Leary," said the young man, "I'm pursuing journalism." Replied Fran: "I hope you catch it."

Station Wagon Checks Urged

DETROIT (UPI)—Owners of 1969 General Motors station wagons equipped with dual-action tailgates may be getting dust and small quantities of exhaust fumes in their interiors, the company warned yesterday.

G.M. advised 20,200 owners of Chevrolet and Pontiac wagons to return their vehicles to dealers for inspection and possible installation of a small filler plate that may have been omitted in production.

Missing plates will be installed at no charge, G.M. said.

Price Doubled For Firefly Catchers

ELK GROVE VILLAGE, Ill. (AP) — Because demand has increased, Alan S. Antonik says, he is having to double the price he pays children for fireflies, from half a cent to a penny.

Antonik, president of Antonik Laboratories, said he needs 1.5 million fireflies this summer instead of 600,000 as in the past. Chemicals from the bugs' lighting system are used in hospital tests to detect heart attacks and muscle diseases.

Mountains Moved By Earthquake

WASHINGTON (AP) — The great Alaskan earthquake shoved some mountains over 50 feet, ballooned a section of ocean floor up five stories, and left one island 30 feet higher and tilted to one side, the Coast and Geodetic Survey reported today.

The Commerce Department agency's newest findings were made in the four years since the Good Friday temblor which killed 131 and left more than $750 million damage.

The agency said the quake:

Shifted the Chugach and Kenai Mountains, 80 miles from Anchorage, 50 feet to the south.

Dropped the south pass of the mountains almost 10 feet.

Ballooned the ocean floor up 50 feet between Kodiak and Montague Islands in the Gulf of Alaska.

Shoved Ushagat, Afognak and Kodiak islands to the southeast 50 feet.

Pushed Montague Island, in Prince William Sound at the quake's epicenter, up 30 feet and tilted it, leaving one side 10 feet above the other.

Belvedere's Dogs Win Leash Stay

Belvedere dogs won at least one year of continued freedom last night as the city council voted unanimously not to join the new countywide animal control program.

Mayor Thomas S. Price, noting Tiburon also had not joined, questioned the value of Belvedere joining "when a dog runs across the highway into Tiburon would be free. Besides, I'm not sure I want a stronger dog control ordinance," Price said.

Adoption of the countywide ordinance, to be enforced by a beefed up Marin County Humane Society dog catching crew, would have obliged the city to contribute $404 to the county program, and to levy $5 for dog licenses, up $1 from the current fee.

City Mgr. William L. Cavalli, somewhat surprised by the council's decision, reminded them he had polled them by telephone last week and that a majority of them had agreed they would approve adoption of the countywide ordinance. As a result, he said, he had written the Marin County Board of Supervisors assuring them Belvedere would join the program.

But the four councilmen present last night did not explain why they had changed their minds. Councilman Sally G. Mathews was absent.

Son To Post As Attorney In Belvedere

William H. MacKay, Belvedere city attorney for 11 years, resigned last night and was promptly replaced with his son, Robert F. MacKay.

Mayor Thomas S. Price said the resignation was "not a surprise to us — we've know about it for some time." The letter of resignation, which did not explain why he was resigning, was accepted by the council "with regret."

At the suggestion of City Mgr. William L. Cavalli, the younger MacKay was appointed city attorney for the rest of the fiscal year that began last Tuesday at the same rate as his father, $275 a month. The younger MacKay had served as the city's deputy attorney since February 1968.

The senior MacKay, 73, lives in Kentfield. His son lives in San Rafael.

Panel Will Discuss Toning Down Sign

The Larkspur Planning Commission will meet at 8 p.m. today in city hall at which time it will discuss a request of Disco, 1 Larkspur Plaza, to tone down the red, white and blue colors on the fascia board of the department store.

It was reported erroneously in the Independent-Journal July 4 that the commission would meet last night.

House Permit Depends On Saving Bay View

The Belvedere City Council last night granted a variance for a three-story house on condition that it be lowered enough to preserve the bay view from the adjacent home of city planning commissioner William Rafter. (Another Belvedere City Council story, page 1).

Architect Rodney Friedman, who fought for weeks to win a reversal of the planning commission's denial of his variance, said he will try to lower his house four to six feet, but indicated he will come back before the council if he cannot meet its condition that his house be no higher than the railing on Rafter's balcony.

If Friedman's house were higher than this, Rafter said, "it would depreciate the value of my property."

Friedman's attorney, Gordon C. Wright, said that Friedman would not want to do anything "to destroy the concept of the house." The new house is to be between 226 and 240 Bay View Avenue.

Councilman Merrit K. Ruddock, who moved unsuccessfully to postpone a decision again, said Friedman was "unwise to press his suit against the feeling he is meeting."

When Friedman attempted to explain the difference in elvations between his home site and the Rafter home, Ruddock said, "We're being lectured to; can you be civil to us?"

Tempers also flared when Rafter said Friedman was planning to build an "unnecessarily" large house. Mrs. Friedman told Rafter this was "none of your business."

The Belvedere City Council Also:

DISSOLUTION — Took no action on a suggestion from the parks and recreation commission that it be dissolved. Chairman Roger Felton, saying it was "accomplishing very little," told councilmen "the whole commission is feeling there is no need for a commission."

BONDS — Adopted a resolution asking President Richard M. Nixon and Congress to oppose proposed legislation that would jeopardize the tax-exempt feature of state and municipal bonds.

FIRE DISTRICT — Urged the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission to form a fire protection district for unincorporated areas of the county to eliminate "double taxation" of city residents for this service to residents outside cities.

BAY — Heard City Atty. Robert F. MacKay report the State Lands Commission's staff had recommended annexation to Belvedere of Richardson Bay between the present city limit and the Sausalito city limit. The staff recommendation now must be approved by the commission.

SEAL — Sent back to the drawing board a proposed design for a city seal after councilmen differed on whether the island in the design was Belvedere.

BID — Awarded a $10,360 contract to Thornton Paving Co. of San Rafael to resurface Bay View Avenue. There were six bids.

SIREN — Asked City Mgr. William L. Cavalli to study changing the hour of the daily fire siren test, now sounded at 4:30 p.m. ,Cavalli, responding to complaint about the siren from Mrs. Samuel J. Mann of 26 Lagoon Road, said "we can do it at 2 a.m. if she would rather."

AUDIT — Hired Sleezer & Eckhoff of San Rafael to do the city's annual audit for $650.

44 Park Cases Are Dismissed

BERKELEY (AP) — Charges against 44 persons arrested in a mass roundup May 22 during people's park protest marches have been dismissed by Municipal Judge Floyd Talbott.

Out of 482 arrested at the time, charges have either been dismissed in court, including the 44 yesterday, or dropped before reaching trial, for 417 persons. There have been no convictions.

The charges ranged from failure to disperse to blocking a public street.

The Alameda County district attorney's office will try again tomorrow for a conviction when the remaining 55 cases come to trial before Talbot.

Girl Seized In Raid Sent To Youth Court

The case of Joann Myers, 19, of San Francisco has been accepted by juvenile court, it was reported yesterday in Marin Municipal Court. Miss Myers was arrested May 27 in a raid on a house near Inverness where drug agents said they confiscated over $100,000 worth of hashish.

She is charged with possession of the drug for sale.

Heiresses Ask Juvenile Court

The cases of twin heiresses who are accused of growing marijuana at a rented Kentifeld home were referred yesterday to the probation department to see if they are acceptable to Marin Juvenile Court.

Judge Peter Allen Smith told Deborah Wadsworth Prentice Ettinger and Pamela Prentice Ettinger, 19, to return to Marin Municipal Court July 21.

The girls, who were arrested June 12, are the granddaughters of the co-founder of Prentice-Hall Inc., New York publishing firm.

Wrong Address

Richard J. Burrill of 50 0Quietwood Drive, San Rafael said yesterday that his son, Gregory James Burrill, 25, has not lived at that address for five years. The younger Burrill had given that address when arrested for drunken driving June 28.

Neighborhood Panel Rules Out Hostel

BERKELEY (AP) — The South Berkeley Model Cities Neighborhood Council voted unanimously last night against establishment of a summer youth hostel in an empty Navy housing unit.

The Berkeley School District, which owns the unit, had considered leasing it for two months to a group of Berkeley "street people" for a people's pad, to care for an expected summer influx of youngsters.

School Supt. Richard Foster declared last Thursday, however, that he would not recommend such a lease unless it were approved by the neighborhood council representing the unit's area.

After the council's action, Art Goldberg of the People's Pad Steering Committee asserted that more than 250 residents in the predominately Negro neighborhood had signed petitions supporting a hostel.

"We're ignoring what the council says and, armed with our petitions, we're going direcetly to the school board to ask for a lease," he said.

School board members plan to build an adult education center on the site of the units from which nearly 60 families were evicted in March.

Foster said the board of education would "reserve the final voice."

Trustees Set Closed Sessions

The Bolinas-Stinson School District board will hold closed meetings at 7 p.m. today and 8 p.m. Thursday to interview teacher candidates. The board will go into open session if any hiring action is to be taken, Supt. Clarence B. Larison said.

The board will go into open session at 8:30 p.m. today to open bids on an Espenet desk made by Bolinas cabinetmaker Arthur E. Carpenter.

Both meetings will be at Bolinas School.

Warrant For Man Who Missed Court

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday issued a bench warrant with bail set at $1,000 for Bryce James Mitchell, 26, of Pacifica when he failed to appear in court for a trial setting date.

Mitchell was scheduled to be tried this week on a charge of falsely passing a prescription for dangerous drugs at a San Rafael pharmacy Oct. 28.

Goldrushers—Marin's Diehard 49er Fans Unite

By GARY TISCHLER

Some 32 diehard San Francisco 49er fans, all of them cherishing an unrequited love for the NFL title, became a group with a name yesterday, held their first luncheon, got a shot at a threesome of 49er luminaries and adjourned until Sept. 22.

The fans, most of them loyal followers from way back, were at the first luncheon of the Marin County chapter of the San Francisco 49er Goldrushers, headed by Dave Scofield, the Voice of Kezar Stadium.

On hand or this formational luncheon at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael were former 49er great Joe Perry, fullback Gary Lewis and 49er publicist George McFadden.

This particular group, which is expected to grow larger, will meet for a luncheon with designated front-line 49er players every Monday following a 49er game when the 1969 season begins.

Most of the group consisted of lawyers, real estate men and retired businessmen, although three members of Terra Linda High School's 1969 Marin County Athletic League grid champions were also on hand to give the luncheon a touch of youth. They were all league linebacker John Dohn, end Jack Dennis and halfback Matt Bowman.

Most of the opening luncheon was taken up with a lively question-and-answer session with the 49er threesome, although a steering committee was also formed.

The steering committee consists of Gil Madeiros, Bob Stribling, Harry Hartunian and Price Hall. The meetings will become co-educational, according to Hall, a fair enough proposition since some of the most fanatical season ticket-holders are women.

Lewis, a jaunty 238 pounds, may become the hit of the banquet circuit for the 49ers. He displayed a deft mugging sense, refreshing immodesty and a willingness to talk, something unusual in most athletes, with the exception of Joe Namath.

A question about his weight, which is too much right now, drew a quick grin from Lewis.

"I've been working the last three months to get it down," he said. "I'd like to be able to play at 215 pounds personally, but I expect to lose around 15 pounds or so and get down to 220."

Lewis and Perry got into a spirited discussion with Hartunian, who longingly raised the issue of the disappearance of the swift, lean back in the 49er ranks.

"You've got one right there," Perry said pointing to Lewis.

This didn't quite satisfy Hartunian, who obviously had something more than the hard-hitting fullback in mind, although Lewis pointed out that "with all due modesty, I'm just as good as anybody in the league as far as the footrace is concerned."

"Just what kind of runner did you have in mind," Perry asked.

"Well, somebody like you," Hartunian said.

All the 49er staff present praised head coach Dick Nolan.

"He's real quiet, talks in a low voice," Lewis said. "But when he talks, man you listen. He believes in running for daylight. That's what I believe."

"He is one of the brightest of the young coaches in football," Perry said. "I've played under quite a few, old and young, and he's one of the best."

Quite a few times during the hour-and-a-half proceedings, the good natured and often-frustrated hope of a 49er title was raised.

"Wait till next year," one of the Goldrushers yelled.

"No, it's this year," another countered.

The diehards haa organizaed.

Candlestick Weather Not Bolin's Cup Of Tea

Bob Bolin blasted Candlestick Park verbally and recommended San Francisco's Board of Supervisors blow it up literally instead of investing more money in it.

"It's not a place for baseball when the wind is whipping the way it was during the weekend," said Bolin. "It's a place to fly kites."

Rarely is there no wind at Candlestick. In the morning it is calm. But ball games aren't played in the morning.

Rarely is there a wind at Candlestick like the one that whipped itself into frenzied gusts of 35 miles an hour last Saturday. The only reason Bolin wasn't blown off the mound, like Stu Miller in the 1961 All-Star Game, is because he is 6-4, 225.

Bolin's displeasure with Candlestick is understandable. He had just lost a 7-1 decision to Phil Niekro and the Braves. Only two weeks before he had beaten Niekro and the Braves in Atlanta by an identical 7-1 score.

He's A Hot Weather Pitcher

Bolin is a hot weather pitcher. He comes from Hickory Grove, S.C., where mid 90 temperatures and matching humidity are considered proper weather for this time of year. That was the way it was in Atlanta a fortnight ago when Bolin beat the Braves.

Niekro is a knuckleball pitcher and there's nothing more a knuckleballer likes than a bit of wind. A knuckleball does funny things even when there is no wind. But in the wind it acts as though it were loaded with Mexican jumping beans.

To his credit, Niekro gauged Candlestick's gusts with such amazing accuracy that his knuckler did a disciplined dipsy-do dance on its way to the plate. "He's a human anemometer," said an admiring press box observer. "He'd never be beaten if he pitched all his games in Candlestick."

Helped Miller's Butterfly Ball

Stu Miller's butterfly ball often acted like a slowed-down knuckleball in Candlestick's wind. Garry Schumacher, dean of major league publicity men, used to insist Stu propelled the ball with his pulse. He really didn't. If he had thrown it off the pulse in his right wrist, the ball would have gotten to the plate sooner.

"Slow, slower and 2 cents postage due," was the way the late Arnott Duncan, who wrote beautiful baseball stories for the Arizona Republic, once described Miller's butterfly pitch.

Even though he was blown off the mound in the 1961 All-Star Game, Miller never rapped Candlestick's capricious breezes. He knew they benefitted his butterfly ball just as they now benefit knuckleballs such as Niekro throws.

But for pitchers like Bolin, hot, humid, windless weather is a must for success.

Cal's, Hub City Win In Softball

Ron Koller's three-run homer helped Cal's Steakhouse nick the Native Sons, 12-9, in a 16-inch slow pitch division game of the San Rafael Recreation Department's Adult Softball League at Albert Park last night.

In a C-II game, Hub City downed Gilmore Shell in a slugfest 11-10. Jim Mann had three hits for the losers.

Astros Break A Jinx

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Don Wilson overcame his early inning jinx as Houston snapped its Candlestick Park hex, and the Astros' spell over the San Francisco Giants continues.

The flame-throwing Wilson struck out 14 Giants and recorded an 8-2 victory yesterday in the opener of a three-bame series.

The victory was the seventh straight for Houston over the Giants.

Shooting for the eighth straight today was Larry Dierker, 11-5, facing the Giants' Mike McCormick, 5-4.

RARE EVENTS

But Astros' victories at Candlestick Park have been as rare as hen's teeth. When the Giants swept a four-game series there earlier this season, it gave them a 51-16 record at home against Houston, 39-6 in the last 45 games.

Wilson, trying to change the trend, struck out 10 batters over the last five innings following a sluggish start, and boosted the Astros over .500 at 43-42.

Wilson raised his record to 9-7.

"The first couple of innings have been my downfall," admitted Wilson. "If I get past them, I seem to do all right. But I've been knocked out early in some loses and that's not good for the ERA."

LOWERS ERA

Wilson, who tied the major league mark of 18 strikeouts last year, lowered his earned run average to 3.84.

Loser Ray Sadecki, 3-8, was staked to a 1-0 lead in the first inning on Tito Fuentes' single, a wild pitch and Bob Burda's pinch single.

Marty Martinez' walk and Curt Blefary's two-run homer pushed the Astros ahead in the fifth.

"Willie McCovey broke some blood vessels in his right shin and will probably miss Tuesday's game," trainer Leo Hughes said after the first baseman fouled a ball off his own leg.

Kialoa First To Ireland

CORK, Ireland (AP) — The Kialoa, one of three vessels to arrive here yesterday in the Cruising Club of America's transatlantic yacht race, was unofficially declared the corrected time winner.

The Ondine and the American Eagle also were among the first boats to reach Ireland. The official results are expected to be announced Thursday. There are 23 contestants in the race, which began on June 22 from Newport, R.I.

N.Y. Great 'Red' Rolfe Dies At 60

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Robert A. "Red" Rolfe, one of the New York Yankees' all-time greats who helped the club to six American League pennants, died today. He was 60.

Rolfe, whose brilliant playing career was shortened by poor health, died at his home on Governor's Island in nearby Guilford after a lingering illness.

He retired as athletic director at Dartmouth College here, his alma mater, in 1967 after undergoing surgery for an intestinal disorder.

A native of Penacook, N.H., the soft-spoken Rolfe enjoyed a career unequalled in sports. He led Dartmouth to the first Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League championship in 1930 and served as the team captain the next year before signing with the Yankees.

Afler three years in the minor leagues, he was promoted to the Yankees and remained with the club until forced to retire after the 1942 season. He recently was named the Yankees' all-time third baseman.

.289 LIFETIME

Rolfe was the Yankees' regular third baseman from 1935 through 1941. He compiled a lifetime average of .289 in helping New York to the Pennant, and five world championships, from 1936 to 1942 under Manager Joe McCarthy.

Rolfe's best year was in 1939, when he batted .329 and led the league in hits, doubles and runs scored.

Rolfe became head baseball and basketball coach at Yale following his retirement from baseball.

He joined the Detroit Tigers as farm director in 1948 and a year later became the team's manager.

Rams Get Fullback Lang From Eagles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some insiders say the Los Angeles Rams have traded their way to a National Football League title with the acquisition of fullback Israel Lang from the Philadelphia Eagles.

The doubters, after the trade yesterday, said it didn't happen that way the last time a Los Angeles team made a big deal with Philadelphia. They refer to the trade that brought Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia 76ers to the Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association.

The Lakers won their division, but not the NBA championship.

232 POUNDS

The insiders who are touting the Rams say Lang, weighing in at a solid 232, should give Dick Bass the running mate he's sorely lacked the past three seasons, especially since Les Josephson's injury a year ago.

They rate Lang among the finest backs in the league and say he's just been overlooked because Philadelphia has been mired in the wrong end of the standings. Lang, at 27, has five years experience under his belt with Philadelphia but has a long future ahead of him.

Lang joins All-Pro offensive tackle Bob Brown, who the Rams also got from the City of Brotherly Love in an earlier trade, the two key reasons the 1969 Rams could better their excellent 10-3-1 record of last year.

IN RETURN

In return for Lang, trader George Allen, Ram head coach, swapped John Zook, a rookie defensive end from Kansas and Harold Jackson, 5-10, 160, a swift young receiver who was with the club last season.

In a second trade yesterday, Allen peddled a draft choice for speedster Claudis James, a flanker who was with Green Bay last season. James is 6-2 and 190 and was one of the fastest of all the Packers.

Since Allen became coach four years ago, he has added 41 players to the Ram roster. Twenty-five of the new L.A. players involved in the 41 deals are still on the club and will report to Fullerton for summer camp which begins Saturday.

Peters' Pitching Eases Manager's Stomach Ache

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Reggie Jackson has been a headache all season for rival managers. But last night, Gary Peters eased Don Gutteridge's stomach trouble.

Peters gave up only two hits as he pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 2-0 victory over Oakland, blanking Jackson on four trips to the plate.

AT EASE

"He made it easy on my stomach," Gutteridge, the White Sox manager, said after the game. "I felt more at ease with a two-run lead the way he was pitching than I have at times with a five-run lead."

Mixing his pitches effectively, Peters kept the A's off-balance throughout the game. He was touched for a tainted double in the second by Danny Cater and a solid two-base knock by Joe Rudi in the eighth.

In one stretch, the Chicago left-hander set down 16 A's in a row before giving up his only walk to Sal Bando in the seventh.

HUGE CHEERS

Jackson, the major league's leading home run hitter with 34, drew huge cheers from the crowd of 26,659, largest of the season here, every time he stepped to the plate.

He struck out in the first, lined out to right in the fourth, grounded to second in the seventh and ended the game by lofting a high fly to deep center.

"He's strong," Peters said of Jackson. "The one he pulled to right was on the outside of the plate. Not many batters could have pulled it with power like he did. The last one he hit, I don't think he was looking for it. It was high and down the middle, a fast ball."

DOUBLEHEADER

Moving back to Chicago for a twinbill today, Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 5-7, of Oakland faced Paul Edmondson, 1-1, in the first game and the A's Jim Nash, 4-5, faved Joel Horlen, 5-9, in the second.

"I felt great tonight," Peters, now 6-9, said. "I have been feeling better each time out. I don't know if it's psychological or not, but I may have had the new mound height or the new strike zone in the back of my mind."

"You know you're lower, but you don't feel it out there," he said.

The A's now have lost four in a row, but manager Hank Bauer isn't thinking of pushing any panic button.

"We got good pitching and no hitting—that's the name of the game tonight," he said. "Sometimes we get hitting and sometimes we get pitching. Lately we haven't been able to put it together."

DUNCAN

Bauer inserted light-hitting catcher Dave Duncan into the A's line-up "to get a little life in the ball club."

When reminded that Duncan had gone 0-for-29 and was batting .081 befort last night's game, Bauer laughed: "You can pretty near spit that much."

But he wasn't too worried right now.

"We have lost five in a row this season, all by one run," he said.

Windward Still Leads Field

SAN PEDRO (AP) — Windward Passage continued to make substantial headway in its quest to win the Transpacific Yacht Race, as Robert Johnson's boat was reported well ahead last night at the 700-mile mark.

The Portland, Ore., ketch, riding winds of 12 knots, led with one third of the course completed from the Los Angeles harbor to Honolulu's Diamond Head.

Blackfin, skippered by Ken Demeuse, was reported in second place. She had reported radio and generator problems in the morning but said at noon they were repaired.

Rod Laver: A Master Of Bloody-Nose Tennis

LONDON—Once upon a time, there was a game called "tennis" and it was played by a bunch of guys who knew what a salad fork looked like and took the spoon out of the coffee when they drank it.

They wore and were white although an occasional player at the maharajah level crept in if he owned enough elephants. It was the only sport these people played that wasn't on horseback.

THE ONLY money they accepted was from "pater" or the royal treasury. They learned the game from the governess. They scored the game by a kind of algebra to keep out anybody who didn't have a Roman numeral after his name and hardly anybody in it was named "Joe." If he was, he, as Mencken used to say, parted his name in the middle and became "J. Montmorency Cliveden-Wentwood, Bart." The pairings had more hyphens than a narrow book.

They used to be called "amateurs," which is a 19th Century word which has fallen into obsolescence like "czar" or "virgin" or "manners" or "colonies." They all talked as if they had three adenoids and they wore braces on their teeth almost to middle age and they liked diminutives in private colloquies. If a guy was named "Griswold," he became "Grizzy" to his crowd at Eton or Harvard and he never lunched with anybody who had less money than he did or who would be stopped by the doorman at the club and asked to produce credentials.

THE RUFFIANS came out of America first. They chewed gum, called people "Bo," made noise eating soup and bought their clothes by mail. Dad didn't own a railroad, he worked for one. He didn't have a chauffeur, he was one. You called the family cook, "Mom." They ran off the rich in straight sets and the first round.

They hit the ball too hard, these guys. They played to win, not to kill time. They didn't want to be paid off in something you could drink out of, or eat off of, but something you could give to the landlord.

An "amateur" today is going through an evolutionary period, rather like Darwin's apes. You might say they are jumping down from the trees and getting a written language.

AS WITH ANY evolutionary species, there are some freakish specimens — hybrid sports equivalents of centaurs, unicorns, quaggas or abominable snowmen. These are called "registered players" or "players" or "approved players."

English translation: They play tennis for hire or for God and country. They have it both ways. They can take a check. They don't have to beg at car windows like Yellowstone bears anymore.

They can also play for "meal money" at tournaments where tradesmen are frowned upon. If you're a crack player, of course, the "meal money" will buy you a seat on the Stock Exchange.

BUT, PULLING tennis into the 20th Century has resulted in a tournament here at Wimbledon being peopled with stars, not swaddlings. It's a World Series, not sandlot, the heavyweight championship, not the walk-out bout at the Olympic. You don't go just to see the Queen, you go to see the game.

It was won by Rod Laver, not some sophomore from USC. The redheaded country boy from the sheep fields of Queensland is the Babe Ruth of this game, not the babe, period.

He may be the best who ever played tennis, not just the best last week, or the best indoors or on clay or on grass or in mixed doubles. He's not just an NCAA player blown up or a court form schoolboy or a guy who only plays when the market closes.

HE'S A PRO and a champion. He's worth queuing up to see. The chances are he and Tilden would go give 24-22 sets. He and Budge might play for two days before getting the third set in. Laver could win. In fact, Laver doubtless would.

ROD LAVER and Arthur Ashe took the court and it was Dempsey-Firpo. Rod Laver plays bloody-nose tennis and Ashe chose to slug with him. The crowd was on its feet almost as much as the players. The bout didn't end in a split decision but a KO as Ashe went down 6-0 in the last set.

Laver plays for "winners," not a retrieve-and-force error game. He would like the game of tennis to charge the net, too, and do away with the centaurs and other half-breeds.

"THE DAVIS Cup, the big tournaments should be all professional and no sub-professionals or other hedges. How can we get television into a game which doesn't even know what its own rules are?" he asks, adding, "this is the modern era."

Rod Laver can get tennis out of the society pages and onto channel seven — "the Wide World of Sports," "Countdown to Serve" — and can start bar arguments if the game cooperates.

The game has a great champion on the court. He can get players' picures in papers instead of in oil on castle walls. He can, that is, if the game can get past the palace guard and people can get used to the notion it is just as honorable to sell a tennis talent as shares in the Suez Canal or the East India Trading Company.

S.F. Board Okays Candlestick Plans

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Board of Supervisors yesterday approved in principal the installation of artificial turf at Candlestick Park.

The action is part of a $1.2 million first phase of an improvement program for the park where the National League's Giants now play baseball and where the 49ers expect to hold their future professional football games.

Before work can start, legal contracts must be approved by the Recreation and Park Commission and the supervisors.

Phase two of the plan calls for moveable right field stands and wind control measures.

Both are expected to cost a total of $16 million, to be paid for by a bond issue.

Braves Hurl First Stone At Dodgers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first Stone has been cast in the siege of Los Angeles, leaving the dazed Dodgers rocking on their heels.

Southpaw George Stone pitched five perfect innings and finished with a three-hitter last night as Atlanta's National League West Division leaders whipped the second-place Dodgers 5-2 in the opener of a four-game series.

"He pitched tonight like you have to do to be a winner," said Dodgers Manager Walter Alston, whose injury-riddled club has lost five of its last six starts to fall 1½ games off the Braves' pace.

REDS WIN

Cincinnati rallied for three runs in the seventh inning, the last two on Tony Perez' triple, and topped San Diego 5-3 in the only other NL night game, moving past San Francisco into third place in the West.

The Giants bowed to Houston 8-2 in a day game as Don Wilson cattered six hits and struck out 14, slipping one-half game behind Cincinnati and five back of the Braves.

The St. Louis-Philadelphia and Montreal-Pittsburgh games were rained out.

Stone, a former reliever who has nailed a key spot in Atlanta's starting rotation, breezed to his ninth victory against two losses, retiring 23 of the first 24 batters he faced while the Braves surged to a 5-0 lead.

LATE HOMERS

Jim Lefebvre, who ruined Stone's no-hit bid with a leadoff single in the sixth, poled his first homer of the year with two out in the eighth. Bill Russell homered with two out in the ninth for the third Los Angeles hit.

"I committed the cardinal sin of pitchers," Stone said. "I had a big lead and I relaxed. They (Lefebvre and Russell) are high fastball hitters and that's exactly what I gave them."

By the time the Dodgers finally connected, the Braves were out of reach. They nicked loser Alan Foster for a second inning run, took a 3-0 lead on Hank Aaron's 22nd homer in the third and added two more runs in the fifth on Felix Millan's base-loaded single.

SNAP TIE

The Reds snapped a 2-2 tie at San Diego after Chico Ruiz opened the seventh with a bunt single. He took second on a sacrifice and, after an intentional walk to Pete Rose, scored the go-ahead run on Bob Tolan's single. Perez tripled two more runs across, offsetting a ninth inning San Diego marker.

Rose homered for the Reds and rookie Van Kelly connected for the Padres.

Nats' Hurler Gets Message A Little Mixed Up

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

When Ted Williams took over as manager of the Washington Senators, he said he wouldn't demand perfection from his players—just a lot of hustle and an all-out attitude.

Apparently, Casey Cox got the message a little mixed up. The 6-foot-5 right-hander came within a whisker of perfection in a brilliant relief role last night as the red-hot Senators hammered Cleveland 7-2 for their 10th victory in 13 games and 13th in their last 19.

20 STRAIGHT

Cox, unsuccessful in three separate trials with the Senators before this season, came in with the bases loaded and one out in the third and promptly retired the last 20 men in order.

Towering Frank Howard, meanwhile, backed him with a pair of homers—one a tape-measure job that landed in the upper center field deck of Robert F. Kennedy Stadium, an estimated 485 feet from the plate.

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago blanked sagging Oakland 2-0 on Gary Peters' two hitter, Minnesota edged Kansas City 6-5, Boston whipped Detroit 7-2 and California stopped Seattle 5-1. New York and Baltimore were not scheduled.

Cox, who turned 28 last week, had been bouncing back and forth between the minors and the Senators since 1966 before this season. During that span, he managed to get into 124 games—all in relief—in the majors, but had only a mediocre 11-10 record and a 3.25 ERA.

But this year, the Long Beach, product is one of the reasons the Senators are three games past .500 with a 45-42 record — their highest showing this late in the season in nearly a decade.

Last night's victorw was Cox' sixth in seven decisions, and the 6 2-3 innings of blank work lowered his ERA to a sparkling 1.88.

Cox, who stopped the Indians last week in his only route-going start in the majors, has yielded 18 earned runs in 86 innings, appearing in 32 games.

BASES LOADED

He came in after the Indians loaded the bases with one out against starter Jim Schellenback in the third. Cox got Tony Horton to hit into a force at the plate before Ed Brinkman made a great play on Ken Harrelson's grounder in the hole to force Horton at second.

The only blot on Cox' relief role came in the eighth when pinch-hitter Lou Klimchock reached first after Del Unser dropped his short fly to center. But Klimchock, trying for an extra base on the play, was thrown out at second by Unser.

Howard smashed a two-run homer in the third against the scoreboard in right, then reached dead center with a bases-empty shot in the seventh, his 32nd of the season.

EPSTEIN TOO

Mike Epstein also had a two-run homer for the Senators, his 20th, marking the seventh time this season that both Howard and Epstein have homered in the same game.

Harrelson's second inning homer, his 12th, staked the Indians to an early 2-0 lead before Cox went to work.

Rich Reese's solo homer and a two-run single by pinch hitte Chuck Manuel in the eighth lifted Minnesota from behind and boosted the Twins' West Division lead to three games over the Athletics.

The late rally spoiled a big hitting performance by Jim Rooker, who suffered his sixth straight loss without a victory. Rooker, a former minor league outfielder, slammed a 450-solo homer in the third—his first major league hit—then cracked a two-run homer in the fifth.

SIX HITS

Ray Culp scattered six hits and George Scott had a single and two triples and scored Boston's first three runs in the victory over Detroit.

The crowd of 26,020 at Fenway Park boosted the Red Sox season total to 1,008,313 for 41 dates—the first major league team to reach the million plateau.

Andy Messersmith hurled a four-hitter and singled in one run and Aurelio Rodriguez had a two-run homer in California's triumph.

Janice Brink Wins Opener In Net Tourney

The Brink girls of Mill Valley were out in force at the opening day of play in the seventh annual Belvedere Junior Tennis Tournament at the Belvedere Tennis Club yesterday but only one of the three girls won.

The winner was Janice Brink in girls 12. She downed Cindy Waats, 6-3, 6-3. Karen Brink lost to Debbie Cator in girls 16, 1-6, 6-4, 6-0 in a second round match and Bebbie Brink bowed to Nancy Puente in girls 14, 7-9, 6-2, 6-3.

Anne Bolcom of Belvedere stopped Jan Stiff, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5 in girls 18 play.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Trying For Bass Can Even Bring Out Sharks

I took two trips this past week to check out two areas. One day I went with Mike LaFevre of Santa Venetia and Frank Sue of Corte Madera. We decided to try for sturgeon and stripers out of Buck's Landing.

We fished out by the pumphouse in San Pablo Bay using some ghost shrimp. The first cast I hooked a 16½-pound bass. It was a light colored fish — Joe Mello calls this type a fresh run fish from Petaluma Creek. The fish put up a good fight, and before the day was over, I wished for a few more of the same.

MIKE LATER tied into a sturgeon but after a few minutes, it shook the hook. The tide changed about this time, and from then on, it was one shark after another. With the price of ghost shrimp at 25 cents each, this turned out to be a losing proposition. We used all the bait up catching these predators, so we had to go in.

The other trip I took was with Enos Foster and Bob Wilson, both from Woodacre. In setting this up, I had called Wilson to see what time we would leave, and he suggested 4:30 a.m. When I told Enos this he said, "He's goofy." Anyway, we went, and the area was between the Golden Gate Bridge and Point Bonita. We were going to try for stripers and rockfish. We were there at 6 a.m. and watched the salmon party boats just leaving too. It was a little rough but fishable.

WE PASSED DIABLO Point and fishing from the rocks near there were eight fishermen. They had hiked down from the top of the ridge. With rods, gaffs, jigs, and all the other gear, each angler carried quite a load. It's a dangerous hike, and equallyl dangerous with the large swells suddenly climbing those rocky points right up to the anglers' feet at times.

We saw them hook and land two stripers using a 10-foot gaff. We tried it there for awhile but nothing hit. We didn't get too close to the shore casters as they take their resentment out on boats too close by casting their lead jigs at you! It's live and let live out there. We went out to Point Bonita then, but didn't connect. We were using Hopkins Lures, and mostly jigging.

WE FOOLED around the general locale, and finally Wilson hooked a good bass which he landed. I had told him of Enos' remark about being goofy, and it was odd to hear Bob, while playing his fish say, "So I'm goofy huh? I'll show them!" Of course we all howled, and it made the day. He caught a couple of lingcod too, and lost two other bass.

In the meantime, a party boat came by, and started trolling. That "So and So" caught 10 stripers in the next two hours, all pretty big. Of course we switched to trolling too, but no hits. We got close enough to see what they were using, and we duplicated their gear, but still no hits. To say the least, we were bugged through all this. I don't know what the answer was but we're going back and try some more things that we've thought of since.

AS THE outgoing tide came to the end, we watched those eight mountain climbers make that long hike up those cliffs with many a rest along the way. I wonder what they do when they really have a good day with sixty or so pounds of fish to carry.

Buck hunters when they get a buck that's in a bad spot, sometimes say, "If you can't carry it, bury it! "But those fishermen couldn't even find a spot to do that in those rugged rocks! I wouldn't go down there for a 50 pounder — I'd never get it back up!

Sohner Shares Crown

Sohner Tree Service softballers of San Anselmo successfully accomplished their first mission this week when they swept a doubleheader last night to finish the Petaluma "A" League with a 10-2 mark and a share of the title with the Sebastopol Merchants.

The Treemen begin their second mission tonight when they face Good Spot of Santa Rosa in the first of a series of playoff games in the Santa Rosa "A" League.

Chuck Tyson, Nolan Wilson and Denny Coleman were the heroes last night as Sohner grabbed a 1-0 victory over Rose Bowl in the opener and a 15-3 triumph over the Santa Rosa Merchants in the nightcap.

In pitching his second consecutive shutout and sixth win against one setback in the Petaluma League, Tyson tossed a three-hitter and struck out 12 batters.

Coleman's fifth inning double scored John Brookman with the game's lone run.

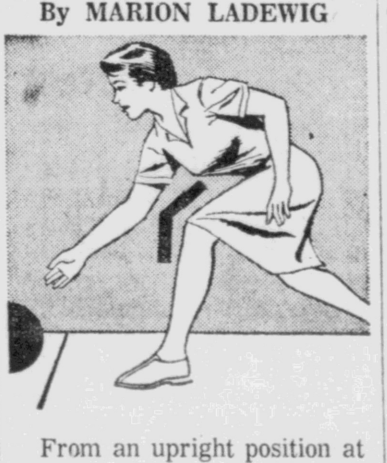
Wilson had two hits in the opener and then added a 4 x 4 performance in the nightcap to pace an 18-hit Sohner attack.

Coleman socked a two-run homer and a two-run triple while Wilson had three singles and a three-run homer.

Herb Dower scattered six hits to gain the second game victory.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



From an upright position at release, you will probably throw the ball out too far, which takes spin and subsequent action at the pins. At release, bend the left knee as illustrated. This smooths the delivery and puts the bowler in good position to pitch the ball out only six inches or so past the foul line.

Blind Shot Golf In British Open

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Two top American professionals sized up the 1969 British Open Golf championship today as a mighty important prize which will go to the man who gets away with blind shots.

"There are a lot of blind shots on this course," said Miller Barber of Sherman, Tex. "I don't like them but you must play the course you are on."

GLASSES

Barber, ex-Air Force officer who played golf with Dwight D. Eisenhower, wears glasses which haven't failed him in winning $76,000 this year on the American circuit, but he added: "They don't help me when I want to see where my shot should be going and I don't see it."

Gardner Dickinson, 133-pound bounch of whipcord from Palm Beach, Fla., echoed the thought and he quoted Ben Hogan with whom he often has been compared.

"Ben said once, 'just give me the assignment, whatever the course, and I'll try to meet it, but I've got to be able to see it.' "

A couple of bulldozers on perhaps three or four important holes of Lytham's 6,848-yard, par 71 seaside links would eliminate the "blind" shots, Barber said. Dickinson added: "We could do that and still make this a really tough course."

Barber and Dickinson are rated in the medium bracket in the betting for the 109-year old crown, while Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Bill Casper share 6-1 favorite positions.

But either could win. So could Lee Trevino of Dallas, Tex., the 1968 U.S. Open champion who said: "The champion here is the man who hits from the tee and putts well."

So could the current American Open champ, Orville Moody, who now lives in Texas after 14 years as an Army sergeant.

MY KIND

Said Moody: "This is my sort of a course. I've been playing under par here in practice even though I've had hay fever. I find the greens easy to read because they are not undulating. I really fear Player, Casper and Trevino but I think I have a good chance."

The 13 Americans in the field of 130 clearly dominated the guesswork involved in picking the winner of the 72-hole, four-day joust which opens tomorrow morning.

Player, of South Africa, is the defending champion after his triumph at Carnoustie last year.

CHAMPS GOLF

Harnquist Gets New Chance In Tourney

(Second in a series on entrants in Sunday's Marin County Golf Tournament of Champions.)

For the second year in a row, Ken Harnquist will take a shot at the Marin Golf Tournament of Champions, this time at Meadow Club in Fairfax Sunday, but this time as a champion.

Harnquist was San Geronimo National Golf Club's representative last year as runner-up to the 1968 champion Les Sherman. This year, he is the club champion, once again hobbled by very little playing time.

The 39-year-old data processing consultant admits he hasn't been able to play much since he won the club crown way back in September.

"I go in spurts," he said. "I haven't practiced much lately, but I guess I'll have to get out and do it."

Harnquist holds a five handicap and disparages his game as being erratic. He's only played Meadow Club once, two years ago in a Marin County Businessmen's tourney.

"I thought then the course wasn't particularly difficult," he said. "I suppose the ninth and seventh holes are good holes, long and difficult."

A transplant to Marin County by way of Rockford, Ill., Los Angeles and the peninsula, Harnquist is married and has four children.

"I really don't have any strong points as a golfer right now," he said. "My putting, driving, they're all very erratic."

He figures it will take a good putter to win the tournament.

"Anybody who can keep the ball out of trouble has a good crack at it," he said.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Detective Walks Out, But Fails To Detect The Crime

"We must leave at once, Watson," Sherlock Holmes snapped after the play of the hand shown today. "Billy Wilder is making a movie about us, and he'd consider us palookas if we let this kind of crime pass unpunished." Dr. Watson left the Baker Street Bridge Club with his friend, but his bewildered look made it obvious that he hadn't detected the crime.

KING TAKES

East won the first trick with the king of spades and returned a spade to dummy's ace. Declarer led a club, forcing out West's king. West returned a heart, but South won and knocked out the ace of clubs.

East led another spade to the queen, but declarer had the rest of the tricks. He took three clubs, three hearts, two spades and two diamonds, losing only two clubs and one spade.

Have you spotted the crime? If not, stay out of Billy Wilder's way. See if you can detect what annoyed Sherlock Holmes before you read on.

OBVIOUS SITUATION

West's opening lead of the eight of spades was obviously his highest card in his partner's suit. This meant that South surely held the Q-10-9 of spades and might also hold the missing four of spades.

East's best chance to defeat the contract was to refuse the first trick, allowing South to win with the nine. South would have to begin on the clubs, whereupon West would take the king of clubs and lead his remaining spade.

TOUGH SITUATION

Dummy's ace would win, but the rest of East's spades would be good. East would get in with the ace of clubs in time to cash his spades, defeating the contract. Holmes could then have stayed on at the Baker Street Bridge Club, but I'd have had to look elsewhere for my column today.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your right, opens with 1 no-trump (16 to 18 points). You are next, holding:

♠ K J 7 6 3 2
♥ 7 6 3
♦ 9 5
♣ A 7.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

This hand is worth an overcall at the level of one, but not at the level of two — especially after an opening bid of 1 no-trump. You are most unlikely to make a game, and you may be severely penalized even at a mere part-score contract.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, July 8, the 189th day of 1969 with 176 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1835 the liberty bell in Philadelphia cracked while being rung during the funeral of Chief Justice John Marshall of the Supreme Court.

In 1950 Gen. Douglas MacArthur was appointed United Nations commander in Korea.

In 1967 actress Vivien Leigh died in London at the age of 53.

A thought for the day: John Burroughs said: "Life is a struggle but not a warfare."

Egypt Experiments With Cotton Crops

CAIRO (AP) — In an effort to boost cotton production and industry, the country's main source of foreign currency, Egypt will produce three new breeds of cotton.

Cotton breeding experts declare experiments on these types of cotton show they will increase productive quantity, yield earlier, and cotton fiber will be longer and stronger.

The minister of agriculture, Sayed Merey, declared that these new types of cotton, which will be planted next year, will further increase Egypt's long-staple reputation.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Flexible Dearborn Is Worth Keeping

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Should I sell Dearborn Computer bought at 57 and take a loss? — B. D.

A. Shares moved up 4 points recently on an announcement of a 25 per cent interest in an oil production-sharing agreement in South Celebes in the Indonesian Archipelago. Earlier acquisitions in offshore drilling, marine service and seismic survey work have put Dearborn squarely in the middle of another important growth field.

Last year (fiscal year ended Oct. 31) marine work accounted for 20 per cent of profits. In the current year this ratio is expected to shift and should approach 50 per cent.

In spite of the current market disenchantment with computer-leasing issues, Dearborn has been successful in producing a rising profit pattern from this business. Equipment currently under lease has a value of $68.99 million, the bulk of which was purchased in 1968. A more selective buying policy has evolved this year and only $2.4 million was spent on new systems in the first quarter. As of March, Dearborn had earned back in rentals 59 per cents of the purchase price of the quipment.

Leases vary from two to five years but remain in force after the expiration of the initial term on a month-to-month basis. The average term of these contracts — 33 months — is but half the length of time Dearborn estimates is necessary to recoup the original purchase price.

First-half results for the fiscal period ending April 30 made excellent reading. Total revenues, including the Muchowich acquisition, were $13.6 million compared with $2.5 million in the previous year. Per share net rose from $0.45 to $1.49 year-to-year.

While Dearborn Computer and Marine is not suitable for most investors, for those able to assume the risk it could prove rewarding. In your case I would hold it.

Postpone Jets

UTICA, N.Y. (UPI) — Mohawk Airlines has postponed indefinitely the tentatively announced acquisition of three new Boeing 727-200 airliners in order to take advantage of short term leasing arrangements for a number of aircraft that have become available. The company said the rise in the prime bank interest rate of 8.5 per cent was an additional reason for postponing the purchase.

$30 Million Plan

NEW YORK (UPI) — City Investing Co. said it will join financier Gerald Chazan in sponsoring 10 real estate developments in greater Los Angeles with a total value of about $30 million. The projects include six high rise office buildings, a shopping center, a medical center and a 700-unit apartment layout.

Mideast War Clouds Shadow N.Y. Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices fell sharply in moderate trading today on the New York Stock Exchange, reflecting an accumulation of unfavorable news.

Blamed for the decline, the second in as many days, were several developments including the tense Middle East situation, described by U.N. Secretary General Thant as "open warfare."

There also was uncertainty over just what the Nixon administration would do in the face of high interest rates.

Bargain hunters moved in on Natomas, which dropped 6⅛ yesterday. Late buying today sent the issue up. Reading & Bates, another drilling firm, also rose among the oils. Most other oil issues were down.

St. Regis led the decline in paper products. International Paper, Crown Zellerbach and Kimberly Clark also declined.

IBM led the decline in electronics. General Electric, Westinghouse, Motorola and Zenith also were losers of more than a point.

Steels, autos and chemicals were fractionally lower. Dow among the chemicals and Ford among the motors were exceptions to the downward trend.

New Mobile Home Park Set In Southern Sonoma County

What may turn out to be one of the largest mobile home parks to go into construction this year in Southern Sonoma County is Youngstown Mobile Home Park, planned for Petaluma between Highway 101 and McDowell Avenue, south of Sonoma Joe's.

This involves a total of 68 acres owned by the four Young brothers, who are principals in the home furnishings business under their name. First phase calls for 236 units on 35 acres — but the Youngs may build only 130 at the start and the rest in the spring — depending on the weather this fall and winter. One hundred calendar days between groundbreaking and completion is now estimated.

An 8,500-square foot recreation building is planned, with pools, sauna baths, putting green and other activities. Landscape architect Sidney Lewin of San Rafael estimates that the landscaping may go as high as $250,000. Lieb and Quaresma of Petaluma is the general architectural firm in this. A contractor has not yet been selected.

A NEW SUBDIVISION of 13 homes is now under construction by contractor Dick York at Lincoln and Buchanan Drives in Sausalito.

Homes are on individual lots, constructed after the fashion of Sea Ranch homes in Sonoma County, have two bedrooms, one or two baths and marine views. A model home is now being shown at 10 Lincoln Drive. Frank Howard Allen and Co. is the exclusive agent.

MARIN COUNTY automobile sales reached more than $62 million during 1968 — an increase of 23 per cent from 1967. Of the 1968 total, $47.1 million was in sales of new autmobiles.

As a result, this county surged into the foreground of Bay Area statistics, placing first in percentage of new cars registered to households (13.6 per cent) and second only to Santa Clara County in percentage gain in private passenger car registrations (Marin 37.2, Santa Clara 51.9 per cent.)

MONTGOMERY WARD is introducing a new revolving charge program which combines its four major credit plans into two simplified arrangements.

New Wards catalog has two mail order items which Corte Madera store manager D. W. Gillis guarantees will be delivered personally by an executive of the corporation — a $4,000 two-carat diamond ring and a $3.900 mink coat.

ELLIS E. CONKLIN of Novato has joined the California Medical Association, San Francisco as chief accountant. He has been 20 years in accounting in New York City, the Marshall Islands and California. Most recently he has been doing insurance accounting.

JOHN MARSHALL SAWYER of San Rafael has joined the local office of Dean Witter and CO as an account executive. He has served as an officer with the U.S. Army and as an advisor to the South Vietnamese Army. He is accredited by the New York Stock Exchange.

CHARLES R. SCHWAB of San Rafael has been named president of the locally-based Investment Indicators Fund. Other new appointments are Robert K. Birkie as vice president and Marjorie A. Wegner as treasurer.

LARRY GHILOTTI of San Rafael has been promoted to manager of the Bourbon Shop in the Montecito Shopping Center. He has been with the Bourbon Shops since last September and before that was manager of the Morning Glory Rock Band.

CORRECTING AT ITEM in this column of July 2 — Kenneth Proctor is president of the Marin County Independent Insurance Agents Association. Willis Elliott is vice president.

SAN ANSELMO real estate broker Cole Jackman attended a recent meeting of the Real Estate Certificate Institute at Lake Tahoe. He is a vice president of the institute.

Freeway Job To Shut Francisco Connection

The Rice Road connection from the southbound Highway 101 on-ramp to the West Francisco Boulevard commercial area in San Rafael will be closed permanently in about two weeks, according to Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles.

Rawles told the San Rafael City Council last night he had notice from Murphy Pacific Enterprises, contractors working on the new Highway 101 viaduct, that the connection would be closed "on or about" July 21.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini stressed that access was important to businesses along West Francisco Boulevard, and the city should move to acquire land from Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. to provide one.

Councilmen agreed to apply to the Public Utility Commission for the right to use railroad property for access.

Murphy Pacific Enterprises also reported that a detour on-ramp will be put in operation about July 28 at Second Street and the existing on-ramp.

Councilmen also set a public hearing at 8 p.m. July 21 on a traffic plan for the central business districe compiled by D. Jackson Faustman, Sacramento traffic consultant.

Bettini pointed out that the plan, which calls for making Fourth Street one-way eastbound and Fifth Avenue one-way westbound and other major changes, should have a full hearing.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

ROAD MATERIALS — Postponed until July 21 awarding contracts for road materials, with Basalt, Hutchinson, Camgros, McPhail's and Shamrock Materials as low bidders on various materials.

DEMOLITION — Postponed until Monday awarding a contract for demolition of the former Dexter Rambler building at Fourth and Ida streets. West Coast Demolition Co. of Oakland was lowest of six bidders at $4.988.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS — Postponed until July 21 awarding of a contract to install traffic signals at Fifth Avenue and C and E streets, Fourth and C streets and Third and Lindaro streets. Steiny and Mitchel Inc. of San Francisco was lowest of five bidders at $33,959.

PROPERTY SALE — Approved four resolutions completing sale of corporation yard property along Francisco Boulevard to Lincoln Bay Mercury Inc. and clearing the title to the land.

CROSSWALK — Denied a request by Thomas Svanoe of 15 Sao Augustine Way for a crosswalk at Nova Albion and Sao Augustine by a 3-1 vote with Councilman Harry A. Barbier dissenting.

HIRING — Authorized the hiring of Clifford R. Den-Otter as associate civil engineer at $1,041 a month and Donald C. Myers Jr. as police cadet at $390 a month.

POLITICAL SIGNS — Complained about candidates' signs from the April municipal election not being removed, and advised the city staff to tell violators the signs must be taken down.

SENIOR PROGRAM — Approved a joint agreement with Marin County whereby the county will contribute $4,000 during 1969-70 toward the city's senior citizen recreation program. With notice that the county might discontinue the contribution after 1969-70, Mayor Bettini said he hoped the county wouldn't withdraw from the program since San Rafael "has the only active senior citizen program in Marin."

ENCROACHMENT — Granted Ham Construction Co. an encroachment permit to construct concrete footing to support a wooden driveway ramp in city road right-of-way at 111 Windsor Avenue.

JOB EXTENSION — Gave Bobo Construction Co. a three-week extension until July 31 to complete extension of Montecillo Road and development of a park site near Don Timoteo School.

CLAIM DENIED — Denied a claim by Helvon Inc. of Oakland for $2,427 damages to a truck in the 1200 block of Lincoln Avenue Jan. 20, 1969, when it crashed into a tree. The claimant contended an overhanging limb from a city tree caused the driver to crash.

SEWER BONDS — Received from Dan Coleman and Associates a $1.7 million plan for upgrading the city sewage system, referred it to Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles and City Engineer Ely Caillouette for their recommendations and agreed to discuss on July 21 whether such improvements should be financed by a bond measure. Also agreed to discuss priorities for major city projects and where among them sewerage upgrading ranked.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who was ill was absent.

Lynch Files Suit Against Business For False Ads

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch filed a $250,000 damage suit yesterday against a Jet-A-Way Industries, Inc., a firm that sells detergents.

The Superior Court suit said the firm is "executing a scheme to sell business opportunities in the form of distributors."

"Investors are lured to these (public) meetings by advertisements (but) no mention is made of the fact that investment is required, that inventory will be sold in substantial amounts to the investors who will become independent distributors and that no employee-employer relationship will be created," the suit said.

Suggestions that salaries or commissions of $25,000 a year can be made are false, the suit continued, because the firm has not been in business for a year. It also said that no sales of that size have been made to the public.

Panama Judge Held In Office Shoot-Out

PANAMA (AP) — Superior Court Judge Jorge Morenos Davis was arrested today and charged with wounding Atty. Gen. Olmedo Miranda and Chief Justice Ramon Palacios Parilla during a shooting spree in Miranda's office.

Eyewitnesses told police Moreno Davis had an argument with Miranda and Palacios over appointment of judges to lower courts, suddenly pulled out a .32-caliber revolver and fired four shots. Neither of the two victims was wounded seriously, police said.

Corporation Yard Move Is Decided

San Rafael City Council decided last night to relocate its corporation yard at a city-owned lot off Lincoln Avenue, south of Second Street, where commuters and Greyhound buses park.

Architect Robert W. F. Severin, who recommended the site, estimated the cost of establishing a new corporation yard there would be $122,550.

More than half of the present corporation yard along Francisco Boulevard has been sold to two automobile dealers and must be vacated by Jan. 2, 1970.

Councilmen also authorized the city staff to give Greyhound Bus Lines 90-day notice that its lease for use of the site was canceled.

Severin said under his proposed development only 10 commuter parking spaces would be lost, and 37,000 square feet would be used for the corporation yard.

Ruled out was use of the unsold part of the city's present corporation yard, which Severin said wouldn't provide room for expansion. The Lincoln Avenue site would provide space for expansion and a permanent installation, he reported.

Councilmen voted 4-0 to proceed toward a yard at the site and authorized Severin to draw up preliminary plans.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who was ill, was absent.

Pat Nixon Hosts Children's Cruise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pat Nixon took two dozen capital school children on a Potomac River cruise yesterday aboard the Navy yacht Sequoia, normally used for outings by the President and high level guests.

"I thought it could be put to better use," Mrs. Nixon said. adding that the trip was the first of 14 planned for the next two months. The Nixon daughters, Julie Eisenhower and Tricia, will take turns acting as hostesses.

Children on yesterday's two-hour cruise ranged in age from 9 to 12. they were entertained by a combo of Marine musicians and Michael Harris, a folk singer.

Postage rates have not always been increased. In 1883 Congress reduced the rate from three to two cents per half ounce.

Mayor's Pay Hiked 50 Pct. By Council

San Rafael City Council last night boosted Mayor C. Paul Bettini's salary from $200 to $300 a month.

The pay raise was prompted by fellow councilmen, with Councilman Harry A. Barbier saying the may should get more pay than councilmen, who get $200 a month, and Councilman Frederick C. Robbins saying: "I think Paul does a lot of work we don't do."

Barbier said in the past there was a spread between the salaries of the mayor and the councilmen.

Bettini joined in voting for the raise with the comment: "I have never abstained in public life and I don't want to ruin my record."

The vote was 4-0 with Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who was ill, absent.

Councilmen postponed granting pay raises to department heads after some debate about maintaining a spread between a department head's salary and that of the next highest paid employee in his department.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen had proposed the following monthly salaries: city manager, $2,000, up 11.6 per cent; public works director, $1,525, up 7.2 per cent; planning director, $1,400, up 12.7 per cent; fire chief, $1,400, up 7.36 per cent; city engineer, $1,350, up 13.28 per cent; chief building inspector, $1,300, up 15.1 per cent; finance director, $1,300, up 20.9 per cent; recreation director, $1,200, up 15.6 per cent; and librarian, $1,000, up 9.4 per cent.

Since Andersen was absent, the council postponed discussion until he could be present.

Last month the council granted most employees a 10 per cent increase, and adjusted 17 job classifications with hikes ranging up to 17 per cent.

Without discussion the council adopted a tentative budget of $3,728,701 for 1969-70, not including capital improvements, and carrying no change in the city's present tax rate of 86 cents per $100 valuation.

Councilmen previously held budget discussions on salary, and last night scheduled three more budget study sessions, next Monday, July 17 and 24, all at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

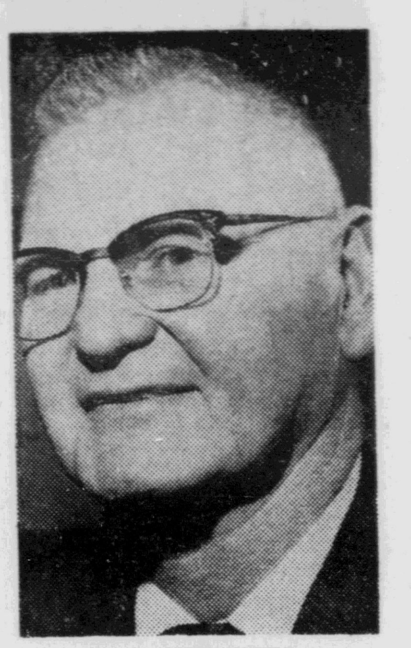
W. C. Cornwell To Retire From San Rafael Clerk Job



W. C. CORNWELL
Retiring clerk

San Rafael City Clerk W. C. Cornwell last night submitted his resignation to the San Rafael City Council effective Sept. 1.

"I have made the decision to retire, having passed the age of 65." Cornwell said.

Cornwell joined the city as a deputy clerk in 1953, was appointed clerk in January, 1965, and elected to a four year term in April, 1967.

Councilmen accepted the resignation with regret, and Cornwell was given standing applause from councilmen and an audience of about 35 persons at city hall for his work for the city.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said the council will now have to appoint a successor to Cornwell to serve until the next municipal election.

The city clerk is an elected official; and a proposed charter amendment to make him appointive failed at the polls last April.

Before working for the city, Cornwell had worked since 1924 as a surveyor for various engineering firms in Marin County.

THE PENNEY STORY

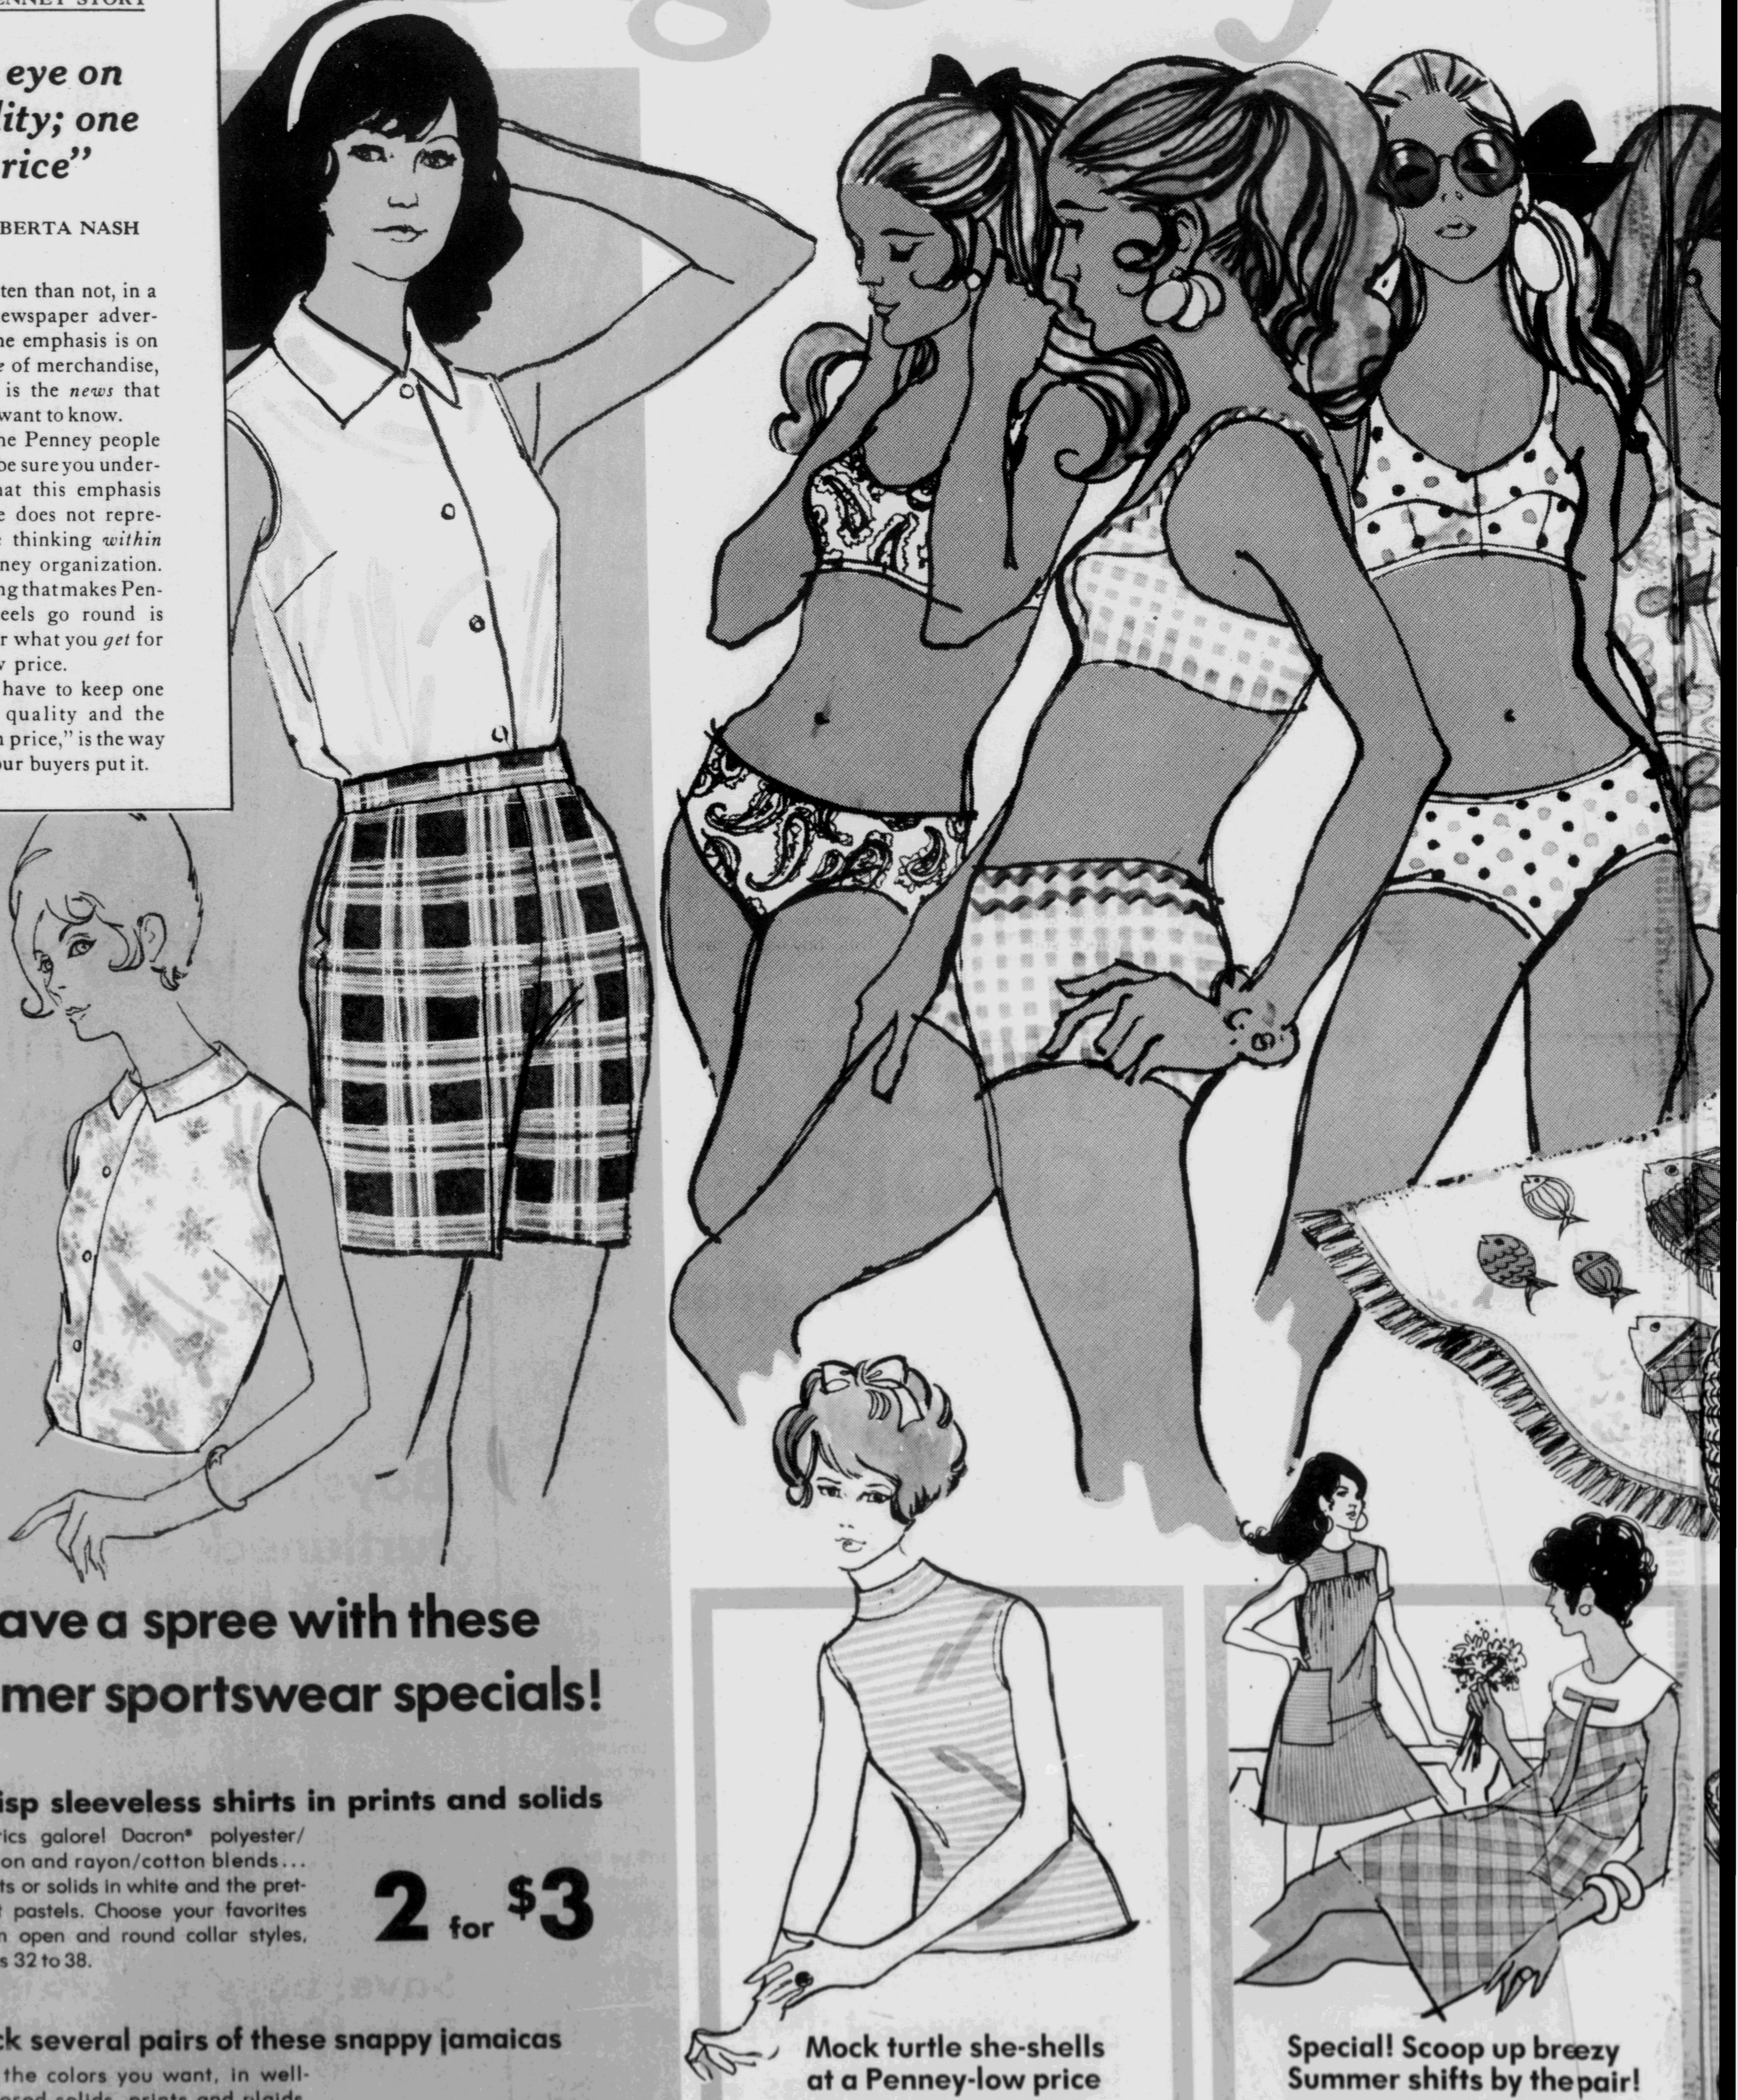
"One eye on quality; one on price"

By ROBERTA NASH

More often than not, in a store's newspaper advertising, the emphasis is on the price of merchandise, for this is the news that readers want to know.

But the Penney people want to be sure you understand that this emphasis on price does not represent the thinking within the Penney organization. The thing that makes Penney wheels go round is value, or what you get for that low price.

"We have to keep one eye on quality and the other on price," is the way one of our buyers put it.



Have a spree with these Summer sportswear specials!

$150,000 BLAZE — San Rafael firemen battle the fire which destroyed the San Rafael Tire and Brake Co. this morning Damage to the building was estimated by Fire Chief Vance Trivett at $100,000. A fire truck, worth $50,000, was also destroyed by the fire which sent a huge column of black smoke drifting over a large section of the city but caused no injuries to firemen or plant workers. (More photos page 9).

$150,000 Blaze Destroys Firm, Cars, Fire Truck

A $150,000 fire that sent clouds of thick black smoke billowing hundreds of feet into the air this morning completely destroyed a San Rafael firm and endangered the lives of several San Rafael firemen.

The fire, which was brought under control about an hour after it started at 9:46 a.m., destroyed the Brodie and Schwerin San Rafael Tire and Brake Co. at 666 Irwin Street.

Also destroyed were a $50,000 San Rafael Fire Department pumper and four automobiles belonging to customers of the firm.

Fire Chief Vance Trivett said the fire — which he termed "the worst in San Rafael in two or or three years" — endangered several of his men shortly after the pumper truck pulled up to the north side of the one-and-a-half-story stucco and wood frame building.

"They had to leap for their lives when a wall of flame shot out from the rear portion of the building," Trivett said. The truck, with engine still running while it was blazing, was completely ruined. Firemen used it as a shield from the fire roaring out of the building, Trivett said.

NO INJURIES

No injuries were reported.

Lytton Schwerin, a co-owner of the tire and brake firm with Arthur Brodie, said the fire started in the rear of the build*ing in the firm's tire recapping area. He said one of the 12 employees in the building felt heat and when he turned around an* electrical box exploded.

Muffled explosions, presumably from volatile solvents used in the business, could be heard during the early stages of the fire which attracted a crowd of about 500 spectators.

Police had to move spectators back when the fire moved toward a gas pump near the building. The pump, however, was not ignited.

The fire also sent a pall of black smoke over Highway 101 but authorities indicated that traffic was slowed only slightly. Clouds of the vision - obstructing smoke , which was seen for miles, also drifted over much of the Bret Harte area of San Rafael.

Schwerin estimated the loss of the firm's stock in the building at $50,000, while Trivett put the loss of stock and building at $100,000.

OTHERS THREATENED

Several neighboring buildings also were threatened by the blaze, although none of them caught fire. Some smoke damage to Greg Arts at 658 Irwin Street was reported and for a time, the Bergman Manufacturing Co. at 632 Irwin seemed in danger.

Paul Debes of Astro Foods, located at 647 Irwin, said he was leaving the grocery store when he spotted whiffs of smoke from the building. He timed the fire, he said, and it took only seven minutes for the fire to break through the roof and walls.

William Everest, co-owner of Marin Lights at 650 Irwin, another neighbor of the destroyed firm, said he first saw "just a little black smoke" and moments later the entire building was in flames.

The tire and brake firm had been located at the Irwin street address for nine years.

San Rafael fire officials asked mutual aid from the Kentfield Fire Department, which stood by at Station No. 1, but the neighboring force was not needed.

Israel Claims Downing 7 Syrian MIGs

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets shot down seven Syrian MIG fighters over the occupied Golan Heights today, a military spokesman said.

An Israeli army announcement said the MIGs were intercepted by Israeli aircraft and a 30-minute dogfight took place at altitudes ranging from 10,000 to 20,000 feet.

Damascus radio said Syrian planes intercepted the Israeli planes over Syrian territory and forced them to flee. It said nothing about any Syrian plane losses.

*The MIGs crossed into Israe*li-held territory near Queneitra in the highlands taken from Syria by the Israelis in the 1967 war, Israel spokesman said.

It was the biggest single score claimed by Israeli pilots since the six-day war.

The Israelis downed their last Syrian MIG May 29.

Since then there has been little air activity on the Syrian-Israeli cease-fire line.

But in air battles with the Egyptians the Israelis claim to have chalked up a total of 27 Soviet-built MIGs shot down since 1967.

Israeli troops killed 18 Arab infiltrators in a series of gun battles on two fronts last night, the army announced. It denied Egyptian claims that the Israelis suffered "heavy casualties."

Soldiers at the Suez Canal drove off an Egyptian commando raid north of Timsa Lake, opposite Ismailia, killing nine Arabs, an Israeli spokesman said. He added that nine Arab

Last County Radio Techs Quit In Blast

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

The future of Marin County's emergency communications network was in doubt today as a long simmering battle in the communications department climaxed with the resignations of the county's two remaining radio maintenance technicians, the Independent-Journal learned.

There were conflicting claims about the effect of the resignations, ranging from the contention by communications director John H. Atkinson that there would be "a slight inconvenience" to a claim by one of the quitting technicians that the emergency network would go "practically off the air."

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the Marin County Employees Association said there have been complaints that the resigning employees have been harassed into quitting by Atkinson, who last month unsuccessfully tried to convince the board of supervisors to turn the county system over to a private firm.

The network handles emergency calls for ambulance, police, fire and health agencies throughout the county. It services about 500 mobile units and 60 base stations.

The latest two resignations, it was learned, were by Robert Perry and chief techinicans Francis Strohmeyer and are effective Friday. The county's other two technicians, Norman Taylor and Oscar Graham, quit two months ago because, as one of the technicians put it, "they could see the handwriting on the wall."

Atkinson said today that the fact that the county system now has no qualified maintenance technicians "doesn't really mean anything," adding: "This will cause a slight inconvenience in some installations until we reorganize."

He said his department is actively recruiting replacements

Trustee Panel Backs Stiff Suspension Rule

COMBINED AP & UPI

LOS ANGELES — A California state college trustee committee today approved a new set of rules giving campus presidents the authority in some cases to suspend students before the students receive a hearing.

The new rule would apply only during a "state of campus emergency" declared by the college president.

The provisions, which will be discussed again tomorrow, are similar to rules already set by the University of California Board of Regents.

The trustees' educational policy committee voted unanimously for the new rule. It permits presidents to place students on suspension pending a hearing. An opportunity for an hearing would have to be offered within one week of the suspension.

Steve Lieurance, representing campus student presidents, said his group wasn't sure what conditions would lead to a state of emergency.

He said he felt there should be some consultation by college presidents with faculty and student leaders before an emergency is declared.

College officials said presidents already have the authority to declare states of emergency and the rules merely clarify the procedure. Chancellor

Overthrow Of McCarthy By 'Turks'

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Senate Republicans voted today to oust two "Old Guard" GOP members of the powerful rules committee and replace them with "young Turk" supporters of Senate President Pro Tem Howard Way.

At closed caucus, Republicans chose Sens. Clair W. Burgener, San Diego, and Robert S. Stevens, Los Angeles, to succeed Sens. John F. McCarthy, San Rafael, and Jack Schrade, San Diego, on the five-man committee.

However, the change must be ratified by the full Senate. And the "Old Guard" this afternoon was expected to wage a last-ditch effort to block Way's further takeover of the Senate.

Both Burgener and Stevens were chief backers of Way in his successful drive to unseat former Senate President Pro Tempore Hugh M. Burns in May.

Way has been trying since his ouster of Burns to install Burgener and Stevens on the

Belvedere Approves Budget Of $387,569

The Belvedere City Council last night adopted a $387,569 budget for fiscal 1969-70, and predicted no change in the past fiscal year's tax rate of $1.73 per $100 assessed valuation.

(Other Belvedere City Council stories, page 30.)

The new budget is down $35,536 from last year, largely because street and fire main projects were completed last year, City Mgr. William L. Cavalli said.

The property tax rate will not be sent until next month, and is not expected to change because the assessed value of property in the city has increased, but the net result will be an increase in homeowners' taxes.

The only changes made in the budget proposed by Cavalli were to add $6,900 to underground downtown utilities and $1,500 to promote a public works department employee to foreman.

The total cost of the undergrounding was estimated at $40,594. Sharing the cost will be the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Belvedere Land Co.

Cavalli pushed unsuccessfully for a new position of superintendent of public works for $8,600 a year, but the council made it clear that it expected Cavalli himself to make sure that the department's work is done correctly.

Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel was particularly critical of what he termed "Just plain filthy streets, the city street sweeper was used only three

Nixon Welcomes Emperor Selassie

WASHINGTON (AP) — Emperior Haile Selassie of Ethiopia was welcomed to the White House today as President Richard M. Nixon's first official visitor "from the great continent of Africa."

Selassie, Ethiopia's leader for 53 years, arrived here yesterday but his official welcome was postponed until today when inclement weather delayed his transatlantic flight.

After meeting with Nixon, Selassie will attend a State Department luncheon given in his honor by Secretary William P. Rogers. A black-tie dinner at the White House will conclude his day.

Astromonk Bonny Succumbs After Pacific Splashdown

HONOLULU (UPI) — Bonny the space monkey died today 12 hours after his tiny capsule splashed into the Pacific on the ninth day of a planned month-long mission to determine the physical effects of a long orbital flight.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the 14-pound pigtail monkey died shortly after midnight.

The terse announcement said an extensive autopsy had been started immediately on Bonny, who was launched into orbit June 28 from Cape Kennedy.

He was pulled back from space 21 days early yesterday because of his deteriorating physical condition.

Scientists said he was suffering from a low body temperature, which they blamed on a combination of "low metabolism and a capsule temperature on the low side of the temperature limits." But they said he apparently suffered no injuries in reentry or recovery.

Doctors reported last night the tiny space traveler was "responding favorably" in a specially constructed intensive care unit inside a trailer. But Bonny died a few hours later.

One Charge In Silverthorne's Case Dismissed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A federal judge dismissed one count of misapplication of bank funds yesterday against Don Silverthorne, former president of the now defunct San Francisco National Bank.

Silverthorne, 69, still faces 11 other counts of misapplication of $237,700 in funds arising from the collapse of the bank in 1965.

U.S. Dist. Judge Albert C. Wollenberg dismissed the count charging Silverthorne with illegally diverting $2,500 of the bank's funds into his personal account.

The former banker, a resident of Tiburon, originally was indicted and convicted of the charges in 1966, but his conviction was reversed because of allegedly prejudicial publicity.

Losses to bank depositors eventually totalled about $14 million following the demise of the bank.

Battlegrounds Quiet As First GIs Pull Out

SAIGON (AP) — Twenty-seven minor enemy rocket mortar attacks and no major ground fighting were reported today as the first American troop contingent pulled out of Vietnam.

But the deputy foreign minister of the Viet Cong's provisional revolutionary government warned that the current lull "is only a stage-setter for an offensive more violent and inclusive than any undertaken by the revolutionaries so far."

U.S. and South Vietnamese headquarters said nine of the enemy shellings caused light casualties or damage—three of these at U.S. installations. The American targets were a night camp of the 25th Infantry Division 27 miles northwest of Saigon and two base camps south of the demilitarized zone.

One shelling hit the headquarters of the 9th Marine Regiment at Vandergrift combat base, one of the units to be redeployed within the next few weeks to Okinawa. Spokesmen said about 10 enemy rounds wounded some Marines but didn't kill any.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported a civilian bus ran over a Viet Cong mine on Highway 1 southeast of Da Nang, killing eight passengers and wounding eight.

Le Guang Chanh, the Viet Cong deputy foreign minister, predicted an end of the fighting slowdown in an interview with the Egyptian newspaper Al Gumhurriya on the eve of his departure from Cairo to take up his new post in Vietnam. He has been head of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front mission in Cairo for three years.

"The United States understands no logic but that of power," Chanh said. "Only continued large-scale offensives and victories will force the United States to recognize our status as the true representatives of the South Vietnamese people and strengthen our political position at the negotiating table."

South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu visited the Ben Het Special Forces camp in the central highlands yesterday and told the camp's defenders the enemy abandoned its siege of Ben Het due to heavy losses, Thieu's office reported. Thieu claimed the enemy lost 2,000 men killed compared to government losses of about 200.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency reported today that Viet Cong supporters have set up a People's Revolutionary Committee in Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city and site of a major American military complex. The committee, like several that claim to be operating in other South Vietnamese cities and provinces, is intended to function as a shadow government—ready to take over in the event of a Viet Cong victory.

The 814 men of the 3rd Battalion, 60th Infantry, 9th Division, today became the first unit to withdraw from Vietnam as part of President Nixon's announced pullout of 25,000 U.S. troops this summer.

The battalion will be followed soon by the two remaining battalions of the 9th Division's 2nd Brigade, the division's 1st Brigade and the 9th U.S. Marine Regiment. The cutback also will include 2,000 Army Reserve and National Guard troops who will be returned to the United States and deactivated; 2,000 non-divisional support unit troops; 1,200 Navy personnel and a 400-man Marine tactical fighter squadron.

Saigon Military Chieftain Faces Corruption Charges

SAIGON (AP) — Brig. Nguyen Van Toan, commander of the Second South Vietnamese Infantry Division, has been charged of misusing combat support funds, profiteering and providing government transportation for Da Nang businessmen, a government spokesman announced today.

It was the first time that corruption charges have been filed against a general officer by the government army's recently-organized inspector general's office. It also was the first such charge brought against a ranking official during the 13-month-old administration of Premier Tran Van Huong.

Corruption charges also were brought against six senior officials in Quang Ngai province, which has been under Toan's control. The inspector general's charges will be considered by the cabinet.

Toan was accused of improperly profiting from a revival of the cinnamon trade in Quang Ngai province.

The Toucan bird, found in South America, has a bill actually longer than its head.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Health Policy Due?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says a major statement on medical care can be expected Thursday. The move is considered important enough that Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch has canceled a trip in favor of directing staff work on the legislative program.

Finch met with President Richard M. Nixon yesterday afternoon, then canceled a two-day trip to Boston for conferences and a speech to the World Health Organization.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press secretary, said the President wants to expedite proposals in the field of medical care costs, welfare and higher education before leaving on his 12-day trip to Romania and the Far East.

TAIPEI (AP) — Police said a spontaneous explosion of floating coal dust killed 24 miners and left 53 hospitalized Monday at Juifang, a coal mine village 22 miles west of Taipei. It was the worst mine disaster in Formosa in recent years.

Reds Near Coast

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Canadian surveillance of three Soviet destroyers sailing 200 miles off Nova Scotia ended late yesterday, an armed forces spokesman announced.

He said they had moved out of the area of Canadian responsibility. Pentagon spokesmen in Washington said they didn't know whether the United States would take over surveillance of the southbound destroyers.

The Soviet vessels are believed headed for Cuba.

ATHENS (AP) — An earthquake jolted the southern part of the Ionian Sea and Western Peloponnesus this morning. Police reported no damage or casualties.

The Athens Observatory said the shock was slightly felt on Scorpios, private island of Greek shipping tycoon Aristotle Onassis. Onassis is vacationing there with his wife, the former Jacqueline Kennedy and her two children.

Argentine Ruler Cites 'Agitators'

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Juan Carlos Ongania blames the wave of student and worker unrest which swept Argentina in May and June on foreign "enemies of the country" and says they will be repressed.

"Destruction, fire, terrorism and murder have been caused by a plan perfectly elaborated far away from our borders," Ongania told 2,500 military officers at their annual banquet yesterday. He said foreign subversives plan to install an "athiest and materialist society" in Argentina.

Seven weeks of sporadic demonstrations, strikes and riots have caused 23 deaths and a cabinet reshuffle in Ongania's 3-year-old military regime.

Bagley Plays Middle Man To Halt Tax Reform Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan today found himself in a strange alliance with Assembly Democrats backing his tax reform plan.

Caught in the middle and trying to break the forces apart was Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, chairman of the revenue and taxation committee.

"I'm trying to protect the people from the (tax) package and protect the governor from his own program," Bagley said yesterday.

"I can't understand if Bagley's so interested in helping the governor why he hasn't helped him before," replied Assembly Democratic caucus chairman George N. Zenovich.

Zenovich and Reagan want to place the governor's tax reform program on the 1970 ballot. Bagley doesn't.

"There's no question the Democratic leadership in the Assembly wants this whole package on the ballot in order to use it against the governor next year," Bagley told a newsman.

Amendments to the constitution are necessary to implement portions of Reagan's tax reform program. If the amendments are approved by the Legislature they will require a vote of the people on the November 1970 ballot when Reagan is expected to run for re-election.

"If the governor is sold on it let the Governor take it to the people," Zenovich said.

He said Democrats would help Reagan put the package on the ballot but would not guarantee to urge voter approval.

Other Democratic sources have flatly stated they believe the program is so bad it will hurt Reagan's chances for reelection.

Bagley cited an example.

One of Reagan's constitutional amendments would impose a statewide uniform property tax. Now only local government levies the property tax.

Reagan's statewide property tax immediately would require 501 school districts—about half of those in California—to hold special tax override elections, Bagley said.

The special elections would be necessary because the Reagan constitutional amendment would set a maximum tax rate of $4.60 per $100 assessed valuation, he said. It would take a tax override to raise it higher.

The 501 districts would need a tax rate above the $4.60 to maintain current school service levels, Bagley said.

"If the Democrats continue their diabolical conspiracy to move those measures regardless of merit then the measures stand a fair chance of moving through the Legislature," Bagley said. "Abjectly loyal Republicans will move for anything the governor says is good."

A coalition of Democrats and Republicans is necessary to supply the 54 votes to approve a constitutional amendment in the Assembly.

Assembly Democrats also yesterday unsuccessfully balked at permitting introduction of Legislation designed to ensure California never again will be without a budget.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Lynch Gains On Bill To Block Do-It-Yourself Machineguns

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The drive by Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch to outlaw do-it-yourself machineguns has won the endorsement of the Assembly criminal procedure committee.

The committee yesterday approved and sent to the lower house floor a bill sought by Lynch as part of a gun control package aimed at restricting gun availability. The Attorney General believes both white and black "extremist" organizations are stockpiling weapons throughout California.

The measure by Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, includes in the definition of machinegun any combination of parts designed and intended for use in converting a firearm into a machinegun.

"Kits are now being made and sold that permit an M-1 rifle to be readily converted into a machinegun," Beilenson said. "They are widely advertised."

TICKET RULES

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to ease the frustration of parking violators cleared the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee yesterday.

The committee sent to the lower house floor a measure by Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, requiring that drivers cited for violations of local parking ordinances be given a written notice of the amount of bail.

Beilenson noted many California cities refuse to give a motorist such information unless he appears personally to pay the fine or forfeit the bail.

BILL AMENDED

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A school teacher should not be guilty of a crime for instructing a student in sex education against the orders of a parent, an Assembly committee decided yesterday.

The Assembly Education Committee rewrote a section of a Senate-passed bill by Sen. John G. Schmi, -Tustin, but delayed a final vote until next week.

As the measure passed the Senate, it would have made it a misdemeanor for a teacher or administrator to give sex education instruction to an education instruction to a child exempted by written parental request.

Schmitz agreed the criminal penalities should be removed. The committee amended the bill to require that any teacher violating the law could lose his credentials.

VIEWS TRADED

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Legislators and student body presidents from eight state colleges expressed sympathy for the other's problems yesterday following a two-hours closed door meeting.

"They've got about as many problems as the students have," said Stephen Cooley, president of the Cal State at Los Angeles campus.

Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan said the unannounced meeting with members of the joint committee on higher education was designed to learn student views of curriculum, entrance requirements and special courses such as the educational opportunities program.

HAYAKAWA ROLE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman John L. Burton believes S. I. Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, should not be allowed to continue as acting president at San Francisco State College because it would hurt Hayakawa's political future.

Burton, D-San Francisco, urged the State College Board of Trustees yesterday to appoint a permanent replacement for Hayakawa, who has been mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for governor, U.S. senator or superintendent of public instruction.

"It would be unfair to him to require that he continue as acting president to the detriment of his future political activities," said Burton, president of the California Democratic Council, in a letter to board chairman Daniel Ridder.

Fairfax Still Faces Decision On Salaries

Fairfax finished its preliminary line-by-line budget review last night without substantial changes, but still faces the potentially most expensive decisions.

Those items — salaries and added personnel — will be discussed at a budget session at 8 p.m. Friday at the Fairfax Women's Club.

Also Friday, Councilman Frank J. Egger is expected to present his own budget figures promised earlier in the budget deliberations. Egger claims he will offer figures providing a 10 per cent raise for all employees without a tax increase through a different distribution of the budget dollar.

Last night, the council mulled over the police department budget, granting tentative approval to a new police car and a three-wheeled motorcycle.

The total police department budget as recommended by City Administrator Frances R. Lestanguet if $133,306, up slightly from estimated 1968-69 expenditures of $128,545. Police Chief James R. Orr had requested $158,267, with the major differences in the two budgets a cut in proposed salary increases and the addition of two men.

Orr maintained two more are necessary for services. Currently the Fairfax Police Department is authorized seven men and the chief.

He contended the additions would substantially reduce overtime costs and next year, would eliminate the need for vacation relief.

"I think it's basically wrong" to have policement working so much overtime, said Councilman Robert R. Souza who held out for more men or overtime but not both.

"There are certain bare necessities we have to give the people of this town," Egger maintained. He cited patrolling in the residential hill areas as one service which could be improved.

Mayor Francis J. O'Connell worried that more men would mean more arrests which would mean more time in court and more work. "It'll just keep escalating," he said.

O'Connell asked the council for "any concrete suggestions" and in the silence that followed told Orr. "You're looking at five cowards up here."

The council agreed to continue the item until salaries are discussed in detail.

The rest of the police department budget was covered without significant change although Orr warned the council he may need more for radio maintenance because the men in the county shop are reportedly quitting Friday.

The council had no objection to an engineering budget of $4,000 for contractural services in the only other budget category studied last night.

The Fairfax City Council also:

DOGS — Introduced an ordinance amending an animal control ordinance to conform with county changes.

SHORT STOP — Authorized City Atty. Wallace S. Meyer to negotiate with Short Stop officials on the basis that they are violating the use permit they obtained on representation the market would be open from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. It is currently open 24 hours and neighbors have complained about late night noises.

Bad Check Case In Adult Court

The case of Alice Faye Grinner 20 of Marin City, was not acceptable to Marin Juvenile Court, it was reported yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

A preliminary hearing was set in adult court for Thursday.

She is charged with possession of a check with intent to defraud credit card forgery possessing lost property, possessing marijuana and resisting arrest.

Nixon's Alma Mater Has New President

BOSTON (UPI)—Dr. Harold C. Case, president emeritus of Boston University, has been named acting president of Whittier College, President Richard M. Nixon's alma mater, it was disclosed here today.

Case, who retired in 1967 after 16 years as president of B.U., will succeed Dr. Paul Smith as acting president effective Sept. 1. Smith has been named executive director of the Richard M. Nixon Institute For the Humanities.

Teens Argue Melee Not Closed Yet

Young people interested in airing the "Memorial Day incident" at the Fairfax Pavilion indicated last night they are not giving up easily.

Midway during the Fairfax City Council discussion of the police budget, Michael J. Mulqueeny of Los Ranchitos asked the council if it would be on the next agenda.

Mayor Francis J. O'Connell said the matter would not be discussed until the district attorney's office finishes its investigation.

Mulqueeny promptly reported that investigation is finished and commented, "The district attorney's office is making a total farce of the investigation." He did not elaborate.

The city maintained it had not received word the investigation is complete.

Mulqueeny noted he had filed a grievance with the Marin County Human Rights Commission and Police Chief James R. Orr, target of complaints since the incident which ended with the arrest of one youth, had not appeared for the hearing.

He termed it "pretty sorry" when "you ignore your own system of justice."

Orr explained he had intended to appear but was advised by the city attorney not to while litigation is pending.

"I'm not afraid to face any issue," Orr declared.

Mulqueeny, with a small group of other young people, left when it appeared the council would not promise a place on the agenda. But Mulqueeny warned, "Maybe next time we will come in and talk about it anyway."

After their departure, Councilman Robert R. Souza said if the young people had a complaint, "why didn't they file it with us?"

"It wouldn't do any good," said O'Connell, ending the discussion.

The case stems from a disturbance at a teen-age dance at the pavilion when, witnesses said, Orr struck David Edward Pratt, 17, after a crowd of youths pushed Pratt into Orr. Orr had been summoned to the dance after a crowd had failed to disperse.

Orr said Pratt was belligerent and obscene when asked to move on and kicked several policement when carried to a patrol car.

N.Y. SDS Meet Broken Up By Splinter Faction

NEW YORK (AP) — Rival factions of Students for a Democratic Society clashed in a fist fight during a regional meeting at New York University.

The fist-swinging, chair-throwing melee ensued last night as about 100 followers of the Progressive Labor Party faction tried to enter a closed meeting of 200 members of the Revolutionary Youth Movement.

Police arrived after the fight subsided, and there were no arrests. Two persons were treated for cuts at a hospital and released.

During the recent SDS convention in Chicago, the PL faction was expelled from SDS, with each side denouncing the other as counter-revolutionary.

A spokesman for the RYM said the meeting of city and Long Island members had been called to discuss summer projects, future demonstrations and the split between the factions.

Greyhound Cuts Seven Marin Commute Runs

A Greyhound Bus Lines official today confirmed the company has eliminated seven commuters' runs connecting Marin and San Francisco, but denied the action was the result of bus shortages caused by a one-month strike by machinists.

Buses were eliminated yesterday on one morning and evening run from Mill Valley, Belvedere and Kentfield and two round trip runs from Novato and Landsdale.

Kenneth Satrom, director of agency relations for Greyhound, said the cutbacks "were not unusual at this time of the year."

He said passenger traffic traditionally drops off in the summer as commuters take vacations. However he acknowledged that some commuters might have felt an uncertainty about the bus service because of the prolonged strike and found other means to commute.

The bus company in normal times serves more than 4,000 Marin commuters.

No break was indicated yesterday in the strike by machinists at the company's San Francisco maintenance facility.

Satrom said the company is servicing commute buses. But he refused to elaborate on where or by whom, saying he would not "go into detail" on the matter.

Five of the discontinued buses terminated at the Ferry Building while two went to the Seventh Street Depot.

Eliminated were the 6:35 a.m. bus from Belvedere; the 7:55 a.m. bus from Mill Valley; the 6:51 a.m. bus from the Kentfield Post Office; and the 6:42 and 7:31 a.m. buses from Landsdale and the 7:12 and 7:30 a.m. buses from Novato.

A ticket seller at the Novato depot said commuters received leaflets last Thursday advising them of the cutbacks. He said there was little confusion yesterday or today, noting buses leave Novato every seven to 10 minutes.

However in Mill Valley the situation was different. A reservations clerk said commuters showed up yesterday for the 7:55 a.m. bus, and when it did not arrive had to wait until 8:25 a.m.

The confusion he said was taken in stride.

"The schedules seem to change once a month around here anyway," he said.

Charges Fly As County's Last Radio Technician Quits

and he would ask the supervisors Tuesday to authorize contracting with private local contractors to continue service. A technician from the Marin Municipal Water District will also help out, he said.

The supervisors last month refused, at least for the next year, to grant Atkinson's request to put the whole system into private hands on a contract basis, which he said would save $17,500 a year.

Atkinson's view of the effects of the resignations was challenged by Strohmeyer and J. Mansfield Lewis, former head of the communications department for 27 years before his retirement earlier this year.

Strohmeyer, who had been with the department for five years, said the lack of competent maintenance would mean the emergency system would be "practically off the air . . . with greatly reduced coverage."

Without maintenance, he said, the system would have to fall back on emergency back-up equipment with relatively low power which would be incapable of blanketing the county.

Lewis agreed with Strohmeyer, adding that the two private vendors in Marin — Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Redwood Radio Telephone Corp. — do not have enough manpower to maintain the county system.

Lewis, who said the county had lost "four of the finest technicians in Northern California," had vigorously opposed Atkinson's request to the supervisors, maintaining that it was essential for the county to maintain control of its own system. He also said recruitment of replacements would be difficult because the technicians' "grapevine will spread the word."

Strohmeyer also bitterly attacked Atkinson for harassing the technicians, telling them, among other things that they were "grossly overpaid" and that there would be no further promotions.

"He was not just difficult to get along with, he was impossible to get along with," Strohmeyer said, adding: "We wouldn't work for him for any amount of money."

Saying he would not reconsider his resignation no matter what happened, Stromeyer said the communications department had been "in complete turmoil" since Atkinson took over in January.

Atkinson denied harassment. He said he has never told anyone they were overpaid. As for promotions, he said when his department was reorganized the job of senior radio technician was changed to assistant director of the department which would require more skills, including administrative and long-range planning, than qualified radio technicians have.

He added that he was told that one man almost walked off the job when he sent Strohmeyer a note asking for an accounting of time worked by technicians. "If that's harassment, then I guess it is," he said.

He said he tried yesterday and twice earlier to convince Strohmeyer to stay. "A lot of the trouble, I guess, is changing it from the way it ran for 27 years," he said.

Randall M. Prevo, head of the employees association, said he had received "considerable reports of harassment" of the departing technicians by Atkinson.

He echoed Strohmeyer's claims that the technicians were told there would be no more promotions and added, "There were certain implied promises (of promotion) I thought we had received from Atkinson that didn't come through."

Charging that the technicians were given a "fast shuffle," Prevo said, "The only way to get rid of merit system people is to make life so miserable, they'll leave."

He added that he is conferring with County Administrator Alan Bruce in an effort to resolve the conflict in the department.

BUDGET

days during a recent month, he noted.

Salary items in the new budget, including pay raises for the police force and public works department, were approved last month by the council.

Salaries totaled $130,100 in the new budget.

The budget allocated $1.096 of the 1.75 tax rate to the general fund, up 16 cents from last year. Sanitation would be 18.4 cents (down from 29 cents); parks, 6.9 cents, (now 13 cents); general obligation bonds, 30.3 cents (now 31.4 cents); and retirement funds, 9.8 cents(now 8 cents).

Ferryboat Talks Resume Briefly

Negotiations resumed briefly yesterday between striking members of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association and Harbor Tours, the firm which operates the Tiburon-San Francisco ferry, with each side presenting amended offers.

However, "the gap separating the parties is too far to be bridged at this time," reported federal mediator Jerry Finley.

Finley said the meeting was recessed subject to call — with no more meetings in sight immediately.

The ferryboat captains have been idle since June 5, along with workers of several Bay Area tugboat firms. One boat company involved has settled.

The Harbor Tours strike affects about 200 Marin commuters who used the ferry daily.

Glenn Dumke said he is confident the presidents would use the authority with discretion.

On another front, trustee William O. Weissich of San Rafael said Dumke would announce before the meeting closes tomorrow a decision over a controversial student election at Sonoma State College.

The chancellor is faced with either supporting or reversing a decision by Dr. Ambrose R. Nichols Jr., campus president.

Last month, Nichols upheld a student elections board decision which validated the election of James G. Gillette, Black Student Union leader, as student body president. The student board earlier invalidated elections in which Jon Owens of Novato won the student body presidency.

Weissich said, "Many of the students are still dissatisfied."

A small delegation of Sonoma State students attended today's trustee meeting.

Gillette, 34, told newsmen, "We were duly elected . . . The people raising charges went through due process."

Gillette, from Cotati, admitted that he once was convicted of importing marijuana into the state. "I kind of think I'm a perfect example of the rehabilitative process," he said.

Gillette added that he had an academic average between an A minus and B plus.

Also before trustees is the possible permanent appointment of S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley as president of troubled San Francisco State College.

Action will not probably come until tomorrow afternoon when Gov. Ronald Reagan is on hand for a meeting of the full board.

It is then that Hayakawa, who has won wide public and political praise for his tough stand against campus militants, is expected to be appointed to at least a one-year term as president.

The action would go against the recommendation of the school's presidential selection committee. It is supporting Negro assemblyman Willie Brown, D-San Francisco, for the appointment. Brown supported the long student strike at the school.

BONNY

the Biosatellite III project, scheduled a news conference later today on the failure of the $92 million space experiment. Before blastoff, NASA officials said Bonny would have to stay up at least 15 days for the flight to be a full success. The mission was scheduled to last 30 days.

The decline in the monkey's metabolism, which was partially blamed for his lowering body temperature, began during the first week of the weightless flight in an orbit 225 to 245 miles above the earth.

Wilson said scientists weren't too concerned because monkeys had shown similar responses to isolation on the ground. But after a normal eighth day in space, the monkey stopped drinking water and ignored signals sent from the ground.

NASA officials decided to bring the space capsule down. It splashed into the Pacific yesterday afternoon and was picked up by an Air Force helicopter after an hour in the water. Bonny arrived at the makeshift hospital two and one-half hours after splashdown.

Formosa now produces asparagus and mushrooms on a large commercial scale.

Church Denied In San Anselmo

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night denied Subud California a church, a use permit application for a church at 1405 San Anselmo Avenue, saying the area has inadequate parking, a church would create congestion and it would not be appropriate to the residential neighborhood.

Commissioners approved a use permit for Michael Considine and F. M. Gelardi to serve alcoholic beverages at a restaurant at 60 Red Hill Avenue provided they can supply 16 parking spaces on the site and adjacent lot plus 5 spaces at the nearby Richfield service station on week ends.

The commission determined that an upholstery shop could be maintained in a neighborhood business district as requested by Janko Upholstery at 1501 San Anselmo Avenue.

guerrillas fell in two other clashes in the Jordan Valley.

The Israelis claimed the canal battle resulted in one of the single highest Egyptian death tolls there since the June 1967 war. The army said the Egyptian commandos moved under cover of an artillery barrage against the Israeli camp north of Timsa Lake but were beaten back.

Cairo Radio said the Egyptians hit in company strength, about 120 men, overran the camp, killed 30 Israeli soldiers in a "violent battle" and "ambushed and destroyed two Israeli army command cars and one tank."

It said the commandos returned to base with one dead and five wounded.

In Amman, a Jordanian spokesman claimed an Israeli ammunition dump was destroyed by Jordanian artillery, one vehicle was set afire and one Israeli gun position was destroyed along the Israeli-Jordanian cease-fire line during a 50-minute artillery duel last night.

As the pace of fighting increased, a rift threatened to develop in Israel's ruling Labor party. Supporters of Defense Minister Moshe Dayan met to consider whether the Rafi group of the party should break away and form a new party.

Prime Minister Golda Meir walked out of the meeting after saying such a split would mean "disaster for the nation" at a time when Israel is "again faced by difficult security problems."

A political source said the chances of a split were 50-50 after last night's meeting. Dayan has yet to commit himself, for he has never expressed any desire to unseat Mrs. Meir. But it is known he and Mrs. Meir are strongly divided on crucial political issues.

Dayan must make up his mind by Sept. 25, the deadline for declaring new parties.

HOMER E. MARSTON

OBITUARIES

Dr. Homer Marston, 73, Dies

Funeral for Dr. Homer E. Marston, 73, a general practitioner in San Rafael for 42 years before his retirement three years ago, will be at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Marston, who lived with his wife Janice at 58 Culloden Park Road, San Rafael, died Saturday at his home after a short illness.

A native of Chicago, Marston came to California in 1902 and San Rafael in 1909 with his parents. His father, Dr. Charles B. Marston, opened his San Rafael practice in that year and continued it until 1941.

Marston was graduated from San Rafael High School in 1914 and received his bachelor's degree from Stanford University, where he was the college featherweight boxing champion in 1917.

After graduating from Stanford, Marston entered medical school in San Francisco but was drafted and sent to France in 1918 with the Medical Corps.

After the war, he re-entered Stanford's Medical School and was graduated in 1924. From 1924 to 1926, he was assistant resident physician at San Quentin.

Marston opened his own practice the following year and was located in the Albert Building from the time it opened in 1931 until he retired June 30, 1966.

When he retired, Marston spoke of the changes in medicine during his 42-year career. "It's entirely different now," he said. "In the old days, a general practitioner did almost everything. Now he consults with specialists.

"We did specialize in the early days — diseases of men, women and children; head, trunk and extremities; and diseases of the skin and its contents."

"Yes, my practice in San Rafael was rewarding. There were not many doctors in the county then. I did everything — appendectomies, tonsils, hernias, deliveries and, of course, had many medical cases. I treated oldsters at the Danish Home and my experience taking care of the boys at St. Vincent's was most interesting."

Marston recalled that when he worked as an assistant to Dr. Leo L. Stanley at San Quentin Prison, "the cons soon learned I was good with my mitts, and I was able to take care of some of the toughies when they got out of line."

Besides his wife, Dr. Marston is survived by a son, Homer E. Marston Jr. of San Rafael, a daughter, Mrs. Marilyn Janice Whitney of Los Angeles, and a sister, Mrs. Herbert Ormsby of Palo Alto.

ELLA BORK

Private graveside services for Ella S. Bork of Mill Valley will be held tomorrow at the Woodland Cemetery in Woodland, Sacramento County.

Mrs. Bork died Friday at a local convalescent hospital following a long illness. She was 94.

Born in Missouri, Mrs. Bork had lived in Marin County for 55 years, most recently at 73 Lovell Avenue.

Mrs. Bork and her late husband, David, were the only growers of cut flowers for sale in Mill Valley before any florist shops were established in the town. the couple was also noted for the dahlia gardens they tended on Cascade Avenue.

She was active in the Red Cross, feeding and entertaining servicemen during both world wars, and was also noted for the baked goods she prepared for friends and those who were sick, sometimes walking miles to deliver her gifts.

She is survived by a sister, Cora Bostwick of Turner, Ore.

GEORGIA GUTHRIE

Funeral for Georgia E. Guthrie, 78, of 666 Olive Avenue, Novato, who died Sunday while visiting in Salt Lake City, Utah, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato.

Mrs. Guthrie was visiting a daughter, Isabel Patterson in Salt Lake City when she suffered a fall and died a week after surgery.

A native of Bedford, Iowa, she had lived in Hutchison, Kans. and in Port Huron, Mich., prior to moving to San Francisco 17 years ago. She had lived in San Rafael and Novato for the past six years. She made her home with a daughter, Katherine Brown of Novato. She had worked as an accountant clerk for the Canadian Pacific Railroad and Western Union prior to her retirement.

She was a member of the Women's Benefit Association of Port Huron, Mich.

She is survived by a son, Richard Guthrie of San Francisco, six granchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Burial will be at Cypress Hill Memorial Park in Petaluma.

JOHN OLIVEIRA

John G. Oliveira of Mill Valley, a retired Marin County employee, died today at a local hospital following surgery for a broken leg. He was 83.

Marin County coroner's office said Oliveira had injured his leg when he fell Thursday in front of 133 Locust Street, Mill Valley.

Born in the Azores, Oliveira had lived in Marin County for the past 65 years, most recently at 297 Miller Avenue.

He was a member of the IDESST, the Portuguese brotherhood of the Holy Ghost and Holy Trinity, in Sausalito.

He is survived by five sons, Charles of San Francisco, Robert of San Jose, Richard of Sacramento, John of Mill Valley and Raymond Oliveira of Corte Madera; a daughter, Florence Neidig of Mountain View; two sisters, Zulmira Lino of Mill Valley and Annie Borges of Manteca; one brother Anthony Oliveira of Sacramento; 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9 a.m. Friday at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley. A Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Russell and Gooch funeral chapels in Mill Valley. "These are the men that the majority of the Republicans want and I support them," Way told newsmen after the closed caucus. He said Burgener received 12 and Stevens 11 of the 21 GOP votes.

He said it will probably take a coalition with Democrats to elect them.

McCarthy had been an "Old Guard" candidate for pro tem after it became apparent that Burns was on his way out. Schrade also was mentioned as a potential candidate. Both are close friends of Burns.

The rules committee in the Senate is equivalent in power to the Speaker in the Assembly.

The Democratic members of the committee are Sens. Stephen Teale of Rail Road Flat and Joseph Kennick of Long Beach. Way is the fifth member and chairman.

Petaluma Will Widen Road Despite Protest

The Petaluma City Council last night approved plan lines for the improvement of Magnolia Avenue despite protests from property owners that the street would be too wide.

The council introduced an ordinance setting the plan lines to widen Magnolia Avenue from Petaluma Boulevard north to Keokuk Street and for the extension of Liberty Street from where it dead-ends at West Street through to Magnolia Avenue.

Victor De Carli, owner of the southwest corner of Petaluma Boulevard and Magnolia, protested that the widening of the intersection would take nearly 30 feet from his property line and endanger his business establishment.

De Carli also protested that the proposed intersection would create a jog between Payran Street and Magnolia even though engineering maps show the flow of traffic to be fairly straight. He challenged whether the street need be widened to 52 feet curb to curb and 70 feet with sidewalks installed.

"Magnolia will be nearly the size of Petaluma Boulevard when it doesn't carry one-tenth the traffic," De Carli said. Petaluma Boulevard is 80 feet wide.

Council members rebutted that the street may not be built for five years and that it must be constructed for future traffic so it won't be inadequate by the time of completion.

Also protesting was Ted Kennedy, owner of Ted's Wheel Alignment on Magnolia. He said that the proposed use of 15 feet of his property would reduce his land to 55 feet deep.

"When you consider that I work on 65 foot long trucks, you can see what this will do to me," Kennedy said. "It will ruin me."

All property owners agreed that a wider, safer and signalized intersection at Magnolia Avenue and the boulevard was needed, but suggested that the plan lines be drawn to take property from the other side of the street.

Noting that businessmen have shown great interest in undeveloped land off Magnolia, the council said it would only be fair to them to set precise plan lines so that they can plan their developments accordingly.

The ordinance setting plan lines will be considered for adoption at the council's July 21 meeting.

The Petaluma City Council Also:

MOBILE HOMES — Received a resolution from the planning commission establishing a mobile home park zone and decided that a study session would need to be held before setting fees and approving the zone.

ROAD WORK — Received plans for the widening of Washington Street, the widening of Payran Street and the construction of Caulfield Avenue between McDowell Boulevard south and Lakeville Highway. Noting that lengthy discussion would be needed, the council said a study session will be held.

FIRE STATION — Approved the purchase of land for a fire station site from the Wes Bailey Land Co. for $5,000. The land is located on McDowell Boulevard South across the street from the Monarch Manor Model Homes.

VICE MAYOR — Unanimously elected John W. Cavanagh Jr. as the council vice mayor.

BUDGET — Adopted the final budget for the 1969-70 year of $2,866,858.

BIDS — Awarded a contract for the purchase of gasoline to the Phillips Petroleum Co. with a low bid of 20 cents a gallon for regular gas and 23 cents for high test. All bids were rejected for oil with the decision to buy oil as part of the contract with the county of Sonoma and Standard Oil Co. for a savings of $114.

COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVES — Approved councilmen to serve on various city commissions and boards. They included David W. Brainerd, water commission; Robert A. Brunner, planning commission; Fred L. Mattei, recreation, music and parks commission; Albert L. Battaglia Jr., library board of trustees; and Phillip L. Joerger, traffic committee.

CLOSED SESSION — Went behind closed doors with the library board of trustees to consider the employment of a head librarian to replace Edna R. Bovett who retired last month.

Scotland Yard Seeks Drug Ring

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard is combing London's Chinatown for a ring of drug smugglers believed to control a flow of $192,000 worth of heroin a month from Hong Kong.

A police spokesman said $2.4 million worth of the Chinese drug has entered Britain in the past year, resulting in an alarming increase in drug deaths.

Alan Bestic, an official of the Association for Prevention of Drug Addiction, explained that the Hong Kong heroin contains caffein, amphetamines and barbiturates. Because of these additives, it is only between 40 and 70 per cent as strong as English heroin, legally obtainable on a doctor's recommendation through a recognized drug center.

Plumber Jailed In Gang Slaying

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police arrested a plumber in connection with a June 29 killing in Golden Gate Park.

Arrested yesterday was John Cleary, 31. Lt. Charles Ellis said he had been "definitely identified as one of those involved . . . he is one of several suspects. The others are being sought."

Cleary was jailed in connection with the shooting of Gino Heinicke, 23, during a fight between two motorcycle groups.

Heinicke, in the park for a rock music concert, was shot in the abdomen as he went to the rescue of two members of Hells Angels, who police said were fighting with a group described as the Gypsy Jokers. He died the next day.

Water Contract

A special contract to relocate water facilities in connection with the widening of Highway 101 viaduct in San Rafael will be considered by Marin Municipal Water District directors at a meeting at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera.

Ray Lawyer Fights Sale Of His Story

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)— James Earl Ray's attorney says he will not request that Ray be present in Federal Court Friday for a hearing on Ray's suit to invalidate certain contracts.

Attorney Robert W. Hill Jr. of Chattanooga said the hearing will center around a motion for a preliminary injunction to prohibit attorneys Percy Foreman of Houston and Arthur J. Hanes of Birmingham and Alabama author William Bradford Huie from selling or disposing of the story of Ray's life or any information obtained from him.

Ray filed suit April 11 charging his two former attorneys and Huie took advantage of his ignorance and got him to sign away the rights to his story of the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The three defendants have filed motions to dismiss Ray's suit claiming the Middle District Court here does not have jurisdiction in the case. The matter will be heard before U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller.

Nashville Attorney John J. Hooker Sr., who represents Foreman and Huie, said his clients will not be present for the hearing. Hanes, who will be represented by his son, Arthur J. Hanes Jr., is not expected to be present either.

Traffic Snarls Will Star On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Starting in September, metropolitan area commuters will be able to view the traffic jams on the road ahead while sitting at home drinking their breakfast coffee.

New York City's municipal station, WNYC, plans to transmit live pictures of the traffic tieups from cameras mounted in police helicopters. The evening rush hour will also be televised.

The commuter service is being financed under a $75,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation and a $78,000 appropriation from the city.

Heart Patient Dies After Fight

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Henry Stacey, 22, a recent heart surgery patient, died early today after he was involved in a fist fight at a UCLA student housing area.

Police arrested Harrison Begay, 21, on suspicion of murder.

Stacey was a student at the university. Friends said two valves leading to Stacey's heart were repaired in the recent surgery.

Corte Madera Raises Business License Fees; First In 18 Years

The Corte Madera Town Council last night adopted a new business license ordinance — the first major change in the license in 18 years.

The ordinance, to be effective next Jan. 1, incorporates the existing solicitor's license ordinance and sets a flat fee of $45 per year, and $6 for each employee over five, for the town's retail and general businesses.

The rate represents a $15 boost over the old fee and a $2 increase in the employee clause.

The new ordinance features an escalator clause that will keep future license rate hikes in line with cost-of-living increases.

Businesses which gross less than $10,000 a year will be charged a straight $30 fee.

Fees for contractors will rise to $50 a year from the present $25. Professional persons will pay $30 a year for each person in a firm; plus $10 per employee.

In another action, the council authorized changes in parking regulations along Corte Madera Boulevard between Redwood Avenue and First Street; and on First between Corte Madera and Montecito Drive.

Diagnonal parking will be eliminated on the west side of the Corte Madera Boulevard section and on the south side of the First Street area. Parallel parking lines will be arranged in the two areas; with a two-hour time limit.

The council agreed to make a 24-foot section along Corte Madera Boulevard from the Redwood Avenue intersection a no-parking area, to allow easier cornering.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

CONSTRUCTION — Adopted a code of Uniform Construction Standards; as recommended by the Marin County Public Works Association.

ELECTRICAL — Set Aug. 4 at 8 p.m. for a public hearing on the 1968 edition of the Uniform Electrical Code; under consideration for adoption for Corte Madera.

CODIFICATION — Authorized the town manager to contact the Book Publishing Co. of Seattle in regard to the preparation of 50 copies of codified town ordinances at a cost estimated at $4,500.

SAN CLEMENTE DRIVE — Authorized the town manager to order work on two traffic islands at San Clemente and Paradise drives.

OVERTIME—Adopted an ordinance amending three sections of an existing ordinance regarding the payment of overtime; business trip allowances and bonding of certain employees.

BILLBOARDS — Continued until Aug. 4 consideration of an appeal from H. Koch and Sons to retain two billboards along Highway 101.

ZONING — — Introduced an amendment to the zoning ordinance inserting new language in regard to the care of mentally disturbed and other persons in areas designated R residential.

APPEAL — Referred to the planning commission for further study an appeal by Amy M. Farrin, 23 Grove Avenue, to have two lots she owns declared a legal non-conforming single family site.

POLICE — Authorized overtime pay estimated at $750 for police during the month of July and approved travel expenses totaling $205 for an officer conducting background investigations on candidates for the police force now working in other jurisdictions.

FIREMAN — Authorized town manager Ronald L. Usher to hire Stanley Saulenas as a paid fireman on the recommendation of the council's police and fire committee.

Judge Fines Driver $240

Stanley Clay Haroldson, 34, of San Francisco, who was incorrectly reported in Friday's Independent-Journal to have been sentenced as a drunken driver, actually pleaded guilty last week to the lesser charge of reckless driving.

He was arrested Dec. 29 on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court placed Haroldson on one year probation and fined him $240.

Woman Pleads Guilty To Forgery Charge

Martha Ann Woods of San Francisco pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to signing another person's name to a credit card March 7 to obtain a rental car. A second charge of car theft against her was dismissed.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ordered Miss Smith to appear in Superior Court Monday for setting of a sentencing date.

Sewer Annex Ballot Set For Paradise

The Corte Madera Town Council, meeting as the city's Corte Madera Sanitary District board, last night set Sept. 16 for an annexation election for 66 property owners above Paradise Drive within the Tiburon city limits.

Property owners have indicated in the past that there would be some opposition to the annexation on grounds existing septic tanks were adequate, costs estimates on sewering were vague and the expense would prove to be an undue burden.

The Marin County Health Department has called conditions in the area a health hazard.

At a previous meeting of the board, 13 of the 66 property owners registered protests to the annexation, thereby necessitating the election.

The Corte Madera Sanitary District board also:

SCHOOL — Approved a recommendation of the sanitary commission to permit the Marin Country Day School to connect to the district's sewer system, with the annexation fee set at $310.

RETIREMENT — Adopted a resolution noting the board's intent to secure a contract for three employees to participate in the public employees retirement system.

New "Sleep + Aspirin" tablets help you pop right off to Sound Safe Sleep WITHOUT HABIT-FORMING SLEEPING PILLS

(Special) ...A New York chemist has perfected a remarkable "Asper-Sleep" formula which unites in one small tablet 3 safe aids to sound, refreshing sleep. No other sleeping tablets offer more comfort . . . yet are not habit-forming!

Never before has there been such a combination to help you relieve the problem of sleeplessness — to bring restful sleep without habit-forming drugs. No prescription is needed — just ask for "Asper-Sleep Tablets". For 100% safe sleep take as directed.

The reason you can fall asleep so fast and sleep like a log is that each Asper-Sleep tablet contains these 3 ingredients:

(1) An anti-histamine which (in a test by doctors) proved as effective as a usual dose of phenobarbitol...yet Asper-Sleep is mild, safe.

(2) A sedative with gentle soothing properties — to help you relax from simple everyday nervous tensions.

(3) Last but not least, Asper-Sleep contains analgesic, pain-relieving aspirin. This curbs the miseries of common headaches, colds and minor arthritis, rheumatism, muscular and menstrual aches and pains—to help you sleep when these disturbances are keeping you awake.

So get your sleep tonight without the depressing after-effects of habit-forming drugs. Asper-Sleep contains no barbiturates. You pop off to sleep, wake up "bright-eyed and bushy-tailed" not dull or dopey. During the night you are relaxed yet responsive to emergencies.

Money back guarantee: Unless Asper-Sleep brings you better, faster sleep than any sleeping tablet you have ever taken . . . return the partly used bottle and get all your money back. Ask for Asper-Sleep tablets at druggists. 89¢.

Motorcycle Crash

Steven J. Smiley, 18, of 13 Live Oak Avenue, Fairfax was treated at Marin General Hospital yesterday for cuts on his left leg and foot after the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car driven by Mary P. Milliken, 20, of 175 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, on Grove Lane near San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, at about 2:15 p.m., police reported today.

Supervisors Support Heliport Site Search

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today authorized a study to find a suitable site for a county-owned heliport.

The county aviation commission, which asked for the study, has expressed preference for a site in central Marin, possibly near the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge.

Marin is now served by SFO Helicopter Airlines at a temporary heliport the company rents on Richardson Bay at Manzanita. SFO has expressed a desire for a more central location.

Supervisor Michael Wornum said the site selection should be conducted carefully because of the noise of helicopters.

Chairman John F. McInnis said residents in the Gallinas Valley were "terribly upset" that a heliport might be built on the Civic Center site. He said there were no such plans and hoped that any location chosen would force helicopters to fly over water as much as possible.

The study, to be conducted by the county department of public works, will begin in the 1970-71 fiscal year.

In other business at its all-day meeting today, the board ratified new contracts with the social and probation workers calling for lighter caseloads and accepted an interim report by the Marin County Grand Jury calling for improved structural fire protection to unincorporated areas, but declined to accept the jury's recommendation that the board urge annexation through the Local Agency Formation Commission.

McInnis said the LAFC already had the power to urge annexations and did not feel this was within the purview of the board.

Dr. Sheppard Tells Senate Of Torture Time In Prison

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Sam Sheppard told a horrifying tale today of being placed in the "hole" during his 10 years in prison.

"I was chained with log chains, hand chains, chains around the neck and I don't know where all else. I was placed between two doors for six days. The two doors were less than 12 inches apart," Sheppard said in testimony prepared for a Senate subcommittee.

Sheppard, in what was called the trial of the decade, was found guilty in 1955 of having murdered his pregnant wife, Marilyn, 31, in their Bay Village, Ohio, home. In 1964 he was freed by a federal judge, and in a retrial he was found innocent.

"There was no food," Sheppard said in his testimony.

"There was no light and little air and I felt I would suffocate.

"I couldn't sleep, I would just pass out.

"I was allowed to wear my shorts, shoes and socks.

"I had no toilet privileges and just stood in my own excrement.

"After six days they removed me from the doors and asked me what I thought. I made a rather unfortunate comment about (Ohio Corrections Commissioner —Maury) Mr. Koblentz's heritage whereupon I was placed between the doors for three more days.

"When I came out my ankles had swollen so large the shoe strings had split on my shoes.

"I spent nine days in the 'hole' simply because I wouldn't call off (attorney F. Lee) Bailey and Dr. Steve, my brother.

"Had I done that, Mr. Koblentz told me that I would probably make parole. But that if I didn't do this there would be trouble, trouble, trouble.

"I should add that during this time I was beaten with rubber hoses. I can show you the scars on my back, Senator."

Koblentz, contacted at Columbus, denied Sheppard's allegations.

"That's an outright and absolute lie," Koblentz said. "Sheppard has lied before and he's lying again."

Koblenz said Sheppard spent two, not nine, days in a correctional cell. He also said records showed Sheppard was charged with eight violations of prison rules while behind bars but that he received only a reprimand for most of them.

"I never talked to him about his trial, his brother, attorney or any other aspect of his case," Koblentz said. "We do nothing to impede any individuals' legal efforts to obtain release from prison."

Second Viaduct Work Ordered

A $2.7 million contract for widening Highway 101 from south of Irwin Street to north of Mission Avenue in San Rafael was awarded yesterday to Murphy-Pacific Enterprises of Oakland, the California Department of Public Works announced yesterday.

The widening will be accomplished by constructing a new parallel southbound viaduct, converting the existing viaduct to northbound traffic. The new viaduct will be to the west of the present one.

The southerly approach to the viaduct is now a six-lane freeway. The north approach is currently being expanded to six lanes with completion scheduled for October.

Wage Controls Predicted If Surtax Fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy told the Senate Finance committee today wage and price controls will have to be considered if the surtax extension bill dies and other methods of controlling inflation fail.

But Kennedy said he personally opposed such controls, in principle and because of administrative problems, and did not think they would be needed if the administration's antiinflation program takes hold as he expects.

He told the committee that prompt action on the House-passed surtax extension bill (210-205 vote) was necessary as a part of this program, both for economic and psychological reasons.

But Democratic Senate leaders and finance committee members, including chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., at once made it plain that they expected to consider a wide range of tax reform provisions along with the surtax legislation. This raised the strong possibility the matter would not get to the Senate floor until fall.

Democrats at the hearing repeatedly chided Kennedy and the Nixon administration for what they said was a complete failure to do anything about the present high interest rates.

At one point this led to a Republican protest that the secretary was being treated unfairly.

Kennedy replied sharply to his critics that a large part of the blame for the present inflation and record-high interest rates must be put on the $25 billion federal deficit under the Johnson administration in the fiscal year 1968.

The Republican leader in the House, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, told White House reporters prior to opening of the hearing that Senate linking of tax reforms with the proposed surtax extension would inevitably delay the campaign being waged against inflation.

Ford made the comment after a breakfast meeting of top congressional leaders with President Richard M. Nixon.

Arms Talks Held Key To Vote On ABM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis said today the key issue in the Senate vote on the antiballistic missile is the need to uphold President Richard M. Nixon as he prepares to start arms reduction talks with the Soviet Union.

"I think it comes down to that in the final analysis," Stennis told newsmen as the Senate prepared to launch formal debate on the ABM controversy as part of a military procurement authorization bill.

The administration has been talking of a possible start late this month on the long-considered disarmament talks, but no firm arrangements have been disclosed.

Some ABM opponents have contended that a decision to deploy the missiles now would adversely affect the talks, but Stennis said he sees no way to explain to an adversary a Senate denial at this time of a program Nixon has asked.

"If he thinks he needs it," the Mississippi Democrat said, "why that's a big factor."

He predicted the Senate will approve his armed services committee's recommendation for deployment of the defensive missile system.

Stennis said the Senate would hold a secret session later today so he could outline details of the increasing Soviet threat to the nation's security.

"You've got to bring all the facts to bear," he said, adding: "I believe that the judgment of the committee will be justified on all these items including the ABM."

The $20 billion authorization bill, which contains $759.1 million for Safeguard, is based in large part, Stennis said, on expectation of continuing losses of equipment in Vietnam.

On the eve of the debate Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana more hopeful now of defeating Safeguard than in the past, said he has not found evidence of the kind of presidential arm-twisting he previously felt might give Nixon a narrow victory on the issue.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who has criticized some Nixon moves, said in a separate interview he believes "there has been some White House pressure but it has slacked off."

Panel Founded To Aid Kentfield School District On Fund Woes

A community group intended to represent divergent views on school operations was founded last night to advise the Kentfield School District on it financial problems.

Fifteen of about 35 persons who responded to a board plea for help signed up for the group, which will look into ways of providing the district with new revenue or putting to better use present district resources.

Trustees have adopted a preliminary 1969-70 budget of $1.3 million, retaining the total 1968-69 tax rate of $3.34 per $100 assessed valuation but curtailing maintenance costs and capital outlay items. The board said last night extra funds will be needed to maintain the present program in 1970-71.

Both board members and persons in the audience stressed the need for a wide range of opinions on school issues to be represented on the committee.

"We don't want a stacked deck," said Lawrence Goldberg, board president.

The board, faced with declining state revenue, had tentatively decided last month to seek voter approval of a rate rate increase which would go into effect in 1970-71. However, no amount was set and no date was firmly established.

Then the board decided to seek community advice, mailing letters to what it considered a cross-section of the residents.

"We think the community ought to determine whether to have a tax election and how much — or what to do if there will be no election," Goldberg said. "I think we're open-minded on what to do."

Raising the recent failure of a string of school tax elections in Marin, Trustee J. R. B. Ellis said, "In most cases, these haven't been effective because the board didn't communicate with the community and respond to any questions."

The board presented the audience with a 12-page fact sheet on district finances. It showed that state aid had decreased from 52.4 per cent in 1955-56 to 17.5 per cent in 1968-69, while the burden on local property taxpayers had risen from 47.46 per cent to 81.5 per cent.

The board pointed out that the state, in effect, penalized school districts with high assessed valuation, in addition, the board said, the Kentfield District lost about $67,000 last fiscal year under redistribution of the area-wide tax imposed in the Tamalpais High School District as a penalty for not unifying.

Kentfield Supt. Anthony B. Bacich said that while the district contributes to the fund on the basis of assessed valuation the funds are redistributed on the basis of average daily attendance.

Bacich estimated the district lost about $5,400 last year in state aid and support because figures were taken on the last Friday of the month — a time when absenteeism is above average. A member of the audience suggested the lower attendance was perhaps because students "go skiing for the weekend."

Thomas A. Ring of 44 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae, said he had checked district budgets for the past five years and found that student population had decreased from 1,515 to 1,435 while the number of teachers had risen from 61 to 69.

"Are we really betting our money's worth for a 16 per cent increase in the teaching staff that goes along with 7 per cent asked.

Bacich attributed the increase in staff in the past five years to state requirements for foreign language programs and to maintain the pupil-teacher ratio in primary grades at 30-1 and to an improved seventh and eighth grade program.

Ring wondered "if anything could be done to remove the not-so-essential items from the budget and not impair the educational program."

The first meeting of the committee will be at 8 p.m. Monday in Wolfe Grade School, with its first report to the board and official appointment on July 21. The job of recruiting members was left to the group.

Volunteer Firemen Honor Secretary

The Bolinas Volunteer Fire Department last night accepted the resignation of Secretary Timothy J. Waters and named him an honorary department member on the inactive list.

James R. Alberigi Jr. was named secretary. Waters recently had a heart attack and resigned for health reasons.

Goldberg Is Reelected Panel Head

Attorney Lawrence Goldberg was reelected president of Kentfield School District board last night.

Goldberg, of 75 Murray Avenue, Larkspur, has been a member of the board since 1963.

Board member Kenneth Terganowen was reelected clerk and J.R.B. Ellis, trustee representative.

Ellis and Gloria M. Riccardi, reelected to the board in April, were sworn in, as was a new member, Dewitt K. MacDonald.

The Kentfield School District board also:

MEMBERSHIP — Deferred until fall consideration of a proposal by Ellis to drop out of the California School Boards Association and join the Association of California School Districts. Ellis criticized the school boards association's position in support of a bill to lift school tax rate ceilings as "substantial misrepresentation."

BUDGET — Postponed until July 21 approval of a publication budget because final figures were unavailable.

TENURE — Granted tenure to Catherine Lewis, a teacher at Wolfe Grade School. She was inadvertently omitted from an earlier tenure list.

MEETINGS — Voted to continue meeting on the second and fourth Mondays of the month during 1969-70.

BONDS — Postponed a stand on legislation that would remove the tax exempt status of municipal bonds.

BINGHAM — Voted to send a letter or appreciation to former trustee Mary Bingham.

Golf Clubs Taken

A set of golf clubs valued at $300 was taken from the trunk of his car sometime in the past three weeks, George I. Cooper of 1535 Buchanan Street, Novato, reported yesterday to police.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

BEST VIEW—A funnel of smoke billows up over Highway 101 from the fire that gutted San Rafael Tire and Brake Co. today and endangered neighboring stores on Irwin Avenue. This photo was taken from atop San Rafael Hill which was the viewing point of the fire for dozens of San Rafael residents. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean, Roger Bockrath and Ken Molino).

SPECTATOR SPORT — Motorists, stopping along the Second Street on-ramp to Highway 101, get a close look at the dense smoke, inky black from blazing tires.

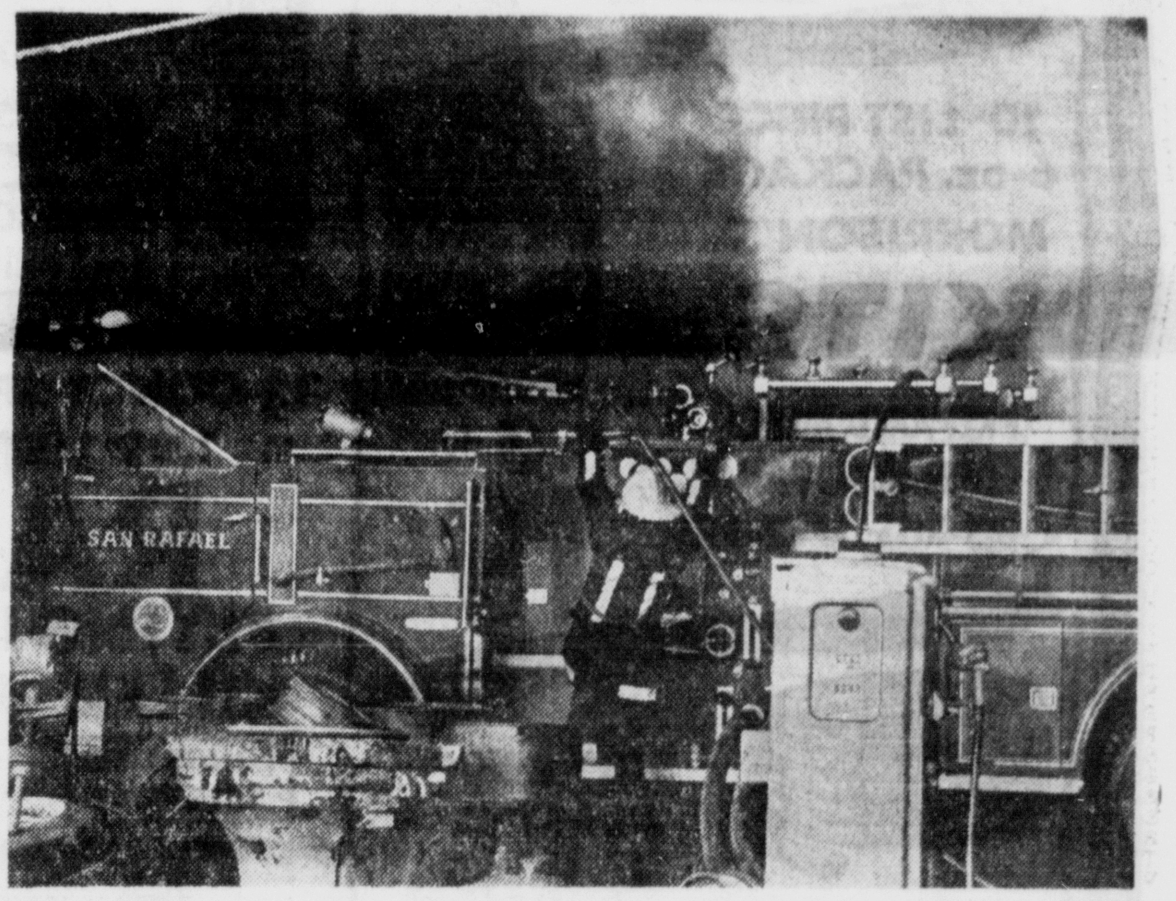
EARLY STAGES—A tower of thick, black smoke wafts off from an inferno of burning tires and auto repair equipment on the north side of the Brodie and Schwerin Tire and Brake Shop. Flames later spread to the structure, gutting the inside.



TRAPPED ENGINE — Fireman struggles in vain with the aid of only a trickle of water to keep flames from destroying the cab of this $50,000 engine. He was forced to abandon the vehicle a few minutes later. At one point the flames threatened to ignite the gasoline pump (foreground) used at the auto repair shop.

THE SKY'S THE LIMIT—A San Rafael fireman, borne aloft on a fire department schnorkel, pours water on the blazing tire and brake company building. The roiling smoke reached hundreds of feet in the air, casting a pall over the Bret Harte, canal and industrial area of the city.

SMOKE TUNNEL—A highway patrolman directs traffic through the beginning of a tunnel of smoke created on Highway 101 by the San Rafael Tire and Brake fire. The pall of smoke eventually enveloped the highway and this onramp from Third Street but only slightly slowed traffic. Meanwhile, a water tanker waters down the area in connection with construction near the highway.

Sonoma Hospital Trustee Resigns

SANTA ROSA (AP) — An eight-year trustee of Sonoma State Hospital has resigned, claiming the state Department of Mental Hygiene no longer responds to the needs of patients.

In a letter to Gov. Ronald Reagan made public yesterday, Thomas J. Farrell said he had been participating in "an intolerable situation" as a trustee of the mental hospital where his 15-year-old daughter is a patient "on an understaffed and overworked ward."

Farrell, a Santa Rosa insurance agent, is one of five trustees appointed by the governor to four-year terms. His latest term expired April 1, but Farrell said that according to policy, a trustee serves until he has been replaced.

A Republican, Farrell was first appointed by former Gov. Edmund Brown.

Farrell, whose daughter has been in the hospital 11 years, said he had not talked to Supt. Joseph E. O'Neill in four months.

He charged that under the new Department of Mental Hygiene director, Dr. James V. Lowry, "the lines of communication seem to be closed with Dr. O'Neill."

O'Neill, who has been named head of Mendocino State Hospital, could not be reached immediately.

Farrell said hospital visits led him to conclude there aren't enough employes working with the hospital's 3,153 mentally retarded patients, and that the hospital is "top heavy," with administrators who "are too busy filling out reports and attending endless meetings."

Farrell said the assistant superintendent at the hospital "has not been on one of the wards for eight months."

The entire system for care of the retarded, Farrell said, has been "designed for the professionals and not the patients."

Jet Hijacker's Wife In Havana For Child

HAVANA (AP) — The estranged wife of an American hijacker seeking custody of the daughter her husband brought with him to Cuba nearly six months ago was surprised last night to find him and the child waiting at Havana airport to meet her.

But minutes before his wife arrived, Thomas George Washington told a newsman he would not give up the child.

After hugging her daughter, 3-year-old Jennifer, Mrs. Joanne Washington, 25, of Philadelphia, said she wanted to speak personally with Prime Minister Fidel Castro. She already has appealed to Castro by telegram.

Mrs. Washington arrived on a Cuban National Airlines flight from Mexico with a 30-day visa arranged through the Czechoslovak Embassy in Washington. The embassy represents Cuban interests in the United States, which has no official relations with the Castro regime.

Mrs. Washington said seeing her husband was a surprise but she declined to say whether she would leave Cuba without her daughter. A Swiss Embassy representative was present to meet her, but she left Havana's Jose Marti Airport with Washington, her daughter and a Cuban official for an undisclosed destination. The Swiss Embassy represents U.S. interests in Cuba.

Washington, a 27-year-old Negro chemist, appeared nervous but sat patiently with his daughter on his knee as his wife passed through Cuban customs.

He readily admitted to the newsman that he had hijacked an Eastern Airlines DC8 jet last Dec. 19 on a flight from Philadelphia to Miami. But he called it a "mercy mission" and "really nothing."

At the time members of the DC8 crew reported the hijacker said he was doing it for his daughter's sake. Radio Havana later reported he used a toy gun to divert the plane with 151 persons aboard.

Before his wife arrived, Washington indicated he might be interested in returning to the United States and asked what the penalty was for hijacking an airliner.

Washington said he hijacked the jet because he was disgusted with life in the United States. He has since been working in the Cuban Academy of Sciences and his daughter is attending a state kindergarten and speaking Spanish.

Kennedy Says Pro-Missile Book Government Financed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A forthcoming book arguing in favor of deployment of an antiballistic missile (ABM) system was financed in part by government contracts amounting to $70,253, says Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

The book was largely written by members of the Hudson Institute of Croton-on-Hudson, N.Y., Kennedy said yesterday and "it appears to be one financed in part by the Department of Defense."

Herman Kahn, the institute director, said none of Kennedy's statements were factual. The charge was grave, he said, the book was the idea of institute people working mostly on their own time. In government the institute is well known "for being almost fanatically independent in its views."

Kennedy, an opponent of the ABM deployment proposal of the Nixon administration, said two contracts were awarded Hudson for study of ballistic missile defenses, and "what steps our adversaries might take in response to our ABM, and then what steps we would be forced to take in response to their steps. . ."

Napalm Bombs Clog Long Beach Freeway

LONG BEACH (AP)—A winch cable snapped and seven 700-pound napalm bombs rolled from a flatbed truck and clattered across the Long Beach Freeway. Police and firemen leaped into action, closing an entrance ramp. But there was nothing to worry about, the truck driver told them. The 19-foot long bombs have no detonators and could be exploded only by great heat.

Traffic was back to normal a few minutes later yesterday as the bombs were carted to another trailer truck.

W. German Convicted Of Red Pacts

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) — West Germany's millionaire Marxist, Hannsheinz Porst, was convicted today of maintaining treasonous contacts with Communist East Germany. He was sentenced to two years and nine months in prison and fined $2,500.

Porst, 46, owner of one of West Germany's largest mail-order camera and photo equipment chains, admitted during his trial that he was a member of East Germany's Socialist Unity party, but denied he was ever a spy.

The West German Supreme Court sentenced codefendant Alfred Pilny, a former Porst employee, to two years and three months in prison on the same charge. Peter Neumann, 46, also a former Porst employee, was given a nine-month suspended sentence.

Porst was accused of working with the East Germans while being a member of the West German Free Democratic Party in 1960-66, a partner in West Germany's ruling coalition government.

Witnesses at the trail included former FDP chairman Erich Mende.

The prosecution contended Porst obtained important information about West German government decisions through his FDP contacts and passed them on to East Germany, either by himself or through Pilny and Neumann.

Porst and Pilny were arrested in the fall of 1967, and Porst was freed on $250,000 bail.

Neumann worked in a Swiss branch of Porst's companies. In 1967 he was sentenced to 10 months in jail on Swiss charges of providing East Germany with political intelligence.

During his trial Porst said he maintained contacts with East Germany only in an effort to improve relations between East and West Germany.

The court said time spent in custody would be deducted from the sentences, amounting to five weeks for Porst and 18 months for Pilny.

More One Way Bridges Urged

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Public Works Director James A. Moe says the state could save $300,000 a year and cut the vehicle accident rate by converting four more San Francisco Bay area bridges to the one-way toll system.

Moe said yesterday he will recommend the change at the July 23 meeting of the California Toll Bridge Authority, which has the final say on such matters.

The plan would involve the San Francisco - Oakland Bay Bridge, the San Mateo-Hayward Bridge, the Dumbarton Bridge and the proposed southern bay bridge. The system is now in effect on the Golden Gate and Carquinez Strait bridges.

Soviets Holding Stray American Air Officer

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is holding an American and a West German whose plane made an emergency landing near the Turkish border during an air rally, the U.S. Embassy reported today.

A spokesman said the Soviet Foreign Ministry told the embassy the plane violated Soviet air space and the case is being investigated.

He said the Foreign Ministry described the flyers as safe and uninjured. They were identified as Lt. Col. George Patterson of Chamblee, Ga., an aviation officer with the 3rd Infantry Division in Wuerzburg, West Germany, and Dr. Karl Sichelstiel of West Germany.

The embassy spokesman said the Foreign Ministry claimed the men's light plane crossed into Soviet territory July 4 in the region of Batumi, a port at the east end of the Black Sea just north of Turkey.

Under normal international practice the flyers and plane will be released if the investigation shows they strayed into the country by accident on an innocent flight. The Soviet government usually acts slowly in such matters.

The Duesseldorf Aviation Club reported last night the single-engined Cessna 172 made an emergency landing while taking part in a rally in the Black Sea area.

It said 32 of the 50 planes participating failed to complete the flight from Romania to Istanbul partly because of bad weather.

The West German Embassy said it was seeking consular access through the Foreign Ministry with Sichelstiel. A U.S. Embassy spokesman said this had not been done with Patterson, since it "wasn't necessary" at present.

The two pilots are presumably being held in Batumi.

The Soviet government usually conducts an extremely thorough investigation in such cases because it is suspicious of any intrusions and is always on the lookout for possible spying.

Last summer the Soviet Union intercepted an American troop plane over the Kuril Islands but released it after two days when the U.S. government apologized.

The song of the woodcock does not come from the bird's throat, but rather from its wings. It results from air vibrating through the three outer feathers on each wingtip.

U.C. Professor Fined $360 On Pot Possession

COVENTRY, England (AP) — A University of California professor was fined $360 in a magistrate's court here today on charges of illegally possessing about three ounces of marijuana and attempting to export it without a license.

The professor, Ralph Herman Abraham, 33, a mathematics professor at the Santa Cruz branch of the university, is attached to the University of Warwick on a temporary research project.

He appeared in court with shoulder length hair and beard dressed in a black jumper with a brown suede waistcoat and wearing three strings of colored beads around his neck.

Police said the drug was found in the center of a mathematics book which had been cut out to form a compartment. The book was being mailed to a woman professor at Bonn University in Germany.

Abraham normally lives in London.

Golden Gate Bar Pilots Argue Working Schedules

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Golden Gate bar pilot likes his time off a month at a time, even if he works 90 straight days to get it.

The state Board of Pilot Commissioners plans to put the bar pilots on a conventional schedule, cutting their vacation time from three months to one month each year.

The 25 members of the San Francisco Bar Pilots Association, who guide ships through the Golden Gate, traditionally have worked three months without days off.

Then they take a solid month off the job.

The Pilot Commissioners have directed that the Golden Gate pilots adopt the duty standards set by the Federal Aviation Administration for airline flight crews.

The airline crews are limited to 10 hours work in 24, 30 hours in one week, and 100 hours in one month.

Capt. Archibald M. Simenstad, of San Rafael, bar polits president, said their attorney was checking whether the commission has the right to prescribe pilot working hours.

The commission ruling said the pilots must show cause in 90 days why the new working schedule should not go into effect.

Last year 2.75 million young men and women reached age 20 and in 1968 the number is expected to reach 3.75 million, the Census Department predicts.

Regent's Wife Writes Mini Cookbooks

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Writing novelty cookbooks and guidebooks in a brilliantly illustrated, pocket-size format that makes them look like little gems of psychedelic poster art is the specialty of June Dutton of Sausalito.

June is the wife of University of California regent Frederick G. Dutton, much in the news lately in connection with his duties in that capacity and as the head of the Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Foundation in Washington, D.C.

Three of the most interesting of the little cookbooks are a "Peanuts Cook Book," with cartoons by Charles Schulz, author of the "Peanuts" comic strip; one titled "Hors d'Oeuvre;" and another called "Booze."

They were introduced last month at a boat party on the Potomac during the American book sellers convention in Washington, D.C.

JUNE PRODUCES the books with her artist sister, Connie Boucher, who heads her own publishing company of Determined Productions in San Francisco.

It was a revelation to visit the offices in North Beach, where June spends much of her time when she isn't testing recipes — as many as four a day — in her own kitchen. She is a gourmet cook and actually does all the cooking for her family.

Walking through a severely plain, even dingy door, on the ground floor of a big warehouse is as great a shock as Alice must have experienced on stepping through the looking glass.

You feel you are in a huge circus tent with brilliant white walls, fire-engine red pillars, bright royal blue carpeting and white globe lamps hanging from the ceiling like great balloons. Art objects and antiques are everywhere.

Most striking as you enter is a large model of Snoopy's dog house filled with the company's books and other merchandise handled.

The tie-in with Schulz started with the company's first book, "Happiness Is a Warm Puppy," which was followed by a series of Peanuts books and novelty line of merchandise based on the comic strip.

The cookbooks and guide books with their striking color and design are just what you would expect to come from an environment of this kind.

JUNE IS A chic, young-looking mother of three children, hardly the type you would expect to find spending many long hours in the kitchen.

"I have always liked to cook," she says, "and both my sister and I are pretty good cooks. I had enough confidence in what I do in the kitchen so that I felt I could produce something people would want and find helpful.

"Each of our books has only about 38 or 40 recipes — too many are confusing. So many cookbooks are just warmed over re-hash of other cookbooks.

"Some of the recipes I made up myself — some are family recipes — some I picked up on our travels — and some I get from top restaurants."

Usually these restaurants are not cooperative about giving out their prize recipes, June says, but she has such a highly developed sense of taste that she can analyze their ingredients and reproduce them.

Yes, she likes to eat and confesses she does have to watch the martinis, and she eats no lunch. The real temptation comes during her research for her guide books.

"We go to bars first for drinks before having dinner at restaurants," she says, "and of course you can't order the diet menu if you want to know what is good. Then afterward there are the night spots to investigate — with more drinks.

She has no favorite recipes and no pet hates, unless it is "liver that is not disguised."

She wrote the "Booze" and "Hors d'Oeuvre" books in collaboration with Edith Vanocur, wife of NBC's man in the nation's capital. Both have husbands deeply involved in the social whirl of Washington politics and while making the nearly nightly rounds of parties, receptions and balls, they decided there was a need for a concise compendium of interesting, workable drinks and imaginative, different and easy-to-prepare hors d'oeuvres.

The "Peanuts Cook Book," she says, is a book for every family and the whole family. It combines recipes that kids from 6 to 60 can enjoy making while laughing at the cartoons. It's easy and fun," she says.

JUNE IS especially interested in ethnic cookery and has written one book on Mexican food," "Cocina Mexicana," that is the first of a series she plans. To do this right, she believes, it is necessary to go to the countries concerned. She is working on an Italian cookbook, for which she will go to Rome, and for one on smorgasbord she will visit the Scandinavian countries.

During the time she lived in Washington and on her travels June noted the need for simple, brief guide books, and after personally investigating Washington offerings, wrote her first one on that city. She is now completing one on Mexico City, is writing one on Los Angeles and plans one on San Francisco and all major cities of the world.

The guide books are in the same format as the cookbooks and include maps as well as colorful pictures. She says some people buy the books and take out the illustrations and frame them.

The guide books require some narrative writing, whereas the cookbooks involve giving instructions.

"It's surprising," she notes, "how difficult it is to give brief directions so simply that they cannot be misunderstood. I have several people read them to make sure they are clear."

June's background has been a big advantage in her present work.

She and her sister Connie grew up in San Mateo, and while Connie attended art school in Los Angeles, June earned her degree with major in journalism at the University of California.

AFTER HER MARRIAGE, while her husband was attending law school at Stanford, she worked several years as society editor for the San Mateo Times.

Her husband's career and three children absorbed all of her energy for some time after that. For several years they lived in Sacramento while her husband was executive secretary to Governor Edmund Brown after managing his campaign.

Then she had four exciting years in Washington, especially during the time her husband was special assistant to the president in the White House and assistant secretary of state for congressional relations in the Kennedy administration. Actually one of those years was spent in Rome just for the cultural benefit of the children.

For the last four years the Duttons have lived in Sausalito, and about three years ago June decided to go back to work and joined the staff of her sister's Determined Productions.

The children are now quite independent. Christopher, 19, is a student at the College of Marin; Lisa, 15, attends the Urban school in San Francisco; and Eve, 9, attends Central school in Sausalito.

Lisa seems to be following in her mother's footsteps.

"She is a good cook and helps me a lot," her mother says. "Her home baked bread is delicious."

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

The Subject Of Supernaturals Is Top Letter-Writing Topic

DEAR HELEN:

Outside of answers to that nutty "Patriot" and the selfish "Not a Nursemaid," what letters to your youth column brought the most response during early summer?

—TEEN

DEAR TEEN:

The supernatural still ranks way up there, with many comments on ouiji boards, white and black magic, "the age of Aquarius," etc. Sex has relinquished the lead to seances these days.

Sex education in schools, however, remains high on the list and the vote is about 8 to 1 in favor—but those "against" write longer, much more wrathful letters!

Boys came through with much mail on "What we like best about girls" and both sexes answered my "Stupid Question No. 246½: "If you guys so admire the girls who stop your advances, why then do you 'advance?' to wit:

DEAR HELEN:

I'm only 18, but I think I have the answer to why guys "try." I once put that question to my boy friend when he became elated after my put-down. He answered, "Sweetheart, a girl's favorite line is a demure, shy, wide-eyed 'nobody's ever touched me!' So I try — and she lets me. I like to think I'm good, but I can't be so special that I'm the first guy every time. I figure she's got to be lying or she would have stopped me too. So when I find a girl I think is good I want to know. I guess it means a lot to me. That's why I tested you.

"Now, do you want to meet my mother?"

So I understand what goes through a guy's mind when he makes like "Go" but wants a "No." He wants to be sure he's got a special date — not just an ordinary date.

TESTING . . . 1-2-3.

P. S. I love that guy!

DEAR HELEN:

This two-faced society tells its young men on one hand, "The woman who allows liberties is a slut — don't marry her," and on the other hand it whispers, "You aren't a man unless . . . A man doesn't want a mere physical relationship, but our double standard middle class WASP attitudes force him into this until he marries — and probably give him many hang-ups after marriage.

—JESS

DEAR HELEN:

Those girls who don't pass the test — the so-called pushovers: Don't men realize they fail because of loneliness? Everyone wants to mean something to somebody. If minds can't meet, then sex is a way of communicating. Men take advantage of this. Then they downgrade the women they "use." I have no respect for the fellow who makes an automatic pass at every date, just to "test" her. The girls (many of them anyway) who fall, aren't "bad" They just want to feel wanted.

Men, if you know a girl who is not a "lady," forgive her. She needs you more than you could possibly suspect. Smile at her, take her to a walk-in movie and out to dinner. Show her you are proud of her because she is a woman. Treat her with the respect you both wish she had. She'll never forget you!

RARE BYZANTINE ART

This is one of 21 rare frescos on display at Villa Huegel, the Krupp family's former residence in Essen, West Germany. The frescos were accidentally uncovered by Polish archaeologists in the Abu Simbel temple near the Egyptian-Sudanese border. They were painted between between the eighth and 12th centuries and have been preserved in near perfect condition between layers of wet sand. They belong to the period of Byzantine-Coptic art. Panel Asks Park List For Study

The Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission last night asked the staff to compile a list of possible parks to be considered for a bond issue to be submitted to the people, according to Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director.

The lists to be figured on a sliding scale from $750,000 to $2.25 million, he said. For each proposal land acquisition, and cost of development are to be listed separately and combined. The report is to be ready for the Aug. 4 meeting of the commission, which will not hold its July 21 meeting.

The Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission also:

POOL FEES — After receiving a report from Adams that San Rafael, Petaluma and Santa Rosa operate their swimming pools at a loss as a community service, voted to recommend to the Novato City Council that the rates not be increased for the Novato pool. The council had asked the commission for its recommendation because it had been suggested to the council that the city increase the fees so that the pool would be self supporting.

PIONEER PARK — Heard a report that the North Marin County Water District crews would donate a full day's labor on Saturday to install the high pressure water lines in Pioneer Memorial Park.

REPORT — Received Adams' monthly report for June in which there were 46,376 in attendance at all recreation functions, an increase of 2,975 over the 43,405 that attended such functions in June of last year.

Wisconsin ranks next to Massachusetts in cranberry production.

Little Change In June On U.S. Jobless Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The national jobless rate was virtually unchanged at 3.4 per cent of the labor force in June despite first indications of a slowdown in the demand for labor, the Labor Department reported today.

A total of 3.4 million people were unemployed in June, an increase of 1.1 million from May, but the department said this was a little less than might be expected in a period when many teen-agers are looking for jobs.

The employed total in June was 79 million, up 1.7 million from May, but after seasonal adjustment the rise was 400,000, leaving the total about at the April level.

Harold Goldstein, assistant commissioner of labor statistics, noted that employment in the April-June quarter was unchanged from the first three months of the year, contrasting with a 1.2 million employment gain between the last quarter of 1968 and the first three months of 1969.

Goldstein said this and other data suggested "some slowing up in the rate of demand for labor." He said the government will know more about the effect of anti-inflation measures and high interest rates later this year.

The June jobless rate for white workers was about what it was in May at 3 per cent. But the nonwhite unemployment rate rose one-half of one per cent to 7 per cent.

READY FOR DEBUT TEST

The first intercity aerotrain was unveiled yesterday at the Paris LeBourget Airport. Powered by a pair of 1,300 horsepower turbo-engines and a reversible pitch propeller, the vehicle will carry 80 passengers at a cruising speed of 155 miles per hour. The French plan to test run the aerotrain soon on a 11.2-mile-long elevated track north of Orleans. (UPI Telephoto)

Mill Valley Council Splits On Youth Panel

Mill Valley's newly formed youth commission, established in May to deal with the needs of city teen-agers, once again went memberless last night as the city council refused to approve recommended appointments.

In a 2-2 vote, with Councilmen Robert H. Andresen and George Wickham dissenting, an 11-man slate proposed by Mayor Dean N. Meyer was rejected. Meyer said he would resubmit the nominations at the July 21 meeting when vacationing Councilman Rodric L. Robinson is expected to be present.

Last night Meyer said he had not received suggestions for other members or any explanation as to why the proposed slate was unacceptable to Andresen and Wickham.

Nominated are youths John Hyatt, Kirk Norton, Carol Pritchard, Bonner Beuhler, David Abrahams, John Symmes, Kenneth Bot and Kim Rider and adults Kenneth Pratt, Leonard Anderson and Timothy Norton.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

RESIDENCE — Adopted ordinances requiring members of the planning and art commissions and library boards to be city residents.

REZONING — Rezoned the northwest corner of East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto to general commercial.

SALARY — Established a salary schedule for parttime employees for fiscal 1969-70.

SEWER STUDY — Approved in principal the Brown and Caldwell report on regional sewer system needs.

APPOINTMENTS — Reappointed Robert Urban and Mrs. Jerome Downs to the library board.

BIDS — Approved drawings and a call for bids for improvements to the Dipsea Trail steps, estimated to cost $13,700, Elm Avenue drainage, $11,700, and Sycamore Avenue construction and drainage, $51,400.

MILLER AVENUE EXTENSION — Heard that preliminary drawings for the extension of Miller Avenue to Highway 101 have been completed by City Engineer Stanley M. Bala and agreed to meet with county officials on the project.

BICYCLE PATHS — Endorsed the addition of a bicycle path plan to the Marin County parks and recreation plan.

DEDICATION — Authorized staff to request Goheen-Marin Capital Co. to dedicate open space lands shown on Scott Valley subdivision maps to the city.

SENIOR CITIZENS — Approved a joint powers agreement with the county for the city to provide a recreation program for senior citizens to be financed by the county.

Carmel Hippie Curbs Refused In Mill Valley

The Carmel "antihippie" ordinance was effectively laid to rest in Mill Valley last night with the city council salvaging only prohibitions against trash and living and camping in vehicles from the controversial ordinance.

However, the council threw in an extra ordinance prohibiting nudity in public areas, particularly someone "willfully appearing on public property in a state of dress where the private parts or female breasts are exposed."

In 3-1 votes, with Mayor Dean N. Meyer dissenting, the council ordered the city attorney to prepare ordinances which would outlaw throwing trash or garbage and living or camping in any vehicle on public property. Councilman Rodric L. Robinson was absent.

Violation of the nudity ordinance, introduced on a first reading last night, carries with it a $500 fine and/or six months in jail. The ordinance was ordered prepared by City Mgr. William H. Cunningham who said it was an attempt to deal with problems of nude swimming at Cascade Reservoir.

Other suggestions by Councilman Robert H. Andresen, who along with Councilman George Wickham, led the fight to bring portions of the Carmel ordinance to Mill Valley, to outlaw loitering and boisterousness and to redefine the word "family" as it applies to a single family residential zone went down to defeat on split 2-2 votes with Councilman Jerome C. Hauke joining Meyer in dissent.

The proposed loitering ordinance would have prevented the "sleeping or lying on seats, benches, sidewalks, curbs, planters, walls and other areas on public property" while the new family ordinance would have defined "family" as a group of people related by blood or marriage or not more than five persons not related by blood or marriage and employees or domestic servants.

Woman Booked In Stabbings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A young woman, carrying both a baby and a 10-inch knife, stabbed three persons yesterday evening in the Haight-Ashbury district.

Police who followed a trail of witnesses, arrested Mrs. Silvia Smith, 20, at her home and booked her for three attempted murders.

They said a woman inflicted severe scalp wounds on Mrs. Charlotte Young, 50, who was folding her laundry in a laundromat, attacked Thomas Harper, 61, as he walked by on a street, and then slashed William Davis, 53, who was waiting for a bus at Fillmore and Haight Streets.

No reason was given for the attacks. Police said they found a bloody knife in Mrs. Smith's home.

Rapid Action On Little Study Urged

Rapid action on the Arthur D. Little report was urged last night by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle in recommendations made to the Tamalpais High School District board.

Carlisle asked the board for immediate selection of a planning and development coordinator saying that a selection committee should be formed by Thursday and the committee's recommendation be given the board by July 21.

Carlisle urged selecting a steering task force, that resources be identified and that, by Sept. 25, a comprehensive planning program be approved by trustees. By Oct. 10, said the superintendent in his report, a planning program should be operating.

The highly critical Arthur D. Little management evaluation of the district, which stresses stronger leadership mainly, was accepted by the board June 23.

Last night trustees received Carlisle's follow-up recommendations and moved they be appended to the official minutes. Due to a long agenda, the board did not read the report, but newly elected board president Bette Wallace said the board will schedule a special meeting "immediately." No date was set.

Carlisle prefaced his recommendations with a cover letter in which he said the Little report's recommendations fall into three groups—planning, reorganizing structural and procedural mechanisms and improved program and operational practices.

Carlisle said the planning program should have widespread involvement including teachers, students, parents, community, board members and administrators.

Supervisors Pick A. R. Ruonavaara

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County Supervisor Arthur R. Ruonavaara of Healdsburg yesterday took his seat as chairman of the board, replacing Leigh S. Shoemaker of Petaluma whose resignation due to ill health became effective June 30.

Ruonavaara, as vice chairman, had been serving as acting chairman. Ignazio A. Vella of Sonoma was named vice chairman.

The board said its meeting next Monday would be changed from 10 a.m. to 9 a.m. so the supervisors may attend the opening of the Sonoma County Fair at 11 a.m. No afternoon session will be held.

Tam Trustees Trim $66,300 From Budget

The Tamalpais School District board last night adopted a pared down preliminary 1969-70 budget of $9,217,561, then later in the evening, said that Gov. Ronald Reagan's proposed tax reform bill could mean a $2 million budget cut.

Trustee Bette Wallace asked business director Frank A. Cassou to call Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, today about the legislation, then give the board a written memorandum on it right away.

"I can't believe there would be any legislation that would cause us to lose $2 million," said Cassou. "The community has voted a level of taxation for support of a program."

Trustee David D. Ring replied that state legislature can change this at any time.

"I feel it's (the reform bill) is so preposterous that no one is taking it seriously," commented Mrs. Wallace. "Keep bearing down on it until we find out what it means," she ordered.

Trustees cut $66,300 from the budget in 12 items which had already been earmarked to be chopped out. They left two items in this list pending further study — $25,000 for home-school bus service and $33,000 for the adult school.

Following a five minute recess the board agreed to ask Supt. Chester G. Carlisle for a revised adult school fee schedule, trustee Gloria Melbostad saying she believes a raise would put the fees in a "realistic light." Basic fees are now $4.

Ring told the board that $100,000 should be cut from the budget at the start of the budget session but Cassou argued against premature over-cutting.

He said there are too many factors to be resolved between now and July 18 when the budget has to be in the hands of the County Superintendent of Schools. The board followed Cassou's advice, agreeing that further changes may still be made.

Cassou told the board the budget is based on a 5 per cent increase in assessed valuation and a 5.7 per cent tax delinquency allowance.

The board took no action on setting a date to meet with teachers to discuss 1969-70 salaries, Mrs. Wallace saying that two members of the board would work out a meeting schedule with teachers. No meeting was set last night. A 5 per cent salary increase has been approved but the board agreed to keep salary discussions open until July 30 on the teachers' request.

The Tam High District Board Also:

REORGANIZATION — Reorganized the board electing Mrs. Wallace, president; D. Ring, clerk, and Robert W. Corlett, trustee representative.

LETTER — Received a letter from Dr. William L. Clark of Mill Valley commending Henry Marshall, Tamalpais High School dean of boys. Clark saying Marshall has had a good deal to do with reducing interracial tension at the school.

MEMBERSHIPS — Approved purchase of institutional memberships for 1969-70 but omitted that of California School Boards Association which would cost $1,026.

GRANTS — Approved two research and development grants, one for $1,500 for evaluation of the Sir Francis Drake High School mathematics program, and one for $500 for the Tamalpais High School FEAST program evaluation.

GOALS — Received a set of staff-prepared goals for the district for 1969-70, president Wallace asking the trustees to present their goals to the board by Aug. 15.

COURSES — Adopted 1969-70 courses of study and text and supplementary books.

CONTRACTS — Approved 1969-70 extra service contracts excluding monetary figures pending final salary talks.

REDWOOD HIGH — Accepted low bid of $53,156 from Zoellner Construction Co., Ross, for remodeling at Redwood High School. The other bidder was Merz Bros., San Francisco, $57,777.

INSURANCE — Offered North American Life and Casualty Co. a contract for student accident insurance at $6.50 per child. Transit Casualty Co. had bid $6 per child.

DRIVER TRAINING — Deferred action on bids for driver training units. Bids are: $7,810 from Raytheon Learning Systems Co. and $11,700 from Link-Education Systems.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Barbara L. Angeli, French/English teacher, Drake, $8,355; King C. Kryger, English, Tamalpais, $9,955; Barbara C. Lachelt, science, Drake, $6,177; Charles F. Mack Jr., physical education, Tamalpais, $9,355, and Milton M. Spinner, history, Drake, $13,165.

Concept For Development Is Approved

The Rohnert Park City Council last night approved in concept the plans of Young America Homes to build single family homes, townhouses and apartments in the El Colegio area.

Included in the general plans submitted by Robert O'Neal of the building firm were 221 single family homes, 100 townhouses and 258 multifamily units in the area near Sonoma State College.

The plan also includes the dedication of a two-acre site for a city park. Nore Thiesfeld, building and planning coordinator at the college, said in a letter that the plans would be no detriment to the college.

Detailed maps of the plans will be presented at a council meeting next month with construction of the homes scheduled to begin soon after approval.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:

POOL USE — Approved a resolution giving the use of Benecia park Pool to Sonoma State College from April 13 to May 29, 1970.

GOLF RATES — Approved a resolution lowering rates for junior golfers at the municipal golf course. Students through high school age may play 18 holes for $1.50 or nine holes for $1. The rates will be in effect on weekdays, after 3 p.m. on weekends and holidays or when in company of a parent.

CREDIT UNION — Approved a plan to allow city employees to join the Sonoma County Employees Credit Union.

WATER GRANT — Heard report from City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan that the Department of Housing and Urban Development had approved a grant of $45,000 to make improvements on the water system.

DOG SHOW — Approved the use of Benecia Park on Aug. 9 for a dog show sponsored by the Sonomarin German Shepherd Dog Club.

The Restless, an 18-ton vessel built in 1614 by Adrian Block, was the first ship built in what is now New York City.

Burglars Enter Fairfax Homes

Two burglaries were reported to Fairfax police during the weekend, officers said today.

Mario Lippman of 34 Frustuck Avenue reported his home had been entered last Wednesday and $150 in silver taken, police said.

Bert Harold Nutter of 225 Olema Drive reported someone had pried his way into the garage Thursday and taken four tires mounted on wheels, another wheel and a wrench valued at a total of $90, police reported.

Criminals Using Snooping Gear

BOSTON (AP) — The underworld is using stolen electronic equipment to monitor conversations of lawyers and government officials, the Boston Record American says.

The highly sophisticated equipment was stolen from Logan International Airport two years ago, the newspaper said today.

A telephone company technician discovered a monitoring device attached to the telephone of a criminal lawyer, who suspected his conversations were being bugged and asked the company to investigate, the newspaper said.

Bedspread Stolen

A $40 bedspread and a radio were stolen from the home of Robert Escubar of 109 Mariner Green in Corte Madera between July 3 and yesterday, police reported today. Entry was made by forcing open a sliding glass window on a balcony, police said.

FISCAL CHIEF BLASTED

Kennedy, Bankers Discuss Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A confrontation between the nation's top bankers and the government's major economic decisionmakers has provided no clues to the future course of interest rates, currently spiraling upward at a record pace.

Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy, who was host at the meeting of executives of 24 of the nation's largest banks yesterday, said the controversy over the banks' recent raising of the "prime rate" to a record high didn't even figure in the discussion.

Besides Kennedy, government figures at the meeting included Federal Reserve Board Chairman William McChesney Marin, Budget Bureau Director Robert Mayo, Herbert Stein, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and Richard McLaren, assitant attorney general in charge of antitrust matters.

Kennedy insisted the session "was not called to roll back the prime rate."

This prompted a blast from Rep. Wright Patman, chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, Kennedy's chief foe in Washington. The Texas Democrat has been calling for Kennedy's resignation for months and raised the cry again yesterday.

"It is almost unbelievable," Patman said in a statement issued by his office, "that the secretary could answer no when a reporter asked him if he had discussed rolling back the rate. And it is even more incredulous when he can answer no to a reporter's inquiry as to whether any future increases in the prime rate were discussed.

Kennedy said the meeting achieved its basic purpose of allowing the big bankers and the government officials to exchange views on matters of common interest—what to do about inflation, high interest and "the credit picture generally." There was a consensus, he said, that the extension of the 10 per cent income tax surcharge is critically important in curbing inflation.

The bankers also agreed, he said, "there will not be enough money to go around to meet all the demands for credit."

Kennedy said he urged on them his view that some borrowers are so large or otherwise protected that high interest rates alone won't deter them from seeking loans. The banks "have got to have other means to say no," he said.

And the banks insisted they are already turning away substantial numbers of loan applicants to make their pool of loan money stretch farther, Kennedy said.

"I think each one indicated, without exception, that they are rationing credit," he said.

Astronauts In Peril From Sun Radiation?

SUNSPOT, N.M. (AP) — A noted solar astronomer says he believes the possibility of the Apollo 11 astronauts being exposed to a deadly shower of x-rays and protons from a solar flare while on the moon is slim.

"I think the astronauts have a lot more serious worries than proton showers while they are on the moon," Dr. John Evans, head of the Air Force's solar observatory complex here, said in an interview.

"The very tremendous solar events that could give lethal doses of protons on the moon are rare. Only about a dozen of these have been observed since 1948.

"The chance of them occurring in the next two-week period would appear slim," he said.

Space scientists consider the radiation emitted by a massive solar flare a serious danger to astronauts outside a spacecraft and clad only in unshielded spacesuits.

Dr. Evans and his colleagues don't think the astronauts will have any problem with flare eruptions, but a Slovak scientist disagrees.

Stefan Pinter, heliogeophysicist of the Observatory at Hurbanovo in western Slovakia was quoted June 28 as predicting solar flares intense enough to harm the spacemen.

"The trip of the U.S. astronauts to the moon will have to be postponed. Eruptions on the sun will be so strong at the time that the sun radiation might be dangerous for the spacemen."

He was interviewed by the Slovakian newspaper Uj Ifjusag, according to the CTK, the Czechoslovak News Agency.

Dr. Evans and his staff at the remote observatory atop a 9,000-foot peak in southern New Mexico, have been working for years to perfect a technique of predicting the flares.

But even so, predictions, at best, can be made only about two days in advance.

Two days, however, is sufficient time to warn Apollo 11 Astronauts Edwin Aldrin Jr. and Neil Armstrong as they explore the moon July 20 should the possibility of a proton shower appear.

The scientists at Sunspot keep a constant watch on the sun—seldom obscured by clouds over the New Mexico desert—and the spacemen could be instructed by ground controllers to take cover immediately in their spacecraft if a major flare was observed. The moon landing could also be postponed if a flare was predicted.

The typical proton shower, Evans says, is intense for about the first hour and then gradually tapers off. Showers can last more than a day.

Besides streams of protons, the solar flares also produce high energy x-rays—both in quantities large enough to be fatal.

The Sunspot sungazers have refined their ability to predict solar events, but they still are at a loss to fully explain why they occur.

Balloon Trip Little Hard To Believe

Faster than a speeding bullet, or the U.S. mails for that matter, a helium-filled balloon launched in San Rafael has reportedly crossed the country and floated down into a Wisconsin lake.

The balloon supposedly is one of more than 800 released June 27 by participants in the San Rafael summer recreation program, but recreation officials find it a little difficult to believe.

"It's kind of fishy," said Andrew J. Snyder, director of the city parks and recreation department of a hobby fisherman's report of finding the balloon — a little more than 24 hours after it was released.

The fisherman reported the "balloon came floating down" into the water alongside his boat at 6:30 p.m. June 28. He claimed to be on Long Lake in Washburn County, Wis., but the only Long Lake listed in Wisconsin is in Florence County, across the state from Washburn. His letter was postmarked Sarona, Wis., which is in Washburn County.

Ten other more believeable reports of balloon landings have also been received, though a contest involving return of postcards attached to the balloons does not end until Aug. 7.

One came down in "my chicken yard six miles from Sonora," another in a backyard on Kinross Drive, San Rafael; three in Oakdale, Stanislaus County; one at Crow's Landing, Sonora County; one in Berkeley; another in Tracy, San Joaquin County; one in Ripon, San Joaquin County, and one in Gerstle Park, San Rafael, where it was released.

The winner will be the one found fartherest from San Rafael. Recreation officials haven't decided whether the one in Wisconsin will count.

Court Changes Death Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The state Supreme Court has spared the life of a southern California cop-killer.

The court ruled yesterday that Donald F. Ketchel should not have been sentenced to the gas chamber because persons opposed to the death penalty were excluded from the jury.

Ketchel and Thomas E. Sears were convicted of the June 9, 1961, slaying of off-duty policeman George Elder, who chased the defendants after a Mnterey Park grocery store robbery.

The jury originally convicted both men of the crime and sentenced Ketchel to death and Sears to a life term. The court yesterday changed Ketchel's sentence to life and upheld Sears' sentence.

President Harry Truman started wearing glasses when he was 9 years old.

Love, Companionship Key Marriage Factors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sex is No. 2 in a man's priorities for selecting a mate but No. 6 on the woman's list and that's the reason 75 per cent of American marriages are a bust, according to an eminent psychologist.

"When a man gazes into a woman's eyes with what they think is love and devotion they are not seeing the same thing." Dr. Clifford Rose Adams, professor emeritus of Penn State University, added in a report based on 30 years of research.

"Odds on any marriage being a success are shorter than those of hitting the jackpot on a pinball machine in Las Vegas."

Adams, 66, a consultant for Encyclopaedia Britannica and numerous scientific publications, presented his latest findings yesterday to the Identity Research Institute here after studying 6,000 couples.

"Since the sex revolution following World War II sexual satisfaction has been much more important to the male than to the female," the professor said.

"Companionship is the first subconscious factor influencing the male in mate selection. Then in order, come sex, love-affection-sentiment in a single category, home and family, a helpmate) one giving encouragement) and, lastly, security.

"For the woman the first things she seeks are love, affection and sentiment. She has to feel loved and wanted. The second is security, then companionship, home and family, community acceptance and, sixth, sex.

"So you see man and woman do not see eye-to-eye. How can marriages, under these circumstances, last?"

Adams said government statistics showing that 28 per cent of all marriages end in divorce are misleading.

"If you take in annulments and desertions, which are not included, the figure would be nearer 40 per cent. Add to this what we call the morbidity marriage where a man and woman may continue living with each other just for appearances or convenience while actually hating each other and you find that only about 25 per cent of marriages are really happy.

"The other 75 per cent are a bust."

The doctor, whose research included interviews with college undergraduates as far back as 1939, said the biggest divorce year is the third year after marriage. Half of all divorces are obtained within seven years.

He said too many marriages are founded on sexual compatibility—or "body heat," as he put it—and this is disastrous.

"A good date does not necessarily make a good mate," the professor added. "Those who marry because of a sexual detachment don't see the rest of the pie. These marriages usually end in divorce."

Adams said the sex revolution erupted after World War II because millions of servicemen, who previously might have been inhibited and restrained, coming in many cases from small towns with strict codes, experienced women for the first time.

"They came home without any inhibitions and some of them found girls who thought sex was a dirty thing. Wives were inclined to be cold. Some wives, had to experiment with another man to find proper adjustment."

PG&E Is Asked To Trim Hikes By $7.9 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The state Public Utilities Commission recommended yesterday that a proposed $26.4 million gas rate increase by Pacific Gas & Electric Co. be trimmed to $7.9 million.

A PUC attorney, David Larrouy, told a commission hearing the company's request should be reduced by $18.3 million in order to put it within the recommended profit margin for utilities.

PUC analysts recommend a return of from 6.95 to 7.25 per cent on the utility's investment, Larrouy said. The recommended $7.9 million increase would yield a 7.1 per cent profit.

Larrouy said the PUC's recommendations proposed cuts in the utility's sales and advertising budgets, a reduction in wage increases and included $16.2 million in increased gas sales, which PG&E contended would not take place in 1969.

Fishermen Nailed

LONDON (AP) — The Trent River Authority reports up to 1,500 anglers are "hooked" each year on fishing without licenses in the river in the English midlands.

Captain Is Cleared Of Pier Crash

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A merchant ship captain not only did not cause a freak crash of an ammunition-laden vessel into the San Francisco waterfront, but his fast action averted what could have been a disaster.

That was the decision announced yesterday by a Coast Guard hearing examiner who dismissed negligence charges against Wallace M. Campbell, 45, captain of the M.M. Dant.

Examiner C.J. Carroll Jr. said Campbell acted quickly to avoid what could have been a tragic collision between his vessel and the American Producer, a ship carrying ammunition destined ultimately for Vietnam.

Carroll concluded from testimony by five witnesses that unusually heavy marine traffic in San Francisco Bay March 5 caused radio communications to be garbled and prevented the pilots of both ships from realizing they were headed on a collision course.

Campbell's ship was able to execute a severe turn away from trouble and into Pier 17, but the American Producer veered into the waterfront, causing extensive damage to both the ship and to Pier 27.

The American Producer had been headed south and the M. M. Dant headed north.

Mutiny Trial Critic Is Seated On Desertion Panel

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—One of the men convicted of mutiny in a San Francisco Presidio stockade protest is being tried for desertion today by a panel that includes a professional soldier critical of the mutiny trials.

Capt. Claude P. Moore was seated on the court-martial panel yesterday after he said he felt the mutiny trials hurt the Army's image, could have been handled better and that the men should have been charged with something less than mutiny.

On trial now is Pvt. Richard Lee Gentile, 20, Hampton, Va., who escaped from the stockade twice while awaiting his mutiny trial, and drew a separate desertion charge.

He was convicted of mutiny and sentenced to six months imprisonment and a bad conduct discharge.

Gentile is the only one of the 27 who participated in the stockade protest who is a Vietnam veteran.

Moore, four other officers, one warrant officer and two enlisted men are trying Gentile for desertion.

The defense attorney is Capt. Brendan Sullivan, who last week was informed that Secretary of the Army Stanley Resor had rescinded orders which would have sent him to Vietnam, despite his having only six months remaining on his Army tour.

During examination of prospective panel members yesterday, Moore said while he was in Vietnam for two tours of duty he learned first hand that desertion is a major problem in combat.

"We had 300 to 400 deserters roaming the country all the time," he said. He added that he has an 18-year-old son "but I don't think he will enlist in the Army."

English Women Find Beauty In Billiards

HAYDOCK, England (AP) — The case of the vanishing chalk had a club's billiards players snookered. But now the riddle has been solved.

Woman visitors at Haydock Conservative Club in Lancashire were spotted using the chalk as an eye-shadow.

Guilty Plea To Sale Of Drugs

Bradford Eugene Bishop, 20, of Novato, who had been accused by drug agents of selling drugs to young people in Novato, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of selling methedrine last February.

A second charge of selling marijuana was dismissed by Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Judge Wilson set sentencing for Aug. 18. Bishop is currently on probation for battery, possessing marijuana and LSD.

Commuter Ferry System Urged

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Immediate development of a ferry system between Marin and San Francisco was recommended today by a water transportation consultant.

Dr. Claude Gruen the nationwide consulting firm of Arthur D. Little Inc. made the recommendation in his final report today to the San Francisco-Marin Water Transportation Study Committee.

The Lolden Gate Bridge and Highway District "seems the logical candidate for this job," Gruen said. "But they must be supported by San Francisco and Marin public officials."

Modern but conventional ferries from a single terminal on Corte Madera's tidelands would attract 8,500 daily commuters by 1971, he estimated. But hydrofoils or air cushion vehicles could entice more than 11,000 commuters a day, which is about one-third of the commute load expected on the bridge by 1971. The main San Francisco terminal would be near the Ferry Building.

Such a system would "buy time" to plan, finance and build a fixed rail system that will be needed some day to serve Marin, Sonoma and Napa Counties, Gruen reported.

He estimated the cost of the system of conventional ferries at $51 million, but his estimate included no allowance for inflation. Bons to finance the system could be retired at 6.5 per cent over 25 years, he said.

Gruen said that his financial analysis suggested that either a conventional ferry system or one using advanced vessels "could be self-supporting."

An optimum ferry system; however; would also have terminals at Gallinas Creek and Marinship, Gruen said. On weekends and in midday, tourists could be attracted by adding a second San Francisco terminal at Fisherman's Wharf.

Gruen said he based his projections of use on a round-trip fare of $1.50. The fare would include feeder bus service or a parking stall at the Marin terminal, his report said.

If three terminals were developed, the average North Marin commuter would get from home to San Francisco in 54 minutes, the average central Marin commuter in 32 minutes, and the average Southern Marin commuter in 26 minute s, according to the study. The times included loading, unloading and docking times.

Also under the three terminal system, according to Gruen's figures, 6,380 fewer cars and 36 fewer buses would cross the Golden Gate Bridge each day. A single terminal system would cut bridge traffic by 4,290 cars and 28 buses, he said.

Gruen presented his report to a committee at the bridge district offices at the Toll Plaza. Adding lustre to his presentation was the presence of the chairman of the board of Arthur D. Little, retired Army Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin.

Gruen noted that the number of commuters expected to cross the Golden Gate Bridge during the commute period will increase by at least 61 per cent by 1985. As a result, he said, a ferry service would be necessary not only to buy time for rail transit but also to free San Francisco from the growing pressure on its streets and garages.

A bill empowering the bridge district to go into the ferry business is pending in the legislature, and is expected to be passed and signed into law this year.

Also pending in the legislature is a bill to empower the bridge district board of directors to sell revenue bonds. The bridge district, using its present toll structure, could raise approximately $50 million.

Two two-county committee was formed last year. The San Francisco Board of Supervisors contributed $30,000 to the study, and the Marin County Transit District contributed $15,000.

Ex-Tiburon Mayor, Scouts Fined For Pellet Gun Use

A former Tiburon mayor and Explorer Scout leader, who hadn't considered pellet guns weapons under the dictionary definition paid $10 fines yesterday for himself and three Explorer Scouts who shot the guns at Point Reyes National Seashore during the weekend.

John Sherwood Hoffmire II, of 583 Virginia Drive, who served as Tiburon's second mayor in 1966, apparently changed his mind on the technical definition after discussing the matter with his attorney, according to U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith.

Goldsmith said three of the high school aged scouts admitted shooting at birds and raccoons with pellet and BB guns at the seashore while Hoffmire pleaded guilty to being an accessory. Two other scouts were placed on a month's probation after admitting shooting at cans.

A conservationist and former scout leader himself, Goldsmith scolded the group from Explorer Post 98 in Tiburon and barred them from the seashore for a month.

"They should have known better," said Goldsmith, noting one of the boys has his marksmanship merit badge.

Goldsmith, a Mill Valley resident, told the group that it was largely the actions of some scouts that led to prohibition of overnight camping on part of Mount Tamalpais.

He said he had attempted to get special permits for scouts to camp there and was denied because according to Marin Municipal Water District which owns the property, "some of the worst offenders there were scouts."

David Ross, a park ranger, had told Goldsmith a raccoon had been killed during an explorer's four-day pack trip at Glen Camp the latter part of June.

Goldsmith also said he has received complaints that other Tiburon scouts were responsible for polluting drinking waters in the park by dumping detergents and other materials in streams.

DEPUTIES DENY IT

Panthers Charge Children Bribed

Marin City Black Panthers yesterday accused sheriff's deputies of bribing youngsters in the community with small change and pumping them for information about the Panthers and others. Deputies denied the charge.

In a confrontation yesterday afternoon at the sheriff's substation, four Panthers argued vehemently with deputies until Lt. Thomas Lightfoot, watch commander, told them to leave or risk arrest for disturbing the peace.

The Panthers were still arguing their case on the substation steps when Sgt. Edward Alves shoved one aside to slam the door shut and close the incident.

What triggered the confrontation was an incident yesterday morning when two black youths ran out the back door of the substation when they saw two Panthers drive up.

Brian Beard said he and another Panther saw the boys run, figured something was wrong, and went after them. They found the boys, who were 9 to 12 years old, hiding in grass behind the station and drove them around Marin City while asking them why they were at the station.

The Panthers said the boys reported the deputies give them dimes and quarters to pick up paper and trash in the station area, then ask them questions.

"They would ask what the Panthers are doing, why the brothers are running in the hills, and where certain people are at certain times," Beard said.

The deputies questioned the boys "about people who are a threat to their lawlessness in the community," a Panther said. "Some of the brothers they asked about, the police have threatened before the community — what they'll do to them if they catch them alone."

Alves, who is on the 4 p.m. to midnight shift, denied anyone had given the boys money.

"How do you know? You weren't there," a Panther challenged.

"I know my men!" Alves shouted. He pointed a finger at a Panther's chest and said, "I'm not afraid of you."

"Who said anything about that?" was the answer.

Deputy John Forsdal, who saw the morning incident and was present at the confrontation, got little chance to speak during the argument as Alves and Lightfoot did most of the talking for the law.

Pathers accused the lawmen of shielding Forsdal to keep him from having to answer questions about the morning incident.

Afterward, Forsdal said the two boys were hanging around the station looking at impounded bicycles there. He said the boys said, "Oh, oh, here they come," and fled out the back. A minute later, the Panthers dashed through the station and out the back after the boys, Forsdal said.

Lightfoot and Lt. Ellis Seibert of the day shift said nobody had given money to anyone.

Deputies argued the boys were afraid of the Panthers, but Beard said that was ridiculous. "We live in the community;" he said.

A Panther said county firemen in Marin City also have been questioning children, asking the same questions the deputies do. When deputies fuel their cars at the fire station, they trade information, he said.

The Panther said after they explained to the boys they were doing wrong to inform on black people, they went to the fire station and the boys returned money a fireman had given them.

The Panther reportedly told the firemen, "Stop bribing our black babies in our community."

Beard, who said he was speaking for the Black Panther Party, charged deputies were breaking the law by bribing children. Even paying them for picking up trash, he said, would violate child labor laws.

Higher Court Hearing In Hatchet Case

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court found yesterday that there was enough evidence to hold Lorraine Brocco for trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon after hearing her husband describe her attack upon him with a hatchet.

Henry Brocco, former Larkspur councilman, testified at the preliminary hearing that he awakened on his side of the couple's bed to find his wife hitting him on the head with the weapon on Oct. 27.

When he asked her what she was doing, Brocco said his wife, "came at me again and said 'I'll fix you.' "

He wrested the hatchet from her and called his daughter to help him attend to his wounds, he said. As he sat on the bathroom floor with his daughter helping him, Brocco said that Mrs. Brocco offered to call a doctor.

By the time an ambulance came, Mrs. Brocco was unconscious from an overdose of pills. Both were treated at Marin General Hospital, where Mrs. Brocco was a patient for almost a month.

As to whether his wife was under the influence of drugs at the time of attack, Brocco replied that he did not know. He said that she had been ill that day and had been taking medication.

Both filed suits in November for divorce which are still pending.

Mrs. Brocco was told to appear in Superior Court July 21 for arraignment.

County Teachers Get 5 Per Cent Pay Boost

The Marin County Board of Education last night adopted a 5 per cent across-the-board 1969-70 salary scale increase and agreed to raise pay for substitute teachers from $25 to $30 a day.

The 5 per cent increase results in a $36,000 addition to the current budget with salary schedules being increased from the present $7,315 - $14,089 to a schedule of $7,681 - $14,793, with the top salary in each case requiring a doctorate degree.

Nonteaching employees, whose salaries were adopted by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, received a 5 per cent increase effective July 1.

The board will consider administrative salaries at its Aug. 4 meeting, administrative services director Robert E. Spain reported.

Arnold Dolcini Jr. was elected president of the board to succeed Glen E. Robinson and Lee C. Richardson Jr. was elected vice president.

The board approved granting 131 elementary diplomas and 137 high school diplomas for Bayview students to be graduated in exercises tomorrow at San Quentin Prison.

It nominated Robinson to be the delegate to the 1969 State House Conference on Children and Youth to be held Nov. 10-11 in Sacramento, Spain said.

The Marin County Board of Education also:

"HAROLD!!"

Writer Sues On Garrison Case Story

William H. Turner of Mill Valley, a Ramparts magazine staff writer and former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, filed a $2 million libel suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court against The New Yorker magazine.

Turner charged in the suit that a article which appeared in the magazine's July 13, 1968 issue about New Orleans District Atty. Jim Garrison made false statements about Turner which injured his reputation and caused him to have a loss of earnings.

OTHER DEFENDANTS

Also named in the suit were R. H. Fleischmann, publisher of the magazine, and Edward Jay Epstein, author of "A Reporter at Large Garrison."

According to Turner, the article described how many persons were attracted to Garrison's investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy.

A number of there "were peripathetic demonologists found in New Orleans; they were attracted to Garrison like the children of Hamelin to the Pied Piper. At the head of the line stood Mark Lane, the author of Rush to Judgment, who together with William Turner, a staff writer for Ramparts, spent months assiduously combing Garrison's files on the case for new clues and devising ingenious schemes to produce new disclosures."

ANOTHER CHARGE

The other part of the article which Turner said was not true was an excerpt in which Turner is accused of causing a man named Eugene Bradley to be arrested on the strength of an anonymous letter.

The result of the article, Turner said in the suit, was that he was depicted as a poor investigator who "will do whatever is necessary to obtain publicity."

Turner ran unsuccessfully last year for the Democratic nomination for representative from the Sixth Congressional District.

Hamilton Burglary

Someone took $120 in cash and a watch valued at $30 from the home of M/Sgt. Aldo E. Giannelli at 161 East Kelly Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, sometime between July 2 and 4, according to Novato police reports.

Mill Valley Schools Find Budget Surplus

Surprised Mill Valley School board trustees last night heard that the district, facing strict budget cuts because of a recent reduction in state aid, is $230,000 richer than it thought it was.

Actual revenues from the area-wide school tax in the fiscal 1968-69 exceeded conservative estimates of revenue by the Marin County Superintendent of Schools Office, Supt. James A. Collins told the board.

Collins said the county schools office reported July 2 that the district had received $130,000 more during fiscal 1968-69 from the area-wide tax than had been estimated.

Based on the discrepancy between estimates and revenues, the board increased its 1969-70 area-wide tax revenue estimate by an extra $100,000, thus giving the district an additional $230,000 in its current budget.

The tentative budget, approved by the board last night, calls for an expenditure, including reserves, of $3,167,595 with an estimated tax rate of $3.10, including 85 cents in override taxes a decrease of some 3.5 cents from 1968-69.

Collins said he recommended the board place $100,000 of the extra money in reserve funds bringing the fund total to $125,000.

Trustees also agreed to Collins' recommendation that $17,000 of the remaining $137,000 be used to hire a full time principal for Strawberry Point School.

In addition, Collins asked that $40,000 be allocated to the maintenance and capital outlay funds, $60,000 to hire six teachers for the kindergarten program; $10,000 for textbooks and instructional materials; and $10,000 for an additional music teacher to restore the music program to last year's level.

Action on his recommendations was postponed to the July 28 meeting for further study.

Trustee John K. Robinson suggested some of the extra money be spent to fill two librarian vacancies. Collins said he hoped to recommend that both positions be restored after a staff study of the library program.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

OFFICERS — Named William P. Everts Jr. chairman, John K. Robinson clerk, and Joseph E. Bodovitz representative to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Elizabeth Jane Refi, second grade teacher at Park School, whoi s being married.

Full Disclosure Bill Is In Public's Interest

The Marin Council of Mayors and City Councilmen are on record as opposing a bill which would require all public officials to make full public disclosure of investments they hold for income or gain.

Their opposition seems to be based more on emotional reluctance to disclose their investments than on a careful analysis of what such a law seeks to accomplish.

The public good that would accrue from an airing of the financial ties of public officials far outweigh personal "embarrassment" that some local officials seem to feel would result from such disclosure.

The bill in question is AB 325, introduced by Assemblyman Jesse Unruh and 18 other legislators. We do not know the contents of the bill in their minutest details, and the details are subject to change as they pass through the various committees.

But the general intent of the bill is clear.

It would require public officials of counties, cities, and districts (advisory boards are exempted) to disclose real property they hold for gain or income. It does not include a home or property used primarily for personal or recreational purposes.

The aim is to disclose conflicts of interest, or better yet, to force a public official to get rid of his investments in companies with which the public agency which he serves will have dealings.

Consider some of the more prominent scandals that such a law could have forestalled.

Justice Abe Fortas of the United States Supreme Court was forced to resign, following reports of his relationship with a financial operator in trouble with the law.

Justice William O. Douglas quit his $12,000-a-year post with the Parvin Foundation, following an uproar over Fortas' receiving a $20,000 fee from the Louis Wolfson Foundation.

To argue that "important posts" like Supreme Court judgeships and other federal and state jobs should be subject to closer scrutiny than county and city positions is to impose a double standard. Integrity of officials and openness of government should be required equally in all levels of government.

To settle for a double standard — strict requirements in federal and state and laxity in local government—would be like crusading statewide for a clampdown against dangerous drugs, then letting members of your own household shoot heroin.

The full disclosure bill also covers investments of wives and children of public officials. At first blush, this may appear a bit harsh, but exempting wives and children would completely emasculate the bill.

The most corrupt public official with interests in gambling casinos could run as a near-pauper, having "turned over" his millions to his wife and children.

AB 325 and other bills of similar nature will be going through the hopper in Sacramento. We support the bill's intent to reduce conflict of interest in all levels of government, from federal to local.

The Mantids Hatched

Our Praying Mantid egg case hatched sometime during June. We missed the great day when a living chain of about 250 mantid nymphs emerged from the case and dropped to the ground, but close inspection of the case revealed some white fuzz, a tiny hole, and cutting it open we found it empty. Since they landed in a patch of periwinkle, we have not been able to locate any yet.

Right now, they are about the size of a mosquito and this, combined with their green color, makes them very difficult to see. At this stage their diet consists largely of aphids, caterpillars, flies, and other soft bodied insects. In time they will attain a length up to five inches and tackle almost every other insect.

Like a mantis waiting for its prey to come within reach of its lightning fast forelegs, we must be patient for awhile.

GOLDEN GATE VIEW

Bridge District Bus Proposal May Be Answer To Congestion

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

The radical proposal by the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District for a bus rapid transit system may be the best answer to Marin's traffic mess.

The feasibility of giving buses at least preference on freeways was shown recently by researchers at the Texas Transportation Institute in a study funded by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

They envisioned special bus ramps onto a freeway, and limiting the number of autos by traffic lights on the regular ramps. They acknowledged that some autos would be delayed, but added "this delay is not expected to exceed that experienced with freeway congestion under uncontrolled conditions. Buses, on the other hand, would have a greatly reduced terminal to terminal travel time."

THE NEW result, they concluded, would be "a substantial increase" in the number of persons (not vehicles) moving on a freeway — even with only "a nominal number of buses."

They could have been talking about Marin when they said the system's principal use would be in "urban areas that have developed at relatively low population densities."

Such a system, they said, would be either a long-term solution or an economic interim solution where rail transit will be needed in a later date.

"Only a modest capital investment" would be needed to set up a bus-freeway system, they said.

All that is needed now is a modest investment of effort by our public officialdom to do something about the mess that has frozen them into inaction for so many years.

SACRAMENTO'S "Laugh-In," featuring Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, made the Capitol rounds last week. In a letter to Governor Reagan, Bagley had some fun:

"I have just noted Jess Unruh's total support of your entire tax package. His support dismays me, and it should dismay you.

"Beware, sir, of former Democratic Speakers bearing gifts, for fear that a Trojan horse will be pulling our tax cart. . . .

"Me thinks there is some trap involved here somewhere."

STATE CONTROLLER Houston I. Flournoy had his troubles last week as the man whose signature was supposed to go on about 25,000 state checks a day. His explanation of his difficulties without a state budget was coined "Flournoy's complaint."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Do Not Downgrade Seniors Center

Your editorial of June 20 downgrading a building for the use of the senior citizens and the juniors of San Rafael was certainly in poor taste.

I wonder if you have taken into consideration the many years the seniors of Marin County have paid taxes here, and now those of us will soon have to give up our homes because we won't be able to afford to live in Marin County.

The pleasure the seniors get by coming together is at least something that should be encouraged. If you had ever worked with these people as I have, perhaps you would understand their need.

In San Rafael alone the Goldenaires Senior Club has a membership of 360 people.

We are the forgotten people and maybe that's what you want.

(There is no intent to "downgrade" senior citizens or any other group. The need for a center for seniors and youth is recognized, but we believe the need to improve a defective sanitation system is more pressing. — Editor.)

Cascade Unfeasible As Public Plunge

Opposing unrestricted, careless use of Mill Valley's Cascade Dam area isn't just selfishness by nearby Elders and Establishment as some Marinites' letters infer. Hazards and harassments involved are more than just one of those things.

Two children died in unsupervised Marin swimming pools in late June; one in Cascade Reservoir. The latter lacked "No swimming" signs.

Cascade reservoir is no gently sloped pond. The Water District created it solely for water storage; deep, with perpendicular sides.

In 1958, indiscriminate swimming and bonfire building near a jungle of dry brush and bay trees brought action by Cascade - Lovell residents. . . .

Soon afterwards, Mill Valley traded some other land for the four-acre reservoir site, and brought it into the city limits. . . . Property owners were assured in open meeting that municipal casualty insurance required police patrol plus ample signing prohibiting swimming and bonfires.

Mindful of Mill Valley's disastrous 1929 fire, the city declared the reservoir vital to Lovell-Cascade area fire protection.

The two narrow streets into the area are a traffic hazard. A major emergency could badly delay police and fire vehicles. Widening the steep slopes to two-lane standards would be tremendously expensive. . . .

Some non-taxpayers and residents of other Marin cities — and other counties — advocate development of Cascade as "a first class swimming pool." One heavy expense involved would be dressing rooms, etc. And such structures on those steep, narrow slopes would make a permanent eyesore out of one of the real beauty spots of Marvelous Marin.

Mill Valley's tax rate is higher this new fiscal year. Add up continued police patrol; a lifesaver staff; pool alteration (if it's possible); new service building; purifying the non-potable water to health standards; clearing the shores and down-dam area of cans; debris and bonfire traces — and make your own guess on future tax rates.

Frequent nudity, plus insults to non-swimmers and passing motorists cause annoyance. Likewise, parking in private driveways. Likewise ringing neighborhood doorbells to request use of phone or bathroom.

Mill Valley needs another swimming pool. Cascade area misses in all standards, and development would be too costly. The many recreational projects Mill Valley has listed must surely include ideal sites, easier of public access. Why not in Old Mill Park, where a mill dam and water wheel must have powered the historic lumber operation?

Unfair Advantage To Coast Guard

I want to comment on the letter by Peter D. Whitney of Inverness in which he rightly points out that the U.S. Coast Guard ignores West Marin zoning and density in seeking to acquire a property for a barracks and apartment building in Inverness.

I was the owner when the Inverness Valley Inn got the "Resort-Recreation" Use Permit in 1962. We were put under very severe restrictions — 10 units on 15 acres, with wide buffer zones between the housing and the creek, and between the housing on the road.

We were told that if we wanted more units (e.g., 20 units total), we would have to commit more acreage. We could not have brought in 80 dwelling units, even by using all the 52 acres available. The Coast Guard will put that number of units on half that acreage!

So the Coast Guard has at least a two-to-one advantage over the private landowner. It seems to me this is unfair competition with private, taxpaying industry!

LEFTY DEUTSCH, erratic rookie pitcher for the Delfern Daredevils baseball team, protested vigorously when the manager strode to the mound to yank him in the very first inning of a crucial contest. "What's the big idea?" roared Deutsch. "I struck out this bum that's at bat the last time he was up." "I know," agreed the manager wearily, "but this is the same inning."

Horace Sutton tells of a day the usually imperturbable columnist, Bob Considine, lost his cool. A nervous, over-effusive hostess introduced him four times as "Mr. Wright." Each time, he patiently corrected her, "My name, ma'am, is Considine." Finally she turned to him and cooed, "Tell us all what you do, Mr. Wright." Bob answered smoothly, "Not one thing since I invented the airplane" — and headed for the nearest exit.

At a full-dress inspection at Redstone Arsenal, Alabama, not long ago, PFC Jan Curran reports that the commanding officer halted abruptly in front of a freckle-faced recruit and ordered, "Button that pocket, trooper!" The recruit stammered, "Right now, sir?" "Of course, right now," roared the C.O.

So the recruit carefully reached out and buttoned the flap on the C.O.'s shirt pocket.

MARQUIS CHILDS

This Is How Rich Oil Tycoons Pay Little Or No Income Tax

DALLAS, Texas — Tax reform has a sinister sound here in the capital of petroleum. It has the look of a dagger pointed at the heart of the tax privileges that oil, along with all other minerals, has enjoyed for more than 40 years.

The 27½ per cent knocked off the oil producer's income for a "wasting asset" is the most conspicuous of these privileges. But there is another even dearer to the industry. This concerns the "intangibles," a word in the oil man's vocabulary equivalent to motherhood or patriotism. If Congress changes the tax code to eliminate the deduction for intangibles, it will be a dark day in Dallas.

It works like this. As an oil operator, whether an independent or one of the majors, 60 to 70 per cent of drilling costs are immediately deductible. And that applies if it is a dry hole or a big producer. In the infancy of the industry the idea was to provide an incentive to get more and more of the black stuff out of the earth.

Parlaying the 27½ per cent and the intangibles explains how some of the richest men in the country pay little or no federal income tax. The 27½ per cent skimmed off the top means on very large incomes a generous wherewithal. The 60 to 70 per cent deducted for intangibles allows the resourceful operator to acquire and exploit constantly increasing new holdings.

A STANDOUT in this league is H. L. Hunt. A legendary figure both for his penuriousness and his wealth, which rivals put at between $600 million and $1 billion, he is the No. 1 Independent with operations around the globe as well as in a half-dozen states, including Alaska.

For a number of years he paid either no tax or minuscule amounts as measured against his fabulous income. Hunt and his lawyers are so resourceful that, until the Bureau of Internal Revenue cracked down, even the deluge of rightist propaganda he puts out was tax deductible under the educational and charitable provision of the tax code. Although he proudly proclaims his generosity to political candidates on the far right — to Max Rafferty in California last year — the record shows his contributions are not in the fat class.

WITHOUT THE tax privileges, these sober finance men say, it will be impossible to find the $200 billion in capital required to supply the nation's petroleum needs through 1980. Inevitably, the talk turns to the industry's greatest derring-do — the huge find on the arctic slope in Alaska.

That endeavor staggers the imagination. The pipe line from Prudhoe Bay on Alaska's extreme northern boundary across 800 miles of frozen Tundra to Valdez in the south must be built on stilts. It will cost by conservative estimate $1 billion. A new-type ice-breaking tanker is being built to experiment with a route through the northwest passage. The pipe line will carry a million barrels of oil a day.

Despite the Nixon pledge in last year's campaign that the 27½ per cent will stand, the threat of reform is real. Those who have long argued the need to close a whole series of loopholes are riding the tide of a taxpayers' revolt. The national committee on tax justice headed by former Sen. Paul H. Douglas, a zealous advocate of tax reforms throughout his career, estimates an annual revenue gain of $1.6 billion by eliminating the depletion allowance and the deduction for intangibles.

WITHIN THE oil industry there is no unanimity on how to face the enemy. Bolder spirits, such as Robert G. Dunlop of Sun Oil, call for an offensive — demand a higher allowance, 30 or 33 per cent, as essential to cope with the country's expanding oil requirements. While it is still only a whisper, the realists are beginning to suggest that compromise is in order. They pull back at the thought that opening the door to any reduction will mean eventually abolishing the whole works.

Sen John J. Williams, R-Del., hardly an enemy of big business, proposed a cut to 20 per cent. This would be done in three stages at 2½ per cent a year. With some Republican backing for the Democrats determined on tax reform in the Senate, that would seem to be the likely result.

This is, however, far from certain.

Argentina Is Ripped By Student-Labor Disorder

The atmosphere in which Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller found himself upon arrival in Buenos Aires wasn't too much different than had greeted him in a dozen or so other Latin American countries.

There were the usual student labor demonstrations only partially controlled by a vastly increased security force. There were the usual anti-American and anti-Rockefeller slogans.

And there was some arson, including the burning of supermarkets in which the Governor's family has an interest.

There also were some differences.

IN ARGENTINA his host was President Juan Carlos Ongania, an austere Army man. On the day of the Governor's arrival, Ongania was entering his fourth year of a dictatorship which until a month ago had seemed to have support of most of Argentina's 23 million people.

As a dictatorship it had been unusually benign, permitting criticism and a free press.

It also had given the country a stability rare since the ouster in 1955 of Juan D. Peron.

The last year had seen the greatest economic progress in a decade. The cost of living rose 9.6 per cent in 1968 as opposed to 27.4 per cent the year before. The peso stayed steady at 350 to the dollar, and foreign reserves were up to a billion dollars.

THE GROSS national product was up 4.6 per cent after a decade of stagnation and a growth rate of at least six per cent was predicted for 1969.

From a total of 250,000 man-hours lost in strikes during 1967, the figure fell to 4,000 in the first six months of 1969.

Helped by a loan from the World Bank, a $530 million hydro-electric project was going up to help develop the thinly-populated Patagonian region in the south.

Then, during the last two weeks of May the blow fell, triggered on a comparatively minor issue—a nine-cent increase in school lunches.

In Corriente province a student protester was killed and spreading student-labor disorders became nationwide, finally quelled by intervention of the army. Fourteen persons died in Cordoba, the nation's third largest city.

THE DEMONSTRATIONS gave new unit to labor unions, still loyal to Peron and tarnished Ongania's reputation as the man who had brought order to Argentina.

To meet the new situation, Ongania replaced his economic minister, Adalbert Krieger Vasena, whose 21-month wage freeze had incurred the resentment of labor.

He upgraded education to ministerial level within his government, ordered an easier police hand in dealing with student demonstrations and promised new management-labor wage discussions in September.

"The revolution," he said, "will go on."

They Want To Name Supervisor Who Can Win Victory At Polls

Rumors continue in Petaluma as to who will be appointed to replace Leigh S. Shoemaker on the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors.

With each person, one gets a new name of a candidate who's absolutely "in" for the post. Although the list of persons publicly seeking the post is lengthy, names of unannounced candidates rank equally high in opinion polls.

Representatives of the Governor's office report that the official appointment may be another week or ten days in coming. Uppermost in the appointment is not only a person who can well represent southern Sonoma, but also someone who can win re-election. With the primary scheduled for next June, the new supervisor willl have less than a year to find his place in the pecking order of county government and still maintain relations at home to ensure victory at the polls.

IN THE meantime, southern Sonoma goes unrepresented in Santa Rosa. Watching the proceedings with a rather detached air is the retired Shoemaker. Shortly after the announcement of his resignation, he began speaking of the supervisors and county administrators in terms of "they."

Noting the slowness of budget deliberations, the dry-witted supervisor remarked, "Maybe they'll declare a one year moratorium on county government. I wonder if anyone would notice."

It was that dry humor that often carried the former supervisor through problems on the county level. Known as the dissenter by his own admission, Shoemaker clung rigidly to what he thought was right and never made remarks just to see himself quoted in the newspaper the next day.

DESPITE HIS reluctance to play politics and to join in the popularity games played at the county seat, Shoemaker easily won election to his post four times. While other supervisors were accused of being part of a clique and often are accused of being rude to constituents, Shoemaker remained respected throughout his 15 year career.

Tracing his public service ten years beyond that, Shoemaker became one of Petaluma's charter councilmen in 1946 when the city took on the charter form of government.

LISTED AMONG his achievements is the city hall built in the 1950s, the Petaluma Veterans Memorial Building and the preservation of Vallejo's adobe. Another one of his pet projects was the location of Sonoma State College within his supervisorial district in Rohnert Park.

Now completely "grounded" as he puts it, Shoemaker rarely leaves his home except for an occasional trip to the doctor's office. At the age of 65, the venerable supervisor is noticeably nostalgic about his career now over.

He has a right to be sentimental.

Annexation Of 1,000 Acres To Be Studied

The annexation of about 1,000 acres in Las Gallinas Valley — including the Marin County Civic Center — to the City of San Rafael will be considered by the Marin Local Agency Formation Commission at 8 p.m. Thursday in the supervisors' chambers of the Civic Center.

The area, now under County of Marin jurisdiction lies east of Highway 101 and is bounded generally by North San Pedro Road, the new Crest-Marin apartments off Lucas Valley Road and San Pablo Bay. The Los Ranchitos and Gallinas Village areas are excluded.

The annexation has been approved by the board of supervisors.

The commission also will consider formation of a Marin County Fire Protection District and three annexations to the Novato Sanitary District.

Mobile Home Variance Given

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill granted a variance yesterday to Herbert Angress to live in a mobile home on Shoreline Highway at Marshall for two months during construction of a permanent residence on the site.

A just-completed $22,000 home on the site, into which the Angress family were about to move, was destroyed by fire June 16.

Cordill withheld decision on a request by Carla Amundson of 1025 Meadowsweet Drive, outside the Corte Madera city limits, for a use permit to keep a horse. Area zoning is single-family residential.

Plea Entered In Burglary

Barry P. Baukol, 21, of San Rafael pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to burglarizing the Greenbrae Pet Hospital on April 21.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set sentencing for Aug. 18 and declared the offense to be second degree burglary.

Baukol is also awaiting sentencing on a conviction of selling methamphetamine.

Sonoma Library Is Given Federal Grant

The Sonoma State College Library has been allotted a grant by the Office of Education of the Department of Health Education and Welfare, according to A. S. Pickett, librarian.

The grant of $9,758 will include funds for reference sets, periodical back files and microfilms that are not included in the regular budget.

ART BUCHWALD

Lending Is No Longer Any Fun; You Gotta Tell Em The Truth

WASHINGTON — You can read all you want to about high interest rates and the problem the banks are having with "truth in lending," but it's only when you try to make a loan these days that you realize how tough things really are.

My friend Kalshiner went into a bank a few weeks ago to make a $1,000 loan. The assistant vice president said, "Yes, I'm sure we can do something."

"That's fine."

"Now the prime rate for loans is 8½ per cent."

"That sounds a little high, said Kalshiner, "but I'll take it."

"I said that was the prime rate. That isn't the rate you get. The prime rate is for our large clients who borrow over $1 million. Our rate to you would be 10 per cent."

"Wow, they should call that the prime rate," Kalshiner said. "It's higher."

"No jokes, Mr. Kalshiner. We're not in a laughing mood these days."

"Things are rough?"

"YOU DON'T know the half of it. Everyone wants money, and we don't have any money. Our safes are practically empty. We just don't know what we're going to do."

"I know what you're going to do."

"What?"

"You're going to raise the prime rate."

"You've been talking to David Rockefeller."

"As a matter of fact, I haven't," Kalshiner said. "But can we get on with my problem?"

"Of course. Now I must warn you that although we tell you the rate on your loan is 10 per cent, it's really 18.65 per cent."

"WHY DID you have to tell me that?"

"Because," the vice president said as he put his hand on a Bible, "of the Truth-in-Lending Act, which requires us to tell you the actual amount of interest as opposed to the interest we advertise."

"Well, why don't you tell the people the actual interest rate in the first place?"

"Because under the Truth-in-Lending Act we're not required to do so. Wouldn't you rather think you were paying 10 per cent than 19 per cent?"

"I guess so."

"Now, under the Truth-in-Lending Act, I am also required to tell you that we will deduct the first payment and the interest out of your $1,000 loan, which will add another 1.94 per cent to your interest charges."

"I knew you'd get over 20 per cent before I got out of here."

"Mr. Kalshiner, if you don't want this loan, we can give it to somebody else."

"I'm sorry. I see you still have your hand on the Bible. Is there anything else you want to tell me?"

"THERE ARE certain bank handling charges for putting through the loan which will add another 2 per cent."

"Bonnie and Clyde were amateurs compared to you guys," Kalshiner said.

"Mr. Kalshiner, that wasn't a nice thing to say. Do you think we like telling people the truth about our loans? Do you think it's fun to have to keep my hand on this Bible every time someone wants to borrow money? We didn't want the Truth-in-Lending Act. We fought it because we knew how unhappy it would make everyone. But it's the law of the land and all the fun has gone out of the loan business."

"I'm sorry," Kalshiner said. "Heck, if I have to pay 23 per cent for a loan, it's fine with me."

The vice president put his hand back on the Bible. "Now let me tell you about the postage charges."

New Plan Announced To Aid Home Industry

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The chairman of the federal Home Loan Bank Board has announced a plain aimed at stabilizing the nation's sagging housing construction business by making long-term, five-year loans to savings and loan associations.

Dr. Preston Martin said offering of the loans to the 5,000 members of the federal home loan bank system will be the first such long-term advances since 1958.

Currently, the loans are issued on a one-year basis to system members, representing virtually every major savings and loan association in the nation.

At a news conference in the State Capitol yesterday, Martin said the loan funds would be provided by a series of debenture sales with a five-year maturity. He said the first issue would produce an estimated $200 million.

The board is the agency of the federal government which provides a credit reservoir for thrift and home financing institutions through 12 regional home loan banks. The agency regulates federal savings and loan associations.

"We feel it will have a salutory effect on mortgate credit," Martin told reporters. "We are widening and deepening the sources of mortgage credit for the country."

"We are going to the money markets for funds which we in turn will lend to the savings and loans," he explained.

Martin said he believed the move was in line with the Nixon administration's anti-inflation policies.

"The disinflating goal of the Nixon administration is, of course, to cool off an overheated economy," he said. "Housing is an 'overcool' section of the economy."

He said that housing starts nationwide had dropped from a January level of 1.9 million to a current level of probably less than 1.5 million.

"The contraction has produced a housing shortage," he said. "And that shortage is particularly acute in California."

Martin, former California Savings and Loan Commissioner, said it was the Nixon administration's aim to avoid housing being cut back "too far."

"The Home Loan Bank Board is attempting to stabilize housing credit—to cushion its being cut back so that we do not have as we had in 1966 single family residential starts dropping by 40 and 50 per cent," he said.

He noted such drastic decreases drove members of the home building industry out of business and that some do not return.

He said the amount of money to be made available by the board "will depend on the demand and the credit worthiness of the borrower. We don't automatically lend to savings and loans."

$125 Fine For Weed Possession

The wife of a psychology professor — formerly of Mill Valley — was fined $125 yesterday in Marin Superior Court for possessing marijuana.

The district attorney's office had recommended a $500 fine and the probation department, $100. Judge Joseph G. Wilson asked J. W. (Jake) Ehrlich, the attorney for Barbara Ellen Schiffman, 24, if he had anything to say.

Ehrlich replied, "I'll go for the lower figure."

The judge, smiling, concurred. He also declared the offense a misdemeanor.

Mrs. Schiffman and her husband, David Charles, 28, were arrested Nov. 15, 1968, by Narcotics agents and postal inspectors who were searching for drugs believed to have been shipped illegally through the mail.

Although they sought LSD, they found only enough marijuana for six or seven cigarettes.

In May, Mrs. Schiffman pleaded guilty and charges against her husband, a New York professor, were dismissed.

Report Is Due On Ferryboats

A report on the feasibility of increased ferry boat service from Marin to San Francisco will be delivered tomorrow to the Marin County Transit District board.

Arthur D. Little Inc., San Francisco consultants, have said that improved ferry service across San Francisco Bay is practical from either Point San Quention or Paradise Cay.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. in the planning commission chambers of the Civic Center.

Seventy per cent of British Columbia's 366,255 square miles — an area larger than Ohio, California, Oregon and Washington combined — is covered by forests.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Food And Drug Administration Has The Last Word On Drugs

VAN DELLEN

The Food and Drug Administration has the power of life or death over any drug submitted for approval. The agency decides whether it can be tested on an experimental basis, and if approved for this purpose, they again must pass on the results of the investigations. This may take years even tho the chemical is a potential life saver. There is very little the public can do to hasten the process because this is the way the law is interpreted.

One of the most interesting hassles with the FDA centers about DMSO (dimethyl sulfoxide). Three of our best pharmaceutical companies manufacture the compound, and since 1965, the FDA has refused to allow any clinical trials. Last fall they relaxed restrictions limiting tests on humans to local applications of the drug for a 14-day period. Meanwhile, DMSO has become a prescription product in Germany and Austria and more than 800 scientific articles have been written on the chemical.

WE ASSUME the problem centers about the unique properties of DMSO. When applied to the skin, the chemical passes through the epidermis and is capable of carrying other chemicals along with it. In other words, it does not need to be taken orally or via injection. Repeated tests show that DMSO relieves pain, relaxes muscles, and is anti-inflammatory. It dilates blood vessels and dissolves certain types of collagen fibrous tissues. The chemical has been reported to be of value in a variety of diseases and painful conditions including arthritis, fungal infections, and circulatory diseases.

One objection is that DMSO changes the refractive index of the lenses of the eyes of certain laboratory animals. When applied daily to the skin of human volunteers for 90 days, none showed ocular abnormalities. There also is a possibility that some people may develop a hypersensitive response.

ACCRODING TO Dr. Stanley W. Jacob, such toxic reactions are rare. The most common side effects are skin irritation and a sulfide (rotten egg) or garlic odor on the breath.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

BITTEN BY DOG

Mrs. T. T. writes: My child was nipped, not bitten, by a dog. It was not a stray, but my neighbor's pet. Incidentally, our neighbor is an attorney. After the incident, I washed the wound thoroughly and sprayed it with an antiseptic. When I called the doctor, he told me to forget it. Can rabies turn up at a later date or should I listen to my physician?

REPLY

Take his advice even though no one, including your physician, is capable of making you forget. So long as the dog is known and watched there is no need for concern. Children often provoke a healthy dog to bite.

MARKS FROM GLASSES

S. C. L. writes: I would like to know if prolonged wearing of eyeglasses can cause a person's nose to become indented. I always have a red mark after taking them off and I am afraid my nose will be disfigured.

REPLY

Many perople have a reddened area when the specs are removed but I doubt if the glasses are heavy enough to cause a permanent indentation.

GINGIVITIS

A reader writes: How can gingivitis be avoided? My gums have been inflamed and although the condition is almost under control, I'd like to prevent future trouble along this line.

REPLY

Good oral hygiene is the best preventive. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on gum disorders.

Judge's Mind Changed On Sanity Trial Issue

A Marin Superior Court judge ruled yesterday that a condemned man is entitled to a jury to determine if he is sane enough to die but then withdrew his decision temporarily after attorneys in the courtroom offered advice on the matter.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson first said that a California law which provides for a trial by judge only to determine if a man previously declared insane has recovered his sanity enough to be executed is unconstitutional.

The convict in question was Derryl Thomas Kemp, who has spent the last seven years in prison hospitals. He was declared too insane to be executed at San Quentin by a Marin jury in September 1961.

After listening to arguments by Kemp's attorney, Judge Wilson said that he thought the law providing only trial by judge to determine if he has regained his sanity violated Kemp's constitutional rights.

At that point San Rafael attorney William O. Weissich, who was in the courtroom on another case, rose to suggest that the judge read a case covering the question.

Judge Wilson agreed to take the matter under submission and set a trial for Kemp for the week of Oct. 27.

At this point another attorney present, J. W. (Jake) Ehrlich, of San Francisco, stage-whispered to Weissich that the case he mentioned did not have anything to do with the question at hand.

Nixon Requests Extension Of Unemployment Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon urged Congress today to bring 4.8 million more workers under unemployment insurance and to extend the period of benefits during times of high unemployment.

"Over 57 million workers are protected by unemployment insurance," the President said in a message to the Senate and House. "However, almost 17 million are not covered. More than half of these are employes of state and local governments."

"The last extension of coverage was enacted during the Eisenhower administration, when 6 million additional workers were included; there is a clear social need today to cover as many more employees as we can," he added.

Nixon said the 4.8 million workers he proposes to include in the system are in real need of protection, since many of them have low wages, little job security and no prospect of severance pay if they were to be laid off.

He broke the 4.8 million figure down this way:

1.6 million workers in firms with less than four employes.

400,000 on large farms employing four or more workers in each of 20 weeks.

200,000 engaged in agricultural processing.

1.8 million working for nonprofit organizations.

600,000 employees of state hospitals and universities.

200,000 salesmen, delivery tradesmen and others not now defined as employes.

Preliminary Hearing For Suspect Burglars

A preliminary hearing was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for next Monday for two men accused of two burglaries in Mill Valley last Wednesday.

Charged with the offenses are Paul K. McSweeney, 22, and Michael William Todd, 25, both of San Rafael.

IS THERE ANYTHING HARMFUL IN MEAT TENDERIZERS? According to "CONSUMERS ALL"* meat tenderizers have as their basic ingredient PAPAIN, a vegetable enzyme of the tropical papaya melon. The tenderizer may be prepared without the addition of spices, dextrose and seasonings. Ordinarily the ingredients are harmless. However some people have reported an allergic reaction to papain even when the meat treated with it is cooked. Persons on low sodium diets should avoid those products that use salt as a carrier. Kita Zucco of Danville asks: WHAT IS THE NUTRITIONAL VALUE OF JICAMA? HOW MANY CALORIES AND CARBOHYDRATES DOES IT HAVE? Jicama, yam bean root, contains Vitamin C. It is a low calorie starchy vegetable. 4 ounces (½ cup) equals 45 calories and contains 20 mg. Vitamin C (about ⅓ MDR). Most of the calories are from carbohydrates. "IS IT SAFE TO EAT AN EGG WHEN IT IS BLOODSHOT?" asks Mrs. Saryl Weinstein of Point Richmond. The answer is YES according to our home economist. Bloodspots or streaks in eggs are from the hen's reproductive tract as an egg is being formed. The candling method checking eggs doesn't always pick it up. There is no health hazard in a bloodspot.

TV IN REVIEW

Musicals To Replace Westerns

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It is a rather unique feeling to look at next season's new television series and find not a western or private eye show among them.

The antiviolence syndrome, brought on by reaction to the assassinations of Martin Luther King Jr. and Robert Kennedy, is clearly in evidence, despite alarmist reports to the contrary.

What will there be instead of the gunslingers and square-jawed private investigators?

Well, for instance, there will be five new music and variety series. Leslie Uggams will have one, and so will Andy Williams, and so will Jim Nabors. And Jimmy Durante and the Lennon Sisters will share one. And there will be an entry called "The Music Scene," focusing on hit records.

Situation comedies, those bread-and-butter staples of the net works, will be back in force again, with no less than eight new ones on tap.

COSBY, TOO

Bill Cosby will have one, and so will Debbie Reynolds. Then there will be the one based on the works of James Thurber, "My World, and Welcome to It," and also "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," about a widower and his son.

There will be "The Governor and J.J." about a politician and his daughter. There will be "When in Rome," about a professor and his offspring. There will be "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," about a rich fellow who loves the simple life. And there will be "The Brady Bunch," about a widow and widower, each with large families, who get married.

In the drama-melodrama-film comedy area, about 10 new series will try to make us forget all about cowboys and cops. Well, almost—not altogether . . . well, you know what I mean.

NEW PEOPLE'

"The New People" will deal with youngsters who form their own society when marooned on an island. "The Survivors" will tell us of the trials and tribulations of the ugliest people on earth— "The beautiful people" of the jet set. "Love-American Style" will offer primarily lighthearted tales of contemporary romance.

"Medical Center" and "Marcus Welby, M.D." will deal with doctors. "The Movie of the Week," a 90-minute series, will naturally have a wide range of subjects. "Bracken's World" is about the behind-the-scenes action in a movie studio.

"Room 222," will focus on a Negro teacher — a man — in a high school. "Then Came Bronson" will be about a young ex-newspaperman who sets out across the nation on a motorcycle in search of the meaning of life and all that. "The Bold Ones" will tell about fictional heroes in such contemporary areas as medicine and law enforcement.

That Bronson fellow, by the way, reminds me of a young would-be reporter, now a network newsman, who once came into the United Press International Bureau looking for a job. I directed hin to the head man, Fran Leary, a very tough fellow to impress. "Mr. Leary," said the young man, "I'm pursuing journalism." Replied Fran: "I hope you catch it."

Station Wagon Checks Urged

DETROIT (UPI)—Owners of 1969 General Motors station wagons equipped with dual-action tailgates may be getting dust and small quantities of exhaust fumes in their interiors, the company warned yesterday.

G.M. advised 20,200 owners of Chevrolet and Pontiac wagons to return their vehicles to dealers for inspection and possible installation of a small filler plate that may have been omitted in production.

Missing plates will be installed at no charge, G.M. said.

Price Doubled For Firefly Catchers

ELK GROVE VILLAGE, Ill. (AP) — Because demand has increased, Alan S. Antonik says, he is having to double the price he pays children for fireflies, from half a cent to a penny.

Antonik, president of Antonik Laboratories, said he needs 1.5 million fireflies this summer instead of 600,000 as in the past. Chemicals from the bugs' lighting system are used in hospital tests to detect heart attacks and muscle diseases.

Mountains Moved By Earthquake

WASHINGTON (AP) — The great Alaskan earthquake shoved some mountains over 50 feet, ballooned a section of ocean floor up five stories, and left one island 30 feet higher and tilted to one side, the Coast and Geodetic Survey reported today.

The Commerce Department agency's newest findings were made in the four years since the Good Friday temblor which killed 131 and left more than $750 million damage.

The agency said the quake:

Shifted the Chugach and Kenai Mountains, 80 miles from Anchorage, 50 feet to the south.

Dropped the south pass of the mountains almost 10 feet.

Ballooned the ocean floor up 50 feet between Kodiak and Montague Islands in the Gulf of Alaska.

Shoved Ushagat, Afognak and Kodiak islands to the southeast 50 feet.

Pushed Montague Island, in Prince William Sound at the quake's epicenter, up 30 feet and tilted it, leaving one side 10 feet above the other.

Belvedere's Dogs Win Leash Stay

Belvedere dogs won at least one year of continued freedom last night as the city council voted unanimously not to join the new countywide animal control program.

Mayor Thomas S. Price, noting Tiburon also had not joined, questioned the value of Belvedere joining "when a dog runs across the highway into Tiburon would be free. Besides, I'm not sure I want a stronger dog control ordinance," Price said.

Adoption of the countywide ordinance, to be enforced by a beefed up Marin County Humane Society dog catching crew, would have obliged the city to contribute $404 to the county program, and to levy $5 for dog licenses, up $1 from the current fee.

City Mgr. William L. Cavalli, somewhat surprised by the council's decision, reminded them he had polled them by telephone last week and that a majority of them had agreed they would approve adoption of the countywide ordinance. As a result, he said, he had written the Marin County Board of Supervisors assuring them Belvedere would join the program.

But the four councilmen present last night did not explain why they had changed their minds. Councilman Sally G. Mathews was absent.

Son To Post As Attorney In Belvedere

William H. MacKay, Belvedere city attorney for 11 years, resigned last night and was promptly replaced with his son, Robert F. MacKay.

Mayor Thomas S. Price said the resignation was "not a surprise to us — we've know about it for some time." The letter of resignation, which did not explain why he was resigning, was accepted by the council "with regret."

At the suggestion of City Mgr. William L. Cavalli, the younger MacKay was appointed city attorney for the rest of the fiscal year that began last Tuesday at the same rate as his father, $275 a month. The younger MacKay had served as the city's deputy attorney since February 1968.

The senior MacKay, 73, lives in Kentfield. His son lives in San Rafael.

Panel Will Discuss Toning Down Sign

The Larkspur Planning Commission will meet at 8 p.m. today in city hall at which time it will discuss a request of Disco, 1 Larkspur Plaza, to tone down the red, white and blue colors on the fascia board of the department store.

It was reported erroneously in the Independent-Journal July 4 that the commission would meet last night.

House Permit Depends On Saving Bay View

The Belvedere City Council last night granted a variance for a three-story house on condition that it be lowered enough to preserve the bay view from the adjacent home of city planning commissioner William Rafter. (Another Belvedere City Council story, page 1).

Architect Rodney Friedman, who fought for weeks to win a reversal of the planning commission's denial of his variance, said he will try to lower his house four to six feet, but indicated he will come back before the council if he cannot meet its condition that his house be no higher than the railing on Rafter's balcony.

If Friedman's house were higher than this, Rafter said, "it would depreciate the value of my property."

Friedman's attorney, Gordon C. Wright, said that Friedman would not want to do anything "to destroy the concept of the house." The new house is to be between 226 and 240 Bay View Avenue.

Councilman Merrit K. Ruddock, who moved unsuccessfully to postpone a decision again, said Friedman was "unwise to press his suit against the feeling he is meeting."

When Friedman attempted to explain the difference in elvations between his home site and the Rafter home, Ruddock said, "We're being lectured to; can you be civil to us?"

Tempers also flared when Rafter said Friedman was planning to build an "unnecessarily" large house. Mrs. Friedman told Rafter this was "none of your business."

The Belvedere City Council Also:

DISSOLUTION — Took no action on a suggestion from the parks and recreation commission that it be dissolved. Chairman Roger Felton, saying it was "accomplishing very little," told councilmen "the whole commission is feeling there is no need for a commission."

BONDS — Adopted a resolution asking President Richard M. Nixon and Congress to oppose proposed legislation that would jeopardize the tax-exempt feature of state and municipal bonds.

FIRE DISTRICT — Urged the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission to form a fire protection district for unincorporated areas of the county to eliminate "double taxation" of city residents for this service to residents outside cities.

BAY — Heard City Atty. Robert F. MacKay report the State Lands Commission's staff had recommended annexation to Belvedere of Richardson Bay between the present city limit and the Sausalito city limit. The staff recommendation now must be approved by the commission.

SEAL — Sent back to the drawing board a proposed design for a city seal after councilmen differed on whether the island in the design was Belvedere.

BID — Awarded a $10,360 contract to Thornton Paving Co. of San Rafael to resurface Bay View Avenue. There were six bids.

SIREN — Asked City Mgr. William L. Cavalli to study changing the hour of the daily fire siren test, now sounded at 4:30 p.m. ,Cavalli, responding to complaint about the siren from Mrs. Samuel J. Mann of 26 Lagoon Road, said "we can do it at 2 a.m. if she would rather."

AUDIT — Hired Sleezer & Eckhoff of San Rafael to do the city's annual audit for $650.

44 Park Cases Are Dismissed

BERKELEY (AP) — Charges against 44 persons arrested in a mass roundup May 22 during people's park protest marches have been dismissed by Municipal Judge Floyd Talbott.

Out of 482 arrested at the time, charges have either been dismissed in court, including the 44 yesterday, or dropped before reaching trial, for 417 persons. There have been no convictions.

The charges ranged from failure to disperse to blocking a public street.

The Alameda County district attorney's office will try again tomorrow for a conviction when the remaining 55 cases come to trial before Talbot.

Girl Seized In Raid Sent To Youth Court

The case of Joann Myers, 19, of San Francisco has been accepted by juvenile court, it was reported yesterday in Marin Municipal Court. Miss Myers was arrested May 27 in a raid on a house near Inverness where drug agents said they confiscated over $100,000 worth of hashish.

She is charged with possession of the drug for sale.

Heiresses Ask Juvenile Court

The cases of twin heiresses who are accused of growing marijuana at a rented Kentifeld home were referred yesterday to the probation department to see if they are acceptable to Marin Juvenile Court.

Judge Peter Allen Smith told Deborah Wadsworth Prentice Ettinger and Pamela Prentice Ettinger, 19, to return to Marin Municipal Court July 21.

The girls, who were arrested June 12, are the granddaughters of the co-founder of Prentice-Hall Inc., New York publishing firm.

Wrong Address

Richard J. Burrill of 50 0Quietwood Drive, San Rafael said yesterday that his son, Gregory James Burrill, 25, has not lived at that address for five years. The younger Burrill had given that address when arrested for drunken driving June 28.

Neighborhood Panel Rules Out Hostel

BERKELEY (AP) — The South Berkeley Model Cities Neighborhood Council voted unanimously last night against establishment of a summer youth hostel in an empty Navy housing unit.

The Berkeley School District, which owns the unit, had considered leasing it for two months to a group of Berkeley "street people" for a people's pad, to care for an expected summer influx of youngsters.

School Supt. Richard Foster declared last Thursday, however, that he would not recommend such a lease unless it were approved by the neighborhood council representing the unit's area.

After the council's action, Art Goldberg of the People's Pad Steering Committee asserted that more than 250 residents in the predominately Negro neighborhood had signed petitions supporting a hostel.

"We're ignoring what the council says and, armed with our petitions, we're going direcetly to the school board to ask for a lease," he said.

School board members plan to build an adult education center on the site of the units from which nearly 60 families were evicted in March.

Foster said the board of education would "reserve the final voice."

Trustees Set Closed Sessions

The Bolinas-Stinson School District board will hold closed meetings at 7 p.m. today and 8 p.m. Thursday to interview teacher candidates. The board will go into open session if any hiring action is to be taken, Supt. Clarence B. Larison said.

The board will go into open session at 8:30 p.m. today to open bids on an Espenet desk made by Bolinas cabinetmaker Arthur E. Carpenter.

Both meetings will be at Bolinas School.

Warrant For Man Who Missed Court

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday issued a bench warrant with bail set at $1,000 for Bryce James Mitchell, 26, of Pacifica when he failed to appear in court for a trial setting date.

Mitchell was scheduled to be tried this week on a charge of falsely passing a prescription for dangerous drugs at a San Rafael pharmacy Oct. 28.

Goldrushers—Marin's Diehard 49er Fans Unite

By GARY TISCHLER

Some 32 diehard San Francisco 49er fans, all of them cherishing an unrequited love for the NFL title, became a group with a name yesterday, held their first luncheon, got a shot at a threesome of 49er luminaries and adjourned until Sept. 22.

The fans, most of them loyal followers from way back, were at the first luncheon of the Marin County chapter of the San Francisco 49er Goldrushers, headed by Dave Scofield, the Voice of Kezar Stadium.

On hand or this formational luncheon at Dominic's Restaurant in San Rafael were former 49er great Joe Perry, fullback Gary Lewis and 49er publicist George McFadden.

This particular group, which is expected to grow larger, will meet for a luncheon with designated front-line 49er players every Monday following a 49er game when the 1969 season begins.

Most of the group consisted of lawyers, real estate men and retired businessmen, although three members of Terra Linda High School's 1969 Marin County Athletic League grid champions were also on hand to give the luncheon a touch of youth. They were all league linebacker John Dohn, end Jack Dennis and halfback Matt Bowman.

Most of the opening luncheon was taken up with a lively question-and-answer session with the 49er threesome, although a steering committee was also formed.

The steering committee consists of Gil Madeiros, Bob Stribling, Harry Hartunian and Price Hall. The meetings will become co-educational, according to Hall, a fair enough proposition since some of the most fanatical season ticket-holders are women.

Lewis, a jaunty 238 pounds, may become the hit of the banquet circuit for the 49ers. He displayed a deft mugging sense, refreshing immodesty and a willingness to talk, something unusual in most athletes, with the exception of Joe Namath.

A question about his weight, which is too much right now, drew a quick grin from Lewis.

"I've been working the last three months to get it down," he said. "I'd like to be able to play at 215 pounds personally, but I expect to lose around 15 pounds or so and get down to 220."

Lewis and Perry got into a spirited discussion with Hartunian, who longingly raised the issue of the disappearance of the swift, lean back in the 49er ranks.

"You've got one right there," Perry said pointing to Lewis.

This didn't quite satisfy Hartunian, who obviously had something more than the hard-hitting fullback in mind, although Lewis pointed out that "with all due modesty, I'm just as good as anybody in the league as far as the footrace is concerned."

"Just what kind of runner did you have in mind," Perry asked.

"Well, somebody like you," Hartunian said.

All the 49er staff present praised head coach Dick Nolan.

"He's real quiet, talks in a low voice," Lewis said. "But when he talks, man you listen. He believes in running for daylight. That's what I believe."

"He is one of the brightest of the young coaches in football," Perry said. "I've played under quite a few, old and young, and he's one of the best."

Quite a few times during the hour-and-a-half proceedings, the good natured and often-frustrated hope of a 49er title was raised.

"Wait till next year," one of the Goldrushers yelled.

"No, it's this year," another countered.

The diehards haa organizaed.

Candlestick Weather Not Bolin's Cup Of Tea

Bob Bolin blasted Candlestick Park verbally and recommended San Francisco's Board of Supervisors blow it up literally instead of investing more money in it.

"It's not a place for baseball when the wind is whipping the way it was during the weekend," said Bolin. "It's a place to fly kites."

Rarely is there no wind at Candlestick. In the morning it is calm. But ball games aren't played in the morning.

Rarely is there a wind at Candlestick like the one that whipped itself into frenzied gusts of 35 miles an hour last Saturday. The only reason Bolin wasn't blown off the mound, like Stu Miller in the 1961 All-Star Game, is because he is 6-4, 225.

Bolin's displeasure with Candlestick is understandable. He had just lost a 7-1 decision to Phil Niekro and the Braves. Only two weeks before he had beaten Niekro and the Braves in Atlanta by an identical 7-1 score.

He's A Hot Weather Pitcher

Bolin is a hot weather pitcher. He comes from Hickory Grove, S.C., where mid 90 temperatures and matching humidity are considered proper weather for this time of year. That was the way it was in Atlanta a fortnight ago when Bolin beat the Braves.

Niekro is a knuckleball pitcher and there's nothing more a knuckleballer likes than a bit of wind. A knuckleball does funny things even when there is no wind. But in the wind it acts as though it were loaded with Mexican jumping beans.

To his credit, Niekro gauged Candlestick's gusts with such amazing accuracy that his knuckler did a disciplined dipsy-do dance on its way to the plate. "He's a human anemometer," said an admiring press box observer. "He'd never be beaten if he pitched all his games in Candlestick."

Helped Miller's Butterfly Ball

Stu Miller's butterfly ball often acted like a slowed-down knuckleball in Candlestick's wind. Garry Schumacher, dean of major league publicity men, used to insist Stu propelled the ball with his pulse. He really didn't. If he had thrown it off the pulse in his right wrist, the ball would have gotten to the plate sooner.

"Slow, slower and 2 cents postage due," was the way the late Arnott Duncan, who wrote beautiful baseball stories for the Arizona Republic, once described Miller's butterfly pitch.

Even though he was blown off the mound in the 1961 All-Star Game, Miller never rapped Candlestick's capricious breezes. He knew they benefitted his butterfly ball just as they now benefit knuckleballs such as Niekro throws.

But for pitchers like Bolin, hot, humid, windless weather is a must for success.

Cal's, Hub City Win In Softball

Ron Koller's three-run homer helped Cal's Steakhouse nick the Native Sons, 12-9, in a 16-inch slow pitch division game of the San Rafael Recreation Department's Adult Softball League at Albert Park last night.

In a C-II game, Hub City downed Gilmore Shell in a slugfest 11-10. Jim Mann had three hits for the losers.

Astros Break A Jinx

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Don Wilson overcame his early inning jinx as Houston snapped its Candlestick Park hex, and the Astros' spell over the San Francisco Giants continues.

The flame-throwing Wilson struck out 14 Giants and recorded an 8-2 victory yesterday in the opener of a three-bame series.

The victory was the seventh straight for Houston over the Giants.

Shooting for the eighth straight today was Larry Dierker, 11-5, facing the Giants' Mike McCormick, 5-4.

RARE EVENTS

But Astros' victories at Candlestick Park have been as rare as hen's teeth. When the Giants swept a four-game series there earlier this season, it gave them a 51-16 record at home against Houston, 39-6 in the last 45 games.

Wilson, trying to change the trend, struck out 10 batters over the last five innings following a sluggish start, and boosted the Astros over .500 at 43-42.

Wilson raised his record to 9-7.

"The first couple of innings have been my downfall," admitted Wilson. "If I get past them, I seem to do all right. But I've been knocked out early in some loses and that's not good for the ERA."

LOWERS ERA

Wilson, who tied the major league mark of 18 strikeouts last year, lowered his earned run average to 3.84.

Loser Ray Sadecki, 3-8, was staked to a 1-0 lead in the first inning on Tito Fuentes' single, a wild pitch and Bob Burda's pinch single.

Marty Martinez' walk and Curt Blefary's two-run homer pushed the Astros ahead in the fifth.

."Willie McCovey broke some blood vessels in his right shin and will probably miss Tuesday's game," trainer Leo Hughes said after the first baseman fouled a ball off his own leg.

Kialoa First To Ireland

CORK, Ireland (AP) — The Kialoa, one of three vessels to arrive here yesterday in the Cruising Club of America's transatlantic yacht race, was unofficially declared the corrected time winner.

The Ondine and the American Eagle also were among the first boats to reach Ireland. The official results are expected to be announced Thursday. There are 23 contestants in the race, which began on June 22 from Newport, R.I.

N.Y. Great 'Red' Rolfe Dies At 60

HANOVER, N.H. (AP)—Robert A. "Red" Rolfe, one of the New York Yankees' all-time greats who helped the club to six American League pennants, died today. He was 60.

Rolfe, whose brilliant playing career was shortened by poor health, died at his home on Governor's Island in nearby Guilford after a lingering illness.

He retired as athletic director at Dartmouth College here, his alma mater, in 1967 after undergoing surgery for an intestinal disorder.

A native of Penacook, N.H., the soft-spoken Rolfe enjoyed a career unequalled in sports. He led Dartmouth to the first Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League championship in 1930 and served as the team captain the next year before signing with the Yankees.

Afler three years in the minor leagues, he was promoted to the Yankees and remained with the club until forced to retire after the 1942 season. He recently was named the Yankees' all-time third baseman.

.289 LIFETIME

Rolfe was the Yankees' regular third baseman from 1935 through 1941. He compiled a lifetime average of .289 in helping New York to the Pennant, and five world championships, from 1936 to 1942 under Manager Joe McCarthy.

Rolfe's best year was in 1939, when he batted .329 and led the league in hits, doubles and runs scored.

Rolfe became head baseball and basketball coach at Yale following his retirement from baseball.

He joined the Detroit Tigers as farm director in 1948 and a year later became the team's manager.

Peters' Pitching Eases Manager's Stomach Ache

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Reggie Jackson has been a headache all season for rival managers. But last night, Gary Peters eased Don Gutteridge's stomach trouble.

Peters gave up only two hits as he pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 2-0 victory over Oakland, blanking Jackson on four trips to the plate.

AT EASE

"He made it easy on my stomach," Gutteridge, the White Sox manager, said after the game. "I felt more at ease with a two-run lead the way he was pitching than I have at times with a five-run lead."

Mixing his pitches effectively, Peters kept the A's off-balance throughout the game. He was touched for a tainted double in the second by Danny Cater and a solid two-base knock by Joe Rudi in the eighth.

In one stretch, the Chicago left-hander set down 16 A's in a row before giving up his only walk to Sal Bando in the seventh.

HUGE CHEERS

Jackson, the major league's leading home run hitter with 34, drew huge cheers from the crowd of 26,659, largest of the season here, every time he stepped to the plate.

He struck out in the first, lined out to right in the fourth, grounded to second in the seventh and ended the game by lofting a high fly to deep center.

"He's strong," Peters said of Jackson. "The one he pulled to right was on the outside of the plate. Not many batters could have pulled it with power like he did. The last one he hit, I don't think he was looking for it. It was high and down the middle, a fast ball."

DOUBLEHEADER

Moving back to Chicago for a twinbill today, Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 5-7, of Oakland faced Paul Edmondson, 1-1, in the first game and the A's Jim Nash, 4-5, faved Joel Horlen, 5-9, in the second.

"I felt great tonight," Peters, now 6-9, said. "I have been feeling better each time out. I don't know if it's psychological or not, but I may have had the new mound height or the new strike zone in the back of my mind."

"You know you're lower, but you don't feel it out there," he said.

The A's now have lost four in a row, but manager Hank Bauer isn't thinking of pushing any panic button.

"We got good pitching and no hitting—that's the name of the game tonight," he said. "Sometimes we get hitting and sometimes we get pitching. Lately we haven't been able to put it together."

DUNCAN

Bauer inserted light-hitting catcher Dave Duncan into the A's line-up "to get a little life in the ball club."

When reminded that Duncan had gone 0-for-29 and was batting .081 befort last night's game, Bauer laughed: "You can pretty near spit that much."

But he wasn't too worried right now.

"We have lost five in a row this season, all by one run," he said.

Rams Get Fullback Lang From Eagles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some insiders say the Los Angeles Rams have traded their way to a National Football League title with the acquisition of fullback Israel Lang from the Philadelphia Eagles.

The doubters, after the trade yesterday, said it didn't happen that way the last time a Los Angeles team made a big deal with Philadelphia. They refer to the trade that brought Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia 76ers to the Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association.

The Lakers won their division, but not the NBA championship.

232 POUNDS

The insiders who are touting the Rams say Lang, weighing in at a solid 232, should give Dick Bass the running mate he's sorely lacked the past three seasons, especially since Les Josephson's injury a year ago.

They rate Lang among the finest backs in the league and say he's just been overlooked because Philadelphia has been mired in the wrong end of the standings. Lang, at 27, has five years experience under his belt with Philadelphia but has a long future ahead of him.

Lang joins All-Pro offensive tackle Bob Brown, who the Rams also got from the City of Brotherly Love in an earlier trade, the two key reasons the 1969 Rams could better their excellent 10-3-1 record of last year.

IN RETURN

In return for Lang, trader George Allen, Ram head coach, swapped John Zook, a rookie defensive end from Kansas and Harold Jackson, 5-10, 160, a swift young receiver who was with the club last season.

In a second trade yesterday, Allen peddled a draft choice for speedster Claudis James, a flanker who was with Green Bay last season. James is 6-2 and 190 and was one of the fastest of all the Packers.

Since Allen became coach four years ago, he has added 41 players to the Ram roster. Twenty-five of the new L.A. players involved in the 41 deals are still on the club and will report to Fullerton for summer camp which begins Saturday.

Windward Still Leads Field

SAN PEDRO (AP) — Windward Passage continued to make substantial headway in its quest to win the Transpacific Yacht Race, as Robert Johnson's boat was reported well ahead last night at the 700-mile mark.

The Portland, Ore., ketch, riding winds of 12 knots, led with one third of the course completed from the Los Angeles harbor to Honolulu's Diamond Head.

Blackfin, skippered by Ken Demeuse, was reported in second place. She had reported radio and generator problems in the morning but said at noon they were repaired.

Rod Laver: A Master Of Bloody-Nose Tennis

LONDON—Once upon a time, there was a game called "tennis" and it was played by a bunch of guys who knew what a salad fork looked like and took the spoon out of the coffee when they drank it.

They wore and were white although an occasional player at the maharajah level crept in if he owned enough elephants. It was the only sport these people played that wasn't on horseback.

THE ONLY money they accepted was from "pater" or the royal treasury. They learned the game from the governess. They scored the game by a kind of algebra to keep out anybody who didn't have a Roman numeral after his name and hardly anybody in it was named "Joe." If he was, he, as Mencken used to say, parted his name in the middle and became "J. Montmorency Cliveden-Wentwood, Bart." The pairings had more hyphens than a narrow book.

They used to be called "amateurs," which is a 19th Century word which has fallen into obsolescence like "czar" or "virgin" or "manners" or "colonies." They all talked as if they had three adenoids and they wore braces on their teeth almost to middle age and they liked diminutives in private colloquies. If a guy was named "Griswold," he became "Grizzy" to his crowd at Eton or Harvard and he never lunched with anybody who had less money than he did or who would be stopped by the doorman at the club and asked to produce credentials.

THE RUFFIANS came out of America first. They chewed gum, called people "Bo," made noise eating soup and bought their clothes by mail. Dad didn't own a railroad, he worked for one. He didn't have a chauffeur, he was one. You called the family cook, "Mom." They ran off the rich in straight sets and the first round.

They hit the ball too hard, these guys. They played to win, not to kill time. They didn't want to be paid off in something you could drink out of, or eat off of, but something you could give to the landlord.

An "amateur" today is going through an evolutionary period, rather like Darwin's apes. You might say they are jumping down from the trees and getting a written language.

AS WITH ANY evolutionary species, there are some freakish specimens — hybrid sports equivalents of centaurs, unicorns, quaggas or abominable snowmen. These are called "registered players" or "players" or "approved players."

English translation: They play tennis for hire or for God and country. They have it both ways. They can take a check. They don't have to beg at car windows like Yellowstone bears anymore.

They can also play for "meal money" at tournaments where tradesmen are frowned upon. If you're a crack player, of course, the "meal money" will buy you a seat on the Stock Exchange.

BUT, PULLING tennis into the 20th Century has resulted in a tournament here at Wimbledon being peopled with stars, not swaddlings. It's a World Series, not sandlot, the heavyweight championship, not the walk-out bout at the Olympic. You don't go just to see the Queen, you go to see the game.

It was won by Rod Laver, not some sophomore from USC. The redheaded country boy from the sheep fields of Queensland is the Babe Ruth of this game, not the babe, period.

He may be the best who ever played tennis, not just the best last week, or the best indoors or on clay or on grass or in mixed doubles. He's not just an NCAA player blown up or a court form schoolboy or a guy who only plays when the market closes.

HE'S A PRO and a champion. He's worth queuing up to see. The chances are he and Tilden would go give 24-22 sets. He and Budge might play for two days before getting the third set in. Laver could win. In fact, Laver doubtless would.

ROD LAVER and Arthur Ashe took the court and it was Dempsey-Firpo. Rod Laver plays bloody-nose tennis and Ashe chose to slug with him. The crowd was on its feet almost as much as the players. The bout didn't end in a split decision but a KO as Ashe went down 6-0 in the last set.

Laver plays for "winners," not a retrieve-and-force error game. He would like the game of tennis to charge the net, too, and do away with the centaurs and other half-breeds.

"THE DAVIS Cup, the big tournaments should be all professional and no sub-professionals or other hedges. How can we get television into a game which doesn't even know what its own rules are?" he asks, adding, "this is the modern era."

Rod Laver can get tennis out of the society pages and onto channel seven — "the Wide World of Sports," "Countdown to Serve" — and can start bar arguments if the game cooperates.

The game has a great champion on the court. He can get players' picures in papers instead of in oil on castle walls. He can, that is, if the game can get past the palace guard and people can get used to the notion it is just as honorable to sell a tennis talent as shares in the Suez Canal or the East India Trading Company.

Braves Hurl First Stone At Dodgers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first Stone has been cast in the siege of Los Angeles, leaving the dazed Dodgers rocking on their heels.

Southpaw George Stone pitched five perfect innings and finished with a three-hitter last night as Atlanta's National League West Division leaders whipped the second-place Dodgers 5-2 in the opener of a four-game series.

"He pitched tonight like you have to do to be a winner," said Dodgers Manager Walter Alston, whose injury-riddled club has lost five of its last six starts to fall 1½ games off the Braves' pace.

REDS WIN

Cincinnati rallied for three runs in the seventh inning, the last two on Tony Perez' triple, and topped San Diego 5-3 in the only other NL night game, moving past San Francisco into third place in the West.

The Giants bowed to Houston 8-2 in a day game as Don Wilson cattered six hits and struck out 14, slipping one-half game behind Cincinnati and five back of the Braves.

The St. Louis-Philadelphia and Montreal-Pittsburgh games were rained out.

Stone, a former reliever who has nailed a key spot in Atlanta's starting rotation, breezed to his ninth victory against two losses, retiring 23 of the first 24 batters he faced while the Braves surged to a 5-0 lead.

LATE HOMERS

Jim Lefebvre, who ruined Stone's no-hit bid with a leadoff single in the sixth, poled his first homer of the year with two out in the eighth. Bill Russell homered with two out in the ninth for the third Los Angeles hit.

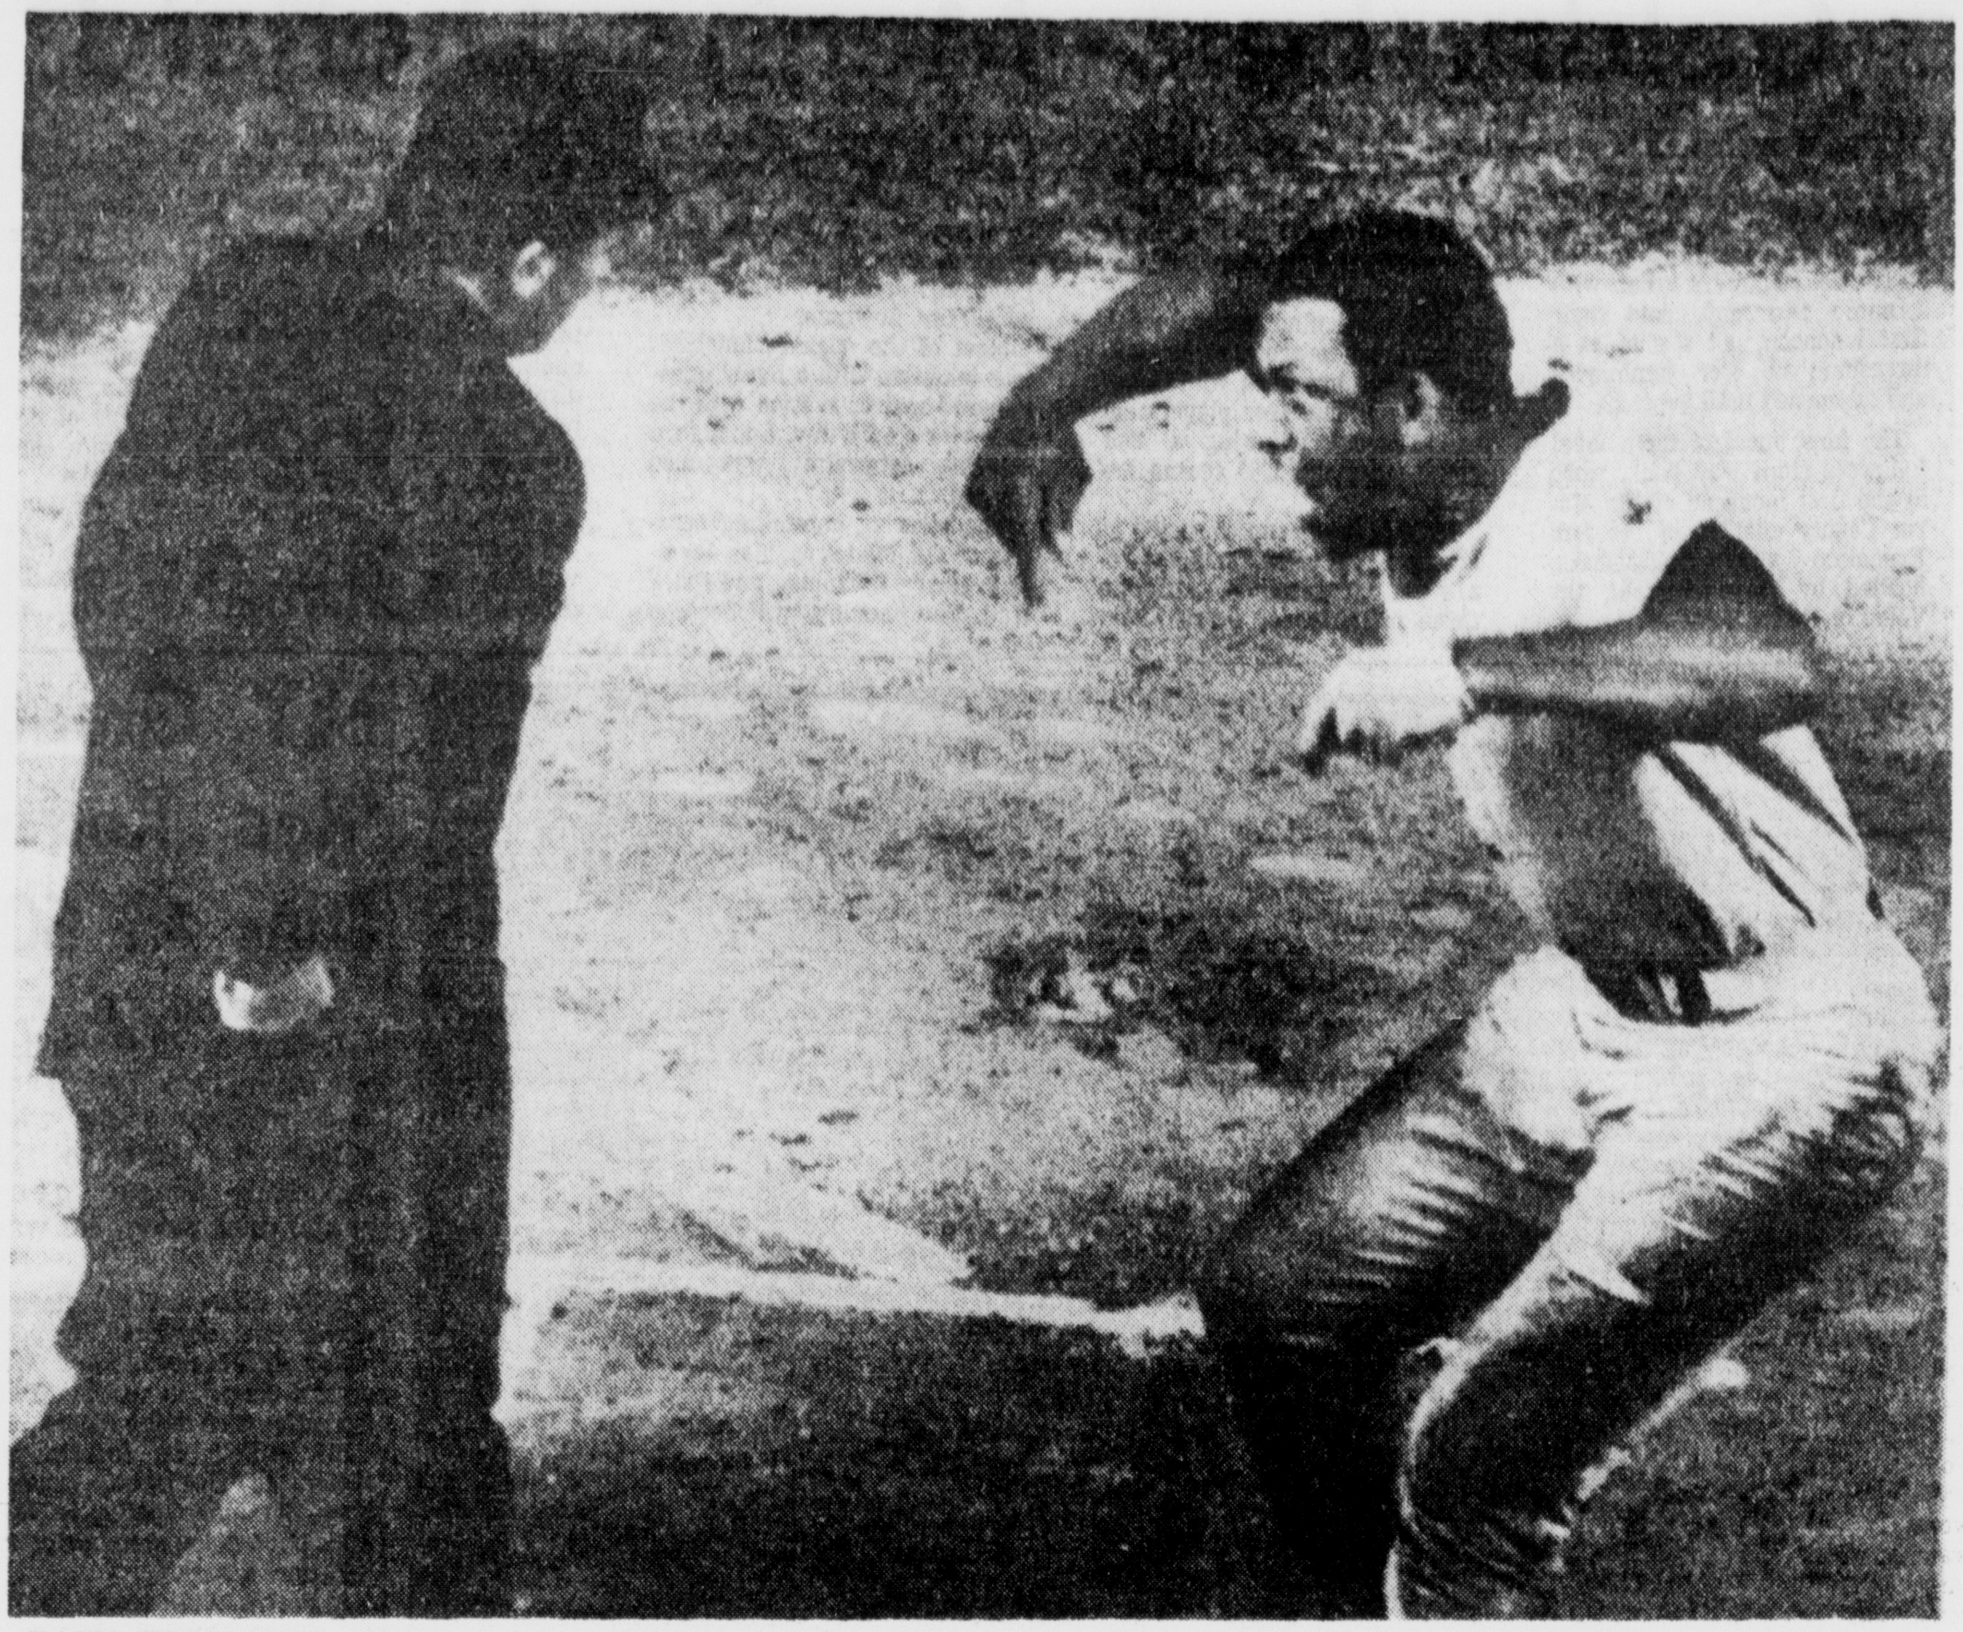
"I committed the cardinal sin of pitchers," Stone said. "I had a big lead and I relaxed. They (Lefebvre and Russell) are high fastball hitters and that's exactly what I gave them."

By the time the Dodgers finally connected, the Braves were out of reach. They nicked loser Alan Foster for a second inning run, took a 3-0 lead on Hank Aaron's 22nd homer in the third and added two more runs in the fifth on Felix Millan's base-loaded single.

SNAP TIE

The Reds snapped a 2-2 tie at San Diego after Chico Ruiz opened the seventh with a bunt single. He took second on a sacrifice and, after an intentional walk to Pete Rose, scored the go-ahead run on Bob Tolan's single. Perez tripled two more runs across, offsetting a ninth inning San Diego marker.

Rose homered for the Reds and rookie Van Kelly connected for the Padres.



BABY BULL SEES RED — An irate Orlando Cepeda of the Atlanta Braves roared at plate umpire Andrew Olsen after being called out. He was trying to score from first on Clete Boyer's double in the second inning against the Los Angeles Dodgers last night. (AP Wirephoto)

Nats' Hurler Gets Message A Little Mixed Up

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

When Ted Williams took over as manager of the Washington Senators, he said he wouldn't demand perfection from his players—just a lot of hustle and an all-out attitude.

Apparently, Casey Cox got the message a little mixed up. The 6-foot-5 right-hander came within a whisker of perfection in a brilliant relief role last night as the red-hot Senators hammered Cleveland 7-2 for their 10th victory in 13 games and 13th in their last 19.

20 STRAIGHT

Cox, unsuccessful in three separate trials with the Senators before this season, came in with the bases loaded and one out in the third and promptly retired the last 20 men in order.

Towering Frank Howard, meanwhile, backed him with a pair of homers—one a tape-measure job that landed in the upper center field deck of Robert F. Kennedy Stadium, an estimated 485 feet from the plate.

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago blanked sagging Oakland 2-0 on Gary Peters' two hitter, Minnesota edged Kansas City 6-5, Boston whipped Detroit 7-2 and California stopped Seattle 5-1. New York and Baltimore were not scheduled.

Cox, who turned 28 last week, had been bouncing back and forth between the minors and the Senators since 1966 before this season. During that span, he managed to get into 124 games—all in relief—in the majors, but had only a mediocre 11-10 record and a 3.25 ERA.

But this year, the Long Beach, product is one of the reasons the Senators are three games past .500 with a 45-42 record — their highest showing this late in the season in nearly a decade.

Last night's victorw was Cox' sixth in seven decisions, and the 6 2-3 innings of blank work lowered his ERA to a sparkling 1.88.

Cox, who stopped the Indians last week in his only route-going start in the majors, has yielded 18 earned runs in 86 innings, appearing in 32 games.

BASES LOADED

He came in after the Indians loaded the bases with one out against starter Jim Schellenback in the third. Cox got Tony Horton to hit into a force at the plate before Ed Brinkman made a great play on Ken Harrelson's grounder in the hole to force Horton at second.

The only blot on Cox' relief role came in the eighth when pinch-hitter Lou Klimchock reached first after Del Unser dropped his short fly to center. But Klimchock, trying for an extra base on the play, was thrown out at second by Unser.

Howard smashed a two-run homer in the third against the scoreboard in right, then reached dead center with a bases-empty shot in the seventh, his 32nd of the season.

EPSTEIN TOO

Mike Epstein also had a two-run homer for the Senators, his 20th, marking the seventh time this season that both Howard and Epstein have homered in the same game.

Harrelson's second inning homer, his 12th, staked the Indians to an early 2-0 lead before Cox went to work.

Rich Reese's solo homer and a two-run single by pinch hitte Chuck Manuel in the eighth lifted Minnesota from behind and boosted the Twins' West Division lead to three games over the Athletics.

The late rally spoiled a big hitting performance by Jim Rooker, who suffered his sixth straight loss without a victory. Rooker, a former minor league outfielder, slammed a 450-solo homer in the third—his first major league hit—then cracked a two-run homer in the fifth.

SIX HITS

Ray Culp scattered six hits and George Scott had a single and two triples and scored Boston's first three runs in the victory over Detroit.

The crowd of 26,020 at Fenway Park boosted the Red Sox season total to 1,008,313 for 41 dates—the first major league team to reach the million plateau.

Andy Messersmith hurled a four-hitter and singled in one run and Aurelio Rodriguez had a two-run homer in California's triumph.

Janice Brink Wins Opener In Net Tourney

The Brink girls of Mill Valley were out in force at the opening day of play in the seventh annual Belvedere Junior Tennis Tournament at the Belvedere Tennis Club yesterday but only one of the three girls won.

The winner was Janice Brink in girls 12. She downed Cindy Waats, 6-3, 6-3. Karen Brink lost to Debbie Cator in girls 16, 1-6, 6-4, 6-0 in a second round match and Bebbie Brink bowed to Nancy Puente in girls 14, 7-9, 6-2, 6-3.

Anne Bolcom of Belvedere stopped Jan Stiff, 3-6, 6-3, 7-5 in girls 18 play.

S.F. Board Okays Candlestick Plans

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Board of Supervisors yesterday approved in principal the installation of artificial turf at Candlestick Park.

The action is part of a $1.2 million first phase of an improvement program for the park where the National League's Giants now play baseball and where the 49ers expect to hold their future professional football games.

Before work can start, legal contracts must be approved by the Recreation and Park Commission and the supervisors.

Phase two of the plan calls for moveable right field stands and wind control measures.

Both are expected to cost a total of $16 million, to be paid for by a bond issue.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Trying For Bass Can Even Bring Out Sharks

I took two trips this past week to check out two areas. One day I went with Mike LaFevre of Santa Venetia and Frank Sue of Corte Madera. We decided to try for sturgeon and stripers out of Buck's Landing.

We fished out by the pumphouse in San Pablo Bay using some ghost shrimp. The first cast I hooked a 16½-pound bass. It was a light colored fish — Joe Mello calls this type a fresh run fish from Petaluma Creek. The fish put up a good fight, and before the day was over, I wished for a few more of the same.

MIKE LATER tied into a sturgeon but after a few minutes, it shook the hook. The tide changed about this time, and from then on, it was one shark after another. With the price of ghost shrimp at 25 cents each, this turned out to be a losing proposition. We used all the bait up catching these predators, so we had to go in.

The other trip I took was with Enos Foster and Bob Wilson, both from Woodacre. In setting this up, I had called Wilson to see what time we would leave, and he suggested 4:30 a.m. When I told Enos this he said, "He's goofy." Anyway, we went, and the area was between the Golden Gate Bridge and Point Bonita. We were going to try for stripers and rockfish. We were there at 6 a.m. and watched the salmon party boats just leaving too. It was a little rough but fishable.

WE PASSED DIABLO Point and fishing from the rocks near there were eight fishermen. They had hiked down from the top of the ridge. With rods, gaffs, jigs, and all the other gear, each angler carried quite a load. It's a dangerous hike, and equallyl dangerous with the large swells suddenly climbing those rocky points right up to the anglers' feet at times.

We saw them hook and land two stripers using a 10-foot gaff. We tried it there for awhile but nothing hit. We didn't get too close to the shore casters as they take their resentment out on boats too close by casting their lead jigs at you! It's live and let live out there. We went out to Point Bonita then, but didn't connect. We were using Hopkins Lures, and mostly jigging.

WE FOOLED around the general locale, and finally Wilson hooked a good bass which he landed. I had told him of Enos' remark about being goofy, and it was odd to hear Bob, while playing his fish say, "So I'm goofy huh? I'll show them!" Of course we all howled, and it made the day. He caught a couple of lingcod too, and lost two other bass.

In the meantime, a party boat came by, and started trolling. That "So and So" caught 10 stripers in the next two hours, all pretty big. Of course we switched to trolling too, but no hits. We got close enough to see what they were using, and we duplicated their gear, but still no hits. To say the least, we were bugged through all this. I don't know what the answer was but we're going back and try some more things that we've thought of since.

AS THE outgoing tide came to the end, we watched those eight mountain climbers make that long hike up those cliffs with many a rest along the way. I wonder what they do when they really have a good day with sixty or so pounds of fish to carry.

Buck hunters when they get a buck that's in a bad spot, sometimes say, "If you can't carry it, bury it! "But those fishermen couldn't even find a spot to do that in those rugged rocks! I wouldn't go down there for a 50 pounder — I'd never get it back up!

Sohner Shares Crown

Sohner Tree Service softballers of San Anselmo successfully accomplished their first mission this week when they swept a doubleheader last night to finish the Petaluma "A" League with a 10-2 mark and a share of the title with the Sebastopol Merchants.

The Treemen begin their second mission tonight when they face Good Spot of Santa Rosa in the first of a series of playoff games in the Santa Rosa "A" League.

Chuck Tyson, Nolan Wilson and Denny Coleman were the heroes last night as Sohner grabbed a 1-0 victory over Rose Bowl in the opener and a 15-3 triumph over the Santa Rosa Merchants in the nightcap.

In pitching his second consecutive shutout and sixth win against one setback in the Petaluma League, Tyson tossed a three-hitter and struck out 12 batters.

Coleman's fifth inning double scored John Brookman with the game's lone run.

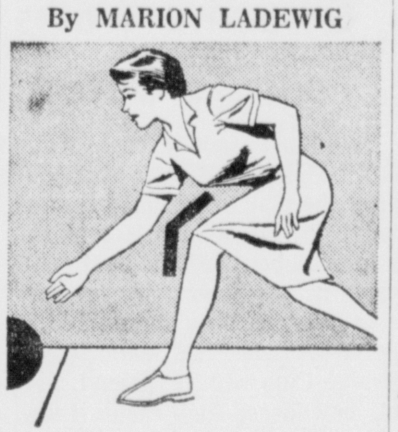
Wilson had two hits in the opener and then added a 4 x 4 performance in the nightcap to pace an 18-hit Sohner attack.

Coleman socked a two-run homer and a two-run triple while Wilson had three singles and a three-run homer.

Herb Dower scattered six hits to gain the second game victory.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



From an upright position at release, you will probably throw the ball out too far, which takes spin and subsequent action at the pins. At release, bend the left knee as illustrated. This smooths the delivery and puts the bowler in good position to pitch the ball out only six inches or so past the foul line.

Blind Shot Golf In British Open

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Two top American professionals sized up the 1969 British Open Golf championship today as a mighty important prize which will go to the man who gets away with blind shots.

"There are a lot of blind shots on this course," said Miller Barber of Sherman, Tex. "I don't like them but you must play the course you are on."

GLASSES

Barber, ex-Air Force officer who played golf with Dwight D. Eisenhower, wears glasses which haven't failed him in winning $76,000 this year on the American circuit, but he added: "They don't help me when I want to see where my shot should be going and I don't see it."

Gardner Dickinson, 133-pound bounch of whipcord from Palm Beach, Fla., echoed the thought and he quoted Ben Hogan with whom he often has been compared.

"Ben said once, 'just give me the assignment, whatever the course, and I'll try to meet it, but I've got to be able to see it.' "

A couple of bulldozers on perhaps three or four important holes of Lytham's 6,848-yard, par 71 seaside links would eliminate the "blind" shots, Barber said. Dickinson added: "We could do that and still make this a really tough course."

Barber and Dickinson are rated in the medium bracket in the betting for the 109-year old crown, while Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Bill Casper share 6-1 favorite positions.

But either could win. So could Lee Trevino of Dallas, Tex., the 1968 U.S. Open champion who said: "The champion here is the man who hits from the tee and putts well."

So could the current American Open champ, Orville Moody, who now lives in Texas after 14 years as an Army sergeant.

MY KIND

Said Moody: "This is my sort of a course. I've been playing under par here in practice even though I've had hay fever. I find the greens easy to read because they are not undulating. I really fear Player, Casper and Trevino but I think I have a good chance."

The 13 Americans in the field of 130 clearly dominated the guesswork involved in picking the winner of the 72-hole, four-day joust which opens tomorrow morning.

Player, of South Africa, is the defending champion after his triumph at Carnoustie last year.

CHAMPS GOLF

Harnquist Gets New Chance In Tourney

(Second in a series on entrants in Sunday's Marin County Golf Tournament of Champions.)

For the second year in a row, Ken Harnquist will take a shot at the Marin Golf Tournament of Champions, this time at Meadow Club in Fairfax Sunday, but this time as a champion.

Harnquist was San Geronimo National Golf Club's representative last year as runner-up to the 1968 champion Les Sherman. This year, he is the club champion, once again hobbled by very little playing time.

The 39-year-old data processing consultant admits he hasn't been able to play much since he won the club crown way back in September.

"I go in spurts," he said. "I haven't practiced much lately, but I guess I'll have to get out and do it."

Harnquist holds a five handicap and disparages his game as being erratic. He's only played Meadow Club once, two years ago in a Marin County Businessmen's tourney.

"I thought then the course wasn't particularly difficult," he said. "I suppose the ninth and seventh holes are good holes, long and difficult."

A transplant to Marin County by way of Rockford, Ill., Los Angeles and the peninsula, Harnquist is married and has four children.

"I really don't have any strong points as a golfer right now," he said. "My putting, driving, they're all very erratic."

He figures it will take a good putter to win the tournament.

"Anybody who can keep the ball out of trouble has a good crack at it," he said.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Detective Walks Out, But Fails To Detect The Crime

"We must leave at once, Watson," Sherlock Holmes snapped after the play of the hand shown today. "Billy Wilder is making a movie about us, and he'd consider us palookas if we let this kind of crime pass unpunished." Dr. Watson left the Baker Street Bridge Club with his friend, but his bewildered look made it obvious that he hadn't detected the crime.

KING TAKES

East won the first trick with the king of spades and returned a spade to dummy's ace. Declarer led a club, forcing out West's king. West returned a heart, but South won and knocked out the ace of clubs.

East led another spade to the queen, but declarer had the rest of the tricks. He took three clubs, three hearts, two spades and two diamonds, losing only two clubs and one spade.

Have you spotted the crime? If not, stay out of Billy Wilder's way. See if you can detect what annoyed Sherlock Holmes before you read on.

OBVIOUS SITUATION

West's opening lead of the eight of spades was obviously his highest card in his partner's suit. This meant that South surely held the Q-10-9 of spades and might also hold the missing four of spades.

East's best chance to defeat the contract was to refuse the first trick, allowing South to win with the nine. South would have to begin on the clubs, whereupon West would take the king of clubs and lead his remaining spade.

TOUGH SITUATION

Dummy's ace would win, but the rest of East's spades would be good. East would get in with the ace of clubs in time to cash his spades, defeating the contract. Holmes could then have stayed on at the Baker Street Bridge Club, but I'd have had to look elsewhere for my column today.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your right, opens with 1 no-trump (16 to 18 points). You are next, holding:

♠ K J 7 6 3 2
♥ 7 6 3
♦ 9 5
♣ A 7.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

This hand is worth an overcall at the level of one, but not at the level of two — especially after an opening bid of 1 no-trump. You are most unlikely to make a game, and you may be severely penalized even at a mere part-score contract.

MERINO, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. Myrtle Craig, postmaster at this town in northeastern Colorado, can tell what day it is practically anywhere she looks. At the last count she had 379 calendars fastened to the walls or on her desk.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, July 8, the 189th day of 1969 with 176 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1835 the liberty bell in Philadelphia cracked while being rung during the funeral of Chief Justice John Marshall of the Supreme Court.

In 1950 Gen. Douglas MacArthur was appointed United Nations commander in Korea.

In 1967 actress Vivien Leigh died in London at the age of 53.

A thought for the day: John Burroughs said: "Life is a struggle but not a warfare."

Egypt Experiments With Cotton Crops

CAIRO (AP) — In an effort to boost cotton production and industry, the country's main source of foreign currency, Egypt will produce three new breeds of cotton.

Cotton breeding experts declare experiments on these types of cotton show they will increase productive quantity, yield earlier, and cotton fiber will be longer and stronger.

The minister of agriculture, Sayed Merey, declared that these new types of cotton, which will be planted next year, will further increase Egypt's long-staple reputation.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Flexible Dearborn Is Worth Keeping

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Should I sell Dearborn Computer bought at 57 and take a loss? — B. D.

A. Shares moved up 4 points recently on an announcement of a 25 per cent interest in an oil production-sharing agreement in South Celebes in the Indonesian Archipelago. Earlier acquisitions in offshore drilling, marine service and seismic survey work have put Dearborn squarely in the middle of another important growth field.

Last year (fiscal year ended Oct. 31) marine work accounted for 20 per cent of profits. In the current year this ratio is expected to shift and should approach 50 per cent.

In spite of the current market disenchantment with computer-leasing issues, Dearborn has been successful in producing a rising profit pattern from this business. Equipment currently under lease has a value of $68.99 million, the bulk of which was purchased in 1968. A more selective buying policy has evolved this year and only $2.4 million was spent on new systems in the first quarter. As of March, Dearborn had earned back in rentals 59 per cents of the purchase price of the quipment.

Leases vary from two to five years but remain in force after the expiration of the initial term on a month-to-month basis. The average term of these contracts — 33 months — is but half the length of time Dearborn estimates is necessary to recoup the original purchase price.

First-half results for the fiscal period ending April 30 made excellent reading. Total revenues, including the Muchowich acquisition, were $13.6 million compared with $2.5 million in the previous year. Per share net rose from $0.45 to $1.49 year-to-year.

While Dearborn Computer and Marine is not suitable for most investors, for those able to assume the risk it could prove rewarding. In your case I would hold it.

Postpone Jets

UTICA, N.Y. (UPI) — Mohawk Airlines has postponed indefinitely the tentatively announced acquisition of three new Boeing 727-200 airliners in order to take advantage of short term leasing arrangements for a number of aircraft that have become available. The company said the rise in the prime bank interest rate of 8.5 per cent was an additional reason for postponing the purchase.

$30 Million Plan

NEW YORK (UPI) — City Investing Co. said it will join financier Gerald Chazan in sponsoring 10 real estate developments in greater Los Angeles with a total value of about $30 million. The projects include six high rise office buildings, a shopping center, a medical center and a 700-unit apartment layout.

Mideast War Clouds Shadow N.Y. Trading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices fell sharply in moderate trading today on the New York Stock Exchange, reflecting an accumulation of unfavorable news.

Blamed for the decline, the second in as many days, were several developments including the tense Middle East situation, described by U.N. Secretary General Thant as "open warfare."

There also was uncertainty over just what the Nixon administration would do in the face of high interest rates.

Bargain hunters moved in on Natomas, which dropped 6⅛ yesterday. Late buying today sent the issue up. Reading & Bates, another drilling firm, also rose among the oils. Most other oil issues were down.

St. Regis led the decline in paper products. International Paper, Crown Zellerbach and Kimberly Clark also declined.

IBM led the decline in electronics. General Electric, Westinghouse, Motorola and Zenith also were losers of more than a point.

Steels, autos and chemicals were fractionally lower. Dow among the chemicals and Ford among the motors were exceptions to the downward trend.

New Mobile Home Park Set In Southern Sonoma County

What may turn out to be one of the largest mobile home parks to go into construction this year in Southern Sonoma County is Youngstown Mobile Home Park, planned for Petaluma between Highway 101 and McDowell Avenue, south of Sonoma Joe's.

This involves a total of 68 acres owned by the four Young brothers, who are principals in the home furnishings business under their name. First phase calls for 236 units on 35 acres — but the Youngs may build only 130 at the start and the rest in the spring — depending on the weather this fall and winter. One hundred calendar days between groundbreaking and completion is now estimated.

An 8,500-square foot recreation building is planned, with pools, sauna baths, putting green and other activities. Landscape architect Sidney Lewin of San Rafael estimates that the landscaping may go as high as $250,000. Lieb and Quaresma of Petaluma is the general architectural firm in this. A contractor has not yet been selected.

A NEW SUBDIVISION of 13 homes is now under construction by contractor Dick York at Lincoln and Buchanan Drives in Sausalito.

Homes are on individual lots, constructed after the fashion of Sea Ranch homes in Sonoma County, have two bedrooms, one or two baths and marine views. A model home is now being shown at 10 Lincoln Drive. Frank Howard Allen and Co. is the exclusive agent.

MARIN COUNTY automobile sales reached more than $62 million during 1968 — an increase of 23 per cent from 1967. Of the 1968 total, $47.1 million was in sales of new autmobiles.

As a result, this county surged into the foreground of Bay Area statistics, placing first in percentage of new cars registered to households (13.6 per cent) and second only to Santa Clara County in percentage gain in private passenger car registrations (Marin 37.2, Santa Clara 51.9 per cent.)

MONTGOMERY WARD is introducing a new revolving charge program which combines its four major credit plans into two simplified arrangements.

New Wards catalog has two mail order items which Corte Madera store manager D. W. Gillis guarantees will be delivered personally by an executive of the corporation — a $4,000 two-carat diamond ring and a $3,900 mink coat.

ELLIS E. CONKLIN of Novato has joined the California Medical Association, San Francisco as chief accountant. He has been 20 years in accounting in New York City, the Marshall Islands and California. Most recently he has been doing insurance accounting.

JOHN MARSHALL SAWYER of San Rafael has joined the local office of Dean Witter and CO as an account executive. He has served as an officer with the U.S. Army and as an advisor to the South Vietnamese Army. He is accredited by the New York Stock Exchange.

CHARLES R. SCHWAB of San Rafael has been named president of the locally-based Investment Indicators Fund. Other new appointments are Robert K. Birkie as vice president and Marjorie A. Wegner as treasurer.

LARRY GHILOTTI of San Rafael has been promoted to manager of the Bourbon Shop in the Montecito Shopping Center. He has been with the Bourbon Shops since last September and before that was manager of the Morning Glory Rock Band.

CORRECTING AT ITEM in this column of July 2 — Kenneth Proctor is president of the Marin County Independent Insurance Agents Association. Willis Elliott is vice president.

SAN ANSELMO real estate broker Cole Jackman attended a recent meeting of the Real Estate Certificate Institute at Lake Tahoe. He is a vice president of the institute.

Freeway Job To Shut Francisco Connection

The Rice Road connection from the southbound Highway 101 on-ramp to the West Francisco Boulevard commercial area in San Rafael will be closed permanently in about two weeks, according to Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles.

Rawles told the San Rafael City Council last night he had notice from Murphy Pacific Enterprises, contractors working on the new Highway 101 viaduct, that the connection would be closed "on or about" July 21.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini stressed that access was important to businesses along West Francisco Boulevard, and the city should move to acquire land from Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. to provide one.

Councilmen agreed to apply to the Public Utility Commission for the right to use railroad property for access.

Murphy Pacific Enterprises also reported that a detour on-ramp will be put in operation about July 28 at Second Street and the existing on-ramp.

Councilmen also set a public hearing at 8 p.m. July 21 on a traffic plan for the central business districe compiled by D. Jackson Faustman, Sacramento traffic consultant.

Bettini pointed out that the plan, which calls for making Fourth Street one-way eastbound and Fifth Avenue one-way westbound and other major changes, should have a full hearing.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

ROAD MATERIALS — Postponed until July 21 awarding contracts for road materials, with Basalt, Hutchinson, Camgros, McPhail's and Shamrock Materials as low bidders on various materials.

DEMOLITION — Postponed until Monday awarding a contract for demolition of the former Dexter Rambler building at Fourth and Ida streets. West Coast Demolition Co. of Oakland was lowest of six bidders at $4.988.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS — Postponed until July 21 awarding of a contract to install traffic signals at Fifth Avenue and C and E streets, Fourth and C streets and Third and Lindaro streets. Steiny and Mitchel Inc. of San Francisco was lowest of five bidders at $33,959.

PROPERTY SALE — Approved four resolutions completing sale of corporation yard property along Francisco Boulevard to Lincoln Bay Mercury Inc. and clearing the title to the land.

CROSSWALK -- Denied a request by Thomas Svanoe of 15 Sao Augustine Way for a crosswalk at Nova Albion and Sao Augustine by a 3-1 vote with Councilman Harry A. Barbier dissenting.

HIRING — Authorized the hiring of Clifford R. Den-Otter as associate civil engineer at $1,041 a month and Donald C. Myers Jr. as police cadet at $390 a month.

POLITICAL SIGNS — Complained about candidates' signs from the April municipal election not being removed, and advised the city staff to tell violators the signs must be taken down.

SENIOR PROGRAM — Approved a joint agreement with Marin County whereby the county will contribute $4,000 during 1969-70 toward the city's senior citizen recreation program. With notice that the county might discontinue the contribution after 1969-70, Mayor Bettini said he hoped the county wouldn't withdraw from the program since San Rafael "has the only active senior citizen program in Marin."

ENCROACHMENT — Granted Ham Construction Co. an encroachment permit to construct concrete footing to support a wooden driveway ramp in city road right-of-way at 111 Windsor Avenue.

JOB EXTENSION — Gave Bobo Construction Co. a three-week extension until July 31 to complete extension of Montecillo Road and development of a park site near Don Timoteo School.

CLAIM DENIED — Denied a claim by Helvon Inc. of Oakland for $2,427 damages to a truck in the 1200 block of Lincoln Avenue Jan. 20, 1969, when it crashed into a tree. The claimant contended an overhanging limb from a city tree caused the driver to crash.

SEWER BONDS — Received from Dan Coleman and Associates a $1.7 million plan for upgrading the city sewage system, referred it to Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles and City Engineer Ely Caillouette for their recommendations and agreed to discuss on July 21 whether such improvements should be financed by a bond measure. Also agreed to discuss priorities for major city projects and where among them sewerage upgrading ranked.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who was ill was absent.

Lynch Files Suit Against Business For False Ads

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch filed a $250,000 damage suit yesterday against a Jet-A-Way Industries, Inc., a firm that sells detergents.

The Superior Court suit said the firm is "executing a scheme to sell business opportunities in the form of distributors."

"Investors are lured to these (public) meetings by advertisements (but) no mention is made of the fact that investment is required, that inventory will be sold in substantial amounts to the investors who will become independent distributors and that no employee-employer relationship will be created," the suit said.

Suggestions that salaries or commissions of $25,000 a year can be made are false, the suit continued, because the firm has not been in business for a year. It also said that no sales of that size have been made to the public.

Panama Judge Held In Office Shoot-Out

PANAMA (AP) — Superior Court Judge Jorge Morenos Davis was arrested today and charged with wounding Atty. Gen. Olmedo Miranda and Chief Justice Ramon Palacios Parilla during a shooting spree in Miranda's office.

Eyewitnesses told police Moreno Davis had an argument with Miranda and Palacios over appointment of judges to lower courts, suddenly pulled out a .32-caliber revolver and fired four shots. Neither of the two victims was wounded seriously, police said.

Corporation Yard Move Is Decided

San Rafael City Council decided last night to relocate its corporation yard at a city-owned lot off Lincoln Avenue, south of Second Street, where commuters and Greyhound buses park.

Architect Robert W. F. Severin, who recommended the site, estimated the cost of establishing a new corporation yard there would be $122,550.

More than half of the present corporation yard along Francisco Boulevard has been sold to two automobile dealers and must be vacated by Jan. 2, 1970.

Councilmen also authorized the city staff to give Greyhound Bus Lines 90-day notice that its lease for use of the site was canceled.

Severin said under his proposed development only 10 commuter parking spaces would be lost, and 37,000 square feet would be used for the corporation yard.

Ruled out was use of the unsold part of the city's present corporation yard, which Severin said wouldn't provide room for expansion. The Lincoln Avenue site would provide space for expansion and a permanent installation, he reported.

Councilmen voted 4-0 to proceed toward a yard at the site and authorized Severin to draw up preliminary plans.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who was ill, was absent.

Pat Nixon Hosts Children's Cruise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pat Nixon took two dozen capital school children on a Potomac River cruise yesterday aboard the Navy yacht Sequoia, normally used for outings by the President and high level guests.

"I thought it could be put to better use," Mrs. Nixon said. adding that the trip was the first of 14 planned for the next two months. The Nixon daughters, Julie Eisenhower and Tricia, will take turns acting as hostesses.

Children on yesterday's two-hour cruise ranged in age from 9 to 12. they were entertained by a combo of Marine musicians and Michael Harris, a folk singer.

Postage rates have not always been increased. In 1883 Congress reduced the rate from three to two cents per half ounce.

Mayor's Pay Hiked 50 Pct. By Council

San Rafael City Council last night boosted Mayor C. Paul Bettini's salary from $200 to $300 a month.

The pay raise was prompted by fellow councilmen, with Councilman Harry A. Barbier saying the may should get more pay than councilmen, who get $200 a month, and Councilman Frederick C. Robbins saying: "I think Paul does a lot of work we don't do."

Barbier said in the past there was a spread between the salaries of the mayor and the councilmen.

Bettini joined in voting for the raise with the comment: "I have never abstained in public life and I don't want to ruin my record."

The vote was 4-0 with Councilman Fred E. Jensen, who was ill, absent.

Councilmen postponed granting pay raises to department heads after some debate about maintaining a spread between a department head's salary and that of the next highest paid employee in his department.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen had proposed the following monthly salaries: city manager, $2,000, up 11.6 per cent; public works director, $1,525, up 7.2 per cent; planning director, $1,400, up 12.7 per cent; fire chief, $1,400, up 7.36 per cent; city engineer, $1,350, up 13.28 per cent; chief building inspector, $1,300, up 15.1 per cent; finance director, $1,300, up 20.9 per cent; recreation director, $1,200, up 15.6 per cent; and librarian, $1,000, up 9.4 per cent.

Since Andersen was absent, the council postponed discussion until he could be present.

Last month the council granted most employees a 10 per cent increase, and adjusted 17 job classifications with hikes ranging up to 17 per cent.

Without discussion the council adopted a tentative budget of $3,728,701 for 1969-70, not including capital improvements, and carrying no change in the city's present tax rate of 86 cents per $100 valuation.

Councilmen previously held budget discussions on salary, and last night scheduled three more budget study sessions, next Monday, July 17 and 24, all at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

W. C. Cornwell To Retire From San Rafael Clerk Job

San Rafael City Clerk W. C. Cornwell last night submitted his resignation to the San Rafael City Council effective Sept. 1.

"I have made the decision to retire, having passed the age of 65." Cornwell said.

Cornwell joined the city as a deputy clerk in 1953, was appointed clerk in January, 1965, and elected to a four year term in April, 1967.

Councilmen accepted the resignation with regret, and Cornwell was given standing applause from councilmen and an audience of about 35 persons at city hall for his work for the city.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said the council will now have to appoint a successor to Cornwell to serve until the next municipal election.

The city clerk is an elected official; and a proposed charter amendment to make him appointive failed at the polls last April.

Before working for the city, Cornwell had worked since 1924 as a surveyor for various engineering firms in Marin County.

Walter is to retire Aug. 1.

THE PENNEY STORY

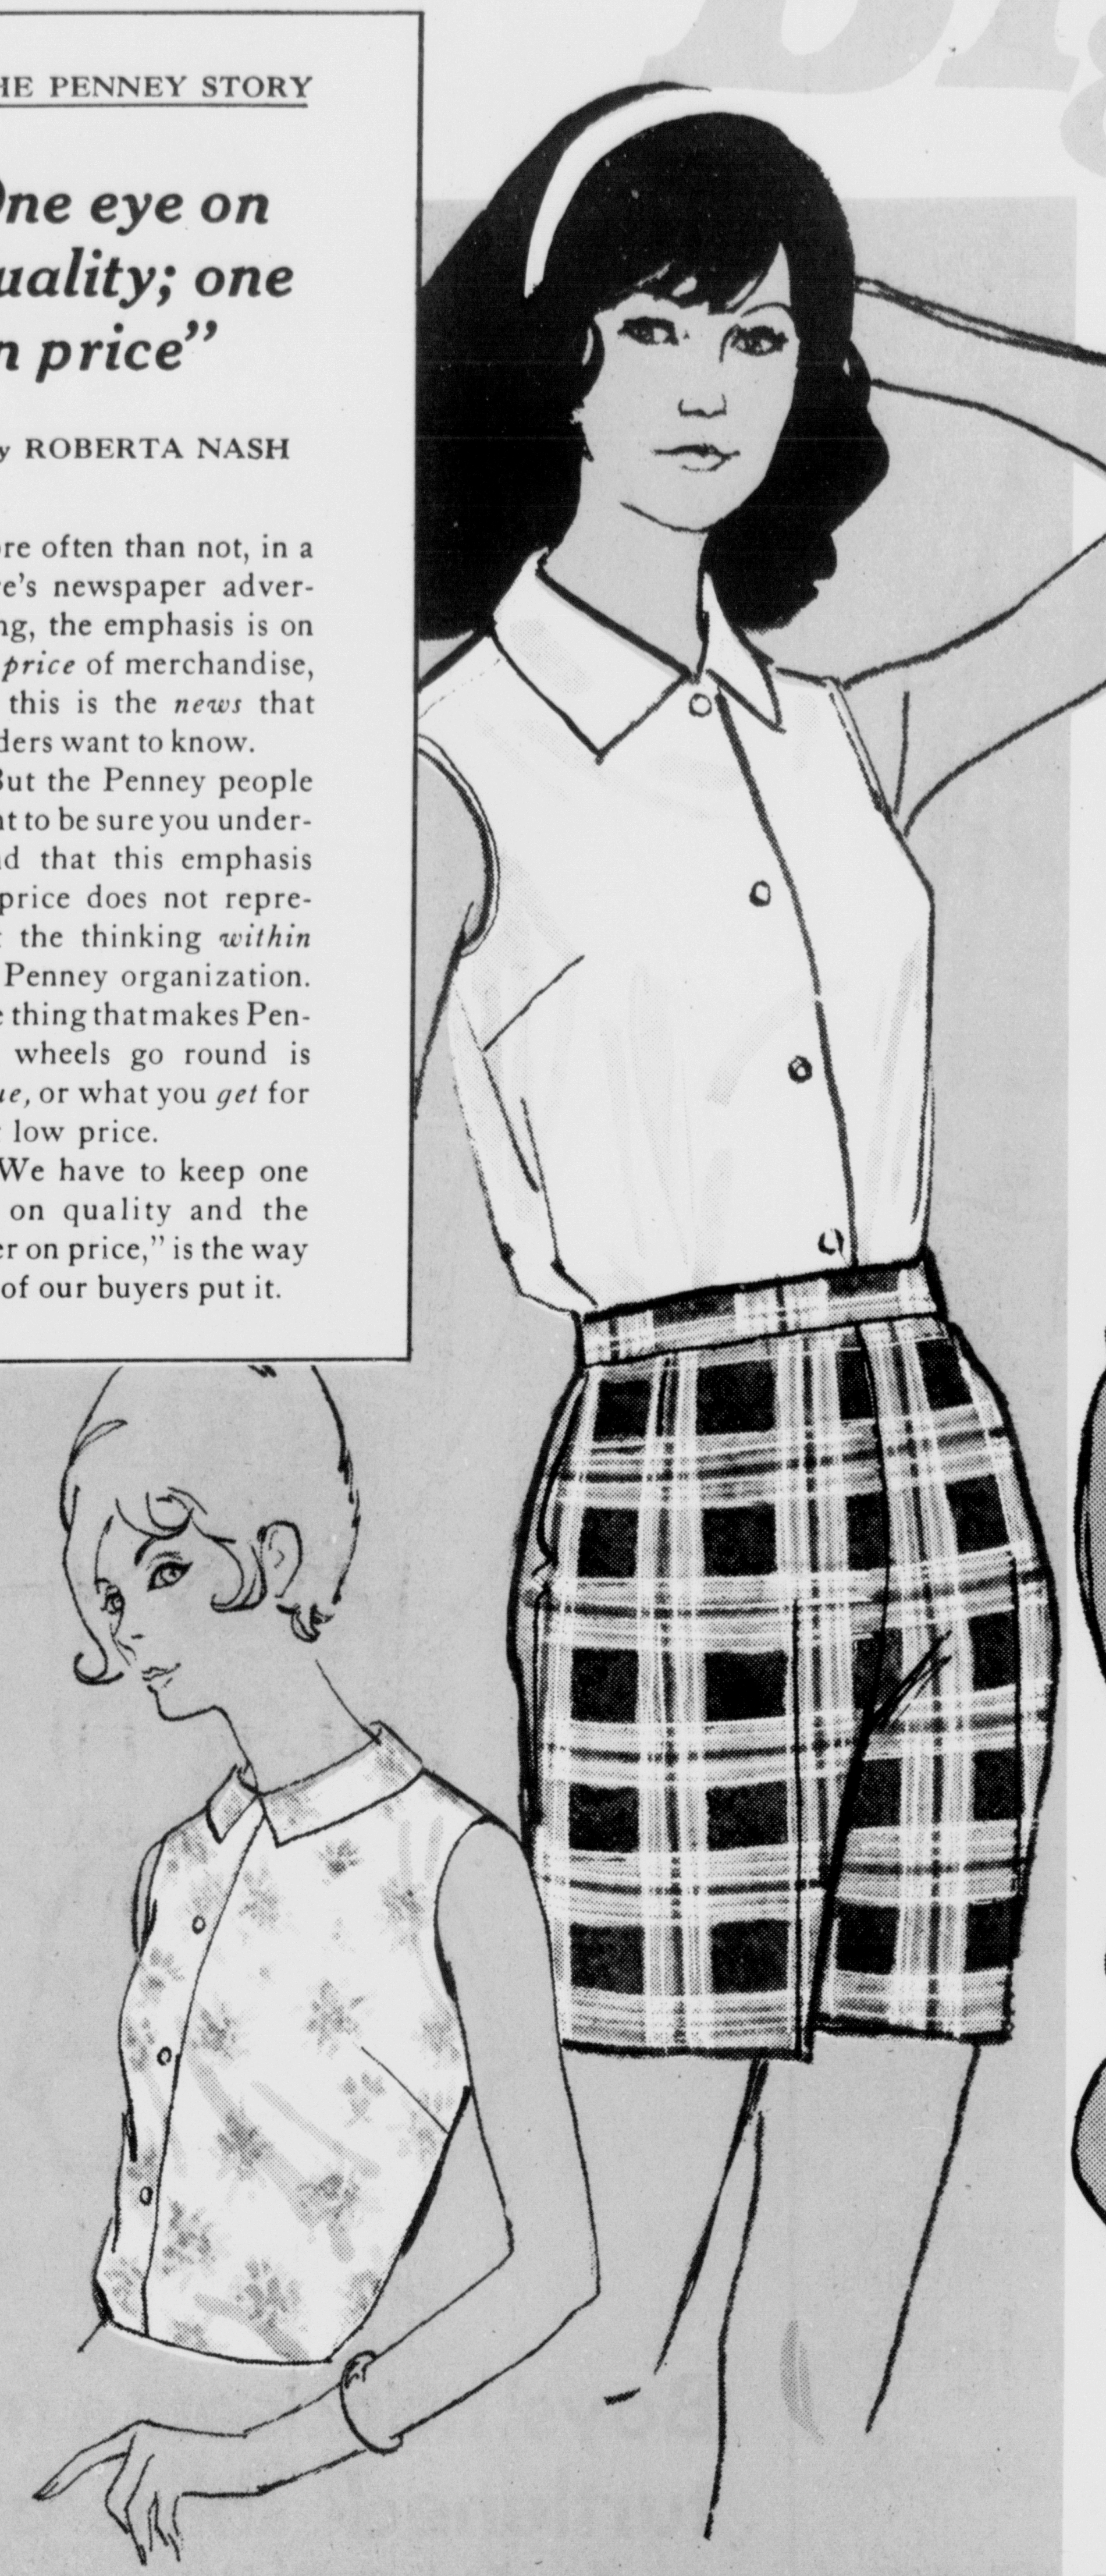
"One eye on quality; one on price"

By ROBERTA NASH

More often than not, in a store's newspaper advertising, the emphasis is on the price of merchandise, for this is the news that readers want to know.

But the Penney people want to be sure you understand that this emphasis on price does not represent the thinking within the Penney organization. The thing that makes Penney wheels go round is value, or what you get for that low price.

"We have to keep one eye on quality and the other on price," is the way one of our buyers put it.



Have a spree with these Summer sportswear specials!
